MOST IMPORTANT NOTICE

TO PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS.

A PROMINENT New York physician lately complained to DUNDAS DICK about his SANDALWOOD OIL CAPSULES, stating that sometimes they almost cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them for some time without the least effect. On being informed that several imitations were made and sold, he promised to enquire, which he did, and found that his patient had been taking capsules sold in bottles, and the druggist stated that he could not get D. D. & Co.'s at the time, and had often sold the others instead, supposing that as they were said to contain the same amount of OIL OF SANDALWOOD and OIL OF CASSIA as the genuine, they would have the same effect.

What has happened to the physician referred to may have happened to many others, and D. D. & Co. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and also of preventing the OIL OF SANDALWOOD from coming into disrepute.

OWING to the great success of Dick's OIL OF SANDALWOOD Capsules, many other substitutes have been advertised, such as Pastes, Mixtures, Pills, etc., all of which have been abandoned.

PHYSICIANS who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure Oil in the best and cheapest form.

D. D. & Co. use more OIL OF SANDALWOOD in the manufacture of their Capsules, than all the Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Perfumers in the United States combined, and this is the sole reason why the pure Oil is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other medicine can a like satisfactory result be obtained. Our own Copaiba require on an average about twenty days; our Copaiba and Cubebs about seventeen; and our Matico about fifteen; while the best of the hard Capsules require about forty days, and the others a much longer time.

DICK'S SOFT CAPSULES solve the problem long and anxiously considered by many of our most eminent physicians, of how to avoid for the patient the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to often detract from, if not destroy, the beneficial effects of some of the most valuable remedies prescribed.

The Soft Capsules are handsomely put up in tin-foil and neat boxes, containing 30 each, and are now the only Capsules prescribed by Physicians.

REMEDIAL INSTITUTE,
Saratoga Springs.
OPEN ALL THE YEAR.

Its proprietors are graduates of the Medical Department of the University of New York City.

In addition to the ordinary medical agencies used in general practice, they employ Turkish, Russian, Sulphur air, Electro-Thermal and Hydropathic baths; Faradaic and Galvanic Electricity, Equalizer or Vacuum Treatment (which is universal dry cupping), the inhalation of compressed and rarified air by the use of Prof. Waldenburg's Pneumatic Apparatus, Oxygen Gas, Health Lift, Calisthenics, and the Cathartic, Diuretic, Alterative, and Tonic Spring Waters.

Our climate is peculiarly dry and bracing, but little subject to sudden damp and unhealthful changes, or high and injurious winds.

Its boarding department is of the highest order. The public rooms and walls are thoroughly ventilated, and heated by steam.

A Circular explaining the above appliances will be sent on application.

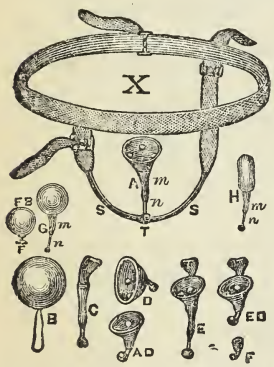
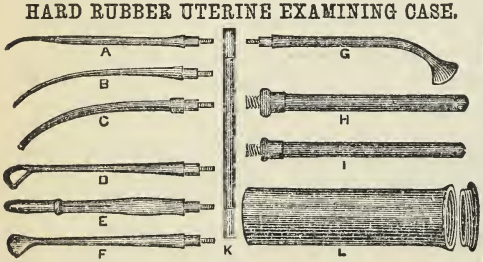
STAUFER'S HARD RUBBER UTERINE INSTRUMENTS.



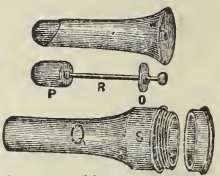
This figure represents the series of uterine supporters and elastic abdominal belt X. The tops are globes, oblong, anteversion top C. Prolapsus and procidentia cup A, and retroversion E. The stems have the pelvic curve and the cups screw obliquely on them, so that the uterus when elevated is held in its natural position. The tops are of any size required. S S, is an elastic gum, passing through the base of stem n. In tube m, lies concealed a coil spring. Thus the corrected uterus rests on two elastic motions. The material is black hard rubber, light and free from poisonous substances. Exchanges are free until the cases are suited. Also sold on trial contract, when desired. Prices of A, C, G, H, each complete, $7.00; Retroversion E, $8.00. Globe B, $2. D, $1.50.

HARD RUBBER UTERINE EXAMINING CASE.



This case L contains a quill caustic holder and case H. I, a brush holder. All the rest screw on either end of centre piece K, making 11 inches, ten pieces, weight 4 ounces. Price $8.

HARD RUBBER FLESH COLOR SPECULUMS.



UTERINE—Four in the series or nest. Material dental red. O and P unscrew and are duplicated. One guide stem R, completes the series. The guide and thin walls admit the introduction of a size to embrace the entire cervix. The view is both natural and complete. The patient's dread of glass or pinching valves is obviated. The case Q, carries them in a compact form. Weight of the whole but 14 ounces. Price Full case, $14.00. Single, $3.00.

STEM LEVERS.—This is suspended on double gums ss, Fig. 1. The same will be hereafter all the designs of Staufer's Stem Uterine Supporters. This instrument, of various sizes and curves, seems to meet the views of the Medical Profession in general, more readily than any other. Price, $4 50, on an elastic webbing belt. Prices and catalogues free. Instruments all mailed on recent quotation prices.

STAUFER'S INK-PRESERVING INKSTAND.

This Inkstand now appears also in metal, with a hard rubber funnel A, which is suspended on a elastic gum, lying within screw cup B. The pen is set within the funnel, and by a delicate pressure the strained ink, which is not liable to drop, rises to the point. Only as long as this pressure is maintained. All the ink destructive elements are then automatically shut out.

The convenience of a non-evaporating inkstand, which requires no cover, and yet freely surrenders the unchangeable ink at every dip of the pen, for many months, without cleaning, can be fully comprehended only by actual use. Price, 75 Cents—Mailed. Liberal arrangements are made with the trade. Schools or Clubs of one dozen and over.

LACTOPEPTINE.

COMPOSITION OF LACTOPEPTINE. { PEPSIN, PTYALIN, or DIASTASE, PANCREATINE, LACTIC ACID, HYDROCHLORIC ACID.

One drachm of LACTOPEPTINE will digest from 12 to 15 drachms of Albumen, or any kind of cooked Animal or Vegetable Food.

LACTOPEPTINE contains the five active agents of digestion, combined in the same proportion as they exist in the human system.

Its digestive power is from three to four times that of Pepsin (described in the "United States Dispensatory," page 1685), and has the all important advantage of dissolving all aliment used as food by mankind, while Pepsin acts only upon food of a plastic nature.

TO TEST THE DIGESTIVE POWER OF LACTOPEPTINE.

To two fluid ounces of water add one drachm of Lactopeptine, half drachm of Hydrochloric or Lactic Acid, 15 drachms of cooked food (reduced to a pulpy consistency), allowing it to remain from four to twelve hours, occasionally agitated and heated to a temperature of 105 degrees.

"It might almost be called an aural encyclopedia."—American Journal of the Medical Sciences.

"Sound, clear, and eminently practical in all its parts."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

"It is worthy of note that the two best works on Otology of the present day—viz., Turnbull's and Roosa's—both emanate from the American press."—The Dublin Journal of Medical Science, May 18, 1874.

"A book of great value to all, both specialist and general practitioner."—Detroit Review of Medicine.

"Dr. TURNBULL's book will be of great service to all who propose to keep pace with the progress in this department of our profession. Every physician should have it."—Atlanta Medical and Surgical Journal, May, 1872.

"In connection with the tables of classification, a schedule of the method of investigation in various diseases of the ear is given, which is of decided practical value to the student. . . . . There is, in addition, a bibliographical table, including 440 works relating to Otology, and a full index."—Transactions of the American Otological Society, July, 1872.

"On the whole, the work is a valuable one, and such as we can recommend."—St. Louis Medical and Surgical Journal, May, 1872.

"Take it altogether, we think our readers cannot do better than to place a copy of 'Turnbull's Manual of the Diseases of the Ear' in their library for reference."—Cincinnati Lancet and Observer, May, 1872.

"The work deserves well of the profession, and will, no doubt, sooner or later, find a place in every reading man's library."—The Canada Lancet, May, 1872.

"The book, as a whole, is the very best work on aural complaints for the use of the general practitioner with which we are acquainted."—Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter.

"It does not lie within the province of one not a physician to attempt an estimate of the medical value of this work; leaving that task to the medical journals and reviews, we will only say of the book in this respect, that the subject is treated fully, clearly, and candidly, with abundant illustration, and that no extravagant claims are made, while the author's long experience in diseases of the ear in his private practice and the aural department of Howard Hospital, where he has treated several thousand cases, gives a certain authority to his statements and opinions. . . . . The work, as a whole, aside from its excellence as a medical guide, must possess value for all interested in the deaf and dumb, and is certainly worthy of a place in the libraries of our institutions"—American Annals of the Deaf and Dumb, edited by Professor EDWARD A. FAY. Vol. XVIII., No. 1, p. 58. January, 1873. Washington, D. C.

"After perusal, the purpose of the author is to impart to his countrymen, who have not paid much attention to Otology, the results of the studies of other specialists, and he has furnished them an ample exposition of the present state of this branch of medicine. From this point of view, TURNBULL's hand-book deserves our praise. Our author gives ample quotations from the works of others, but does not, however, withhold his own judgment and experience, which is interesting. Dr. TURNBULL proves himself thoroughly acquainted with the literature of the subject, and employs it very properly."—Monatsschrift fur Ohrenheilkunde, Berlin, May, 1873.

CUMULATIVE EXERCISE.

THE attention of the Profession is respectfully asked to the claims of the System of Cumulative Exercise, popularly, but rather indefinitely, known as the "Health Lift," or "Lifting Cure."

Originating with Dr. George B. Windship, of Boston, some eighteen years since, in an attempt to devise a system of exercise which should supplement the partial and superficial training of the gymnasium, it has developed into what the gymnasiarch of Yale College, Prof. F. G. Welch, M. D., calls "a thorough system of pan-athletics."

It possesses, briefly, the merits of—

(A) Simplicity: The action consisting in straightening the knees, with the body in an erect posture, the hands grasping connections with a known weight—overcoming the resistance of which causes a gradual, symmetrical and uniform contraction of an amount of voluntary muscles varying with the amount of weight.

(B) Safety: The body being in a perfectly natural position, with no impediment to the free flow of the blood, the muscular contraction produces a derivative effect upon the visceral circulation, which not only prevents the condition of hemorrhage, but relieves congestion where pre-existent. The uniform static contraction of the muscles of the trunk and upper extremities furnishes another safeguard against strain or injury; while the rigid, immobile condition of the diaphragm, and tension of the abdominal muscles, prevents any tendency to hernia or displacement.

(C) Brevity: As the effect sought after, by this system, is not mere muscular growth or development, no time is spent in repeated efforts, as in dumb-bell, club, or other gymnastic feats, or even as in walking, rowing, etc. In every twenty-five hundred different individuals, trained in this system, during the past five years, the average amount of time for each day's exercise has not exceeded ten minutes; and yet, so thorough is the muscular training, that the strength is not unfrequently doubled in three months.

(D) Accuracy: The exercise consisting of overcoming definite and known resistances, it is practicable, for the first time, to comply with Benjamin Rush's precept as to accuracy of prescription. The father of American Medicine says, "That physician does not err more, who advises a patient to take physic without specifying its quantities and doses, than he who advises exercise without specifying its species and degrees." Cumulative exercise enables the physician to prescribe the exact quantity of muscular effort, and to regulate its effects, with mathematical accuracy.

Aside from these merits, and even more important and valuable, is the radical difference in the effects upon the circulation, respiration, and the nervous system, produced by Cumulative Exercise, as compared with ordinary forms of muscular exertion. In Cumulative Exercise, the first effort made is never more than one-half the full muscular strength of the individual. This effort is made by those muscles which, from habitual use, respond readily to volition, or contract quickly. The next effort, which is greater in a fixed proportion, is made by muscles aroused, by the first effort, to the assistance of the quickly acting ones. And so each succeeding increased effort is made by the contractions of successively increasing amounts of muscular fibre, aroused to a state of readiness for contraction by the preceding effort. The proof that this is done, is found in the uniform testimony of experimenters: that the final exertion, in a judiciously-conducted exercise, is always made with less conscious effort than the preceding one, though always one-tenth greater than its predecessor.

The effects upon the circulation are, notably, to diminish frequency, dicrotism, and irregularity of the pulse, and to increase its force, volume and uniformity. The Sphygmograph, used before and after a given number of foot-pounds per minute, in Cumulative Exercise, and before and after the same amount (in time), of muscular work performed in any ordinary manner, pictures, very clearly, this difference. The reduced rate of the heart's action, after Cumulative Exercise, is demonstrably due to the increased supply of blood sent to the heart by the compression of the deep-seated veins; this increased volume makes each systole longer, and, consequently, there are fewer per minute.

The rate of respiration depending so largely upon the rate of the heart's action, the breathing is correspondingly reduced in frequency; but as the same, or a larger, aggregate quantity of blood demands oxygenation, the respiration is fuller, deeper and more thorough after, than before, Cumulative Exercise. The absorption of oxygen, increased by the contraction of so great a bulk of muscle, also ensures increased lung capacity.

The Dynamograph indicates an improved condition of the motor nervous system after such exercise; and, in a cruder way, this is corroborated by the practical experience of painters, instrumental performers, pen-men, and others to whom manual steadiness is important.

On the whole chain of nutritional processes, the effect of Cumulative Exercise is beneficent to a degree seemingly disproportionate to the means employed.

Drs. O. W. Holmes, F. J. Bumstead, Edmund Andrews, W. H. Byford, Edward Bayard, Wm. W. Morland, Edwin Powell, H. A. Johnson, N. S. Davis, R. D. Mussey, and numerous other eminent members of the Profession, after investigation, have either adopted the system of Cumulative Exercise for their own use, or prescribe it regularly for a large class of patients, suffering from disease arising from sedentary habits and want of exercise.

NESTLÉ'S MILK FOOD,

OR

LACTEOUS FARINA,

Contains all the elements of a complete nutrition in the most assimilable state for infants from the FIRST WEEK OF THEIR LIFE.

It is also an excellent Food for Debilitated Adults.

CONSTITUENTS COMPARED WITH WOMAN'S MILK.

1,000 Parts of Woman's Milk contain:		1,000 Parts of Lacteous Farina contain:
Water,	813.80	Water,	49.40
Organic Substances,	184.40	Organic Substances,	931.10
Ashes,	1.80	Ashes,	19.50
Azote,	4.83	Azote,	21.10

The ashes of the Milk Food are the same as woman's milk, and consist of (Bases) Lime, Potash, Soda, Magnesia, Oxide of Iron, Alumina (Traces), (Acids), Phosphoric (2.15 in 1,000 parts), Sulphuric, Chlorohydric, Lactic (traces).

Mixed with nearly four times its weight of water, it forms a fluid containing as much Azote as woman's milk; and with two parts it forms a pap twice as nourishing.

The most eminent physicians of all schools agree in recommending it as

THE NEXT BEST THING TO A GOOD NURSE.

Composed of perfectly soluble materials, this highly nourishing food is easily digested by Infants, and lessens considerably the frightful mortality prevailing among them. A Doctor of New York calls it

A BLESSING FOR MANKIND AND PHYSICIANS.

No artificial composition extant is equal for excellence and simplicity of preparation, the addition of water and fire for boiling being only required to secure a uniform material to make sound flesh and bones. It can be prepared in three minutes.

Properly used, will remove looseness by adding less water, and costiveness by adding more water to the Farina. The directions for use are on each box.

RETAILED 60 cts. PER BOX.

Cheaper than Cow's Milk.

PREFACE.

THE MEDICAL REGISTER AND DIRECTORY OF THE UNITED STATES, now presented to the public, owes its existence to the united efforts of Dr. J. M. Toner, of Washington City, and Dr. S. W. Butler, of Philadelphia.

Some fifteen years ago, Dr. Butler commenced collecting names of physicians from the various cities and States for the purpose of compiling a Medical Directory. He sent circulars to the secretaries of Medical Societies and to postmasters, desiring lists of all physicians in their localities, with their professional standing. From these sources he obtained some twenty thousand names; but his laborious duties as Editor of the MEDICAL AND SURGICAL REPORTER and other medical works interfered with accomplishing his plans as soon as he desired.

In the meantime, Dr. Toner, having the same object in view, obtained from the office of the Internal Revenue Department, and arranged alphabetically, about forty-eight thousand names of physicians of all schools and classes. In the fall of 1871 Dr. Butler purchased this list from Dr. Toner, and used it for the foundation of his work; and, in order to correct errors unavoidable in a list from non-professional sources, a circular was sent by him to each name, containing inquiries in reference to educational and professional standing, and the names, location, and officers of medical societies to which they might belong. The idea was new, and by many the value to the profession of a work of this kind was not at the first appreciated. Some physicians replied promptly and fully, others after long delay, and often indifferently, while very many have never noticed the circular at all. Through the means of those who replied, thousands of names have been added, and the professional standing of a large number correctly recorded. Every possible effort has been used to gain information. Transactions of Medical Societies, lists from secretaries of Medical Societies, and Catalogues of the Alumni of Medical Colleges have been compared with the previously obtained lists, and the professional standing, as far as reliable, inserted. The original list of the Internal Revenue Department had designated the different schools by their initial letter, Homœopaths by (h), Eclectics by (e), and those doubtful by (m). These have been retained, except when information to the contrary has been sent us; and should errors in this respect still exist, those only who have neglected to reply to the circulars are responsible for them.

At the time Dr. Butler commenced this work his health was much impaired. Years of intense mental labor in the performance of professional and editorial duties had brought on a disease from which he never recovered. With a marvellous energy of body, and a spirit never flagging, he worked on month after month, planning and arranging for the completion of this new enterprise, vainly hoping that he might live to see its completion. As his strength decreased, the magnitude of the work grew upon him, and his anxiety to have it one that would commend itself to the profession was absorbing. Few persons fairly comprehend the greatness of the task that was still unfinished when, on January 6th, 1874, he passed from this life. We close this brief history of the MEDICAL REGISTER AND DIRECTORY by quoting a notice in the London Medical Press and Circular of February 4th, 1874:

"THE LATE DR. BUTLER, OF PHILADELPHIA.—The last number of the PHILADELPHIA MEDICAL AND SURGICAL REPORTER contains an elaborate obituary notice of this indefatigable physician, whose untimely death offers another sad illustration of overwork and premature decay. It is not our custom to chronicle the decease of physicians on the other side of the Atlantic, but we feel that the life of so laborious a contemporary ought not to pass without a word from us. The deceased was the editor and proprietor of the above journal and the AMERICAN HALF-YEARLY ABSTRACT OF MEDICAL SCIENCES, and other publications; and during the past three years he has been engaged with the laborious task of compiling and editing a MEDICAL REGISTER AND DIRECTORY OF THE UNITED STATES. It appears at first sight almost incredible that a country like America should not possess a record of its medical profession. The magnitude of the work, however, is to our minds quite sufficient to deter an ordinary man from the attempt. When we consider that there are between 70,000 and 80,000 members of all shades and grades scattered throughout such vast tracts of country, where only semi-civilization ofttimes exists, and the postal arrangements, if there be any, are necessarily of a very primitive character—where also education has been in the past so sadly neglected, and diplomas easily obtained, even by those unable to read and write—the difficulties, we repeat, were sufficient to deter the most enterprising. Still Dr. Butler was not faint-hearted; he worked away at his herculean task until death relieved him, at the age of 50, of labors which had cost him a small fortune and a useful life."

To Dr. F. A. Hassler, to whom Dr. Butler confided the compiling of the Register part of the book, great credit is due for the work that he has done. He desires to express his thanks to the many gentlemen who have furnished him with information in regard to Medical Schools, Hospitals, and Mineral Springs. To the Commissioner of Education, the Secretary of the Interior, the Assistant Surgeon General United States Army, the Chief Clerk of the Navy Department, and the Indiana State Geologist thanks are also due for reports, etc., furnished by them.

Frequent reference has been made to the valuable work of Walton on the "Mineral Springs of the United States," and that of Moorman on the "Mineral Springs of North America." In all cases the information may be considered as reliable, great care having been taken to obtain the latest and best authorites, and to consult the reports of United States officers when possible.

In conclusion, we ask the reader's indulgence for any errors that may be found in the work. All such, if noted and forwarded to the publishing office, will be corrected in future editions.

June 17th, 1874.

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

THE second edition of the MEDICAL REGISTER AND DIRECTORY OF THE UNITED STATES is now laid before the Medical profession and the public.

In its revision no pains have been spared to bring it up to the latest possible moment before going to press. The aim has been to make it a complete and reliable Register and Directory of the Medical Associations, Societies and Institutions, County and State, Colleges, Health Associations, Mineral Springs, Hospitals, Medical Legislation, Officers of the United States Army and Navy, and of the Marine Hospital Service, and of all the physicians in each of the United States. Some of the States have been entirely reprinted for this edition. In others the plates have been corrected in situ as far as practicable, and new names inserted wherever it could be properly done. In others still—and the greater part—the revisions and corrections will be found in their proper order in a Supplement appended to the State. In one or the other of these ways all the inaccuracies and omissions of the first edition, so far as known, have been corrected.

In making these revisions acknowledgments are due to the Secretaries of the several State Medical Societies, who have so kindly responded to requests for the names and residences of their members, and other valuable information.

From Dr. Jackson T. Reeves, of Wisconsin, Dr. Samuel M. Bemiss, of New Orleans, Dr. T. D. Fitch, of Illinois, Dr. J. M. Toner, of Washington, D. C., Dr. J. W. Hadlock, of Ohio, Dr. T. D. Crothers, of New York, and Dr. L. C. Butler, of Vermont, special assistance has been received in the revision of the work, they having taken large portions of the Directory under their supervision, and aided in preparing it for the press. To these gentlemen, and some others—notably the gentlemen through whose aid Pennsylvania and Virginia were revised—whose names we are not permitted to mention, we take this occasion to make public our special acknowledgments for the deep interest they have taken in its completion and success, kindly contributing gratuitously their labor and experience to perpetuate this monument of the industry, patience and untiring perseverance of its projector, who died ere the first edition of this, his last life-work, was issued.

Encouraged by their assistance as an earnest of its value and completeness, it is sent forth on its mission, with the assurance that kind friends will appreciate the arduous labor that has been bestowed upon it, and look leniently upon the possible errors or omissions it may yet contain.

MEDICAL SOCIETIES.

AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

This Association met first as a national medical convention, May 5, 1846, in the City of New York. The organization was completed and the present name adopted in Philadelphia, May 5, 1847.

The Association meets annually in May or June, in some one of the large cities, and is composed of permanent members and delegates from regularly organized medical societies of good standing in the United States. A delegate after serving one year, becomes a permanent member.

"The delegates shall receive their appointment from permanently organized State medical societies, and such County and District medical societies as are recognized by representation in their respective State societies, and from the Medical Department of the Army and Navy of the United States. Each State, County, and District medical society, entitled to representation, shall have the privilege of sending to the Association, one delegate for every ten of its regular resident members, and one for every additional fraction of more than half that number. Provided, however, that the number of delegates from any particular State, territory, county, city, or town, shall not exceed the ratio of one in ten of the resident physicians, who may have signed the code of ethics of this Association. The medical staffs of the army and navy shall be entitled to four delegates each."

The American Medical Association has been fully recognized by the profession of the United States, as the great promoter of progress in medical science, and court of last resort in controverted points in ethics.

Two prizes of one hundred dollars each are given annually by the Association, for the two best original communications, on medical subjects, favorably reported upon by the committee on prizes.

The roll of membership is but little short of 6000. The Transactions are published annually, and number twenty-six volumes. All members are assessed five dollars ($5) annually, and are entitled to the volume of Transactions. The names of members failing to pay their dues for three successive years, unless absent from the country, are dropped from the roll.

The library of the Association is designed to be a library of reference, and a repository for copies of all American contributions to the literature of medicine. By the courtesy of Professor Joseph Henry, it is deposited in a room of the Smithsonian Institution building, and consists at the present time, including pamphlets, of about one thousand volumes.

The following is the list of ex-presidents: 1846, '53, Jonathan Knight, M. D., Conn.; 1847, Nathaniel Chapman, M. D., Pa.; 1848, Alexander H. Stevens, M. D., N. Y.; 1849, John C. Warren, M. The Society will meet at Newport, R. I., July 16, 1874.

THE AMERICAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION.

"The objects of this Association are the advancement of sanitary science, and the promotion of organizations and measures for the practical application of public hygiene." This Association was organized in 1872, and has for its members, physicians and others who are known to take an interest in such subjects as relate to sanitary science. The articles presented by its members and read at its meetings, are published, for it is believed that they will incite to fresh inquiries, and enlightened public efforts, to promote sanitary improvements. Presidents.—STEPHEN SMITH, M. THE ARMY MEDICAL MUSEUM AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE Army Medical Museum occupies a portion of the building (Nos. 509 and 511 Tenth street, N. W.) formerly known as Ford's Theatre. The rest of the building is occupied by the Division of Surgical Records, the Record and Pension Division, the Laboratory, and the Library of the Surgeon General's Office.

The Museum was founded, and a large portion of the medical and surgical specimens collected, during the war of the rebellion. Since the close of the war, however, the officers in charge have continued to collect specimens from the medical officers of the army at the several military posts, and a number of valuable specimens have been contributed by physicians engaged in private practice. Specimens of value from private physicians are always gladly received, and thus secure permanent preservation in connection with the names of the donors.

According to the report of the surgeon general for the fiscal year, terminating July 1, 1875, the Museum contains 6539 surgical specimens, 1279 medical specimens, 1254 anatomical specimens, 7275 microscopical specimens, 1522 specimens of comparative anatomy, and 240 specimens of models, appliances, ethnological objects, etc. The collection is open to visitors daily from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M., and was visited last year by more than 26,000 persons. The officers in charge are Assistant Surgeon J. J. Woodward, for the medical and microscopical sections, and the section of comparative anatomy, and Assistant Surgeon G. A. Otis, curator for the surgical section, the section of human anatomy, and the miscellaneous section.

This collection is richer in specimens, illustrative of the results of gunshot wounds, and of the surgical operations which they necessitate, than any other collection in the world. In other departments, though it does not equal some of the wealthy and long established museums of Europe, its collections are nevertheless by far the most important in America, and are annually increasing in extent and value.

The Library of the surgeon general's office, which occupies a portion of the same building, is under the charge of Assistant Surgeon J. S. Billings, United States army, and is by far the largest and most valuable medical library in America. According to the surgeon general's report, above referred to, it contains about 25,000 bound volumes and 15,000 pamphlets, and is steadily increasing. Medical men from any part of the country desirous of consulting the works in this library are courteously welcomed, and granted free access.

Dr. J. J. Woodward, United States army, has kindly furnished us with the above account of the museum.

THE UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL SERVICE.

Established by Act of Congress, July 16, 1798. Reorganized by Acts of Congress approved June 29, 1870, and March 3, 1875. John M. Woodworth, Supervising Surgeon General, Washington, D. C.

The Marine Hospital Service furnishes medical and surgical relief to the sick and disabled of the American merchant marine, and is chiefly supported by a tax of forty cents per month, as "hospital dues," upon the wages of seamen serving on documented vessels of the United States engaged in the commerce of the oceans, lakes and rivers. The service is under the charge of a Supervising Surgeon General, who is appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and is charged by law "under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, with the supervision of all matters connected with the Marine Hospital Service of the United States, and with the disbursement of the fund."

Hospital relief is furnished to seamen through organized hospitals owned by the United States, and through municipal or private hospitals under the supervision of medical officers of the service. There are 94 relief ports in the United States: on the Atlantic coast, 37; on the Gulf coast, 8; on the Pacific coast, 5; on the great lakes, 16; and on the rivers, 29.

A seaman to be entitled to relief from the Marine Hospital fund must have served on a registered, enrolled, or licensed vessel of the United States for at least two months immediately preceding his application for aid, and must have paid hospital dues for that period of time.

A sick or disabled seaman to obtain hospital relief must apply to a surgeon of the Marine Hospital Service or to a United States Collector of Customs, and must furnish satisfactory evidence that he is entitled to such relief.

During the fiscal year, ended June 30, 1875, the number of seamen relieved by the Marine Hospital Service was 15,009.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF ALABAMA.

Originally included within the territorial limits of South Carolina, Georgia, and Spanish Florida. Erected, with the present State of Mississippi, into the Territory of Mississippi in 1798, with the exception of the portion lying south of the 31st parallel, which was a part of Spanish Florida until taken possession of by the United States forces in 1811. In 1817 the territory was divided, and the State of Mississippi formed from the western portion, the eastern being formed into the Territory of Alabama, which was erected into a State, December 14th, 1819. "Alabama" is said to be derived from a word in an Indian language, signifying, "Here we rest." The State has 50,722 square miles of territory,* and contained a population, by the census of 1870, of 996,992. By the same census there were 1418 Physicians and surgeons, giving one to every 700 of the population, supposing they were all in active practice, which is not likely. The northeastern part of Alabama is mountainous. South of this region, the surface has a general declivity toward the Gulf of Mexico. The southern half of the State is almost a dead level, but little above the water surface of the Gulf, on which the State borders, and consists of extensive prairies and pine barrens, interspersed with alluvial river bottoms of great fertility. The beautiful Tennessee River flows through the northern section of the State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF ALABAMA.

Bailey Springs, nine miles from Florence, and fourteen from Tuscumbia; reached by the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, via Tuscumbia. The location is a pleasant one, about six miles from the Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee River. There are five springs, the Rock, Chalybeate, Soda, Alum, and Freestone. The waters are alkaline chalybeate. An analysis of the Chalybeate Spring shows it to contain carbonates of potassa, soda, and magnesia, chloride of sodium, oxide of iron, carbonic acid, and sulphuretted hydrogen gases. An imperfect analysis, by Prof. TUOMEY, of the Rock Spring, gives carbonates of potassium, sodium, and iron, chloride of sodium and sulphur. The prominent ingredients, he says, are carbonic acid, iron, and soda. According to Dr. H. A. MOODY, the waters of the Bailey Springs have proved especially beneficial in scrofula and dropsy, the latter more particularly when associated with disease of the kidneys, liver, or spleen. They are also serviceable in leucorrhœa, dysmenorrhœa, amenorrhœa, and in irritability of the bladder. There is a good hotel at the Springs.

Bladon Springs, near the Tombigbee River; reached by steamboat from Mobile, 100 miles north; or from Demopolis, on the Alabama Central Railroad, about 50 miles south on the same river. It is expected soon to have daily railway communication with New Orleans. The Springs are four miles from Bladon Landing, situated in a rolling country, in a primeval forest of pines. The waters are nearly purely alkaline, charged with considerable carbonic acid gas.

* England and Wales contain 58,320 square miles.

Among the diseases these waters are recommended for is syphilis. Dr. MATTHEW TURNER, the resident physician, writes:—

"All forms of this disease are benefited by these waters. In the secondary and tertiary forms I seldom find any constitutional treatment necessary; am in the habit of relying entirely on the water and hot-vapor baths. Syphilitic ulcers heal rapidly under the local application of the sediment from the Spring. I have never known constitutional symptoms to appear after a chancre, if the patient, during the treatment, made free use of the water and baths."

There are accommodations for 500 guests in the hotel and in substantial frame cabins, well plastered, many of them with good brick chimneys, for winter.

Blount Springs, in Blount county; reached by the Alabama and Chattanooga, and Montgomery and Decatur Railroads. The situation is high, being 1580 feet above the sea level. The water is a saline sulphur. The following is the analysis of two of the Springs, of which there are six:—

Shelby Springs, in Shelby county; reached by the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, which passes directly by the Springs. Railroads from the northern and southern portions of the State also cross the above within five miles. There are White Sulphur, Chalybeate, Freestone, and Limestone Springs. No analysis has been made of the waters. The location is an exceedingly pleasant one. The valley in which the Springs are located runs northeast and southwest, and a constant current of air passes through it. These Springs have considerable reputation, and are resorted to by many.

Valhermoso Springs (formerly the "Morgan Springs"), in Morgan county, eighteen miles south of Huntsville, and two and a half miles from the mail-boat landing at Decatur. The location is fine, and the surrounding scenery romantic and beautiful, and there is good hunting and fishing near by. The waters are particularly recommended for rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic diarrhœa, and diseases of the skin, liver, and kidneys. The following testimonials, if true, ought to induce crowds to resort to the Springs:—

By the use of the iodine sulphur water at Valhermoso, my hair and whiskers, which were very gray a few months ago, have been restored to their original black color.

NEAR VALHERMOSO, June 1, 1871. N. B. TUCKER, M. D.

It also restored the growth and color of my hair. C. C. GIERS, Nashville, Tenn.

The following is an analysis of the waters:—

ANALYSIS OF THE IODINE SULPHUR WATER.

Sulphate of magnesium	4.032 grains.
" sodium	9.021 "
Carbonate of magnesium	0.481 "
Chloride of magnesium	0.407 "

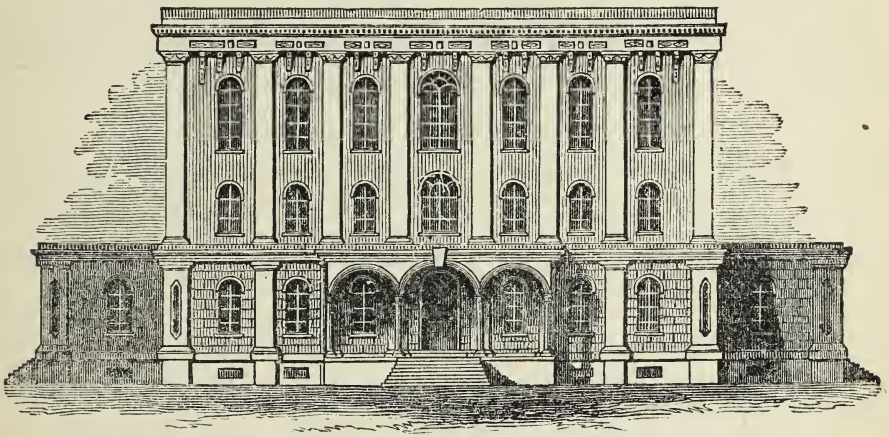
Sulphuretted hydrogen	2.45 to 69
Nitrogen	3.25
Oxygen	0.50
Carbonic acid	2.75

Arrangements are made for bottling and shipping this water.

THE MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF ALABAMA.



MEDICAL COLLEGE OF ALABAMA—MOBILE.

1. The Medical College of Alabama, located at Mobile; organized in 1859, with a full corps of professors; closed during the war, and reopened in 1867. It is conducted as a "free school," the only fees being matriculation, $25; anatomy, $10; graduation, $30. The class, at the last session, numbered 103. There are ten professors, a demonstrator, and an assistant demonstrator of anatomy.

2. The Southern University, at Greensboro', Hale county (organized in 1856), has a Medical Department which was opened in 1872, with a fair class for a first session. There are five professors in the medical department.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

1. The Alabama State Hospital for the Insane, was opened for patients in July, 1861. It is situated about two miles east of Tuscaloosa, on a gentle elevation, and surrounded by beautiful groves and varied landscape scenery, and has an abundant supply of good spring water. The plans for the building were furnished by the Association of Medical Superintendents of American Hospitals for the Insane. The building is of brick throughout, and is composed of a large centre building, four stories high, surmounted by a handsome dome, and wings, three stories high, extending in a right line on either side. For the purpose of light and ventilation, these wings are each subdivided into three sections, and the sections connected with each other by cross halls of the same height and dimensions. The whole is finished in stucco, and roofed with tin, and presents, when viewed directly from the front or rear, a right line measuring seven hundred and eighty-four feet. The wings have each three campaniles, corresponding with the sections, and connecting with the ventilating shaft or foul air duct, which extends along the entire attic.

The centre building contains more than thirty large rooms, exclusive of a beautiful and commodious chapel, and is appropriated to business offices, public parlors, officers' quarters, kitchens, store rooms, and servants' rooms.

The wings together contain eighteen halls or wards, and upward of three hundred dormitories for the use of the patients. Each ward has a distinct dining-room, parlor, bath-room, drying room, and water closet, and is intended to accommodate about twenty patients. The building will be warmed by radiation from steam pipes arranged along the basement stories or cellars, and will be susceptible of a temperature of seventy degrees Fahrenheit in the coldest winter weather. It will be ventilated by one of Meigs' revolving fans, driven by machinery. Water from an unfailing spring is forced by a Worthington steam pump into tanks located in the attic of the centre building. Hot-water tanks are conveniently placed in the basement, and heat is supplied to them by coils of steam pipe passing through them. They are supplied with water by connection with the tanks in the attic. Cold and hot water is distributed throughout the house by means of iron pipes.

The cooking, washing, and drying will be carried on by steam, so far as it is available, and the building will be lighted throughout with gas manufactured on the premises. Speaking tubes communicate from all quarters with the offices in the centre building.

The sinks, soil pans, and water closets are ventilated by downward currents passing into the large smoke stack connected with the boilers, and so complete is this arrangement that no disagreeable odor can be detected in any part of the house.

The building and grounds cost $250,000, the exact sum, I believe, estimated by the Association of Superintendents as necessary for the purpose, and less, perhaps, than any similar institution, of the same size and appointments, in the Southern country.

Three hundred and fifty patients are at present under treatment—February 28, 1873.

[The above account was kindly furnished by PETER BRYCE, M. D., Superintendent.]

2. The City Hospital, and 3. The Providence Infirmary (conducted by the Sisters of Charity for pay patients), at Mobile. 4. The Montgomery County Hospital, at Montgomery. We have no reports or details concerning these institutions.

MEDICAL SOCIETIES OF ALABAMA.

There are few States in the Union where the medical profession is better organized than in Alabama. All the organizations that have been reported are of regular physicians, there being, indeed, very few of any other class in the State. The present Medical Association of Alabama was organized in 1849. All the members of the County Societies are members of the State Association, which thus numbers about 500 members. The new Constitution of the Association, just adopted, creates a body of 100 members, termed counsellors, who reside in all parts of the State and look after the interests of medical organization.

The Secretary of the State Association, from 1873 to 1878, is Dr. BENJ. H. RIGGS, of Selma.

THE MEDICAL LAWS OF ALABAMA.

We present a summary of the medical legislation of Alabama.

The following Medical Boards and Societies are established by law in Alabama:—

The Medical Boards of Huntsville, Tuscaloosa, Selma, Claiborne, and Mobile, established by act of Legislature of January 15, 1830.

The Medical Boards of Montgomery and Demopolis (Marengo county), established by act of Legislature of January 10, 1835.

The Medical Board of Eufaula (formerly Irwinton), established by act of Legislature of December 23, 1837.

The Medical Board of Florence, established by act of Legislature of Dec. 23, 1841.

The Selma Medical Society, chartered by the Legislature; and chartered by the State Medical Association, as the "Dallas County Medical Society."

The Medical Board of Physicians for the Town of Jacksonville, incorporated by act of Legislature of December 27, 1841.—Clay's Digest of Alabama Statutes.

The Mobile Medical Society, to which the appointment of the Medical Board of Mobile is given, established by act of Legislature of February 23, 1866.

The medical boards established in the State of Alabama must examine all applicants for practice, and also their diplomas or licenses, which must in all cases be from a respectable college or institution. But regular graduates of medical colleges in the United States may practice their profession without a license, and their diplomas shall be sufficient evidence of their authority to do so.

The boards must grant to every applicant who is found upon examination duly qualified and of good moral character, and has paid five dollars ($5) for the use of the board, a license to practice physic, surgery, and dental surgery, or any of such branches.

Every license must be signed by the president of the board granting it, and countersigned by the secretary and judge of probate of the county in which such medical board is established; and the name of the person and of the branch in which he is licensed to practice must be registered on the books of the judge of probate, for which registration he is entitled to a fee of fifty cents.

Every contract made with any physician, surgeon, or dentist for his services as a physician, surgeon, or dentist, is void, unless he has been licensed to practice by one of the medical boards, or is a graduate of some medical college in the United States. The production of a license, or the certificate of the judge of probate that the name of such person is registered on his books as a licensed physician, etc., is proof of such fact; but no proof that any person who has rendered services as a physician, surgeon, or dentist, in any suit to recover for such services, has been duly licensed shall be required, except on two days' notice by the opposite party that such proof will be required.

Every person who practices dental surgery without a license from a medical board, forfeits fifty (50) dollars. One-half of this fine goes to the person who sues for it, the other to the county.

All druggists in the State of Alabama must obtain a license to deal in drugs from a medical board, or from the Medical College of Alabama. Any person who violates this section cannot recover for drugs or medicines sold by him, and is also guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred (100) dollars. Any person who employs any free negro to sell or assist in selling drugs or medicines by retail, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred (100) dollars.

Doctors who practice the Botanic or Thomsonian systems are not subject to the foregoing provisions.

The judge of probate of any county is entitled to a fee of fifty (50) cents for each certificate given by him.—Chap. 2, sec. 1223 etc., of Revised Code of Alabama of 1867.

Any person who wilfully administers any drug, etc., or uses any instrument to procure the miscarriage of a pregnant woman, unless it be necessary to preserve life, shall be punished by fine or imprisonment.

In any county where there is no medical board, the court of county commissioners may establish one, which shall be composed of not less than three or more than seven physicians of good standing and resident in the county, and shall perform the same duties and be subject to the same liabilities as medical boards established by the Legislature.—Revised Code of Alabama of 1867, sec. 1224.

All medical boards are required to keep seals, which shall be affixed to, and be sufficient proof of the authenticity of, all licenses and permits.

The State Association is now making an effort to secure legislation giving it exclusive control over the licensing of physicians in this State.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF ALASKA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF ALASKA.

For the early history of this region we must refer our readers to the works of Whymper, Dall and others.

This Territory was purchased from Russia by the United States by the treaty of March 30th, 1867, for the sum of seven and a quarter millions of dollars. This country, known by the name of Russian America, Unalaska, or Alaska, is the most northwesterly portion of North America, and is a peninsula containing about 577,390 square miles, that is to say, about the area of France, Germany and Great Britain. Upon the east it is bounded by British America, on the north, south and west it borders on the Pacific and Arctic Oceans.

Alaska is separated from Asia by Behring's Strait, which is but forty miles wide, and over which the former inhabitants of this region evidently came, Mr. Markham having brought before the Royal Geographical Society, in 1865, almost positive proof that the emigration took place at the time of Togrul Beg and Ghenghis Khan, about 1200 A. D. Alaska is separated from the United States by the country known as British Columbia. It has been questioned whether the Government did a wise act in purchasing this Territory, but it must be remembered, that besides the immense value of the mineral, vegetable and animal products of this region, the Government has obtained control of several thousand miles of coast line possessing excellent harbors, and destined at no far-distant day to carry on a large trade with China and Japan. We will give a few facts from the "U. S. Coast Pilot of Alaska," and from the "Land Office Report." The average temperature of Alaska is very similar to that of Sweden and Norway, which support a population of twenty persons to the square mile, and, being about double the size of these two countries, it is calculated that a population of about 12,000,000 could obtain subsistence here. But later authorities state that the isothermal lines are here so deflected northward as to give the country a similar climate to Scotland, which is more favorable still.

The coast is warmed by the Japan Current or Black Stream, which is the counterpart in the Pacific of the Gulf Stream in the Atlantic. It is calculated that about 20,000 square miles can be cultivated with profit. The Rocky Mountains traverse the country from north to south, and Mt. St. Elias takes rank among the half dozen loftiest single peaks on the globe, being 17,900 feet high. The Yukon (the word Yukon meaning the "Great River") is only equalled by the Mississippi, the Amazon, and perhaps one or two others.

The Sitka spruce grows to the height of 180 feet; hemlock, alders and willows abound; but the most valuable wood is the strong, smooth, fragrant, yellow cedar. Gold is mined on the Stikine River. Silver, copper, coal and bismuth have been found. Fur-bearing animals abound in immense numbers; the same may be said of fish, for we are told that in some of the small bays the salmon are at times "crowded so thickly that the progress of a boat is impeded." Tons of walrus ivory and of fossil ivory are exported every year. Castor is obtained in great quantities from the beavers of this region; over 1000 sacks of it being exported annually.

The name Alaska signifies "the continent, or great land," and is pronounced in the Russian language Alyaska.

No territorial Government has been formed, the General Government of the United States having complete control of the country.

The population in 1870 was 70,461, which includes the aboriginal inhabitants of the Territory.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF ALASKA.

Sitka Sound Hot Springs are fifteen miles from the town of Sitka. They have been used in cases of syphilis, and in rheumatic and cutaneous affections. Two hospital buildings were erected here by the Russian Fur Company. These waters contain sulphur, chloride of sodium and magnesia, and have a temperature of 104°, or, as given by another authority, 153° Fahrenheit.

The other mineral springs of Alaska are, a chalybeate spring about half a mile from Sitka, numerous similar springs on the western bank of the Chilchat River, a hot spring near Ilioulouk Harbor, and several others in different portions of the country.

This Territory having been but recently acquired, there has been very little emigration to it from this country, and the white population—mostly Russian—is sparse.

We have no names of medical men to record in Alaska

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF ARIZONA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF ARIZONA TERRITORY.

ARIZONA is interesting to the historian on account of the remains of former cultivation and evidences of civilization to be found there. Ruins of ancient cities and cathedrals existing in many places, while traces of irrigating canals occur in every direction, extending even into the densest part of the forests. The inhabitants of this region were somewhat civilized before the Spaniards visited it. They built cities, they cultivated the plains, they worked the mines of silver and gold, and they were acquainted with many of the arts.

This Territory was visited by Spanish explorers half a century after the discovery of the continent by Columbus, and at the close of the sixteenth century the Jesuits had established missions and settlements in almost all the fertile valleys of this region. By the middle of the seventeenth century the whole of the region had been explored, and at the beginning of the eighteenth century, the valleys of Santa Cruz, San Pedro, Colorado, Gila, Salinas, and Rio Verde, constituted a prosperous agricultural and mining region. The portion of Arizona north of the Gila River was a part of the territory ceded by Mexico in 1848, and with the portion south of that river purchased under the Gadsen Treaty in 1853 from the same power, formed a part of the Territory of New Mexico.

Arizona was formed as a Territory in February, 1863, with an area of 126,141 square miles. Congress, in 1866, passed an act taking 12,225 square miles from Arizona and adding it to the southern part of the State of Nevada, thus leaving the Territory with an area of 113,916 square miles, very nearly the area of the Middle States.

The Colorado River is the great stream of this Territory, having a length of 1100 miles and draining a basin of 3000 square miles. Like the Nile of Egypt, it is subject to an annual overflow; caused by the melting of snow upon the mountain ranges; its waters rising from 20 to 50 feet above the ordinary level. A part of its course is through deep cañons and mountain clefts with no arable soil, but it has many fertile valleys and many that could be rendered productive by means of proper irrigation. The Gila, a branch of the Colorado, is a large stream flowing through the Territory from east to west, and with the Little Colorado and numerous other streams, make this a well-watered country. The Pinaleno and the Mogollon Mountains traverse the central portion of the Territory from the northwest to the southeast. There are many forests of excellent timber, the Douglas spruce, and several varieties of pine and cedar attaining a height of 200 feet, and having a diameter of four feet.

Arizona is rich in mineral wealth. Gold and silver are mined; iron, tin, nickel, platinum, cinnabar, and copper have been discovered.

The population of this Territory, in 1870, was 9658; the number of physicians and surgeons was twenty-two. There are no known medicinal springs, and no medical institutions in the Territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF ARKANSAS.

About the year 1541 De Soto wandered as far west as the Mississippi River, and a little beyond. This led the Spaniards to claim the country, though it was taken possession of and occupied by the French. By the treaty of 1763, Spain received from France the vast region then known as the "Province of Louisiana," and which is now covered by portions of the States of Alabama and Mississippi; by the States of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, and Oregon; by portions of Minnesota and Kansas; by the Territories of Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, and the Indian Territory, and by a portion of the Territories of Colorado and Wyoming.

In the year 1800, Spain, under the iron hand of Napoleon, was compelled to resign all this immense wealth of territory to France, and two years later, by the treaty of April 30, 1803, it passed into the hands of the United States, upon the payment of $15,000,000.

As we have said above, this "Province" has developed into several States and Territories, among which the State now under consideration will be found.

Arkansas was given a territorial government in 1819, and received its name from the Arkansas River, which flows through the centre of the State; this again receiving its name from the Indians, "Kansas,"—in their language meaning "smoky-water,"—to which the French added the prefix, "arc," bow, from its meandering character.

The State was admitted into the Union on the 15th of June, 1836.

In such an extent of territory as 52,198 square miles, we would naturally expect to, and we do find, much diversity of surface, hill and dale, marsh and meadow, rich soil for the farmer in the valleys, and great wealth for the miner among the hills. The State is well supplied with navigable streams. The Mississippi washes its eastern border through a distance of nearly 400 miles; the Arkansas flows through the State for 350 miles; the St. Francis and White Rivers are noble streams, flowing from the highlands of Missouri; the White receives the Black River, a large and navigable stream; the Washita and the Red Rivers, with their many tributaries, drain the southern part of the State. The eastern border, for the distance of about 100 miles, is a low, level tract, covered in a great measure by swamp and marsh; but as we go west the surface becomes broken and hilly, and further still the Ozark Mountains rise to the height of 2000 feet.

By the census of 1870 we find the population to be 484,471, or 9.30 to the square mile. The number of physicians and surgeons, 1026.

Phthisis is the cause of 5 per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

There are no medical schools, or other public medical institutions in the State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF ARKANSAS.

The Hot Springs are situated on a creek of the same name, which empties into the Washita, six miles distant, in a southern direction. The springs lie sixty miles southwest of Little Rock, in Hot Springs county. They can be reached from Little Rock by stage, or by steamboat, on the Washita River to Arkadelphia, and thence by stage thirty-five miles. These springs issue from a beautiful ridge of novaculite, and are remarkable for their number, the high temperature of their waters and their mineral solutions. The waters are considered to be of great value in the treatment of various diseases, and hence their popularity as a place of resort for invalids.

The springs are fifty-seven in number, flowing at the rate of 350 gallons per minute. This large volume of water is utilized for all modes of bathing, and for internal use, by conduits which convey it to the various establishments. The waters are similar to those of Gastien in Austria, and Pfaffers in Switzerland.

The temperature of the different springs ranges from 93° to 148°, and the water contains, according to analysis by Prof. Larkin, the following constituents:

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.016	Bromine	trace.
Carbonate of Calcium	0.496	Silicate of Calcium	0.058
Chloride of Sodium	0.001	Silica	0.233
Sulphate of Potassium	0.029	Alumina	0.056
Sulphate of Sodium	0.047	Organic Matter	0.088
Sulphate of Calcium	0.014	Water	0.018
Sesquioxide of Iron	0.013
Iodine	trace.	Total	1.069

The mineral constituents are found to weigh 8½ grains per gallon.

The water is said to be tasteless, clear, and transparent, and does not deposit sediment upon standing. It is used externally as plunge and vapor baths, and is also taken internally. It is said to be of service in uterine disease, functional sterility, specific cutaneous affections, rheumatic and gouty conditions, scrofula, syphilis, and many other diseases.

Within a few miles of these springs there are several others, containing sulphur and iron, and forty miles distant there is one known as "Bill Iron's Salt Sulphur," which is said to possess highly exhilarating properties; these springs are, however, not as yet used for medicinal purposes. At the Hot Springs there are numerous hotels, with accommodation for several hundred guests.

There are only four cold springs in the Hot Springs Valley; two of these are chalybeate, and two freestone. The valley is about 2100 feet above the level of the sea, and enjoys a very even temperature.

There are other mineral springs in the western part of the State and the adjoining Indian Territory, the waters of which are much used by the people in the vicinity, but little is known of their qualities.

THE MEDICAL LAWS OF ARKANSAS.

Any regular practicing physician in the State of Arkansas may, upon request, receive from any member of the board of health of any city, village, or township in this State, the mayor or common council of any city, and the officer or board having control of any almshouse, prison, house of correction, or jail, the bodies of such persons as may be required to be buried at the public expense, for the purpose of anatomical study and investigation only, and he shall see that the remains so received by him, after they have served his purpose, are decently buried.

But the remains of any person who may request, during his last illness, to be buried, or whose friends or relatives may, within twenty-four hours after his decease, ask to have his body buried, or of any person who was a stranger or traveller, and died before making himself known, shall be buried, and not surrendered to any one.

Any regular practicing physician or surgeon, or any medical student, under the authority of a physician or surgeon, may have in his possession human dead bodies, or parts thereof, lawfully obtained, for the purpose of anatomical inquiry or dissection.—Act of the Legislature, passed in the Session of 1873.

No physician or surgeon shall be compelled to disclose any information which he may have acquired from his patient while attending him professionally, and which was necessary to enable him to practice as a medical adviser.—Digest of Statutes, p. 1001, ch. 171, sec. 22.

Physicians are exempt from jury service.—Digest of Statutes, ch. 94, sec. 21.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF CALIFORNIA.

"THE name California is first found in the worthless romance 'Las Sergas of Esplandian,' the son of Amadis of Gaul, written by Garcia Ordonez de Montaloo, and first printed in 1510." Here it is applied to an island "on the right-hand of the Indies."

The name next occurs in "the Memoir of Bernal Diaz del Castillo, who served with Cortes in the conquest of Mexico." He writes: "Cortes again set sail from Santa Cruz, and discovered the coast of California."

"The California referred to above is the peninsula of that name, generally known as Lower California, and the date, 1535."—U. S. Coast Pilot of California, p. 78.

Sir Francis Drake visited the country in 1579, and called it "New Albion;" a copy of an old map (1795) lies before us, in which it is called by that name. About the year 1603, Sebastian Viscaino took possession of San Diego and Monterey in the name of Philip III., of Spain, but the Spaniards did not colonize there until about the year 1768.

When Mexico became a republic, California was made one of her Territories, and by the treaty with that power, February 2, 1848, it was added to the United States as a Territory, becoming a State, September 9, 1850.

California attracted very little attention before the discovery of gold in 1848, but greater effect was never produced by the magic lamp of Oriental tale, than that which followed when the cry of gold! gold! rang through the land. The total yield of gold, to the year 1873, is about $1,050,000,000, but the State does not depend upon gold for her immense wealth; nature seems to have emptied her cornucopia upon it. Silver, mercury, lead, tin, zinc, and coal abound; agate, cornelian, topaz, and diamond are occasionally found.

The grandest trees in the world are found here, some of these giants attaining the height of 450, and a diameter of 40 feet. All vegetables and fruits grow to a size unknown in most parts of the world; the State, embracing as it does every kind of soil and climate, yields all the products of the temperate, and many of the semi-tropical and tropical regions. The Sierras and the Coast Mountains constitute the most prominent geographical and topographical feature of the State. The Sierras attain a height of from 2000 to 15,000 feet above the level of the sea, towering high up into the regions of perpetual snow. It is among these grand mountains that the traveller seeks the wonders of the Yosemite, peaks of beauty, lakes like mirrors; falls, the height of which make Niagara to appear as a pigmy; the "Bridal Veil hangs from Phonos' brow," 940 feet; the Yosemite itself appearing to fall from the clouds, falling as it does from the height of 2600 feet.

The Sacramento and the San Joaquin rivers drain the great central valley between the Sierra Nevada and the Coast Range, while the Klamath and Salinas are the largest rivers emptying into the Pacific. There are also several lakes of considerable size.

The State covers an area of 188,981 square miles, has 970 miles of sea-coast line, and has a population, according to the last census (1870), of 582,031; the number of physicians and surgeons being, according to the same census, 1257. Phthisis is the cause of fourteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

A comparison of three places of invalid resort, Mentone (France), Aiken (South Carolina), and Anaheim (in Southern California), for the months of December, January, and February, has been made by Francis S. Miles, of New York. He says that, at Anaheim, an invalid could have been out of doors all day during eighty-one days, and would have been confined in doors, by bad weather, nine days. At Mentone, there were sixty-seven fair days, and twenty-three bad days; and at Aiken, fifty-three fair, and thirty-seven bad days. The average temperature at Anaheim, during the three winter months, was 61°; at Mentone, 48½°; and at Aiken, 53°.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CALIFORNIA.

ALKALINE WATERS.

Congress Springs, Santa Clara county. These Springs can be reached by the Central Pacific Railroad, from San Francisco to San José, forty-seven miles, thence twelve miles by stage. If the following analysis be correct, the water of these Springs is an alkaline-chalybeate water.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	15.418	Sulphate of Sodium	1.517
Carbonate of Iron	1.753	Silica, Alumina, and trace of Magnesia	6.235
Carbonate of Calcium	2.161
Chloride of Sodium	14.894	Total	41.978

The water is said to be very agreeable to the taste, and it is bottled and sold throughout the State.

The hotel is of the same name as the Springs.

California Seltzer Springs.—Persons desiring to reach these Springs will take the steamer from San Francisco to Petaluma, thence by Central and Northern Pacific Railroad to Cloverdale, thence by stage, twelve miles, to the Springs, which are in Mendocino county. The waters of these Springs are said to be of service in dyspepsia, and in some diseases of the liver and bladder.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (F. A. Bauer):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	4.61	Chloride of Sodium	2.15
Carbonate of Magnesium	5.05	Silicic Acid	trace.
Carbonate of Iron	trace.	Total	21.21

Gas—carbonic acid, abundant (1871).

Guests can be accommodated at the Fountain House.

SULPHUR WATERS.

Piedmont Springs are beautifully situated, three miles distant from Oakland. The waters possess the usual taste of sulphur waters, and are said to prove aperient. They have not been analyzed. There are abundant hotel accommodations.

The White Sulphur Springs are in Napa county, twelve miles by rail from Calistoga Springs. The waters have not been analyzed. The hotel has the name of the "Springs."

Vallejo White Sulphur Springs.—These Springs are four miles from Vallejo, in Solano county. No analysis has, as yet, been made of the waters. Hotel—"Springs."

CHALYBEATE WATERS.

Fry's Soda Spring is in Siskiyou county, and, when the Oregon Railroad is finished, will be very easy of access; but, at present, about ninety miles of travel must be performed by stage.

The water of this Spring, from the amount of iron and of carbonic-acid-gas it contains, might be called an iron-soda water. The temperature of the water is about 62° Fahrenheit. The region in which this Spring is found is exceedingly attractive to the traveller, being situated at the bottom of the cañon of the Upper Sacramento, over 2300 feet above the level of the sea.

Mount Shasta, 14,440 feet high, is but a short distance off, and persons visiting the Spring, in July or August, can easily procure guides, and make the ascent.

Accommodation—"Fry's Soda-Spring Hotel."

THERMAL WATERS.

Calistoga Hot Springs are in Napa county, and are reached by the Napa Valley Railroad, from Vallejo.

For the analysis of one of these springs, see page 50.

The number of these Springs is about sixty, and their temperature varies from 100° to 195°. The waters are used almost exclusively for bathing, tanks being constructed for the social bath, and for private use; hot vapor and mineral-mud baths are also employed. The waters are said to be effective in gout, paralysis, rheumatism, lead-poisoning, and many other diseases. Here will be found the "Calistoga Springs Hotel," and the "Mountain House."

Five miles southwest of this place are found the prostrate remains of a vast forest of gigantic trees, which, in geologic times, and, it is supposed, by being covered by siliceous-alkaline waters, have been converted into stone. This wonder of nature is called the Petrified Forest.

The Geysers are situated in Sonoma county, and are reached by stage, twenty-eight miles from Calistoga. Among all the wonders of this most wonderful State, the Geyser Cañon is far from being the least. We must refer the reader to works descriptive of this great country; for we can do little more than give an outline of its marvels. The imagination of a Dante could scarcely picture a more infernal region enclosed within one of beauty.

The Cañon is about half a mile long, and from fifteen to thirty feet in width; its grand sides lift themselves, at an angle of 45°, to the height of 1400 feet. The bottom of this vast chasm is covered with boiling, bubbling, hissing springs; jets of hot water and of steam; cones of extinct geysers, incrustations of iron, sulphur, and other minerals.

There are about a hundred different springs; we will give the names of a few of them. The Alum and Iron Spring, with a temperature of 97°, and almost saturated with iron. The Medicated Geyser Bath, not quite so warm as the last. The Boiling Alum and Sulphur Spring, having a temperature of over 150°. The Black Sulphur; the Epsom Salts; the Boiling Black Sulphur; the Witches' Caldron, with a diameter of seven feet and an unknown depth; the Intermittent Scalding Spring, whose jets of hot water sometimes rise fifteen feet in the air; the Steamboat Geyser; the Devil's Inkstand, with water as black as, and may be used as a substitute for, ink; the Alkali Lake; the Boiling Eye-water Spring; the Indian Spring; and, near the "Geyser Hotel," the Acid Spring, whose water is sweetened and used as lemonade.

The water of a number of these springs is used for all varieties of baths, but we do not know of their having been used internally for medicinal purposes.

Paso Robles Hot Springs.—These Springs are situated in San Luis Obispo county, and are twenty-seven miles north of the town of the same name, from which they may be reached by stage.

From the analysis, by Professor Thomas Price, of the waters, it will be seen that they resemble the noted waters of Aix-la-Chapelle in Rhenish Prussia.

Their properties are laxative, diuretic and alterative, and are considered to be of service in chronic rheumatism, gout, some diseases of the skin, and many other infirmities.

The conveniences are, as yet, few; the "Paso Robles Hotel" accommodates guests, and there are two swimming baths.

Santa Barbara Hot Sulphur Springs.—These Springs, seven in number, are situated in Santa Barbara county, four miles from the town of that name.

The traveller will find "Sulphur Springs Hotel" at the Springs, or he may be accommodated in the town. The water of these Springs varies from 60° to 130° Fahrenheit; the qualities of the different Springs also varies, but no analysis has been made. The diseases in which these waters are found to be of service are the same as those mentioned when speaking of the Paso Robles Springs.

Santa Barbara has obtained some celebrity as a place of resort for invalids, the climate being such that there is no day in the year in which the invalid may not be out in the open air.

About half a mile from the shores near Santa Barbara, out in the ocean, there is an immense spring of petroleum, the product of which floats on the surface of the water, covering it for several miles in all directions.

Agua Caliente; or, Warner's Ranch Springs.—These hot sulphur Springs are about fifty miles northeast of San Diego. They are not at present used by the whites for medicinal purposes, but the Indians have made such use of them for a long period.

San Bernardino Hot Springs.—These Springs are situated about five miles from the town of San Bernardino, where visitors must find accommodations, for there are none at the Springs.

The temperature varies from 108° to 172° Fahrenheit, and the water is said to contain carbonate of calcium, silica, magnesia, alumina, oxide of iron and phosphoric acid.

Skaggs's Hot Springs may be reached from Petaluma by rail to Healdsburg, thence, twenty miles by stage, to Springs. The Springs vary in temperature and in mineral constituents; the Spring nearest the "Skaggs's Spring Hotel" contains sulphur, iron and borax; while a second contains iron, manganese, sulphur, and soda; the chief constituent in another is iron.

Gilroy Hot Springs are in Santa Clara county, and are connected with Gilroy by a stage line.

Hotel—"Gilroy Springs." The water has not been analyzed.

Lake Tahoe Hot Springs.—A stage runs from Truckee on the Central Pacific Railroad to these Springs.

The Springs are situated on the borders of the lake at the height of 6500 feet above the level of the sea.

UNCLASSIFIED WATERS.

The Alabaster Cave Spring is in El Dorado county, ten miles from Folsom, on the Sacramento Valley Railroad. This Spring is in a most beautiful cave, consisting of several immense halls, draped with alabaster stalactites of all colors. One is here reminded of some of the wonderful underground palaces of the vivid imagination displayed in the tales of the "Arabian Nights." We do not know of this spring having been used for medicinal purposes.

Summit Soda Springs.—These Springs are near Summit Station, on the Central Pacific Railroad, in Alpine county. This is thought to be a chalybeate water highly charged with carbonic acid gas. These Springs are 7000 feet above the sea, and are chiefly visited on account of the pure mountain air.

The Tuscan Springs may be reached from Sacramento by way of the Oregon Division of the Central Pacific Railroad to Tehama, thence by stage. These Springs are in Shasta county.

Their waters are said to be of service in rheumatic and syphilitic diseases. They contain chloride of sodium, carbonate of sodium, borax, salts of lime. Sulphuretted and carburetted hydrogen are given off, collected and used as fuel for heating the water under the steam baths.

Vichy Springs are in Santa Clara county twelve miles from San José. For the analysis of one of these springs, see page 50.

Bartlet Springs are in Colusa county, and are not easy of access. Their waters have not been analyzed.

Adams' Spring is in Lake county. For the analysis of this spring, see page 50.

Napa Soda Springs are in Napa county, and may be reached by stage from Napa City. The waters of these Springs are bottled and sold throughout the State.

Harbines Springs, in Lake county, are connected by a stage line with Calistoga. Analysis—none.

Hotel—"Harbines Spring."

San Rafael Springs.—A line of steamboats connect these Springs with San Francisco. The waters have not been analyzed.

Crystal Springs are about twenty miles from San Mateo in the county of the same name.

THE MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF CALIFORNIA.

1. Medical College of the Pacific.—This school of medicine lately formed the Medical Department of the University of the Pacific (organized in 1858), and now forms the Medical Department of the University College, popularly known as the "City College," from its location in the heart of the City of San Francisco. A "Preliminary Course" of lectures is given, commencing in January, and the "Regular Course" commences on the first Monday in June, of each year, continuing five months. This school has a full corps of professors (9), and possesses ample means for clinical instruction. The alumni of this college number fifty-four. The fees are: matriculation $5; professors' fees $130; graduation, $40; demonstrator's ticket, $10. Students of Theology attending this college have free access to the medical lectures.

2. Toland Medical College.—This institution has lately transferred its property to the University of California, and now forms the Medical Department of the University of California.

HOSPITALS OF SAN FRANCISCO.

City and County Hospital.—This hospital has been constructed on an entirely different plan from that usually in vogue. Several individual structures, built of wood with brick foundation, most of them at a considerable distance from each other, but connected by a long covered corridor, unite to form the hospital.

During the year 1872, there were 2611 admissions; and the average number in the hospital at any one time was 290. The hospital is situated in the midst of a ten-acre lot, on rising ground, in the southern portion of the city, and has been occupied since September, 1872.

The San Francisco Alms-house has 500 beds, and several hundred disabled and superannuated poor are here provided for.

A Small-pox Hospital and a Chinese Hospital also belong to the city.

The German Hospital is a fine brick structure, accommodating about 130 patients. There are but two wards in the hospital, each containing ten beds; the remaining rooms being designed for one or two patients only. The charges, including medical attendance, are $2 per day, with from fifty cents to $1.50 extra for private rooms, if desired.

The French Hospital is under the care of the "Société Française de Bienfaisance Mutuelle." The hospital is a large brick building, accommodating 170 patients. The charges are $2 per day for ward patients, and $3 for those desiring private rooms.

St. Mary's Hospital is a very large brick structure, with most excellent interior arrangements. There are 180 beds; some in the wards and others in private rooms. Charges: patients in wards, $10 per week, occupying private rooms, $20. This hospital is under the care of the Sisters of Mercy.

Italian Hospital. Erected by the Italian Benevolent Society. It is a two-story brick building, accommodating forty patients. The charges are the same as those of the French Hospital.

The United States Marine Hospital was so injured by the earthquake in 1862, that it had to be vacated. It was built to accommodate 800 patients. The buildings formerly occupied as a Deaf, Dumb, and Blind Asylum are now used as a Marine Hospital.

The California Woman's Hospital, receiving only those with diseases peculiar to women, has nineteen beds.

The San Francisco Woman's Hospital, is a general hospital for females, who are here treated gratuitously. The number of beds is twenty-five.

The Foundling Hospital and Lying-in-Asylum, receives women during confinement, and takes care of foundlings. It provides a room for each pregnant female, of which it can accommodate twenty-one.

Saint Luke's Hospital, under the care of the Episcopal Churches, is designed for the poor of that denomination, and contains twenty beds.

For the above information, in regard to the Hospitals of San Francisco, we are indebted to Dr. Henry Gibbons, Jr., of that city. We have been unable to collect information regarding the hospitals in other parts of the State.

There is a State Hospital for the Insane at Stockton, and also one at Napa, and an Institution for the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind, near Oakland, which is a first-class institution in every respect, and will accommodate 150 unfortunates.

THE MEDICAL LAWS OF CALIFORNIA.

The coroner or other person holding an inquest may summon a physician or surgeon to attend, and inspect the body, or make a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach, and give a professional opinion of the cause of deceased's death.

A physician who has professionally attended, as a witness, an inquest; trial of one charged with murder or manslaughter; or an examination to test the insanity of a person, shall receive for his services a reasonable compensation, on examination by the Board of Supervisors, upon the written certificate of the court or officer requiring his services as to the extent and value of them.

This certificate, however, is not conclusive as to the amount of compensation.—Act Feb. 8th, 1872, Statues of Cal., p. 81.

At every examination to test the insanity of any person, two or more persons best acquainted with the alleged lunatic, and also two physicians, must be summoned to attend. The physicians must hear the testimony of the witnesses and also make a personal examination of the alleged insane person. If, after hearing testimony and making an examination, they believe the person to be dangerously insane, they shall make out a certificate, showing, as near as possible, 1st. That the person is so far disordered in his mind as to endanger health, person, or property; 2d. The symptoms, apparent cause, or class of insanity, and the duration and condition of the disease; 3d. The nativity, age, residence, occupation and previous habits of the person; 4th. The place from whence the person came, and the length of his residence in this State. This certificate must be made in the form prescribed by, and, if they can be had, upon blanks furnished by, the Medical Superintendent of the Asylum.

The physicians who attend each examination are allowed five dollars each, to be paid by the treasurer of the county where the examination was held, on the order of the Board of Supervisors.—Political Code, ch. 3d, § 2210, etc.

The vaccine agent must keep on hand a supply of genuine vaccine matter, approved by the State Board of Health, and must furnish the same to any regular practicing physician in good standing in his profession in this State.

The agent is entitled to receive five dollars for each parcel furnished by him.—Ibid. § 2993, etc.

All physicians must keep a registry of the births they attend professionally, stating the time of the birth; the sex, race and color of the child, and the names and residences of the parents. They must also keep a registry of the deaths of all persons whom they have attended in their last illness, stating the name, age, residence and time of death. Physicians must file quarterly with the county recorder a certified copy of their register of births and deaths, which must specify, as accurately as may be ascertained, the name in full, age, occupation, term of residence in the city or county, birth-place, condition (married or single), race, color, and last place of residence and cause of death of all decedents.—Ibid. § 3075, etc.

The person who reports births and deaths to the recorder must pay him twenty-five cents for recording each name, which fee must primarily be paid by the parents or next of kin of the person whose birth or death is reported. If no fee is paid to the person making the report, the recorder's fees must be paid by the Board of Supervisors from the general fund of the county.—Ibid. § 3081.

Physicians must, on or before the fourth day of every month, make a report, upon blanks furnished by the Board of Health, to the health officer, of all births, deaths and number of still-born children, which have occurred in their practice during the preceding month.—Ibid. § 3024.

No human body can be interred in the city or county of San Francisco without a physician's or coroner's certificate, setting forth the name, age, color, sex, place of birth, date, place and cause of death of deceased. Physicians are obliged to give such certificate when deaths occur in their practice.—Ibid. § 3025.

Any person who fails or neglects to perform any duty imposed by these sections is liable to a penalty of fifty dollars.—Ibid. § 3082.

The sheriff, coroner, keeper of a county poor-house, public hospital, county jail, or State prison, must surrender the dead bodies of such persons as require to be buried at the public expense to any physician or surgeon in this State, or medical students under the authority of any physician or surgeon, to be used for the advancement of anatomical science, preference being given always to medical schools by law established in the State. But, if deceased, during his last illness, requested to be buried; or if, within twenty-four hours after his death, his friends or kindred requested to have the body buried; or if deceased was a stranger or traveller who died suddenly before making himself known, the remains shall be buried without dissection.

Every physician or surgeon, before he receives a dead body, must give to the board or officer surrendering the same to him a certificate from the medical society of the county where he resides, or, if there is none, from the Board of Supervisors, that he is a fit person to receive it. He must also give bond, with two sureties, that the remains shall be used by him for the promotion of anatomical science, and in this State only, and so as in no event to outrage public feeling—Pol. Code, ch. 4, § 3093, etc.

Every physician who, in a state of intoxication, does any act, as a physician, by which the life of another person is endangered, is guilty of a misdemeanor.—Penal Code, § 346.

Every person who provides for, or administers to, any pregnant woman, or procures such woman to take any medicine, drug or substance, or uses any instrument or other means whatever, with intent thereby to procure the miscarriage of such woman—unless such treatment is necessary to preserve her life—is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not less than two or more than five years.—Ibid. § 274.

Every person who mutilates, disinters, or removes from the place of sepulture any human body, without authority of law, unless it is done for the purpose of reinterment, is guilty of felony. Any person who removes any part of a dead human body with intent to sell or dissect it, without authority of law, or from malice or wantonness, is punishable by imprisonment in State prison not exceeding five years.—Ibid. § 290, etc.

Every apothecary, druggist, or person carrying on business as a dealer in drugs or medicines, or person employed as clerk or salesman by such person, who, in putting up any drugs or medicines, or making up any prescriptions, or filling any order for drugs or medicines, wilfully, negligently or ignorantly, omits to label the same, or puts an untrue label, stamp, or other designation of contents upon any box, bottle, or other package containing any drugs, etc., or substitutes a different article for any article prescribed or ordered, or puts up a greater or less quantity of any article than that prescribed or ordered, or otherwise deviates from the terms of the prescription or order which he undertakes to follow, in consequence of which human life or health is endangered, is guilty of a misdemeanor, or, if death ensues, is guilty of a felony.—Ibid. § 380.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF COLORADO.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF COLORADO TERRITORY.

COLORADO TERRITORY was organized by Act of Congress, March 2d, 1861, being carved out of the adjoining Territories; that portion east of the Rocky Mountains and north of the Arkansas River being taken from the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska, and being a part of the Province of Louisiana, ceded by the French in 1803 (see Arkansas); that portion west of the mountains from the Territory of Utah, and that portion east of the mountains and south of the Arkansas River from the Territory of New Mexico. The two latter portions of country being included in the Mexican cessions of 1848.

This Territory has an area of 104,500 square miles, and in 1870 possessed a population of 39,864.

The surface divisions of Colorado are severally called the plains, the valleys, the parks, and the mountains. The plains embrace the elevated rolling prairies rising gradually to the foot-hills of the mountains. These plains are fertile, and are covered with rich grasses, supporting vast heads of bison and numerous other graminivorous animals.

Portions of these plains abound in iron ore, and in the vicinity of the eastern foot-hills outcroppings of immense coal beds are found; several mines being extensively worked. Lignite and albertite coal are found in strata of from five to thirty feet in thickness; the latter containing from fifty to sixty gallons of oil to the ton.

The valley is the country at the base of the foot-hills of the Rocky Mountains. The soil is excellent, and with proper irrigation can be made to yield immense crops.

The parks are elevated bowls in the mountain country, having the appearance of beds of inland seas upheaved and emptied of their waters by volcanic agency. They present to the eye scenery magnificent beyond description, made up of far-reaching forests, fertile meadows, and beautiful streams, surrounded by the lofty peaks of the great rocky range.

The mountain country embraces the greater part of the mineral wealth, and much of the vast forests which cover about five-sevenths of the entire Territory.

The country east of the mountains is drained by the Arkansas and the Platte Rivers, the South Park by the Rio Grande; the water of both of these sections being carried into the Gulf of Mexico, while that falling on the west side of the mountains is carried by the Grand and the Bear into the Colorado, which empties into the Gulf of California.

The number of physicians and surgeons in Colorado, according to the census of 1870, was 70.

The per centage of deaths from phthisis is 8 per annum.

We are unable to give any information in regard to the medical institutions.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF COLORADO.

Idaho Hot Springs.—These springs are in Clear Creek county, and may be reached from Denver, partly by Colorado Central R. R., and partly by stage.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (85° to 115° Fahr., J. G. Dohle):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	3.85	Sulphate of Sodium	3.67
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.36	Sulphate of Magnesium	2.34
Carbonate of Iron	0.52	Sulphate of Calcium	0.43
Carbonate of Calcium	1.19	Silicate of Sodium	0.51
Chloride of Sodium	0.52
Chloride of Magnesium	trace	Total	13.39
Chloride of Calcium	trace

Flow, one hundred gallons per minute (1870).

These waters resemble, somewhat, the Carlsbad waters in Bohemia, and are found to be of service in rheumatism, cutaneous diseases, syphilis, and several other affections. These springs are 7800 feet above the level of the sea, and the scenery in the neighborhood is "Swiss-like in every particular—snow always in sight, cascades, the rushing roar of sparkling waters, rounded mountains, beetling crags, and grand, barren rock-ribbed cliffs."

There are two large bathing establishments, the "Ocean Bath," and the "Mammoth Bath;" baths being taken either socially or privately. There are ample hotel accommodations.

The Middle Park Hot Sulphur Springs are in Summit county, and are as yet very inaccessible. No analysis has been made, but the waters are known to contain sulphur, and to be of a temperature of from 111° to 116° Fahr.

Even though almost inaccessible, over five hundred persons camped out here (for there is no hotel) during July, 1871.

Rocky Mountain Springs.—These springs are in Boulder county, ten miles from Boulder city. The waters contain carbonate of sodium, carbonate of magnesium, carbonate of iron, and carbonic acid gas.

The elevation of these springs is 6500 feet above the sea. Accommodations may be found at the "Mountain House."

Colorado Springs are situated at the base of Pike's Peak, 6350 feet above the level of the sea.

They are about five miles west of the town of the same name, in a beautiful glen, to which has been given the name of Manitou. These are the celebrated "Boiling Springs," which, years ago, were made known to the world by Fremont, Ruxton, and other writers. Formerly they were visited on account of their medicinal virtues by the native tribes of Indians, who regarded them as supernatural phenomena caused by the direct action of the Great Spirit. In latter times, notwithstanding the difficulty of access to them, their fame has attracted large numbers of invalids, anxious to avail themselves of the healing waters. During the last two years, a large amount has been expended in laying out and adorning the ground in the neighborhood; handsome, commodious, and comfortable hotels have been built, bath-houses have been fitted up, and many other conveniences been provided.

The springs are seven in number, and are useful both for drinking and bathing purposes, being highly beneficial in rheumatism, skin diseases, general debility, and numerous other ailments.

The analysis of one of these springs, known as the "Galen," or "Doctor," as given by Thomas M. Drown, M. D., shows that chloride of sodium, bicarbonate of sodium, bicarbonate of calcium, and chloride of potassium are the principal ingredients.

The town is upon the Denver and Rio Grande Railway.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF CONNECTICUT.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF CONNECTICUT.

CONNECTICUT is said to be the English orthography of the Indian word "Quon-ch-ta-cut," which signifies "the long river."

If we except a small trading-fort built by the Dutch at Hartford, in 1631, the first colony planted in Connecticut was the settlement of some of the Massachusetts emigrants at Windsor. Soon afterward, Hartford fell into the possession of the English colonist. Wethersfield was next occupied in 1636, and New Haven in 1638.

Connecticut was embraced under the charters of Massachusetts, and continued under the same jurisdiction until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a constitution was formed in September, 1842.

This State was one of the "original thirteen States," and ratified the Constitution of the United States, February 6, 1788.

The surface of the country is for the most part hilly, but it is nowhere mountainous, 1000 feet being the highest elevation within the State. These hills are continuations of the mountains of the States lying northward.

The State is well-watered, but most of its streams are small and of little importance in navigation. The principal river is the Connecticut, vessels of eight feet draft ascending to Hartford, fifty miles.

The Housatonic and the Thames are the two next important streams. The valleys are the rich agricultural districts of the State, the hilly regions being best adapted for pasturage.

Copper is found at Bristol, Plymouth, and Granby; zinc, cobalt, and manganese also occur; and other metals of minor importance have been discovered in various places.

The State borders on Long Island Sound for about ninety miles, and possesses several excellent harbors.

The State covers an area of 4750 square miles, and according to the census of 1870, possessed a population of 537,454. The number of physicians and surgeons, according to the same authority, was 680. Phthisis is the cause of twenty per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CONNECTICUT.

Stafford Springs are in Tolland county, on the Northern Railroad, twenty miles north of Willimantic. There are two springs, one of these, as analyzed by Prof. Silliman, contains a large proportion of hydrogen gas and sulphur, and a small portion of iron. The other which is considered to be one of the best chalybeate springs in the United States, contains iron held in solution by carbonic acid gas, sodium, iodine, and magnesia.

The Springs and the "Stafford Springs House" are close by the depot, Stafford village being two miles distant.

These are the only Springs that are known to possess medicinal qualities.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF CONNECTICUT.

The Medical Institution of Yale College is located at New Haven, and is a first-class school in every respect. The faculty consists of eight professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. This school was opened in 1813, and the manner in which it has been carried on for these sixty years is an honor to the profession.

We are sorry to say that it has not received the encouragement that is its due, either from the profession at large, or from the authorities of Yale. In 1822, the class numbered ninety-three, since that time, chiefly from the causes we have mentioned above, it has gradually decreased, so that now the classes average thirty-two. The manner in which this College is ignored by the officers who have the general management of the University—it not being even mentioned in their circulars—seems strange to an outsider, and leads to the suspicion that personal feelings have been brought into the matter.

The course of study in this Institution is divided into two terms in each year, a Spring Term and a Winter Term.

The Spring Term commences in March and continues sixteen weeks. In this term the students are classified, and are instructed by recitations and lectures; they are taught chemistry by practical work in the laboratory, and are instructed in the use of the Microscope. This term does not count as one of the "courses of Public Lectures" required for graduation.

The fees for this Term are $60, for the Winter Term the same, or for both $100 in one payment. Matriculation fee, $5; graduation fee, $25; expenses of laboratory practice, $10.

The Winter Term commences about the middle of October and closes in February.

The instruction during this term is conducted by means of "Public Lectures" with daily examinations; by clinical teaching and by Anatomical Dissections.

During the winter a course of lectures on Insanity is delivered by the Superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane at Middletown. There is a large medical museum connected with this Institution.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The New Haven Hospital.—The Connecticut Medical Society in 1826 agitated the question of erecting a "General Hospital" at New Haven, but a sufficient amount of money was not raised until 1832, when a building was erected, and opened as a Hospital in the summer of 1833.

This building has for a long time been inadequate to accommodate all who apply for admission, therefore a contract has been made for a new building, having a capacity for 120 beds, and being well supplied with all the modern improvements.

Hartford Hospital.—This institution was incorporated in 1854, and a building was erected in 1857, accommodating fifty patients. This being found to be too small, was enlarged about two years since, and can now accommodate double that number. Nearly 2000 patients have been treated here, and within the year ending March 1, 1873, 285 have been admitted. The Hospital is a handsome building of Portland stone.

The Retreat for the Insane, at Hartford, was founded in 1823, and is a fine building with highly ornamental, and very extensive grounds. Within the last year 114 persons deprived of their reason have received the benefit of this institution, and 5522 since its foundation. The buildings of this "Retreat" have lately been altered and enlarged, and every accommodation provided for patients. Within the long period of fifty years since its foundation, the treatment of patients at this asylum has been eminently successful.

The General Hospital for the Insane is a large handsome building, upon a tract of 150 acres, which the town of Middletown offered gratuitously to the State for purposes of a hospital.

It is situated about one mile southeast of the town. The building was erected in 1867, and opened in April of the next year. It consists of a centre building with two wings, and is built of Portland stone.

Preference is given here to the poorer class of patients. Since the opening of the Hospital, to April 1, 1873, 643 patients were admitted, 116 of whom recovered their reason, and seventy-two others were much improved. Dr. A. M. Shew, superintendent.

There is also a private Infirmary for the Insane, or, as it is called, a "Home for Nervous Invalids," at Litchfield. This is designed as a comfortable home for the unfortunates of this class, where they can receive medical attention, and have the benefit of good air and exercise. This "Home" was opened in 1858, and is capable of accommodating about twenty patients. It is under the excellent care of Dr. H. W. Buel.

THE MEDICAL LAWS OF CONNECTICUT.

Every physician who may have professionally attended at the birth of any child must leave with the registrar of the town where the birth occurred, during the first week of the calendar month next succeeding such birth, a certificate signed by the physician, stating, from the best information he can obtain, the date of the birth, name and sex of child, names, ages, color and residence of parents, and occupation of the father.—Revised Laws of 1866, p. 109, sec. 79.

Every physician, who may have attended any person during his last illness, must leave with the registrar of the town or place where the death occurred, during the first week of the calendar month next succeeding such death, a certificate in the following form:

"I certify, from the best information I can obtain, that died at , on the day of , A. D. 18 , aged years, month and days. Condition (i. e. married or single, etc.); born in ; residence at time of death ; disease or cause of death ; occupation ; color . Dated at , this day of , A. D. 18 .

"———— ————, Attending Physician."

—Ibid., sec. 81.

Physician shall receive twenty-five (25) cents for each certificate.—Ibid., sec. 82.

Whenever the board of health shall request any physician, practising in its town, to make to the board a daily or weekly report of any cases of pestilential or malignant fever or disease that occur in his practice, such physician shall make said report, specifying the name and residence of each patient, and for any neglect of, or failure to perform, the duty, he shall incur a fine of fifty dollars ($50).—Ibid., sec. 149.

Professors or teachers of anatomy in the medical institutions in this State are authorized to receive from the State prison, and with the approbation of its directors, the bodies of deceased criminals who have died without known relatives, or have been capitally punished. But these remains must be used for the advancement of medical science only, and in Connecticut alone.—Ibid., sec. 208.

Teachers of anatomy in medical institutions in the State of Connecticut are authorized to receive, under the authority of the mayor or first selectman of any town of more than twenty thousand (20,000) inhabitants, the body of any deceased person to be used for medical and surgical study, under the following restrictions:—that the remains shall not have been buried nor claimed by friends or relatives within twenty-four hours after the death; that friends or relatives shall not have refused to allow the remains to be used in this way; that the remains shall not be those of a person who was detained for civil process, or for trial on the charge of any criminal offence; that the remains of a stranger or traveller, or of any one who expressed a desire to be buried, shall not be surrendered for this purpose; that the remains shall be returned if claimed by friends or relatives. The teachers who have charge of the remains shall bury them, after they have answered the purpose of medical study, in a public cemetery, and keep a record of the name, sex and last residence of deceased, and of place of burial.—Act of Legislature of 1871, July 27.

Any person, who shall use the remains of a deceased person for any purpose than medical study, or in any other place than Connecticut, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000), or by imprisonment for one year.—Ibid., sec. 7.

Every person, who shall give or administer to, or advise, direct, or procure any pregnant woman to take any drug, medicine, or thing, or shall use or direct the use of any instrument, with intent to procure miscarriage or abortion—unless the medicine or instrument is necessary to preserve the life of the woman or child—shall be guilty of felony, and punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000), or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by both.—Revision of 1866, p. 248, sec. 22.

The horse, buggy and harness (if the horse does not exceed in value $200) of any physician is exempt from seizure in execution.—Act of Legislature of 1869, July 8.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF DAKOTA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF DAKOTA.

DAKOTA was given a territorial form of government in 1861, being carved out of Nebraska and Minnesota Territories, and being originally a portion of the Province of Louisiana (see Arkansas). Dakota, according to the Act by which it was created, included not only its present area, but also that of Montana and Wyoming. These have since been detached, leaving the present Territory with 148,932 square miles of surface. The population, according to the census of 1870, was 14,181; the number of physicians and surgeons 20; but these numbers do not represent the population of what is now Dakota Territory, for they include the citizens of what was then a detached portion, 2000 miles square, of the Territory, but now forms the southwestern portion of Montana. The annual percentage of deaths from phthisis is twelve. The surface of Dakota is elevated, but not mountainous. Plateaus, having an elevation of from 1000 to 1500 feet above the sea, cover vast areas of surface.

The principal rivers are the Red River of the North, and the Missouri, the latter traversing the central portion of the Territory, and having many large branches, the largest of which are the Little Missouri, the Good, the White, Dakota, Vermillion, and the Big Sioux. The surface of the country is agreeably diversified by a large number of lakes, the largest of which is Lake Minniwaken.

The Black Hills, situated in the southwestern part of the Territory, contain gold, silver, iron, copper and coal. Coal is also found in the neighborhood of the Big Sioux River. Rich deposits of salt exist in the region around Lake Minniwaken. The margins of the streams are fringed with groves of cottonwood, oak, ash, elm and maple, and an abundance of timber is found in the Black Hill country, but the surface of the Territory generally is without forests. A vast extent of rich surface awaits the plow of the cultivator; and though the annual fall of rain has been very small, it constantly increases with the increased cultivation of the land, the laws of nature thus helping the progress of the farmers' art.

We have no knowledge of any mineral springs, or medical institutions in the territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF DELAWARE.

About the year 1631, the Dutch planted a feeble colony near the present site of Lewistown, or Lewes, on Delaware Bay. It was the intention of Gustavus Adolphus, King of Sweden, to found a colony in America, but not living to accomplish his purpose, his plans were carried out by the prime minister of his young daughter, Christiana, in 1638. This settlement was made and named after the young Queen. The Swedes held possession of the country until 1654, when it was seized by the Dutch Governor of New York.

In 1664 it became an English province. In 1681, when King Charles II. granted to Penn his colony of Pennsylvania, Delaware was claimed by the Duke of York; from him it was purchased by William Penn and united to Pennsylvania.

It became a separate province in 1703, and received its name from the Delaware River, which had been so named in honor of Lord De La Ware, the wise governor of Virginia.

Delaware was governed by the charter granted to Penn, until the formation of a constitution, September 20th 1776; a new constitution was formed on the 12th of June, 1792.

The Constitution of the United States was ratified by this State, December 7th, 1787.

The surface is an almost perfect level, which in the southern part is marshy, and in the north is slightly undulating. There are no important rivers in the State, but its whole eastern border, with the exception of about twenty-five miles of Atlantic coast, is washed by the Delaware River and Bay.

This State covers an area of 2120 square miles, and has a population of 125,015.

The number of physicians and surgeons is 170.

MEDICAL LAWS OF DELAWARE.

The physicians associated as "The President and Fellows of the Medical Society of Delaware," are a corporation, possessing all the franchises, powers and incidents of a corporation aggregate.

They may choose, at an annual stated meeting, from among the Fellows, a President of the Society, a medical board of examiners for the State, and such other officers as may be necessary, who must be elected by ballot and a majority of votes, and shall serve for one year, or until others are chosen. They may also choose and admit other Fellows, proposed for admission, according to the by-laws.

The medical board of examiners, which consists of as many Fellows as the Society deems proper, can appoint its own president and secretary, and has power to grant licenses, under the signatures of the members of the board, for the practice of medicine and surgery in this State.

A license to practise medicine or surgery must be granted to any person who applies for the same and produces a diploma from a respectable medical college, or, upon full and impartial examination, is found qualified to practise.

For each license ten dollars must be paid to the secretary of the board, who shall hand the same to the treasurer of the society.

Three members of the board of examiners may grant a certificate to practise medicine and surgery in this State, which shall be good only until the next regular meeting of the board. The person who applies for a certificate, must show by diploma, or upon examination, that he is qualified to practise. A second certificate shall not be granted to the same person.

No person, without a license or certificate from the board of examiners, can practise medicine and surgery and charge and demand any compensation therefor in this State, unless he was a practitioner in the State before February 4th, 1822, or resides in and is regularly admitted to practise medicine and surgery in some other State. Any one, who violates this provision, is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than fifty or more than one thousand dollars. But those who practise exclusively the Thomsonian, Botanic or Homœopathic Systems of Medicine and charge compensation for their services, or, without a license, practise medicine, gratuitously, and accept any gratuity or reward voluntarily given for their services, are not liable to this penalty, nor guilty of a misdemeanor.

The Medical Society has power to make rules for the government of the medical board and appoint its time and place of meeting, provided all acts of the society are done by a majority of Fellows present at a meeting regularly held.—Rev. Code, p. 127, etc.

Physicians are exempt from jury service.—Ibid., p. 384.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

In December, 1788, the State of Maryland ceded to Congress ten square miles of its territory for the seat of government of the United States. The next year Virginia offered the same or a less area, and by the Act of July 16, 1790, amended March 3, 1791, these cessions were accepted, and authority was given to the President to fix the boundaries of the District. This was done by proclamation of President Washington, March 30, 1791. Sixty-four square miles were taken from Maryland and thirty-six from Virginia. In 1846 the portion taken from Virginia was retroceded. Until within a very short period the District was under the exclusive jurisdiction of Congress, now it has a territorial form of government.

The surface is undulating, and the cities of Washington and Georgetown are surrounded on the north, east and west by a series of hills which add much to the beauty of the District, and afford many fine views of the cities, the river and the surrounding country.

The Potomac River, which separates the District from Virginia, is about a mile wide at Washington, and is navigable for large sea-going vessels to Georgetown, which is at the head of navigation. The "eastern branch," or Analostan River, and Rock Creek, both considerable streams, empty into the Potomac at Washington.

In 1870 the District had a population of 131,700, and the number of physicians and surgeons was 326; there are also a large number of physicians employed in the Government offices who "do a little practising after office hours." Phthisis is the cause of about twenty per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The National Medical College; otherwise called the Medical Department of Columbian University; was organized in 1825. The faculty consists of seven professors and a demonstrator. The course commences on the first Monday in October, and continues until the first of March. The lectures are delivered in the afternoon and evening. Clinical instruction is given at the Providence Hospital, at the Children's Hospital, and the Dispensary of the Columbia Hospital for Women is free to all students. Obstetric cases are given to advanced students. This institution has well arranged dissecting and surgical rooms.

The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $135; anatomy, $10; graduation, $30.

The Medical Department of Georgetown College was organized in 1850. The faculty consists of seven professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The course is the same and the hours are the same as those of the National Medical College. The college building is within a few feet of the Army Medical Museum, which is one of the best existing collections of pathological, anatomical, and other specimens interesting to the physician. Clinical instruction is given at the college. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $105; demonstrator's fee, $10; diploma, $30.

Medical Department of Howard University.—In this institution instruction is given regardless of color or sex. There are seven professors and three lecturers. The course consists of lectures, daily clinical instruction at the Freedman's General Hospital and Asylum, situated within the grounds of the institution. Advanced students are given obstetric and minor surgical cases. Chemical manipulation and the dispensing of medicines are practically taught.

The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $100; graduation, $25.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

Providence Hospital.—This institution occupies an elegant brick edifice a short distance southeast of the Capitol, and will accommodate two hundred patients. It is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. Patients who are able to pay are charged $6 per week, or if a private room is desired, a slight advance upon this amount. This hospital has received a large donation from Congress.

Columbia Hospital for Women.—This hospital accommodates seventy-five patients, and is devoted exclusively to females. Fifty beds are free. The wives and widows of United States soldiers and sailors are in all cases admitted free. The terms of admission are from $6 to $10 per week, according to the room required.

A dispensary for women and children is connected with this hospital.

Government Hospital for the Insane.—This asylum is upon high ground on the south-east side of the eastern branch of the Potomac. The insane of the army and navy, the revenue service, the indigent insane of the District, and a few pay patients are received here. The building is not only perfectly adapted for the purpose for which it was intended, but it is also very attractive to the eye, and is surrounded by beautiful grounds sloping gradually to the water's edge. The asylum has always been under the care of most able medical men, who have given their lives to the study of insanity and its treatment, and deserves the high rank it has taken.

The Military Asylum, better known as the "Old Soldier's Home," is a beautiful building situated among the hills north of the city in the midst of an elegant park. Every soldier in the army is taxed twelve and a half cents per month for the support of this institution, and when they become old or disabled they here find a home.

The Naval Hospital is situated in the eastern part of the city, and is an elegant building, with all the modern improvements. About one hundred patients can be received here.

The Freedman's Hospital, as has been mentioned, is within the grounds of Howard University. There are about 150 beds in this hospital.

St. Ann's Infant Asylum is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. Foundlings are received and taken care of, and there is also a lying-in department connected with this institution.

There is a Children's Hospital on E street between Eighth and Ninth streets, but we have no information in regard to it.

About 600 patients are prescribed for at the Central Dispensary every year.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF FLORIDA.

Ponce de Leon, who discovered this portion of North America in 1512, named it Florida, in commemoration of the day he landed there, which was the Pasquas de Flores of the Spaniards, or "Feast of Flowers," otherwise known as Easter Sunday.

By the Treaty of 1763, which established peace between Spain and England, Florida was ceded to the English in exchange for Havana, which had been taken by the English fleet during the war. The British held the country for about twenty years, and then, in 1783, re-ceded it to Spain in exchange for the Bahama Islands.

Florida was ceded to the United States by treaty concluded in 1819 with Spain; was organized as a Territory, March 30, 1822, and admitted into the Union as a State, March 3, 1845. A terrible Indian war commenced in 1835, and desolated the country for several years. The population of Florida was, in 1870, according to the census of that date, 187,748; the number of physicians and surgeons 248. Florida has an area of 59,268 square miles, a sea-coast line of 1000 miles, and a climate which, for mildness and evenness of temperature, surpasses even that of Italy. The maximum temperature in summer is generally about 85°, and in winter, 45° Fahrenheit. Phthisis is the cause of about six per cent. of the whole number of deaths per annum.

The surface of Florida is generally low, seldom rising higher than 300 feet above the level of the sea. According to Agassiz, the whole peninsula is a series of coral reefs covered with surface soil. [See "Methods of Study," chapter xii.; "First Lessons in Natural History," by Mrs. Agassiz; and the "Coast Survey Reports" for 1851 and 1852.] A large portion of the southern extremity of the State is covered by everglades, a kind of shallow lake filled with tall grass, and having many small islands covered with luxuriant vegetation. The soil is generally sandy, with the exception of the hummocks, which consist of a mixture of clay and sand. These hummocks exist throughout the State, and are covered, except where cultivated, by oaks, dogwood, mahogany, and pine trees. The rich alluvions bordering the streams, known as savannas, yield large crops of sugar and rice. Sea-island cotton, tobacco, indigo, fruits of all kinds, and fibre-producing plants, are cultivated, while mahogany, boxwood, satin-wood, lignum vitæ, and other fine woods abound in the forests.

The St. John's River, flowing into the Atlantic, is navigable, for vessels of eight feet draft, for over one hundred miles from its mouth. The Suwannee and the Appalachicola, emptying into the Gulf, are fine streams.

This State possesses many fine harbors, both upon the Atlantic and the Gulf coast; is watered by many rivers, and contains many small lakes, the largest of which is Lake Okeechobee, in the southern part of the peninsula.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF FLORIDA.

Green-Cove Spring is in Clay county, upon the banks of the St. John's River. The Spring may be reached by steamer from Jacksonville. The water contains sulphate of calcium, sulphate of magnesium, chloride of sodium, iron, and sulphuretted hydrogen, and has a temperature of 76° Fahrenheit. This water is used as a bath, a large swimming pool, with dressing-rooms attached, being provided for guests. There are ample hotel accommodations.

Orange Spring is upon the banks of the Ocklawaha River, in Marion county. The water has not been analyzed.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA.

Any person who desires to practise medicine and surgery in this State, can do so by following one of these methods: 1st. He can file, in the office of the Circuit Court of the county in which he intends to reside, a diploma from some medical college. 2d. Or, file, in the aforesaid office, a certificate signed by at least two practising physicians residing in this State, who are regular graduates of some medical college. 3d. Or, file in the aforesaid office a certificate, signed by a professor of a medical college, showing that the person who has received the certificate has attended one course of lectures in some medical college, and also a certificate from a physician.

The horse, saddle, and bridle, and medical and professional books, not exceeding in value three hundred (300) dollars; and also one set of a dentist's working-tools, not exceeding three hundred (300) dollars in value, are exempt from execution.

Physicians are entitled to receive seventy-five (75) cents per day for attending persons in the jails of the State, and also the usual price for medicines furnished by them.

Physicians are not required to serve on juries.

Any physician, surgeon, or other person, who shall wilfully endeavor to spread small-pox without inoculation, or shall use any inoculation other than that called vaccination, unless by special permission of the County Commissioners, or the public authority of any town or city where the small-pox shall make its appearance, shall be punished by fine, not exceeding three hundred (300) dollars, and imprisonment not exceeding three months, at the discretion of the jury.—Thompson's Digest.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF GEORGIA.

GEORGIA was the last settled of the Atlantic States. The charter granted by George II., June 9th, 1732, named the country between the Savannah and the Altamaha Rivers, Georgia, and gave it to Mr. Oglethorpe and other gentlemen, "in trust for the poor."

In 1733 General Oglethorpe conducted the first settlers to the Savannah River, where they were soon joined by other colonists. The land was held under a military tenure, and was repeatedly invaded by the Spaniards from Florida. In 1752 the proprietary government was abolished and Georgia became a royal colony. The western part was detached from the present State in 1802, and now forms the States of Alabama and Mississippi. At the time of this cession to the United States, Georgia received a strip of land about twelve miles wide across the northern end of the State, this strip being a part of the cession of South Carolina to the General Government in 1787.

A constitution was formed in 1777, a second in 1785, and the present one May 30, 1798. Georgia was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the Constitution of the United States, January 2, 1788.

The State has an area of 58,000 square miles, a sea-coast line of 100 miles, and in 1870 had a population of 1,184,109. The number of physicians and surgeons was (census of 1870) 1537. Phthisis is the cause of five per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

The Blue Ridge and the Alleghany Mountains pass through the northwestern portion of the State, varying in height from 1200 to 4000 feet; from these mountains there is a gradual slope toward the extreme southeast, where the great Okefinoke swamp is found. There are over fifty rivers in this State; the largest of those emptying into the Atlantic are, the Savannah, between Georgia and South Carolina, the Altamaha and the Ogeechee, while the Flint and the Chattahoochee unite to form the Apalachicola, which flows through Florida and empties into the Gulf of Mexico. There are several good harbors upon the coast. Gold is found in quartz veins among the mountains; there is an abundance of iron-ore, and copper has been found. In some portions of the mountain region, and along the rivers, the soil is very rich, while some other parts of the State are covered by pine barrens and swamps.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF GEORGIA.

Red Sulphur Springs.—These Springs are in Walker county, not far from Lookout Mountain. They can be easily reached from Chattanooga. There are twenty Springs, but all we can say of their waters is that they contain sulphur.

Indian Springs.—These Springs are in Butts county, and are sulphurous waters which have been much used in chronic rheumatism, and various diseases of the stomach and liver. A stage line runs from Atlanta to the Springs.

Catoosa Springs, in the county of the same name, are four and a half miles from Ringgold, and twenty-five from Chattanooga. The water of some of these Springs contains iron, and that of others sulphur. Guests may be accommodated at the "Catoosa Springs' Hotel."

Madison Springs, in Madison county, have long been regarded as pure and excellent chalybeate waters. A line of stages connects Athens with these Springs.

The Warm Springs are in the county of Merriwether, thirty-six miles by stage, from Columbus.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (90° Fahr., Prof. A. Means):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Magnesium	11.68
Carbonate of Iron	2.14
Total	18.46

GASES.	CUB. IN.
Sulphuretted Hydrogen	trace

These Springs are beautifully situated at the height of 1800 feet above the level of the sea. The flow of water is about 1400 gallons per minute, and every facility for bathing is offered. There are abundant accommodations for visitors. These Springs have acquired considerable reputation for the cure of gout, rheumatism and similar diseases.

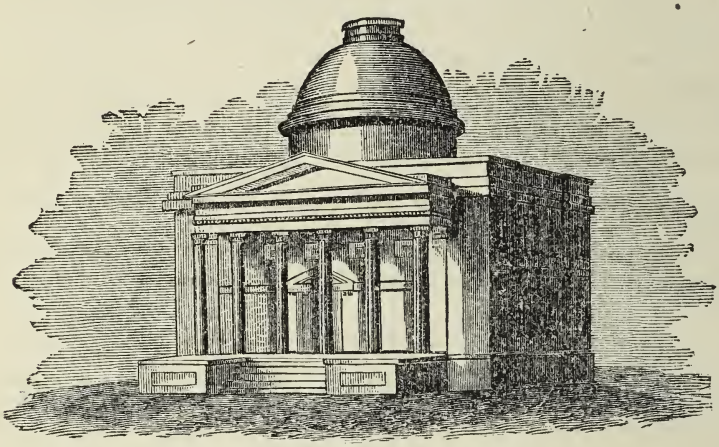
Within a short distance of these Springs there is to be found a sulphur, a cold, and an acidulated chalybeate Spring.

Bethesda Springs are in Lumpkin county, and may be reached by stage from Gainesville, twenty-nine miles. The waters have not been analyzed. The "Bethesda Hotel" is open for the accommodation of guests.

Gordon's Springs, in Murray county, and Rowland's Springs, in Cass county, are chalybeate waters.

There are several other Springs in Georgia of which we are unable to give any information. These are: Sulphur Springs, in Hall county; Cohhutta Springs, in Murray county; White Sulphur Springs, in Merriwether county; Bluff Springs, in Talbot county; Cave Spring, in Floyd county, and several others.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF GEORGIA.



MEDICAL COLLEGE OF GEORGIA.

Medical College of Georgia, otherwise called the Medical Department of the University of Georgia, was founded at Augusta, in 1832, and is, therefore, the oldest medical institution in the State. There are eleven professors, a demonstrator and several assistants. Instruction is given by lectures and daily examinations; by daily clinics at the College; by clinics at the City Hospital, which is upon the grounds of the College and under the control of the faculty; by clinics at the Freedman's Hospital, and by instruction in practical anatomy. Advanced students are given cases to attend at the patients' homes. A medical library and a museum are free to the students. Young men who are not able to incur the expense of a medical education are received upon application to the dean. The usual requisites for graduation are required, except that the writing of a thesis is optional with the candidate. The fees are: professors' tickets, $105; matriculation fee, $5; practical anatomy, $10; diploma, $30. The sessions commence on the first Monday in November.

Savannah Medical College.—The charter for this school was granted in 1836, but it was not organized until 1853. The building was occupied as a hospital during the war, and the lectures discontinued for several sessions.

Instruction is given by means of lectures, dissections, and clinics at the Savannah Hospital. There are twelve professors, a demonstrator, and a lecturer on pharmacy. "Such beneficiary students as may merit the position are received."

The fees are: lectures, $105; matriculation, $5; anatomy, $10; diploma, $30; and $10 for a certificate of proficiency in pharmacy. One student is admitted to this college from each congressional district of the State without charge.

Atlanta Medical College.—This college was organized in 1855. During the war the college building was occupied first by the Confederate, and afterward by the Federal troops, as a hospital. Orders were given by the commanding officer of the Federal forces, that it should be burned, and it was only saved from the flames by the ingenuity of the curator of the institution. In 1865 the faculty reorganized, the sessions began again, and have continued with increasing prosperity.

There are nine professors, and five adjunct professors. The course begins on the first Monday in November and closes the first of March. Students are instructed by means of lectures, dissections, clinics, and the practical use of the microscope. The same rules in regard to receiving students from the congressional districts, that applied to the Savannah Medical College, apply here; but here the faculty extend this privilege, upon the payment of $20, for necessary expenses, to one student from each congressional district of the United States, and to the sons of regular physicians and ministers of the Gospel. Students who do not come under the general heading above mentioned, are expected to pay, for course tickets, $50; matriculation, $5; anatomy, $10; and graduation, $25.

The Oglethorpe Medical College was organized at Savannah in 1855, and continued its sessions until the commencement of the war. The class of 1860–61, numbered ninety-three. This college has not been revived.

There is said to be an Eclectic Medical College at Macon, but we have no information in regard to it.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The City Hospital at Augusta is under the control of the faculty of the Medical College of Georgia. "The Sisters of Mercy administer to the inmates; by their superior system the hospital has become popular both for pauper and pay patients."

There is also a Freedman's Hospital at Augusta.

The Georgia Infirmary at Savannah, is an institution for the care of indigent sick and infirm colored persons. There are two buildings at the southern part of the city, and it is proposed to erect a large building upon the fourteen-acre lot belonging to the institution.

The Savannah Hospital is under the care of the professors of the Savannah Medical College.

The State Institution for the Deaf and Dumb is at Cave Spring. Fifty deaf mutes were taken care of and taught here during the year 1872.

There is an Academy for the Blind at Macon. It is under the control of the State.

At Milledgeville there is an Insane Hospital, but we have no information in regard to it.

THE MEDICAL LAWS OF GEORGIA.

The board of physicians of the allopathic school, which is established in this State, has authority,—1st. To meet annually or oftener, at the call of any three of their number, at the city of Milledgeville. Thirty days' notice of the annual meeting must be given. 2d. To elect all officers and fill all vacancies. 3d. To be body corporate, with the right to exercise all the powers usual in such associations necessary to their organization which are in conformity to the constitution and laws. 4th. To grant licenses to all applicants who under the law are entitled thereto, and fix the fee therefor when not fixed by law. 5th. To prescribe a course of reading to those who study medicine under private instruction, which shall be obligatory upon all who may apply to the board for examination.

It is the duty of the board to grant licenses to practise to all physicians of their school, who present diplomas from the incorporated medical colleges of Georgia, without examination. To grant licenses to all other persons who pass a satisfactory examination; and to revoke such license whenever satisfactory evidence is produced to said board of irregular and unprofessional practices, calculated to discredit the medical profession, or result in injury to the people. To grant licenses to practise in any particular branch of medicine, or to treat any particular form of disease, if the applicant upon examination shows himself competent. To grant licenses to apothecaries upon their standing a satisfactory examination as to their knowledge of drugs and pharmacy. To keep a book in which shall be entered the names of all persons licensed to practise or vend drugs, and the extent of the license. This book is a book of record, and a transcript from it, certified to by the officer who has it in keeping, under the common seal, shall be evidence in any court of this State.

One member of the board may grant a license to practice until the next regular meeting only; but such license shall not be granted by a member after the board has refused one.

Four members of the board constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but, in the absence of a quorum, those present may adjourn from day to day.

The board of physicians of the reformed practice of medicine, which is established in this State, has the same authority and must perform the same duties as the board of the allopathic school.

Neither board can license persons to practise in a school of medicine different from their own. But physicians who belong to a school of medicine not represented by a board of physicians may practise under their diplomas alone, and if they have none, they are liable as though they had no license.

The fee for a license obtained by diploma shall not exceed five dollars, and upon examination shall not exceed twenty-five dollars.

The persons and number of persons constituting both of these boards at the adoption of this code are continued, and all the provisions of their respective charters are also preserved, if not lawfully altered herein.

Any white person who has received a diploma from any medical college of this State is authorized to practise to the extent of the powers given in said diploma, subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Any person who shall practise surgery, or in any manner prescribe for the cure of diseases for fee or reward, in violation of the provisions of this chapter, is liable to indictment, and, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars for the first offence, and for the second, to imprisonment not exceeding two months. On the trial under the indictment, the defendant must show that he has authority to practise physic and surgery, to exempt himself from the penalty.

No person in this State shall keep a drug or apothecary store without first obtaining a license from the medical board of his own school. This license must be recorded in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court, and he must keep a list of the names of those licensed in a conspicuous place in his office. He is entitled to receive one dollar for recording each name. Any person who violates this provision is liable to indictment, and, on conviction, to be fined not less than five hundred or more than one thousand dollars; and for a continuation of the offence after conviction, to the like fine and imprisonment not exceeding six months. At the trial defendant must show his authority.

Physicians who were in practice prior to December 24, 1847, or were in practice under a legal diploma or license on January 1, 1863, are exempt from all the provisions of this chapter. And druggists who were engaged in said business prior to December 24, 1847, and who continue so at the adoption of this code; and merchants or shopkeepers who deal in medicines already prepared, if patented, or, if not patented, legally warranted by a licensed druggist, are not required to obtain a license.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF IDAHO.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF IDAHO.

IDAHO is said to be an Indian word signifying "the gem of the mountains."

Idaho was formed by Act of March 3, 1863, out of territory which had been successively a portion of the Province of Louisiana (see Arkansas), and of the Territories of Oregon and Washington. As originally constituted the Territory possessed a surface of 326,373 square miles, but this vast area has been reduced by the formation of adjacent Territories. According to the Act of July 25, 1868, Idaho is left with its present area of 86,294 square miles. By the census of 1870, the population was determined to be 14,999, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 33.

Idaho is bounded upon the east by the Rocky Mountain Range, and its branch the Bitter Root Mountains. The Salmon River Mountains traverse the centre of the Territory from west to east. The largest rivers are the Snake, a branch of the Columbia, and its branches, the Salmon and the Clearwater Rivers. The Snake, or Shoshone Falls, are 600 feet wide, and in volume, height of descent, and picturesqueness of surrounding scenery far surpasses Niagara.

The river valleys are very fertile, while in the mountain region great mineral wealth is found: $8,023,680 worth of gold was produced by the mines of Idaho in 1868. Silver, iron, and coal abound. Nearly one-third of the surface of the Territory is covered by forests. The climate is salubrious, the air pure, fresh, and invigorating.

There are a number of Mineral Springs in Idaho, but they have not as yet been used for medical purposes. In Lincoln valley, near Fort Hall, there are five Springs containing alumina, lime, and carbonic acid, and having a temperature of from 69° to 87° Fahr. (Hayden's Report, 1872.) At the Soda Springs, in the southern part of the Territory, large quantities of salt are manufactured.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF ILLINOIS.

THE word is said to mean "tribe of men," and to have been originally the name of a tribe of Indians.

Illinois was first settled by the French, but, by the Treaty of Paris, in 1763, it was, with other territory, surrendered to the English. Virginia claimed the territory northwest of the River Ohio (see Indiana), not only in virtue of her original charter, but because the expedition by which the British authority was finally subverted, was sent out by the State Government. Illinois Territory was formed from Indiana Territory, February 3, 1809; it included the present State, Wisconsin, and a portion of the States of Michigan and Minnesota. Illinois was admitted into the Union, as a State, December 3, 1818, with its present area of 55,410 square miles. According to the census of 1870, the population was 2,539,891; the number of physicians and surgeons was 4861.

Eleven per cent. of the annual number of deaths is caused by phthisis.

The surface of Illinois may be regarded as a table-land, elevated from 350 to 800 feet above the sea-level, with a general inclination toward the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, to which nearly all its streams are tributary. The sobriquet "Prairie State" indicates the prevailing character of the surface. The climate is genial and salubrious. The soil is very fertile, and is well-watered by numerous streams.

The State has the Mississippi River upon the west, the Ohio River upon the south, the Wabash River and Lake Michigan upon the east, while the Illinois, the Rock River, and other large streams, flow through the centre of the State. Bituminous coal, lead ore, and copper constitute the chief mineral wealth of the State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF ILLINOIS.

Perry Springs are in Pike county, six-and-a-half miles from Griggsville.

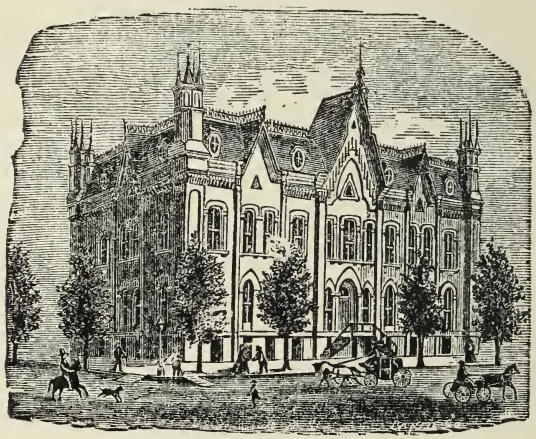
MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF ILLINOIS.



CHICAGO MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Chicago Medical College.—This College is the Medical Department of the Northwestern University. The corps of instructors embraces sixteen professors, one adjunct professor, and a demonstrator of anatomy. The courses of instruction are arranged according to two different plans, one to suit students attending for two, and one to suit those attending for three years. The three-course plan "is advised," the two-course plan is "permitted." In either case, the studies are so arranged as not to be repeated, and the student is examined at the end of each course. The winter course begins in October, and continues until March. There is also a summer term, attendance on which is not compulsory, but the lectures are free to all who have taken the matriculation ticket. Clinical instruction is given at Mercy Hospital; senior students serve as dressers under the direction of the house-surgeon, and they also attend to cases of obstetrics.

The Davis Free Dispensary, at Mercy Hospital, the County Hospital, and St. Luke's Hospital, are "open to students." Students who have spent two years at the Northwestern University are not charged the usual fee for attendance on lectures in the Medical Department; to others the fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $50; anatomy, $5; hospital ticket, $6; graduation, $20. This college was organized in 1859, and its alumni number 397. The new college building is very handsome, and well-fitted for a medical school. There is also a large Museum of specimens interesting to students of medicine.

Rush Medical College.—This institution was founded at Chicago in 1842, and is consequently one of the oldest colleges in the West. The magnificent college building was destroyed by the great fire of Oct. 9th, 1871.

A temporary building was erected, and is now occupied. A permanent building is erected, adjoining the grounds of the new County Hospital. The Winter Term begins early in October, and continues twenty weeks. There is also a Spring Term, consisting of lectures, recitations, and clinical instruction, which commences in March, and ends the last of June; but this course does not take the place of a winter term in the requirements for graduation. Clinics are given at the County Hospital and at the College. The corps of instructors consists of eleven professors, five assistants, and a demonstrator of anatomy.

The fees are, matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $55; demonstrator's ticket, $5; hospital, $5; graduation, $25.

Woman's Hospital Medical College.—This institution was established at Chicago in 1870. During the Winter Term, which commences the first Tuesday in October and continues twenty-one weeks, six lectures are delivered every day; six clinics are held each week at the Hospital for Women and Children, and the students are admitted to the clinics at the County Hospital. The course of instruction is divided into Junior and Senior terms. The studies are so arranged as not to be repeated, and at the close of the regular session the students of the Junior class are examined in the branches of the Junior for admission to the Senior course.

There is a Spring Term, in which instruction is given by means of lectures, recitations and clinics. The instructors are fifteen professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The fees are, matriculation, $5; lectures, $50; demonstrator's fee, $5; Cook County Hospital ticket, $5; Woman's Hospital fee, $5; graduation, $20.

A Medical College has been lately organized at Quincy, with a corps of ten professors. We have no further information in regard to it.

The Bennett Eclectic Medical College, at Chicago, was organized in 1868. There are twelve professors and a demonstrator. The Winter Term commences in October, and continues four months; the Spring Term begins in February, and ends the first of June. The fees are, matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $50; demonstrator's fee, $5; graduation, $25. "At the close of each session, those qualified will receive the diploma of the college."

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES OF ILLINOIS.

Mercy Hospital, at Chicago, is a large, elegant structure, with every arrangement possible for the comfort of patients, of whom it is capable of accommodating five hundred. It is under the care of the Faculty of the Chicago Medical College.

The charges, which cover all expenses, are, for beds in wards, $7; and for private rooms, $15 per week. Charity patients are also admitted.

Cook County Hospital, at Chicago, accommodates about three hundred and fifty patients, some of whom are charity cases, and others pay from $7 to $10 per week.

St. Luke's Hospital.—This is a free hospital, under the care of the Episcopal churches of Chicago, but persons of all denominations receive its benefits. Fifty patients can be accommodated here.

St. Joseph's Hospital, also at Chicago, is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. Pay patients, having the best rooms, pay $10 per week, and extra for physician's fees, etc.; those with rooms which are not considered so desirable pay the same amount for everything; and those in the wards pay $6 per week. A number of charity cases are also admitted. The hospital building is a very fine one, and has one hundred beds, eighteen rooms, and nine wards.

The Alexian Hospital, at Chicago, was destroyed by the great fire, but a fine large building was commenced in the spring of 1872, which, when finished, will accommodate about 200 patients.

The Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.—This institution has been in operation at Chicago for about fifteen years, during which time more than 8000 poor patients have received gratuitous treatment. Those who are able to pay are charged $6.50 per week. Clinics are given here during the winter.

Chicago Hospital for Women and Children.—This hospital is under the control of the Woman's Hospital Medical College. Patients who are able to pay are charged $6 per week, but nearly all the patients are from amongst the poor. There are thirty-five beds in this hospital.

The Jewish Hospital, at Chicago, is capable of accommodating fifty patients.

The Woman's Hospital of the State of Illinois is situated at Chicago, and has a capacity for twelve patients. Pay patients are charged from $6 to $15 per week, according to the room occupied.

There is a Small-pox Hospital at Chicago. It is under the care of the Board of Health of that city.

United States Marine Hospital, at Chicago. The Government is building a new Hospital, at a cost of $400,000.

St. Mary's Infirmary, at Cairo.—This institution will accommodate 100 patients, at a charge of from $1 to $2 per day.

The Peoria City Hospital accommodates fifteen patients.

Cook County Insane Asylum is located at Jefferson, and is intended to accommodate the insane poor of the county, 150 of whom can be received here.

The State Hospital for the Insane.—This institution is situated at Jacksonville. It has received about 4000 patients, from 450 to 500 being accommodated at any one time.

Northern Illinois Hospital for the Insane.—This institution is located at Elgin, on the Fox River, and though the building is only partially finished, it accommodates 150 patients.

Oak Lawn Retreat for the Insane is beautifully situated within the city limits of Jacksonville. The number of patients received here is small, the social life of the institution being purely domestic, and the inmates considered as a part of the family of the Superintendent. This institution has been established upon a permanent foundation, having received a charter from the State, and being governed by a board of trustees, elected by the incorporators. It is under the care of Dr. Andrew McFarland.

Bellevue Place.—This private Asylum for the Insane is located in the town of Batavia, thirty-five miles west of Chicago. This asylum is under the care of R. J. Patterson, M. D., formerly Medical Superintendent of the Indiana State Hospital for the Insane, and late of the Iowa State Insane Hospital. This is what might be called a "family institution," the patients having all the comforts of a home in addition to the medical treatment.

There is an Infirmary at Jacksonville, established for the care of "persons feeble from disease, or from the effects of surgical treatment," and for the correction of deformity. It is under the care of Dr. D. Prince.

At Chicago thousands of poor are treated, without charge, at the following Dispensaries: Central, North Star, Herrick, Christ Church, and four others connected with the different hospitals.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

Before any one can be committed to a hospital as an insane patient, the question of his insanity must be tried by a jury of six persons, one of them a physician.

Physicians or druggists who sell or give away, in good faith, any liquors for purely medicinal, mechanical, or sacramental purposes, are not liable to the penalties imposed for selling by retail intoxicating drinks.

Physicians who attempt, or procure the miscarriage of a pregnant woman for bona fide medical or surgical purposes, are not liable to the penalties imposed by the Act which declares that any one who causes death by procuring miscarriage is guilty of murder, and any one who attempts to procure miscarriage is punishable by imprisonment for not less than two, or more than ten years.—Gross, Stat. Illinois, p. 174.

No druggist or other person shall sell any drug or medicine known or presumed to be ecbolic or abortifacient, except on the written prescription of a well-known and respectable physician; and he must register in a book, to be kept for the purpose, the name of the physician prescribing, the name of the person to whom the article is sold, the name and amount of the medicine, and the date of the sale.

No druggist or other person shall sell, keep, or in any way expose for sale, any pill, powder, drugs, or combination of drugs, designed for the use of females, except upon the following terms, to wit: the proprietor of any pill, powder, etc., shall submit, under oath, a true statement of the formula by which it is compounded, to five well-known and respectable physicians in the county where the compound is proposed to be sold. If the physicians unanimously agree that the formula is not abortifacient, they shall issue their certificate under oath to that effect. A copy of this certificate, with the formula attached, shall be kept by the vendor of the medicine for the inspection of any person who desires to see the same; and this shall be a full warranty for the sale of such compound. But these regulations do not apply to compounds known as "officinal." Any violation of this Act is punishable by fine of not less than fifty, or more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one, or more than six months, or both, for each offence.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF INDIANA.

THE "Territory Northwest of the River Ohio" was formed in 1787, out of cessions from Virginia, and from other territory acquired from Great Britain, by the Treaty of 1783. All that portion of the country lying between the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, the great Lakes and British Possessions, now forming the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, with that portion of Minnesota east of the Mississippi river, was included in this Territory.

The Territory of Indiana, as formed in 1800, embraced all the country mentioned, with the exception of that which is now Ohio, and the eastern part of Michigan. When the State of Ohio was formed, in 1802, the remainder of the lower Michigan peninsula, and a narrow strip across the northern end of Ohio, were added to Indiana Territory. This strip has since been reincluded in Ohio.

In 1805, this Territory was reduced by the formation of the Territory of Michigan, and in 1809 by that of Illinois.

In 1816, Indiana was admitted into the Union as a State, with its present area of 33,809 square miles. According to the census of 1870, the population was 1,680,637, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 3613. Phthisis is the cause of 14 per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

The surface of the country is mostly level and gently undulating, forming continuous slopes of great extent, which gradually sink toward the Mississippi. A few miles from the Ohio, there is a range of hills running nearly parallel with the river; but a large portion of the surface of the State consists of prairie land.

The State is washed upon the south by the Ohio River. Its largest branch, the Wabash, with its tributaries, drains more than three-fourths of the entire area. The northwestern portion borders upon the waters of Lake Michigan. The coal district of Indiana covers an area of about seven thousand square miles. Iron abounds in large quantities.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF INDIANA.

French Lick Springs are in Orange county, eighteen miles, by stage, from Orleans, on the Chicago & New Albany Railroad. These Springs are situated in a beautiful region, on the margin of French Lick Creek. Enlargements of some of the abdominal organs are benefited by the internal and external use of these waters. Hotel accommodation can be found at the Springs.

West Baden Springs.—These Springs are but one mile distant from those last mentioned, and their medical properties are similar.

The waters have been analyzed by the State geologist.

This Analysis is from Walton's work on Springs.

Knightstown Springs are at Knightstown, on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis R. R., in Henry county, thirty-four miles east of Indianapolis. The water is "almost a pure chalybeate."

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF INDIANA.

Medical College of Evansville.—The faculty of this College consists of fourteen professors and one demonstrator of anatomy.

The regular term begins upon the first Monday in October, and continues until March. Students are instructed by lectures, recitations, clinics at the United States Marine Hospital, and a dispensary at the college.

There is also a Medical Library and a Museum. The fees are: course tickets, $50; matriculation, $5; graduation, $25; anatomy, $5.

Indiana Medical College.—This College is temporarily the Medical Department of the State University. It was organized at Indianapolis in 1869, and is maintained as a free-school, having only a matriculation fee of $10, and a graduation fee of $30. There are eleven professors in this College. Nearly one hundred students attended the last session.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons is also located at Indianapolis. The faculty is composed of nine professors, and the school is in a very flourishing condition.

The Bobbs' Free Dispensary at Indianapolis is supported, in part, by the bequest of the late Dr. Bobbs, who left money to the city for that purpose. It is under the control of the faculty of the Indiana Medical College. Several thousand persons receive the benefits of this institution annually. Dr. Bobbs also left money for the foundation of a Medical Library, to which admittance is obtained upon the payment of a small fee.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The State Hospital for the Insane, at Indianapolis, is an institution of which the citizens may well be proud. The building is large, handsome, and perfectly fitted for the purpose for which it was intended. It was opened November 1, 1848, from which date to November 1, 1872, 5081 patients were admitted. Of this number forty-nine per cent. recovered. During the year ending October 31, 1872, 788 persons received the benefits of this institution. Three hundred and twenty patients were admitted, one hundred and fifty-eight recovered, forty-two improved, sixty-four died, and fifty were discharged, not improved. Dr. Orpheus Everts, the able Superintendent, has kindly furnished us with the above information. There are Hospitals at Evansville and Terre Haute.

We have no information in regard to the Small-pox Hospital at Evansville.

There is a City Hospital at Indianapolis, containing from sixty to seventy beds, and having a staff of four physicians, four surgeons, and an oculist.

Rush Medical Society, or Union District Medical Association, comprises the counties of Butler and Preble in Ohio, and Fayette, Franklin, Rush, and Wayne in Indiana.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

STATUTES OF INDIANA (GAVIN & HORD: PUBLISHED 1862).

It is hereby specially made the duty of such Board to contract with one or more skilful physicians, having knowledge of surgery, to attend upon all prisoners confined in the jails, or paupers in the county asylums, and the poor generally in the county over which said Board exercises control; and no claim of physicians or surgeons for such services shall be allowed except in pursuance of the terms of the contract made with such physicians. Provided that the foregoing section shall not be so construed as to prevent the overseers of the poor, in a township not otherwise provided for, from employing such medical or surgical aid as the paupers within their jurisdiction may require.—Vol. 1, p. 64, sec. 8—Act of May 27, 1852 (County Boards).

Before any one can be admitted to the Insane Hospital as a patient, the fact of his insanity must be proved by at least two witnesses who know the patient, one of them a respectable physician. The physician shall make out a certificate containing the following points: 1st. The patient is free from any infectious disease; 2d. The age of the patient and history of the case; 3d. Duration of the disease; 4th. The supposed exciting cause; 5th. Whether disease is hereditary; 6th. Has patient been subject to epilepsy; 7th. Whether patient has attempted to commit violence on himself; 8th. Whether married or single; 9th. Of what religious denomination, if any, he is a member; 10th. His occupation; 11th. The course of treatment in the case. If the physician is not satisfied of the symptoms, he shall make out a certificate to that effect.—Vol. 1, p. 380.

County Commissioners to appoint a physician to attend the County Asylum.—Vol. 1, p. 499.

The physician of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum is to be nominated by the Superintendent and confirmed by the Trustees; if they refuse to confirm, the Governor is to nominate; and in case they refuse to confirm his nomination, the Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of the State, with the Trustees, shall fill the vacancy.—Vol. 1, p. 286.

The physician of the Penitentiary shall visit the convicts daily and receive an annual compensation of $500.—Vol. 1, p. 465.

Colleges, High Schools, etc., incorporated under this Act shall have power to establish, among other departments, a medical department, and to confer degrees therein.—Vol. 1, p. 368—Act (Feb. 28, 1855) to incorporate High Schools, Colleges, etc., sec. 7.

When physician or surgeon is required to attend coroner's inquest and make post mortem examination, the coroner shall certify such services to the Board of County Commissioners, and the Treasurer of said Board shall pay physician's fee. Physician is not entitled to a greater compensation than any other witness for attending inquest, but only for additional services in the post mortem examination.—Vol. 2, p. 17—Act (May 27, 1852) to prescribe Duties of Coroners, etc., sec. 8. Gaston vs. Board, 3 Ind. 497.

Physicians are not competent witnesses as to confidential communications made to them in the course of the duties of their profession, unless by the consent of the party who made the communications.—Vol. 2, p. 168 and 171, sec. 241; and also sec. 3 of Act repealing sec. 238 of Former Act.

Any druggist, physician, etc., selling medicines, whether as a merchant or pedlar, in the form of pill, powder, fluid, or any form, which from its character, by advertisement or otherwise, is known to be capable of procuring abortion, with intent to procure abortion, notwithstanding any caution given in the advertisement or direction accompanying the same, shall for every offence be imprisoned not exceeding twelve months, and fined not exceeding $500.—Vol. 2, p. 469, sec. 36.

The deposition of a physician can be taken when the trial, upon which it is to be read, takes place in any other county than the one in which said physician resides.—Vol. 2, p. 176, sec. 250, par. 4.

A physician is liable for damages arising from want of due application of skill as well as from want of skill.

An action can be maintained for malpractice causing the death of the patient.

A physician can sue for his fees.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

THE Indian Territory is not an organized political division, but is under the control of the General Government of the United States. The eastern portion of this Territory was originally a part of the Province of Louisiana (see Arkansas), the western portion, known as "Public Land," was a part of the Mexican cessions of 1848. The Red River forms the southern boundary, the Arkansas flows through the northeastern part, and the Canadian through the centre of the Territory. The area is 68,991 square miles. We have no information in regard to the population, etc., of this Territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF IOWA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF IOWA.

THE name of this State is derived from that of the Indians who formerly inhabited its southeastern part—the "Ioways" or "drowsy ones." This region was a portion of the province of Louisiana (see Arkansas). On the 12th of June, 1838, the Territory of Iowa, which included the present State, a portion of Minnesota and of Dakota, was formed. The State was admitted into the Union March 3, 1845, and its present limits fixed in December, 1846. The area of the State is 55,045 square miles; its population in 1870 was 1,194,020, and the number of physicians and surgeons 1865. Twelve per cent. of the annual number of deaths are caused by phthisis. The surface presents a great variety of graceful undulations, but nowhere rises into mountains. Back from the great rivers and their valleys the traveller meets with immense prairies, covering, perhaps, three-fourths of the surface. The State lies between the Missouri and the Sioux rivers on the west, and the Mississippi on the east. The Des Moines, the Red Cedar, the Iowa, and other large streams, with a great number of smaller ones, make this a well-watered region. The mineral resources of Iowa are very extensive and important, principally consisting of coal, iron, lead, copper and zinc. The climate presents some variations, but being free from unhealthy extremes, its general character is a salubrious dryness.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF IOWA.

The Medical Department of Iowa State University was organized at Iowa City in 1870. The faculty consists of ten professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular course of lectures commences in October and continues thirteen weeks. This is preceded by a preliminary course of about three weeks' duration. Students of both sexes are admitted to this college. Five lectures are delivered each day, and the students are examined upon the lectures of the previous day. A new hospital building has been erected within the grounds of the university, at which clinical instruction will be given. The clinical laboratory is open six hours daily for the study of practical chemistry. Students of the medical department are permitted to avail themselves of the teachings of the other departments of the university without additional expense. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture ticket, $20; demonstrator's fee, $5; graduation, $25.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons, at Keokuk, was organized in 1849. The regular winter term is of sixteen weeks' duration. There are nine professors in the faculty. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lectures, $30; graduation, $30.

There is a Hospital at Davenport, and an Insane Asylum at Mount Pleasant, but we have no information in regard to them. There are no mineral springs in Iowa.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF IOWA.

At the inquest of any deceased person, when the coroner or the jury deem it advisable, a physician or surgeon may be summoned to make a scientific examination, and a reasonable compensation, instead of witness' fees, shall be allowed him.—Code (1873), p. 62, sec. 68.

No practicing physician or surgeon is allowed to disclose any confidential communication properly intrusted to him in his professional capacity, and necessary to enable him to discharge the functions of his profession properly, except by permission of the party who made the communications.—Ibid., p. 565, sec. 3643.

If any person, with the intent to produce the miscarriage of any pregnant woman, wilfully administers to her any drug or substance whatever, or uses any instrument or means—unless such treatment is necessary to preserve her life—he shall be imprisoned in the State prison for a term not exceeding one year, and fined not exceeding $1000.—Ibid., p. 601, sec. 3864.

Any coroner or undertaker in any county or city, which contains more than one thousand inhabitants, may deliver to any medical college or school, or any physician in this State, for the purpose of medical or surgical study, the body or remains of any deceased person, except where such body has been interred or dressed for interment. But no body shall be so delivered without the consent of the relatives or friends of the deceased, if any such are known, nor if the deceased, during his last illness, expressed a desire to have his body interred. If the body of any person, who has been a resident of the county where death took place six months, is so delivered and is subsequently claimed by any relatives or friends of the deceased, it shall be given up to them. Any person who delivers or receives any remains and has knowledge that any of the foregoing provisions have been violated, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding $1000, or by both.—Ibid., p. 625, sec. 4018.

Any person who fraudulently adulterates, for the purpose of sale, any drugs or medicines in such manner as to lessen the efficacy or change the operation of such drugs or medicines, and make them injurious to the health, or sells them knowing that they are thus adulterated, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding $500; and such drugs and medicines shall be forfeited and destroyed.—Ibid., p. 629, sec. 4037.

If any apothecary, druggist, or other person sell and deliver any arsenic, corrosive sublimate, prussic acid, or any poisonous liquid or substance, without having the word "poison" and the true name thereof written or printed upon a label attached to the vial, box, or parcel containing the same, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than thirty days, or by fine not exceeding $100. Any person who may dispose of at retail any poisonous substance or liquid to any one for any purpose, is required to enter in a book, to be kept by such dealer, the name of the poison, when bought, by whom, and for what purpose; and if the person who calls for such poison is not personally known to the vendor, he must be identified by some one who is known, and the name of this person shall also be entered in such book. Any one who fails to comply with this requirement shall be liable to imprisonment in the county jail not more than thirty days, or a fine not exceeding $100.—Ibid., p. 629, sec. 4038.

If any person inoculates himself or any other person, or suffers himself to be inoculated with the small pox, within this State, or comes within this State with intent to cause the prevalence or spread of this infectious disease, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not more than three years, or by fine not exceeding $1000 and imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year.—Ibid., p. 630, sec. 4039.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF KANSAS.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF KANSAS.

For the origin of the word Kansas the reader is referred to the history of Arkansas. Kansas was formed as a Territory in 1854; it then included a portion of what is now Colorado (see Colorado).

The State was admitted into the Union January 29, 1861. That portion of the State south of the Arkansas River and west of the twenty-third parallel was a part of the Mexican cessions of 1848; the remainder was originally a portion of the province of Louisiana (see Arkansas). The area of the State is 81,318 square miles. The population, according to the census of 1870, was 364,399, and the number of physicians and surgeons 906. Phthisis is the cause of eight per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

No swamps or overflowed lands or mountain ranges exist in Kansas, the land rising in bluffs or rolling prairies, and being well watered by the Kansas and Arkansas rivers and their branches. The climate of the State has undergone remarkable changes; every year the rain-fall increases. This is owing to the culture of the soil and the planting of forest and fruit trees. Thus what was formerly known as the "Great American Desert" is "made to blossom as the rose."

Iron, coal and the finest quality of marble abound in large quantities.

We know of no mineral Springs or medical schools in Kansas. There is an Asylum for the Insane at Osawatomie, but we have no information in regard to it.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF KANSAS.

GENERAL STATUTES: PUBLISHED 1868.

(Act to Promote the Study of Medical Science, passed May 7, 1861.)

It shall be lawful for medical teachers, in medical colleges, schools, etc., in this State, or for any medical or surgical association, or regular physician or surgeon, to claim and receive the body of any person executed pursuant to sentence of law, or dying in the hospitals or penitentiary while under sentence of law for crime, and to use the same for medical or surgical study: Provided, said body shall not have been regularly interred or claimed by any relative or friend within twenty-four hours after the death; that the remains of no person who shall be known to have friends or relatives shall be given up for medical study without consent of friends or relatives; that the remains of no person, who shall desire to be buried, shall be given up for medical study, but shall be buried in usual manner; that if the remains of any person which have been given up for medical study shall be afterwards claimed by relatives or friends, it shall be delivered to them for interment. And it shall be the duty of said professors and teachers to bury the remains after they shall have answered the purposes of medical study; and for any neglect or violation of this they shall forfeit not less than $100 or more than $200.

The remains thus received by teachers, etc., shall be used for medical study alone, and in the State of Kansas only; and whoever shall use such remains for any other purpose, or remove them out of this State, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment not more than one year.—P. 564, sec. 1, etc.

Crimes and Punishments.—Any physician who shall, in the state of intoxication, without design to effect death, administer any drug, medicine or thing, or shall do any act which shall produce death, shall be guilty of manslaughter in third degree, and shall be punished by confinement and hard labor for a term not exceeding three years, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than six months.—P. 323, sec. 25.

Any physician or other person who shall administer any drug, medicine or substance to, or shall use or employ any instrument or means whatever upon, any pregnant woman with intent to procure abortion or miscarriage, unless the same shall be necessary to preserve the life of such pregnant woman, or the use of the same to preserve the life of the woman shall have been advised by a physician, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding $500, or by both.—P. 325, sec. 44.

Physicians are exempt from jury service.—P. 537, sec. 18.

The physician of the penitentiary shall visit the same daily; shall keep a registry of all convicts under his care, stating their diseases, the dates of their entering and leaving; a registry of deceased convicts, stating diseases, time and cause of death; shall purchase, under the direction of the board of directors, all necessary medicines; and shall receive for his services $500 annually.—P. 614, sec. 20.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF KENTUCKY.

THE word Kentucky is said to be of Indian origin, and to signify "at the head of the River," the State deriving its name from that of the Kentucky River. This region was early peopled by settlers from the Eastern States, and constituted a portion of Virginia until it was given a Territorial Government in 1789. June 1, 1792, it was admitted as a State. The State possesses an area of 37,680 square miles, and, in 1870, had a population of 1,321,011, among whom there were 2414 physicians and surgeons.

Phthisis is the cause of 14 per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

The general surface of the country is level, but in the eastern part spurs from the Cumberland Range give this region a rugged and mountainous appearance. The Ohio Hills enliven the scenery upon the borders of that stream.

Bounded on two sides by the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, and having the Cumberland, the Tennessee, the Green, the Kentucky, and other large streams, with many smaller ones, flowing through it, the State possesses ample water-ways, mill-power, and means of irrigation. The cavernous limestone, as its name imports, gives rise to many caves, the most famous of which is the Mammoth Cave, in Edmonson county. The coal beds of Kentucky cover an area of over 1000 square miles. Iron is abundant; lead and silver have also been found.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF KENTUCKY.

Upper Blue Lick Springs.—These Springs are situated upon the banks of Licking River, six miles by stage from a station on the Maysville & Lexington Railroad. The water of these Springs has been used for medicinal purposes ever since the first settlement of the country.

They are alterative and aperient, and are of service in engorgements of the liver, gall-stones, gastric catarrh, and externally in chronic diseases of the skin. This water is put into barrels and bottles, and sold in many parts of the country. There are abundant accommodations for guests.

ANALYSIS (1870).

Big Bone Springs are in Boone county, one mile and a half by stage from Hamilton Landing, on the Ohio River. These waters contain sulphuretted hydrogen, chloride of sodium, sulphate of magnesium, sulphate of sodium, sulphate of aluminum, bicarbonate of calcium, bicarbonate of magnesium, and carbonate of sodium, and have an alkaline reaction. These Springs obtained their name from the remains of mastodons being found in the vicinity.

Paroquet Springs are near Shepherdsville, on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, in Bullitt county.

Esculapia Springs, in Lewis county, are about twenty miles from Maysville, and twelve miles from Vanceburg, on the Ohio River.

Sulphuretted hydrogen gas is the most important ingredient, causing the waters "to stimulate the secretory action of the system generally, but more especially that of the skin and that of the kidneys." A chalybeate spring is also found here.

Grayson Springs are near a station of the same name, on the Elizabethtown & Paducah Railroad. There are abundant hotel accommodations. These waters, as analyzed by Dr. Peter, contain chloride of sodium, sulphate of magnesium, phosphate of sodium, sulphuretted hydrogen, and carbonic acid gas.

Olympian Springs.—These Springs are in Bath county, and may be reached, from Lexington, by the Lexington & Big Sandy Railroad, and a few miles by stage. There are three Springs; the salt-sulphur, black-sulphur, and a chalybeate spring. A pint of the water of the salt-sulphur, as analyzed by Dr. Peter, contains the following constituents:

Drennon Springs, in Henry county, are about ten miles from Newcastle. This water is "a mild aperient, diuretic and diaphoretic." This was formerly a very popular resort; some years ago, however, the hotel was destroyed by fire.

Bedford Springs are in Trimble county, six miles, by stage, from Sulphur Station, on the Louisville & Cincinnati Short Line Railroad. There are ample accommodations for guests at the "Bedford Springs Hotel." The waters of these Springs contain chloride of sodium, sulphate of sodium, sulphate of magnesium, bicarbonate of calcium, bicarbonate of magnesium, and carbonate of sodium. They have an alkaline reaction.

White Sulphur and Tar Springs.—These Springs are situated four miles from Cloverport, in Breckenridge county. The water contains sulphur, and one of the Springs tar, also, upon its surface.

Crab-Orchard Springs are situated in Lincoln county, upon the Knoxville Branch of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. The famous "Crab-Orchard Salts," which are sold all over the country, are procured by the evaporation of the water of these Springs. The action of these waters, or of the "salts," is similar to that of "Epsom Salts."

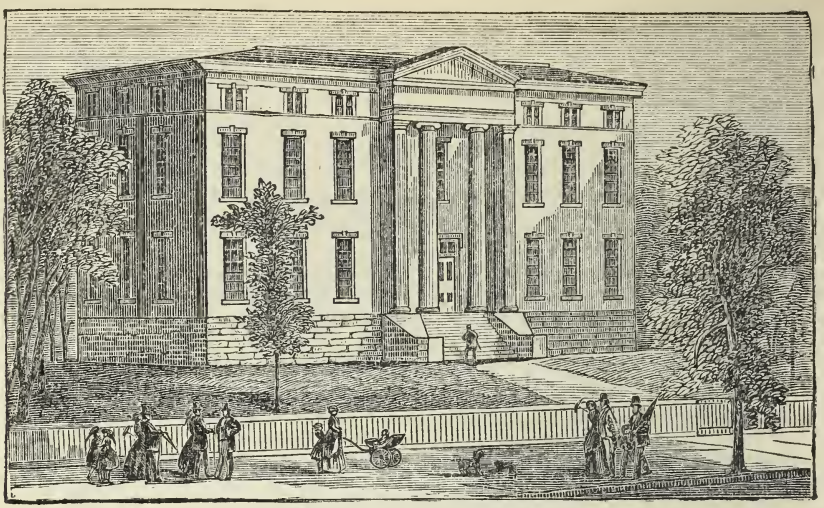
These waters have been of much service in chronic inflammations of the abdominal viscera, and in many other diseases. The water might be called a purgative tonic. The accommodations at these Springs can hardly be surpassed.

Latona Springs are in Kenton county, four miles from Covington. No analysis has as yet been made of these waters.

There are several other Mineral Springs in Kentucky, but we do not know of their being used for medicinal purposes.

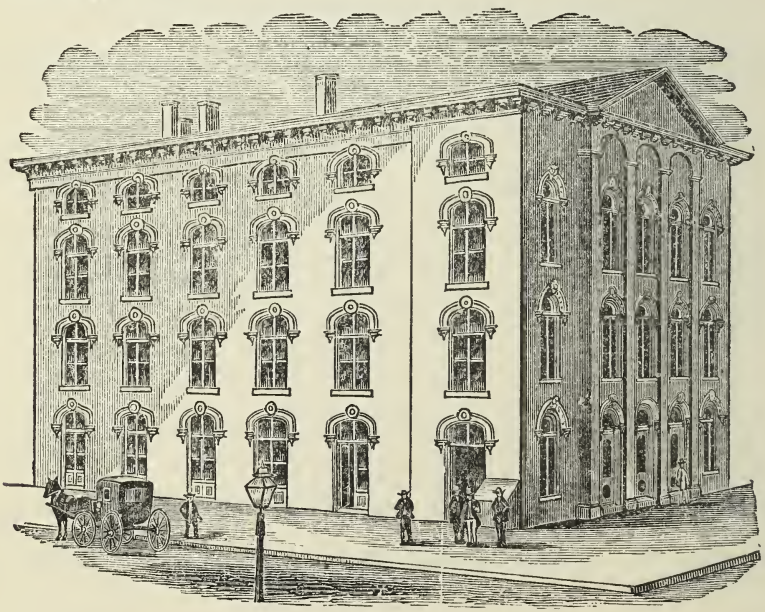


UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF KENTUCKY.

Medical Department of the University of Louisville.—This School was organized in 1837. The faculty consists of eight professors, a demonstrator, and three assistants. A free preliminary course of lectures, of about three weeks' duration, precedes the regular session, which commences early in October, and continues until March. A spring and summer course follows, continuing until July; the fee for this course is $25. The building occupied by the Medical Department is a very fine one, situated in the middle of a four-acre lot. Clinical instruction is given at the Dispensary of the College, and at the City Hospital.

The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $50; demonstrator's fee, $10; hospital, $5, and graduation, $30.



LOUISVILLE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Louisville Medical College.—This School was organized in 1869. There are ten professors in the faculty. The regular term commences on the first of October, and continues until March. There is also a spring session of four months' duration. The fee for the professors' tickets is $120. (Beneficiary fee $40.)

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Louisville Marine Hospital was built in 1821–2, partly by the State, and partly by donations from citizens. In 1836 it passed into the hands of the city, and became a city charity. The building was enlarged in 1870, and can now accommodate nearly 500 patients. Nearly 2000 persons were treated in this institution during the year 1872. As the name implies, this Hospital is "for the accommodation and relief of persons engaged in the navigation of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers."

The United States Marine Hospital, at Louisville, was commenced in 1845. The appropriation not being sufficient, the building was suspended, and was not finished until the year 1851. The Hospital is built of brick, and consists of a main edifice and two wings. It has all the modern improvements, and is surrounded by thirteen acres of ground. The Sisters of Mercy administer to the sick, the annual average of whom is over 900.

The Hospital of St. Mary and St. Elizabeth was erected in Louisville during the year 1873, at a cost of $80,000, by the Hon. Shakespeare Caldwell, and given by him to the city for the benefit of the sick poor. It is a beautiful structure, and is under the charge of the Sisters of Charity, but is open for the reception of the poor of every denomination.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF KENTUCKY.

It is the duty of physicians and surgeons to keep a registry of births and deaths which they have attended professionally. The registry of births must contain the date and place of birth, color, sex, and name (if known) of child; whether born alive or dead; residence and nativity of the parents; name and surname, and occupation of the father—but where the child is illegitimate, the name of the supposed father shall not be given—and the maiden and surname of the mother. The registry of death must contain the name, age, sex, color, condition (married or single), place of birth, residence, occupation, and cause of death of deceased, and the names, surnames, and nativity of the parents of the deceased. The registry of each birth or death shall be filed with the clerk of the Court of the county where such birth or death occurred. For any failure to do this, there is a fine of from $10 to $20. —Rev. Stats. (1860), vol. 2, p. 702, sec. 4 (Act, March, 1860).

The coroner, when he deems it necessary, is authorized to appoint one or more competent physicians or surgeons to make a post mortem examination of the remains on which he is holding an inquest.—Ibid. p. 726 (Act, March 2, 1860).

In addition to the above, the State of Kentucky now has a law in force that no "person" is allowed to practise medicine or any of its branches, unless said "person" has practised "respectably and honorably" for ten years previous to the 23d of February, 1874, or with the certificate of one of the district medical examining boards, after a satisfactory examination and for a period not exceeding five years, unless the person is a graduate of some medical school. Each violation of said law subjects the offender to $50 fine for the first offence, and $100 for each subsequent offence, the latter with imprisonment. The boards are composed of five regular physicians in each judicial district and hold their commissions for four years.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF LOUISIANA.

The Province of Louisiana (see Arkansas) was named in honor of Louis XIV. of France, and from it the present State obtained its name. In 1804, the Territory of Orleans was formed from the southern part of this Province, but that portion of the present State which is east of the Mississippi and north of the Iberville and Amite Rivers, and the lakes Maurepas and Pontchartrain, was not added to the Territory until April 14, 1812. The State of Louisiana was admitted into the Union upon the thirtieth of the same month. The State has an area of 41,346 square miles, and in 1870 had a population of 726,915, among whom there were 939 physicians and surgeons. The general surface of the country is level, a portion of that bordering upon the Gulf of Mexico being annually overflowed by the spring tide. There are numerous rivers and lakes, several of the former furnishing important commercial facilities, the Mississippi and its tributaries, embracing a water communication of nearly 17,000 miles, affording easy and speedy transportation for the rich products of millions of acres, which must pass through this State on their way to the ocean. The Red, the Washita, the Sabine, and many other rivers might be mentioned. The lakes of Louisiana are extremely beautiful, their waters generally deep and clear, abounding in varieties of fish, while their shores, as well as the banks of the rivers, are covered with trees of every kind, from some of which tar and turpentine are extensively manufactured, and others are unsurpassed for shipbuilding. The mineral resources of Louisiana are by no means insignificant, recent discoveries indicating that the application of modern methods of exploitation will yield an ample reward. Phthisis is the cause of eight per cent. of the annual number of deaths in this State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF LOUISIANA.

De Soto Springs are forty miles, by stage, from Shreveport, on the Red River.

There are a number of sulphur and chalybeate springs in the neighborhood of the town of Mansfield, where the hotel is situated.

White Sulphur Springs.—These Springs are in Catahula Parish, twenty-five miles from Alexandria, on the Red River. The waters are said to be of service in cutaneous and visceral diseases.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF LOUISIANA.

The Medical Department of the University of Louisiana was organized in 1834. "The means of teaching now at the command of the faculty are unsurpassed in the United States; and are quite as complete as those of many of the renowned schools of medicine abroad." The faculty consists of seven professors, a demonstrator and an assistant. This school occupies a large and handsome building, and possesses a fine museum and library. The regular course of lectures begins about the middle of November and continues four months. Instruction is given by means of lectures, clinical lectures and daily bed side teaching at "The Charity Hospital." The fees are: professors' tickets, $140; anatomy, $10; matriculation, $5; graduation, $30.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Charity Hospital, at New Orleans, contains nearly 700 beds, and during the year 1871, 6637 patients were received.

We have no further information in regard to the hospitals or the medical societies of this State.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.

No person is allowed to practise medicine as a means of livelihood, in any of its departments, in this State, without first making affidavit before a duly qualified justice of the peace, in the parish wherein he resides, of his having received the degree of Doctor of Medicine from a regularly incorporated medical institution in America or Europe, and designating its name and locality.—Rev. Stat., 1870, p. 526, sec. 2677 (Act 1861, sec. 113).

The justice before whom the affidavit is made is required to furnish to the person making it a certificate of the fact, and also to transmit a copy of the affidavit to the parish recorder, who shall record the same in a book kept for the purpose; for these services each officer shall receive $1.—Ibid., sec. 2678.

But persons who have been practising medicine for ten years without a diploma, and female practitioners of midwifery, are not obliged to comply with these requirements.—Ibid., p. 527, sec. 2681.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine granted by the Louisiana University authorizes the recipient to practise medicine.—Ibid., sec. 2684 (Act 1855, sec. 417).

A physician shall be appointed annually by the police jury in each and every parish, to attend such prisoners as are at the charge of the State, in their sickness. His salary shall be fixed by the police jury.—Ibid., p. 545, sec. 2790 (Act 1817, sec. 204-6).

When the coroner or a majority of his jury deem it necessary, he may summon one or more competent physicians to make a post-mortem examination, the expenses of which shall be paid by the parish or municipal authorities where the inquest is held.—Ibid., p. 128, sec. 660 (Act 1868, sec. 207).

Physicians are exempt from jury services.—Ibid., p. 421, sec. 2126 (Act 1868, sec. 141).

Physicians are exempt from militia service.—Act 1870, p. 164, sec. 95.

Physicians are required to pay an annual license tax of $20. Before a physician can obtain a license he must comply with the requirements of sec. 2677 of the Revised Statutes (see ante), unless exempted from such requirements by sec. 2681 (see ante). And any physician, who shall falsely pretend to have been a professor of any medical college, or to hold literary or professional titles to which he is not entitled, shall be forev r barred from the right to practise medicine in this State, and on failure to supply evidence to substantiate any claim to such title by proper diploma or other documentary or satisfactory evidence, shall, on conviction, be imprisoned in the State penitentiary not less than six months or more than five years.—Acts of 1872, p. 51 (Act No. 14, sec. 1, clause 17).

The only legal evidence that a license has been paid is the appropriate form of license issued by the auditor, and no receipt issued by a tax collector, in place of the license itself, is valid.—Ibid., clause 18.

It is not lawful for any person to practise any profession in this State, before payment of the tax thereon and obtaining a license therefor, if not already licensed, from the collector of the State taxes. And no person, who carries on a profession subject to a license, as herein provided, is allowed to collect any claim for services rendered in such profession, unless he, upon demand, exhibit the tax collector's receipt for such license, according to law, and a failure to do so entitles the defendant, in any suit instituted to recover such claim, to a nonsuit.—Ibid., p. 52, sec. 2.

In all cases of failure by any person to pay his license, the tax collector shall give ten days' notice to such delinquent tax-payer to pay his license, if such delinquent can be found, or, if he cannot be found, shall insert the notice in the official journal for ten days; or, if there is no journal in the parish, shall post the notice on the court-house door. If the license and costs are not paid at the expiration of the ten days, the collector may, without judicial formality, proceed to seize and sell, after ten days' advertisement, so much of the property of the delinquent tax-payer as may be necessary to satisfy the claim of the State, with all legal costs and charges. The tax-collector, when represented by the proper law officer of the State, may obtain from any court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the State, a writ of injunction against any person who may not have paid his license, restraining him from pursuing his business or calling until such license is paid. In these cases judgment is rendered for the amount of license due, with twenty per cent. special damage.

In the parish of Orleans all suits for license must be brought in the Superior District Court.—Acts of 1873, p. 98 (Act No. 47, sec. 2).

Physicians and surgeons, who have professionally attended any person during his last illness, are not allowed to receive any benefits from donations inter vivos or mortis causa made in their favor by the sick person during his last sickness, except, 1st. Remunerative dispositions made on that particular account, due regard being had to the means of the disposer and the services rendered. 2d. Universal dispositions in cases of consanguinity. —Civil Code (1870), p. 185, art. 1489.

The fees of the physician for attendance during the last sickness of the deceased are privileged on all the movables in general, and included in the third class of payments out of the personal estate.—Ibid., p. 379, art. 3191.

The action for the salary of a physician is prescribed by three years.—Ibid., p. 423, art. 3538.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MAINE.

The first settlements in Maine were made in 1604 by the French, and in 1607 by the English. This Province was called "Laconia," or sometimes "Marvooshen," the Indian name. About the year 1638 it took the name it now bears from Maine, a province in the western part of France. The name was originally derived from the Cinomanni, an ancient Gallic people. The history of Maine presents such remarkable variations of boundary that we are obliged to refer our readers to works treating especially on that subject.

In 1652 Maine was placed under the jurisdiction of, and in 1677 it was purchased by, Massachusetts, remaining a part of that State until the separation by a popular vote in 1819.

The State was admitted into the Union on the 15th of March, 1820. The area of Maine is 35,000 square miles, and in 1870 the population was 626,915, among whom there were 818 physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of twenty-five per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The surface of this State is very varied, and although possessing no range of mountains, it has many scattered peaks, the highest of which is Katahdin Mountain, rising 5385 feet above the level of the sea. About one-tenth part of the surface is covered with water. The numerous falls in the rivers impede navigation, but add vastly to the water power of the State. The larger streams are the Penobscot, the Kennebec, the Androscoggin, and the St. John's rivers. Moosehead and Chesuncook are the largest lakes, the smaller ones may be numbered by hundreds, and are exceedingly beautiful.

Vast arms of the sea run far up into the land, forming numerous bays and harbors, some of which are of great importance; that of Portland being unsurpassed by any in the United States. Iron-ore, marble and granite are found in abundance, and the forests yield immense quantities of excellent timber.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF MAINE.

Togus Springs are in Kennebec county, five miles from Augusta. "These Springs—at one time quite a resort—were purchased by the Board of Managers of the National Asylum for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers. The place is now known as the Eastern Branch of the National Asylum."

Lubec Saline Spring.—This Spring is on the banks of a small stream near the head of Lubec Bay in Washington county. The chief saline constituents are the chlorides of sodium, magnesium and calcium.

Dexter Chalybeate Spring is situated at Dexter, in Penobscot county, upon the banks of the Sebasticook River. The water contains an oxide of iron, and is a valuable tonic.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MAINE.

The Medical School of Maine, at Brunswick, is otherwise known as the Medical Department of Bowdoin College. It was organized in 1820. The session is of twenty weeks, and the course of three years' duration. There are ten professors in the faculty. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $75; graduation, $20.

HOSPITALS OF MAINE.

The Maine Insane Hospital, at Augusta, was opened for the reception of patients in 1840. It is built of granite, and consists of a centre building four stories high, with three wings on either side, each three stories high, and is fitted with all the modern improvements. This building is surrounded by large grounds, and is in a commanding and beautiful position. About four hundred patients are accommodated here. We are indebted to Drs. H. M. Harlow and B. T. Sanborn, the superintendent and assistant, for our information in regard to this Hospital.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF MAINE.

REVISED STATUTES OF 1857.

No person, except a physician or surgeon who began to practise prior to February 16, 1831, or has received a medical degree at a public medical institution in the United States, or a license from the censors of the Maine Medical Society, shall recover any compensation for medical or surgical services, unless, previously to rendering such services, he has obtained a certificate of good moral character from the municipal officers of the town where he then resided.—P. 202, ch. 13, sec. 1.

When any physician knows that a person under his care is afflicted with a contagious disease, he shall immediately give notice to the municipal officers of the town where such person resides; and for any neglect to do this, is liable to a penalty of from $10 to $30.—P. 207, sec. 32.

Physicians are exempt from jury service.—P. 619, sec. 3.

When an inmate of the State prison becomes insane, his case shall be investigated and the question of his insanity determined by a commission consisting of at least two skilful physicians, appointed by the Governor.—P. 722, sec. 5.

Whoever administers to any woman pregnant with child, whether such child is quick or not, any medicine, drug or substance, or uses any instrument, unless such treatment is necessary to preserve the mother's life, shall be punished, if the intent be to destroy the child, and it is destroyed before birth, by imprisonment for not more than five years, or a fine of not more than $1000. If the intent be to procure the woman's miscarriage, by imprisonment for not less than one year, and by fine not over $1000.—P. 685, sec. 8.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MARYLAND.

KING JAMES, in 1609, granted a charter to the "London Company," which gave them, along with much other territory, that which is now known as Maryland. In the year 1631, a Virginia trader, William Clayborne, established a settlement on Kent Island, in Chesapeake Bay. In 1632, Charles I. granted a patent to Lord Baltimore, in which the lands bordering upon the Bay were given to him, and called Maryland in honor of Henrietta Maria, the queen.

The first settlement under this patent was made in 1634, other colonists following in quick succession. Maryland was one of the original thirteen States, and included at that time the District of Columbia (see District of Columbia). The State has an area of 11,124 square miles, and in 1870, according to the Census of that year, the population was 780,894; the number of physicians and surgeons being 1257. Phthisis is the cause of sixteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. Upon taking up a map of this State, the first thing which strikes the eye is, that great and beautiful arm of the sea, Chesapeake Bay. With such a Bay, the character of the adjacent country may be easily told. We should expect to, and we do, find that the surface inclines toward the Bay on either side; that upon the ocean side the surface is comparatively low; that there is also an alluvial region upon the continent side; that the larger streams flow from the mountainous regions of the interior; and that the water power and facilities for travel by water are great.

The Potomac empties into the central portion of the Bay, and the Susquehanna into its northern end. The western portion of the State is traversed by various ridges of the Alleghanies, and in many parts is extremely wild and rugged. Coal is found in large quantities; iron-ore, chrome, magnesia, and many other useful minerals abound. We do not know of any Mineral Springs in this State.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MARYLAND.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore.—The curriculum of this College embraces a preliminary autumnal term and the regular winter session in its scholastic year. The preliminary autumnal term commences on the 22d of September, and continues until the opening of the regular session. During this term, didactic lectures on special subjects, and clinical lectures, are delivered daily. The regular winter session commences on the 1st of October and continues five months. Instruction is given by twelve professors, seven assistants, and a demonstrator of anatomy. As far as possible, the instruction given is of a practical character. The students of this school are granted equal and identical privileges with those of other institutions in all the hospitals and public charities of Baltimore. The building occupied by the College has spacious, well-furnished, and most comfortable lecture rooms, which are supplied with plates, drawings, models, casts, specimens of morbid anatomy, and other appliances used in illustrating the several departments. "In conformity with the usage of the times, a limited number of beneficiary students are received. They are known as such only to the professors of the school, and are granted all the privileges and advantages which the institution affords." The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $120; demonstrator's fee, $10; graduation, $20. Beneficiary students are charged $35 for the professors' tickets. Although a very young institution, this College is in a prosperous condition. The number of graduates at the second annual commencement (1874) was 26, the number in the whole class being 77.

Medical Department of the University of Maryland.—This school was organized at Baltimore, in 1833. The regular course of lectures commences upon the first of October, and continues five months. There are nine professors in the faculty, a demonstrator of anatomy, and an assistant. Clinical instruction is given in the University Hospital, adjoining which the faculty have recently erected a commodious building, with accommodations for twenty-four resident students. To the resident students are assigned wards in the hospital, and the attendance of the sick, under the daily supervision of the professors of the University. The Maryland Free Dispensary is also under the immediate and sole control of the Faculty of the University. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $126; anatomy, $10; graduation, $20. Resident students are charged $100 per year; this covers lodging, light, and fuel.

Medical Department of Washington University.—This medical school was "organized since the war, by a number of confederate surgeons," in the city of Baltimore. The winter session begins the first of October and terminates on the twenty-second of February. The summer session begins about the middle of March and continues four months. The Washington University Hospital building adjoins that of the college, and "students can pass directly from the lecture-room into the hospital-wards." A daily dispensary service is held at the Hospital. Instruction is given by eight professors, and a demonstrator of anatomy. The fee for the course of lectures, including dissection and the hospital ticket, is $65; matriculation fee, $5; graduation fee, $20.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Baltimore Infirmary, or University Hospital, is the property of, and under the exclusive control of, the faculty of the Medical Department of the University of Maryland, and has been spoken of in connection with that school. Sick sailors coming to the port of Baltimore are treated here, therefore this is sometimes called the "Marine Hospital."

The Bayview Hospital, at Baltimore, is a magnificent establishment, erected by the city. We have been unable to obtain any information in regard to this institution, the Washington University Hospital, or the Maryland Eye and Ear Institute of Baltimore.

The Baltimore Eye and Ear Institute occupies a fine building in which patients can have all the comforts of a home, being charged from $2 to $5 per day, according to room, etc.; professional services extra.

Patients in the Infirmary Department are charged $1 per day; professional services extra. The city pays the expenses of those who are unable to pay for themselves. A large number of patients are treated in this institution.

We have no details in regard to the Maryland Hospital for the Insane, at Baltimore, or Mount Hope Insane Asylum, at the same city.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND.

All licensed physicians resident in this State constitute the "Medical Faculty of the State of Maryland." All the members of the "Medical Faculty" who reside in each district—each county being a district and the city of Baltimore a separate district—constitute the medical society of the district; and this society has the authority to elect annually a board of examiners. The board of examiners shall consist in the district of the city of Baltimore of twelve, and in every other district of six, respectable and regular physicians; one-half of this number shall go out of office every year.

In the city of Baltimore six members of the board of examiners, and in every other district three members, constitute a quorum to examine candidates. A quorum of any board must sign their names to each license granted by them, and every license must also be countersigned by the president of the faculty of the respective district, and have the seal of the faculty of the State affixed.

The permanent boards of examiners meet annually on the first Monday in April, and are empowered to grant licenses to all applicants who by a careful examination are found to have a correct knowledge of natural philosophy, chemistry, anatomy, physiology, materia medica, therapeutics, and the principles and practice of medicine, surgery and obstetrics.

The board may also grant a special license to any one who may desire to practise any special branch of medicine. The boards are not allowed to prescribe the mode or manner in which diseases are to be treated, but this shall be left to the individual convictions of each physician who has proved his knowledge by his examination.

Every physician must renew his license annually. For his annual license he shall pay $5, unless he has attended the last preceding annual election of the board of examiners, in which case he will be required to pay $2 only.

No unlicensed physician or surgeon is allowed to practise or receive pay for his services, under a penalty of $100 for each offence. Nor shall any unlicensed physician or surgeon practise in the name or as the partner of another. Nor shall a licensed physician or surgeon associate in business with one who is without a license, under a like penalty. But a bona fide student of medicine may assist his preceptor without subjecting himself to this penalty.

No physician, who resides out of this State, is permitted to practise in this State, unless he subjects himself to the same penalties and regulations as resident physicians. But a regular graduate of a respectable medical college in the United States is not prohibited from coming into this State to administer medicine or perform a surgical operation, when specially sent for.

Any person who shall produce an abortion at any stage of pregnancy by administering medicine or by any other means—unless the abortion is produced by a regular practitioner, who deems this treatment necessary to preserve the mother's life, and after consultation with not less than two members of the faculty, one of whom must be also a member of the board of examiners—is liable to a penalty of $1000 and six months' imprisonment.

When a fine or penalty for any violation of the medical laws is recovered, one-half is paid to the State and the other to the school fund of the county where the crime was committed.

Every person, who knowingly advertises, prints, publishes, distributes or circulates, or knowingly causes to be advertised, printed, etc., any pamphlet, printed paper, book, newspaper, notice or reference containing words or language giving or conveying any notice, hint or reference to any person, or to the name of any person, real or fictitious, from whom, or to any place, house, shop or office where, any poison, drug, mixture, preparation, medicine or noxious thing, or any instrument or means whatever, or any advice, information or knowledge may be obtained for the purpose of causing miscarriage or abortion in the case of any woman pregnant with child, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for not less than three years, or by fine of from $500 to $1000, or by both.—Supple. to Code, p. 156, sec. 1, etc.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MASSACHUSETTS.

On the 6th of September, 1620, a small band of Puritans left the shores of England to establish a colony upon the territory owned by the London Company, they having a patent so to do. Owing to the ignorance of the captain, their vessel, the "May Flower," was brought upon the coast of Massachusetts, and a landing made at the present site of Plymouth, not, as was their intention, near the mouth of the Hudson. In 1630, a charter was granted to this colony from the Plymouth Company, within whose limits they had settled. Other colonies soon sprang up, under separate governors and having separate charters at first, but being deprived of their charters and placed under one governor in 1686. In 1692, the colonies were united under a new charter, given the name of Massachusetts, and placed under a governor appointed by the King of England. The word Massachusetts is said to be an Indian name, signifying, "the country about the great hills." As is well known to every American, this State was one of the first to engage in open rebellion to the power of Great Britain, the battle of Lexington being the first engagement of the Revolutionary War. Massachusetts (including the present State of Maine, which see,) was one of the "original thirteen States." The present area of the State is 7800 square miles. The population in 1870 was 1,457,351, among whom there were 2047 physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of twenty-five per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

The general surface of the State is hilly, the western portion somewhat mountainous, Saddle Mountain, 3506 feet high, being the most elevated peak. The eastern portion is undulating, and toward the southeast almost a level plain. The water-power is great, but the streams will admit of the use of small vessels, only, for communication. The Connecticut and the Merrimac are the largest streams in the State. The coast is very irregular, there being numerous capes, bays, and islands. Of the many fine harbors, that of Boston is the most important. Granite is an important staple among the economic productions of the State. Iron is mined; lead, copper, plumbago and anthracite are met with in some localities.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Hopkinton Springs are at the town of the same name, in Middlesex county. The water of one of these Springs contains the carbonates of iron, calcium, and magnesium; whilst that of another contains sulphur.

Berkshire Soda Spring is about three miles from Great Barrington, on the Housatonic Railroad, in Berkshire county. The water contains soda, chlorine, alumina and carbonic acid, and is said to be of service in eczema, ecthyma, acne and other diseases of the skin. It is used both internally and externally. At this beautiful watering place there are ample hotel accommodations.

The Sand Springs, at Williamstown, are said to be efficacious in many cutaneous diseases. There are abundant hotel accommodations.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MASSACHUSETTS.

The Medical Department of Harvard University, at Boston, was organized in 1782. Instruction is given by eleven professors, a demonstrator of anatomy, five assistant professors, and ten other teachers. This school possesses a fine museum and library. The plan of study pursued is concisely given in the last "Annual Announcement," from which we make the following extracts: "Instruction is now given by lectures, recitations, clinical teaching, and practical exercises uniformly distributed throughout the academic year. This year begins September 25th, and ends on the last Wednesday in June; it is divided into two equal terms, with a recess of one week between them." "The course of instruction has been greatly enlarged, so as to extend over three years, and has been so arranged as to carry the student progressively and systematically from one subject to another in a just and natural order." "A series of examinations on all the main subjects of medical instruction has been distributed for regular students through the whole three years; but they may be passed by other students either all at once or at the end of their course, or, successively, at several times. Every candidate for the degree must pass a satisfactory examination in every one of the principal departments of medical instruction at some time during his period of study."

"Studies for the First Year.—Anatomy, Physiology, and General Chemistry.

"For the Second Year.—Medical Chemistry, Materia Medica, Pathological Anatomy, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery and Clinical Surgery.

"For the Third Year.—Pathological Anatomy, Therapeutics, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery and Clinical Surgery."

The examinations following in the same order. "Students who began their professional studies elsewhere may be admitted to the school and become candidates for a degree without joining the regular classes." "Students who take the regular course of the school are divided into three classes, according to their time of study and proficiency. Students may be admitted to advanced standing in the regular course; but all persons who apply for admission into the second or third year's class must pass an examination in the branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission."

The fees are: matriculation, $5; for the year, $200; for either term, $120; and for graduation, $30.

In addition to the above, a course is given in which persons may pursue such advanced studies as they may select. Students attending one department of the University have the right to attend any other department without extra charge.

The New England Female College was organized at Boston, in 1848. There are five professors in the faculty. The regular term is of seventeen weeks, and the course of three years' duration. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $75; graduation, $30.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES OF MASSACHUSETTS.

The Massachusetts General Hospital.—This institution was opened at Boston, in 1821, and, "with the exception of the Pennsylvania Hospital, is the oldest establishment of its kind in this country." It is a very large, handsome building, containing 175 beds, and is supported by voluntary contributions. From the date of opening until January 1st, 1873, 40,087 persons have been treated in its wards. The price of board varies from $4.50 to $25 per week, but there are a number of free beds. A dispensary service is held daily; a clinical service is held every Saturday during the winter, and every Wednesday and Saturday during the summer. The amphitheatre is capable of seating four hundred persons. There is a dental department connected with this hospital. No person suffering from a contagious disease is admitted. This institution possesses a very fine medical library. Prizes are given triennally by the trustees for essays upon various medical subjects announced by them.

The McLean Asylum for the Insane is a branch of the Massachusetts General Hospital, and is under the control of its officers. It is situated at Somerville, in the vicinity of Boston. Since the opening of this asylum, in 1818, over six thousand patients have been received.

The City Hospital, at Boston, was opened for patients in 1864. The hospital has 250 beds, and although pay-patients are admitted, it "is intended for those residents of Boston who require temporary relief during sickness, and are unable to pay for treatment." Public clinics are held nearly every day. A very handsome "Report," giving the history of many cases, was published by the officers of this hospital in 1869. During the year ending April 30th, 1872, 3054 patients were treated in, and 8947 out-patients received the benefits of this institution.

The Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.—Since this institution was organized, in 1826, about 80,000 persons have been treated by its physicians. There are 39 beds for those patients who are received as boarders, such patients being charged $3.50 per week.

Boston Lunatic Hospital.—This institution is situated in South Boston, in the midst of a large plot of ground. The building was completed in 1839. It is under the control of the "Board of Directors for Public Institutions," as is also the Hospital on Deer Island, in Boston Harbor. At the latter hospital patients are received from the City Almshouse, the House of Industry, and the House of Reformation.

The Channing House, at Boston, is not exactly a hospital, being more of a home for incurables.

The House of the Good Samaritan, at Boston, is "for the care and treatment of sick women and girls, and of boys under six years of age."

The Carney Hospital was incorporated at Boston, in 1863. It is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. In connection with this hospital there is a "Lying-in Department," and an "Asylum for Infants." About one-half of the cases are charitable cases, but those who are able to pay are charged from $5 to $6 per week; or, if in the private rooms, from $10 to $25.

St. Joseph's Home for Sick and Destitute Servant Girls is under the care of the Sisters of St. Francis, and combines both a hospital and a home. It is situated in Boston.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital, at Boston, is devoted to the diseases of women. The weekly charge is very moderate. This hospital has 25 beds, and is in charge of the Sisters of St. Francis.

The Children's Hospital is intended as a hospital for children under twelve years of age, and as a training school for nurses. Thirty patients can be accommodated here, acute cases having the preference. The poor of Boston are received without charge, a moderate charge being made for those who are able to pay.

Greenwood Institute, near Boston, is an asylum for persons suffering from nervous affections. The charges are from $15 to $30 per week, according to the accommodations.

St. Luke's Home, at Boston, provides gratuitous care and treatment for women and children convalescent from disease.

The Cambridge Hospital is for the accommodation of sick women and children. Such patients as are able to pay are charged a moderate sum, but the poor are not charged.

The United States Marine Hospital is situated at Chelsea. According to law, forty cents per month is deducted from the pay of seamen in the merchant service, this amount going toward the support of the United States Marine Hospitals. The payment of the dues for the three months preceding his application, entitles a seaman to the relief afforded by these hospitals. The Chelsea Hospital is upon elevated ground overlooking Boston Harbor. One hundred patients can be accommodated here.

The Chelsea Naval Hospital "is intended for the treatment of sick and disabled men of the Naval Service."

The Boston Dispensary was founded in 1796. As many as 26,000 poor patients have received the benefits of this institution in one year. There are a number of medical institutions in Boston and its vicinity, of which we have no information. They are, the Dispensary for Skin Diseases, Dispensary for Nervous Diseases, St. Mary's Hospital, Boston Lying-in Hospital, Boston Orthopœdic Association, New England Hospital for Women and Children, and the Boston Homœopathic Dispensary.

Of the State Lunatic Asylum, at Worcester, we have no details further than that it was established in 1832. Northampton Asylum, Taunton Asylum, and Tewksbury Receptacle are only known to us by name. There is a private asylum, called the "Orient Spring Health Institute," at Amherst. It is under the care of Dr. G. W. Rhodes.

We are indebted to the "Medical Register of Boston," by Francis H. Brown, M. D., for much of our information in regard to that city and its vicinity.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

The physician who has attended during the last sickness of any person, shall, when requested, within fifteen days after the death, furnish for registration a certificate stating the duration of the last illness, the date, disease or cause of death. Any neglect of this duty is punishable by a fine of $10.—Gen. Stat. 1860, p. 168, ch. 21, sec. 3.

It is the duty of every physician who knows that any patient is infected with small pox, or other disease dangerous to the public health, to give immediate notice thereof to the selectmen or board of health of the town where he dwells. Any neglect of this duty is punishable by a fine of from $50 to $100.—Ibid., p. 193, sec. 48.

The overseers of the poor in any town, the mayor or aldermen of a city, the superintendent and inspectors of almshouses, may give to any physician or surgeon, at his request, permission to take the bodies of all persons who die in any town, city, or almshouse, and require burial at the public expense, and to use them, within the State, for anatomical study. Preference in this matter shall always be given to medical schools.—Ibid., p. 195, ch. 27, sec. 1.

Every physician or surgeon before he receives a body must give a bond that the body shall be used for anatomical study only, and within the State, and so as in no way to outrage public feeling, and shall after the examination be decently buried.—Sec. 2.

If, however, the deceased was a stranger or traveller who died suddenly, or if he requested during his last illness to be buried after death, or his friends or relatives, within twenty-four hours after the death, requested to have the body buried, the body shall not be given up for dissection.—Sec. 4.

After the execution of any person convicted of murder, the Court may order the body of the convict to be delivered to any professor of anatomy in a college or seminary who requests it, or to any physician in attendance who will engage to dissect it, unless the friends of the convict desire to have the body interred.—Ibid., p. 791, ch. 160, sec. 8.

Whoever fraudulently adulterates, or knowingly sells adulterated drugs, medicines, etc., shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding $400.—Ibid., p. 823, ch. 167, sec. 5.

If any person, with the intent to procure the miscarriage of any woman, unlawfully administers to her or prescribes for her any poison, drug, medicine, or other noxious thing, or uses any instrument or means, or aids therein, he or she shall be imprisoned from five to twenty years if the woman dies; and from one to seven years, and fined not exceeding $2000, in case the woman does not die.

The punishment for advertising to procure abortion is imprisonment not exceeding three years, and fine not exceeding $1000.—Ibid., p. 818, ch. 165, secs. 9 and 10.

Physicians and surgeons are exempt from jury service.—Ibid., p. 180, ch. 132, sec. 2.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MICHIGAN.

THE Territory of Michigan was formed June 30th, 1805, from the Territory of Indiana (see Indiana); it then included the lower peninsula and a narrow strip of land now in the northern part of the States of Indiana and Ohio. In 1818, the Territory was made to include Wisconsin, a portion of Minnesota, and the upper peninsula. In 1834, the Territory was made to include Iowa, the rest of Minnesota, and a portion of Dakota. On the 26th of January, 1837, Michigan was admitted as a State with its present area of 54,451 square miles. In 1870, the population was 1,184,059, the number of physicians and surgeons being 2034. Phthisis is the cause of sixteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

The geographical characters of this State are peculiar. It is divided into two peninsulas, northern and southern, separated by the Straits of Mackinaw, uniting Lakes Huron and Michigan. The northern peninsula is 316 miles long and from 30 to 120 miles wide, and differs from the southern in geological formation, character of soil and surface, and in economic productions. The surface is "rugged and in certain portions even mountainous, the streams abounding in rapids and waterfalls, rendering the scenery very picturesque and beautiful. The climate is rigorous and the soil sterile, fully compensated, however, by the extensive deposits of copper and iron. The eastern portion is less rugged than the western, where the mountains attain an altitude of nearly 2000 feet." The wonderful deposits of copper and iron are found in the northern and western portion of this peninsula, while the central portion is noted for its valuable lumber. "Lake Superior, washing the northern shores, and the largest expanse of fresh water on the globe, embraces an area of 23,000 square miles, with a coast line of 1500 miles." Three-fifths of the entire area of the State is included in the southern peninsula. The surface of this region is an elevated, undulating plain in its central portion, sloping gradually to the lakes which surround it upon the north, east and west. This is the agricultural section, immense crops of cereals, fruits and vegetables being annually produced. In Saginaw, Bay and Kent counties hundreds of thousands of barrels of salt are produced annually.

The bituminous coal region occupies the centre of this peninsula, and covers an area of 12,000 square miles.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF MICHIGAN.

St. Louis Artesian Well, or, as it is called, "St. Louis Magnetic Spring," is at the town of the same name in Gratiot county, thirty miles by rail from Saginaw. This is called a magnetic water, but the best authorities are "skeptical" upon this point. We give the mineral constituents of the water as determined by Dr. Duffield of the Detroit Medical College.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	7.684	Silicate of Calcium	0.700
Carbonate of Magnesium	1.080	Silica	0.299
Carbonate of Iron	0.091	Organic Matter and Loss	0.208
Carbonate of Calcium	5.019
Chloride of Calcium	trace.	Total	22.006
Sulphate of Calcium	6.925

GASES.	CUB. IN.	GASES.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	1.36	Sulphuretted hydrogen	trace.

Dr. Stiles Kennedy has published a work upon the "Magnetic and Mineral Springs of Michigan," in which he gives his experience in the successful use of these waters in dyspepsia, neuralgia, rheumatism and paralytic affections. The water is used both internally and externally. The iron tube through which the water flows is highly magnetic. Walton says ("Mineral Springs of the United States," page 28): "It is probable, however, that iron placed in a perpendicular position becomes more readily magnetic in Michigan than in many other portions of the earth, and the fact is worthy of investigation."

The Artesian Well at Lansing.—We give an analysis of the water of this Well as determined by Dr. Jennings.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (53½° Fahr.):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	8.094	Sulphate of Potassium	1.554
Carbonate of Magnesium	1.421	Sulphate of Sodium	3.131
Carbonate of Iron	0.143	Silica	0.413
Chloride of Sodium	33.349	Total	55.887

GAS.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	24½

The water is used both internally and externally, and is said to be of service in dyspepsia and similar diseases.

Spring Lake Well is situated at a station of the same name on the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad, three miles east of Grand Haven. There are several hotels at this beautiful place. The water is used both for drinking and bathing purposes, and according to Professor C. G. Wheeler, contains the following ingredients:

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.005	Sulphate of Sodium	5.837
Carbonate of Magnesium	trace.	Bromide of Magnesium	0.271
Carbonate of Iron	0.092	Alumina	trace.

Chloride of Sodium	50.691	Organic Matter	2.286
Chloride of Calcium	14.177	Total	78.503

Fruit Port Well is about nine miles northeast of Spring Lake, and possesses similar properties.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (48° Fahr., C. G. Wheeler)

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.565	Chloride of Calcium	13.888
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.308	Sulphate of Sodium	5.749
Carbonate of Iron	0.680	Bromide of Magnesium	0.095
Carbonate of Manganese	0.010	Silica and Silicates	1.325
Carbonate of Calcium	0.443	Alumina	traces.
Chloride of Potassium	0.054
Chloride of Magnesium	5.851

Alpena Well.—This Well is situated at the town of Alpena, at the head of Thunder Bay, and may be reached by steamers from Detroit, East Saginaw, or Bay City. There are ample hotel accommodations. The water of this Well is called a "Magnetic Water;" the tubing possessing magnetic properties, fancy has transferred "magnetic" virtues to the water. We give the constituents as determined by Professor Duffield.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Potassium	trace.	Chloride of Sodium	8.532
Carbonate of Sodium	1.364	Sulphate of Calcium	3.757
Carbonate of Magnesium	4.661	Alumina and Silica	0.386
Carbonate of Iron	0.170
Carbonate of Calcium	4.787	Total	23.657

GASES.	CUB. IN.	GASES.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	1.05	Nitrogen	0.03
Sulphuretted Hydrogen	4.42

The water is said to be of service in rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, dyspepsia, liver and urinary affections, and externally in skin diseases. The water is bottled at the Well and is sold throughout the country.

Owosso Spring is situated at the town of Owosso, at the junction of the Detroit & Milwaukee, and Lansing & Saginaw Railroads. The water is said to contain large quantities of the carbonates of calcium, magnesium and iron.

Midland Well is at the town of the same name, about thirty miles by rail northwest of Saginaw. This water has a purgative effect, as would be inferred from the analysis as made by Professor Duffield.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Chloride of Sodium	3.405	Phosphate of Aluminum	0.180
Chloride of Magnesium	0.223	Silica	0.308

Sulphate of Potassium	8.559	Loss	0.334
Sulphate of Sodium	2.298
Sulphate of Calcium	0.464	Total	16.680

The water is used internally and for bathing purposes.

Butterworth Spring is in the centre of the city of Grand Rapids.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (54° Fahr., Professor Duffield):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.434	Chloride of Calcium	0.763
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.432	Sulphate of Calcium	9.392

Chloride of Potassium	1.227	Organic Matter and Loss	0.083
Chloride of Sodium	1.591
Chloride of Magnesium	5.232	Total	20.081

The water is bottled and sent to all parts of the country. Adjoining the Spring is a commodious bath-house, with suites of rooms on separate floors for ladies and gentlemen.

Eaton-Rapids Wells are at the town of the same name, about ten miles southeast of Charlotte, in Eaton county. We give the analysis as found in Walton's "Mineral Springs of the United States." The water is used both internally and externally.

We have no analysis of the water of Flint's Spring, at the town of Three Rivers, in St. Joseph county. There are ample hotel and bathing accommodations here.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MICHIGAN.

Medical Department of the University of Michigan.—This medical school was organized at Ann Arbor, in 1850.

The annual session commences on the first of October, and continues until the first of the following April. Four lectures are given daily, each lecture being preceded by a catechetical review. Fine opportunities are offered for the study of chemistry, the "Laboratory being in a separate building, efficiently ventilated by steam power, and provided with one hundred and thirty-two tables. It is open to students who have qualified in the rudiments of chemistry, for nine months from October first, at an expense to each student of the material actually used by him." Medical and surgical clinics are held every Saturday in a fine hospital upon the University grounds, and ample opportunity for bed-side study is provided. The University possesses a large medical museum and library. There are several special courses of instruction, which are not necessary to graduation, and for each of which a small fee is charged. Students are examined at the commencement of the second course on the following branches: Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, and Chemistry. There are seven professors, a lecturer on surgery, and an assistant in chemistry. A separate course is given for women, which is in all respects equal to, and the regulations in regard to it are the same as, that given to men. The requirements for graduation are the evidences of three years of medical study; attendance upon two full courses of lectures (the last of which must have been at this institution); the performance of practical anatomy and practical chemistry; the submission of a thesis; and sustaining satisfactory examinations—including at least two written examinations by each professor during the term. Fees: to students of Michigan, $20 for the first year, and $10 for all subsequent years; to all others, $35 for the first year, and $10 for all subsequent years.

Detroit Medical College.—This College was organized in 1868. It has a corps of eleven professors, three lecturers, and a demonstrator of anatomy. A preliminary term occupies the month of September. During this term students are taught the use of instruments and apparatus, the methods of physical diagnosis; they work in the chemical laboratory and receive clinical instruction.

The regular term begins on the first Wednesday of October, and continues until March. In addition to the usual lectures, students are required to take a short course of analytical chemistry, to examine patients, to assist in operations, and to attend obstetrical cases. Clinical instruction is given at the College Dispensary.

St. Mary's Hospital, the Marine Hospital, and Harper's Hospital, the latter being so connected with the College building that surgical cases are brought into the amphitheatre for operation. Students are examined daily on the lectures of the previous day. Students are permitted to pass their examinations in the elementary branches early in the second session, in order that they may devote themselves, during their last course, to the study of clinical medicine and surgery.

Before graduating, students are required to write two essays upon subjects announced by the faculty, and to read and defend them before both class and faculty. The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $25; graduation, $25; hospital ticket, $10.

There is also a recitation session, commencing the middle of March, and continuing four months. During this term, lectures are delivered upon special branches by six lecturers. The exercises consist of a lecture, a recitation, and a clinic each day. The fees for this term are: matriculation, $5; hospital tickets, $10; lecture fees, $10.

Detroit Homœopathic College.—This institution was organized in 1871. There are nine professors and two lecturers in the faculty. The term commences on the fifteenth of October, and continues four months. Students who are not graduates of "literary colleges, high schools, or academies," must pass a preliminary examination before being admitted to this school. "To women are given all the rights and privileges of the College, on the same terms as to men, and every courtesy will be shown them. The lectures will be open to both sexes, except upon such subjects as propriety would dictate a separation—due notice of which will be given on the preceding day."

"The fees in this College are the same as they are in the Michigan University."

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

Harper Hospital is under the control of the faculty of Detroit Medical College, and is situated upon the College grounds. One hundred patients can be accommodated here.

St. Mary's Hospital, at Detroit, is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. It is a substantial brick building, and accommodates one hundred patients.

St. Luke's Hospital (Episcopal), at Detroit, contains sixty beds.

The Woman's Hospital, at Detroit, can accommodate about thirty patients at present, but is soon to be enlarged.

For the above information in regard to the hospitals at Detroit, we are indebted to Prof. E. W. Jenks.

Michigan Asylum for the Insane.—A portion of the Michigan Asylum for the Insane was made ready for patients and formally opened August 29th, 1859. The building, however, was not completed in accordance with the original plan and fully occupied until July, 1870. It then furnished accommodations for 150 patients of either sex. In 1871, provision was made for an increase of its capacity by the erection of a distinct building designed as a Department for Males. This will be entirely completed during the coming summer, and will furnish accommodations for 288 males. The institution will then be divided into distinct departments, and furnish rooms for 300 females and 288 males. Whole number of patients treated from August 29th, 1859, to Sept. 1st, 1873, 1526. Whole number discharged, 1101. Remaining under treatment, males, 220; females, 205. Total, 425.

For the information furnished above, we are indebted to Dr. E. H. Van Dusen, the able Medical Superintendent of the Asylum.

The United States Marine Hospital, at Detroit, was opened in 1857. The total cost of this building was $108,987.98. We have no further details in regard to this hospital.

We have no details concerning the Hospital at Ann Arbor.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN.

The Medical Department of the University of Michigan shall have one professor of Homœopathy.—Compiled Laws of 1857, vol. 1, p. 711.

Every board of health may appoint a physician to the board, who shall be the health officer of his township; and he shall receive a salary for his services.—Ibid., p. 431.

Whenever a physician knows that any person he is called to visit is infected with the small pox or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the township where the sick person may be. If he neglects to do this, he shall forfeit from fifty to one hundred dollars for each offence.—Compiled Laws of 1857, vol. 1, p. 439.

No person duly authorized to practise physic or surgery shall be allowed to disclose any information he may have acquired in attending his patient in his professional character, and which was necessary to enable him to prescribe for such person as a physician, or to act as surgeon.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 1182.

Any physician or other person who may prescribe, while intoxicated, any poison, drug, or medicine to another, shall be punished by imprisonment not more than one year, and fined not more than $500.—Ibid., p. 1547, sec. 4, (5889).

Any person who administers to any woman pregnant with a quick child, any medicine, drug, or substance, or uses any instrument with intent to destroy such child—unless such action is, or is advised by two physicians to be, necessary to preserve the woman's life—shall, in case of the death of the child or mother, be guilty of manslaughter; and every attempt to procure the miscarriage of any pregnant woman—unless this action is, or is said by two physicians to be, necessary to preserve the woman's life—shall be punished by imprisonment not more than one year, or fine of not more than $500, or by both.—Ibid., p. 1509, sec. 33, (5743).

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MINNESOTA.

THE Territory of Minnesota was formed March 3d, 1849; it then included the present State and that portion of Dakota Territory east of the Missouri river. So much of this Territory as lay east of the Mississippi river belonged to the Territory northwest of the River Ohio (see Indiana), and that lying west of that river to the province of Louisiana (see Arkansas). The present State was admitted into the Union May 11, 1858. The area of the State is 83,531 square miles, being nearly equal to the combined areas of the large and populous States of Ohio and Pennsylvania, and embracing a larger extent of territory than the whole of New England, capable of eventually sustaining a population equal to that of England. The population, according to the census of 1870, was 439,709. The number of physicians and surgeons being, according to the same authority, 402. Phthisis is the cause of fourteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The name of this State is derived from two Indian words, "Minne" and "Sotah," "Sky-tinted Water," in reference to its numerous and beautiful streams and lakes, which from their crystal purity reflect the clear, steel-blue skies. Thousands of lakes are scattered in groups or chains over nearly the whole surface of the State; many of them, linked together by a common stream, form a singular navigation, by which the most remote parts of the country are accessible. The largest of these bodies of water is the Lake of the Woods, on the British border, Red Lake being the next in size. Minnesota is the most elevated surface in the centre of this continent, and forms the water-shed of the three great basins of North America. Within its area the Mississippi and the Red river of the North arise; the former sending its waters south into the Gulf of Mexico, and the waters of the latter finally reaching Hudson Bay. The St. Lawrence also may be said to arise in one of the small lakes within the limits of this State.

It is said that in wet seasons a canoe may be navigated from the source of one of these rivers to that of another. The Highlands are the nearest approach to mountains in the State; they form the dividing ridge between the basins of the St. Lawrence and the Mississippi. The northeastern portion of this State is rich in timber, and the southern and western are the great wheat-producing sections. The water-power of this State is great; the falls and the rapids of St. Anthony alone, with a total descent of 64 feet, have an available hydraulic capacity of 12,000 horse-power. Nearly all the smaller streams in the State furnish valuable mill-power. Iron, coal, copper and lead are known to exist to a greater or less extent. Gold and silver are found in the northeastern counties. Salt, slate and potter's clay exist in large quantities.

We do not know of any Mineral Springs possessing medicinal properties in Minnesota.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MINNESOTA.

The Winona Preparatory Medical School was first opened in 1872. The object of the school is principally to afford students better facilities, while they are not in attendance upon college lectures, than can be enjoyed in the office of any single practitioner. Its province is not in any respect to supersede the college, nor does it propose to become a college itself; but, as its name indicates, to be preparatory for, and auxiliary to, the medical college. The school has well furnished rooms for study, recitation and dissection, and an anatomical and pathological museum. Students are divided into two classes. The first class includes such as have not attended college lectures, and this class receives instruction daily in the fundamental branches. The second class includes such as have attended at least one course of lectures, and receive instruction in the advanced branches. For our information in regard to this school we are indebted to Franklin Staples, M. D., of Winona.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

Minnesota State Hospital for the Insane.—This hospital is situated at the City of St. Peter. A temporary building has been occupied for some years past, but as the building of the permanent structure has progressed, patients have been moved into it. When completed this will be a very beautiful edifice, containing all the modern improvements. The number of patients in this asylum, November 30th, 1873, was: males, 159; females, 144. The number of patients who recovered during the year was 37, while 19 were discharged being much improved. The deaths during the same period were 26.

We have been unable to obtain any information in regard to the St. Joseph's Hospital at the city of St. Paul.

The Minnesota Eye and Ear Institute was incorporated at St. Paul during the month of March, 1873. It consists of an out-door and an in-door department. Indigent patients receive free board and nursing.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA.

Any number of persons, not less than three, may become incorporated as a medical society by complying with the following provisions: They shall adopt and sign articles containing, 1st. The name, general purpose, plan of operation and location of the corporation. 2d. The terms of admission to membership. 3d. The number of shares (if any) and the amount which constitutes a share. 4th. The officers of the corporation or society; the time and place of electing or appointing them, and the number of trustees or directors who are to conduct the affairs of the society for the first year. These articles must be recorded in the Registry of Deeds of the county where the corporation is located, and also in the office of the Secretary of State.—Statutes at Large (1873), vol. 1, p. 452, sec. 146, etc.

In any city or county whose population is ten thousand, the superintendent of the penitentiary, the wardens of the poor house, the coroner, or city undertakers, may deliver to physicians, professors and teachers in medical schools the remains of deceased persons, unless the remains have been interred or requested for interment by friends of deceased within twenty-four hours after death, or in cases where remains are those of a person detained for debt, or on suspicion of crime, or as a witness, or of a traveller, or of any person who desired to be buried after death, or whose friends did not consent to give up the body.

Any person who uses these remains for any other purpose than anatomical study, or removes them beyond the limits of the State, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by fine of from $300 to $1000.

Any person who receives or delivers any remains in violation of this act shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years, or fine of not more than $1000.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 1163, sec. 1, etc. (Act, February 27, 1872).

No regular physician or surgeon can, without the consent of his patient, be examined in any civil case as to any information acquired by him in attending his patient, and which was necessary to enable him to act as physician or surgeon.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 838, sec. 281 (10).

If any physician, while intoxicated and without design to effect death, administers any poison, drug or medicine, or does any act which produces the death of his patient, he is guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than two or more than four years.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 989, sec. 38 (20).

Any person who produces, or causes to be produced in any way, the abortion of a pregnant woman—except where this is necessary to preserve life—and thereby causes the death of the mother or child, is guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of from three to ten years.

Any person who attempts in any way to produce an abortion, shall be punished by imprisonment for a term of from one to two years, or fine of from $500 to $5000, or by both.

Any person who knowingly advertises in any way any preparation, article or thing capable of producing abortion, shall be punished by imprisonment, or by fine of from $100 to $500, or by both.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 987, sec. 1, etc.

A physician who has attended any person during his or her last sickness, shall, when requested, within fifteen days after the death, furnish for registration with the city or town clerk a certificate, stating the duration of the last sickness, the cause of death and date of decease, and, if he does not do this, is liable to a penalty of $25.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 609, sec. 6.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MISSISSIPPI.

For the history of Mississippi before it became a State we refer the reader to the history of the State of Alabama. Mississippi was admitted into the Union December 10th, 1817. The name of the State is derived from that of the great stream which washes its western border for five hundred miles, which name, according to the aboriginal language, signifies the "Great River," or the "Great Father of Waters." Mississippi covers an area of 47,156 square miles. In 1870, according to the census of that year, the population was 827,922, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 1511. Six per cent. of the annual number of deaths are caused by phthisis. The surface is generally undulating; level in some districts, but nowhere rising into mountains or extensive hills. The largest rivers are the Yazoo and the Big Black, flowing into the Mississippi, and the Pearl and Pascagoula, flowing into the Gulf of Mexico. The whole area of the State is abundantly watered, and it also possesses about a hundred miles of coast upon the Gulf of Mexico. Most of the soil is of excellent quality, and in some parts of the State is exceedingly rich. Cotton is the great crop, but sugar, tobacco, the cereals, and vegetables are raised in abundance.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF MISSISSIPPI.

Cooper's Artesian Well is situated twelve miles, by stage, west of Jackson. According to the analysis of Prof. J. L. Smith, this is a saline chalybeate water. We give his analysis.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Chloride of Sodium	1.015	Sulphate of Aluminum	0.765
Chloride of Magnesium	0.435	Peroxide of Iron	0.420
Chloride of Calcium	0.540	Crenate of Calcium	0.039
Sulphate of Potassium	0.076	Silica	0.225
Sulphate of Sodium	1.463
Sulphate of Magnesium	2.910	Total	13.183
Sulphate of Calcium	5.265

GASES.	CUB. IN.	GASES.	CUB. IN.

The use of this water is found to be of service in anæmia, chlorosis, chronic diarrhœa, and similar affections. This watering place is a very popular resort, and is amply provided with hotel accommodations.

Ocean Springs.—These Springs are situated upon the Mobile & Texas Railroad, fifty-seven miles west of Mobile. They may also be reached by coast steamers, from New Orleans or Mobile. This is a saline-chalybeate water, and the addition of sulphuretted hydrogen is said to make it of service in diseases of the skin. We give the analysis as given by Prof. J. L. Smith, in the "Geology of Mississippi."

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Chloride of Potassium	trace.	Iodine	trace.
Chloride of Sodium	5.971	Alumina	trace.
Chloride of Magnesium	0.621	Organic Matter	trace.
Chloride of Calcium	0.485
Protoxide of Iron	0.589	Total	7.666

GASES.	CUB. IN.	GASES.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	1.22	Sulphuretted Hydrogen	0.16

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MISSISSIPPI.

It is the intention of the trustees of the University of Mississippi to have a Medical Department connected with that institution.

We do not know of any Medical Schools in operation in this State.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Mississippi State Lunatic Asylum, at Jackson, was opened for the reception of patients, January 8, 1855. The building consists of a centre structure and several wings, and presents a very imposing appearance. Every arrangement possible is made for the comfort of patients, and great care is taken to amuse and interest them. The late addition of two new wings to this asylum has added much to its beauty and usefulness. During the thirteen months ending December 31, 1873, 74 males and 63 females were admitted, making, with those who were in the Asylum on December 1, 1872, a total of 183 males, and 185 females. During the same length of time 11 males and 19 females recovered their reason, 1 was discharged improved, and 4 were discharged unimproved; 27 died; 2 eloped; leaving the number in the Asylum, January 1, 1874, 304. From the first opening of this institution to the latter date, 1008 patients have received its benefits. The above information was kindly furnished by Wm. M. Compton, M. D., superintendent.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MISSOURI.

THE first organization of this region was effected October 1st, 1804, when all the land west of the Mississippi river, and not in the State of Louisiana, was formed into the District of Louisiana. Before this date, this region was a part of the Province of Louisiana (see Arkansas). In 1805, this District was organized as the Territory of Missouri. The State of Missouri was admitted into the Union August 10th, 1821. At that time it was bounded upon the west "by the meridian passing through the confluence of the Kansas and Missouri rivers," and it was not until March 28th, 1837, that the western boundary was extended by proclamation to the Missouri river. The area of the State is 65,350 square miles. The population, in 1870, was 1,721,295, the number of physicians and surgeons being 3560. Phthisis is the cause of nine per cent. of the annual number of deaths. "The State of Missouri comprises almost every variety of surface, except the extreme mountainous." Those "high hills and ridges," known as the Ozark Mountains, are found in the southern and southwestern portion of the State. In the southeast, the country is low, flat, and marshy. North of the Ozark Mountains, the country is generally rolling or level, interspersed with many streams and fertile valleys. Possessing, as it does, a great variety of geological characteristics, the soils necessarily include an extensive variety, and afford facilities for a remarkably varied agriculture, and valuable minerals are also found in large quantities. Having the Mississippi river for five hundred miles upon its eastern border, and the great Missouri running through its centre and washing a portion of its western border, and having many other rivers and smaller streams, this State is well supplied with water communication, means of irrigation, and motive power. The coal fields are estimated to cover 26,887 square miles. Iron is found in immense quantities. Lead is found in six hundred localities. Copper exists in twenty-two counties. Zinc ores are abundant; tin, cobalt, nickel, manganese, silver, gold, antimony, and saltpetre have been found. Petroleum springs occur in several counties. Valuable building stone is abundant. There are many other valuable minerals found; in fact, the mineral wealth of this State is incalculable, and almost incredible.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF MISSOURI.

St. Louis Artesian Well.—This is a sulphuretted saline water, flowing from a well 2199 feet deep, in the city of St. Louis. The water was analyzed about sixteen years ago, since which time it is believed to have undergone a change.

There are many other mineral springs in Missouri, but we have no information in regard to them. The following may be named: Elk Spring, in Pike county, Chouteau Spring, in Cooper county, Cheltenham Springs, St. Louis county, Monaghan, in St. Clair county, the Saline Springs, in Cooper, Saline, Howard, and adjoining counties.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF MISSOURI.

The Missouri Medical College was organized at St. Louis, in 1840. The Preliminary Course commences on the first day of October, and continues for about three weeks. The Regular Term begins about the twentieth of October, and ends the first of the following March. This school occupies a new building, adjoining that of St. John's Hospital. Clinical instruction is given in St. John's Hospital, and the City Hospital. Students may also visit the Marine Hospital. Several prizes are given by the faculty, the Alumni association, and friends of the College. The fees are: for a full course of lectures, $50; matriculation, $5; demonstrator's fee, $10; graduation, $20.

The St. Louis Medical College was organized in 1841. The Regular Course commences on the second Monday in October, and continues until the middle of the following March. This term is preceded by a preliminary course of several weeks' duration. There is also a summer session during the months of April, May, and June. The St. Louis (or "Sisters") Hospital is entirely under the control of the faculty of this College, in so far as relates to the treatment of the patients, and its wards are thrown open to the students daily throughout the year. Clinical instruction is also given at the City Hospital, Saint Luke's Hospital, the United States Marine Hospital, and the St. Louis Lying-in Hospital. Students can visit the St. Louis County Insane Asylum. This school has a well-filled museum of such specimens as serve to illustrate the course of lectures. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $105; demonstrator's ticket, $10; graduation, $20; hospital ticket, gratuitous. Graduates of other respectable medical schools are admitted to the lectures on the payment of the matriculation fee. Students who have attended two full courses of lectures in other accredited medical schools will receive all the tickets (including that for dissections) to the lectures of this college for $75, exclusive of the matriculation fee. Several prizes are offered to students by the Alumni association of this College. The Missouri Dental College is connected with this institution. A "Quiz Club" hold their examinations nightly during the sessions, at the College, and also twice a week in the afternoon. Fee, $12.

The Kansas City College of Physicians and Surgeons was organized in 1869. Instruction is given by nine professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The Regular Session begins on the first of October, and closes about the first of the following March. Clinical instruction is given at the College Dispensary and at the City Hospital. Students are formed into classes for the study of practical chemistry, and are "provided with the necessary apparatus for repeating after the professor the various tests." Several prizes are offered to stimulate students in their studies. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $50; anatomy, $10; graduation, $20.

The American Medical College, at St. Louis, "is an Eclectic School, and its teachings are in accordance with that system of practice." There are nine professors in the faculty. There is a Winter Term, and a Spring Term "which is in every way equal" to the former. The fees for either course are: tuition, $65; demonstrator's ticket, $5; graduation, $25.

The Homœopathic Medical College of Missouri was organized at St. Louis, in 1859. The winter course commences about the middle of October, and continues four and a half months. Clinical instruction is given at the College Dispensary, the Good Samaritan and the City Hospitals. Females are admitted to all the privileges of this institution. Several prizes are offered to students. Five scholarships are free, and five beneficiary students are received upon the payment of $25. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lectures, $50; anatomy, $10; graduation, $30; hospital ticket, free.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

St. Louis (or Sisters) Hospital is a large institution, accommodating annually about 3000 patients. It is under the control of the faculty of the St. Louis Medical College, and has been mentioned when speaking of that school. Rooms are set apart in the Hospital for private patients afflicted with uterine disorders, where every attention is given and service rendered. Gynæcological clinics are held here twice a week throughout the year. Eye and Ear clinics are also held three times a week, and Medical and Surgical clinics nearly every day.

St. John's Hospital, at St. Louis, conducted by the "Sisters of Mercy," is connected with the Missouri Medical College. There are general wards for charity patients—private wards for six patients each. The patients in the latter are required to pay from five to seven dollars per week for board, without farther charge for medical attendance, nursing, etc. There are twenty private rooms, comfortably furnished, the patients having special bills of fare, extra nurses, and medical attendants of their own choosing, when so desired.

Saint Luke's Hospital of St. Louis is a charitable institution under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Missouri; it is under the personal direction of the Sisterhood of the Good Shepherd. The hospital is central and easy of access, and offers superior accommodations in its wards and private rooms for both medical and surgical cases.

The charge for patients admitted to the hospital wards is at the rate of seven dollars a week, inclusive of medicines and medical and surgical treatment. The rates in the private rooms vary from twelve to fifteen dollars a week according to size and location of rooms.

The St. Louis City Hospital.—Between three and four thousand patients receive the benefits of this Hospital annually. Medical, surgical, ophthalmic, and gynæcological clinics are held here twice a week.

The United States Marine Hospital, at St. Louis, was erected at a cost of $109,000, upon grounds already the property of the Government, and was first occupied in 1858. For the law regulating the reception of patients into the Marine Hospitals, we must refer the reader to the account of the U. S. Marine Hospital at Chelsea, near Boston.

The St. Louis County Insane Asylum has a capacity or about three hundred, but is always over filled. The building, of recent construction, is imposing in appearance, and occupies a commanding site. It has extensive grounds, which, however, have not as yet been utilized for the benefit of the patients. A large number of incurables are lodged in a wing of the adjacent alms-house.

The Missouri State Lunatic Asylum is situated at Fulton, in Calloway county. "The Asylum is an imposing structure, with a front of five hundred feet, and extreme wings at right angles, one hundred and sixteen feet, and four stories high," with a chapel and several other buildings in the rear.

The buildings are surrounded by five hundred acres of land belonging to the Asylum. The Report, dated November 25, 1872, states that during the two preceding years, 121 patients were restored to reason and usefulness, 56 improved, 64 died, and 18 were discharged, unimproved. The total number of patients under treatment during the same period was 582.

The St. Vincent's Institution for the Insane is a private Asylum, situated in a retired but readily accessible portion of the city of St. Louis, and surrounded by moderately extensive grounds. This Asylum was opened for patients in August, 1858.

Two hundred and thirteen patients received the benefits of this Institution during the year 1873, and 2212 from the opening, in 1858, to January, 1874.

The Good Samaritan Hospital (Homœopathic) was founded at St. Louis, in 1857. It has a capacity of 100 beds.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF MISSOURI.

Any physician who, while intoxicated, and without design to effect death, shall administer any drug, potion, or medicine, or do any act, by which death may ensue, shall be guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than three years, or in the county jail not less than six months, or by a fine of not less than three hundred dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment.—Stat. 1872, vol. 1, p. 447, sec. 16.

Every person who shall administer to any woman pregnant with a quick child any medicine, drug, or substance, or use any instrument, with intent to destroy such child—unless such treatment is, or is advised by a physician to be, necessary to preserve the mother's life—shall, in case of the death of the mother or child, be guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, and be punished by imprisonment from three to five years.—Ibid., p. 447, sec. 10.

The killing of an unborn quick child by any injury to the mother, which would be murder if the death of the mother ensued, is manslaughter in the first degree.—Ibid., sec. 9.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF MONTANA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF MONTANA.

THE Territory of Montana was formed May 26, 1864. It then embraced portions of territory which had at different times been included in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Dakota and Nebraska Territories, and covered an area of 143,776 square miles. This was the extent of surface in 1870; since that date 2000 square miles have been added from the Territory of Dakota, making its present area 145,776 square miles. The population, as it existed in 1870, was 20,595, and the number of physicians and surgeons 42. Phthisis is the cause of nine per cent. of the annual number of deaths. "The name Montana is of Spanish origin, meaning mountainous, an appellation particularly applicable to this Territory. The Indians gave it the name of 'Tayabe-shockup,' or the country of the mountains." (Land Office Report, 1869, p. 159.) This region consists of three basins, one on the east, one on the west, and one within the ranges of the Rocky Mountains. Spurs from the main chain subdivide these basins into a number of valleys, which are connected one with another by numerous gaps or passes. The basin west of the mountains is drained by the Missoula and Flat Head rivers and their branches, and contains the beautiful Flat Head Lake. Numerous spurs from the main range divide this basin into valleys of great beauty and fertility. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that this region is full of precious metals, the Bitter Root Mountains, whose lofty peaks are covered with eternal snows, and the great Rocky Range, upon both its slopes, yielding between the years 1863 and 1872 $130,000,000 worth of gold. In the production of this precious metal this Territory is second only to California. The central basin embraces all the country enclosed by the mountain ranges. In this basin and the corresponding one on the western side of the rocky range, is contained nearly all the present population and agricultural and mineral wealth of the Territory. It is traversed by the Missouri river and its numerous branches. The climate is milder than the latitude and elevation would seem to indicate, and the soil is unsurpassed for productiveness. All that portion of the Territory east of the mountain range may be called the eastern basin. This region is drained by the Missouri, the Yellowstone, and their branches, and though somewhat mountainous, is not as much so as the rest of the Territory. A part of this region is "the bad lands," but other portions are very fertile. Gold, as before stated, and silver are found in large quantities. Copper is abundant, but has not yet been worked. "There is a small stream in this Territory which, holding copper in solution, precipitates it on iron utensils left in the water." Iron and coal exist in immense quantities. Tin, cinnabar, zinc, lead, antimony and precious stones are found. The northern trending of the isothermal lines gives this Territory a much milder climate than is usually found in such latitudes.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF MONTANA.

Numerous Hot Springs are found in different sections of the Territory. In Madison county is the "Hot Spring District," in which six Springs are found whose principal mineral constituent is lime; the temperature of three of them varying from 110° to 124° Fahr., while the remaining three have a temperature of from 64° to 76° Fahr. These springs are 4804 feet above the level of the sea. (United States Geological Survey of Montana, 1871, pp. 172, 197.) In Deer Lodge Valley is a mound thirty feet high, one hundred feet in diameter at the base, and thirty feet at the top, where is to be found a Spring three feet in diameter, the water of which is nearly at the boiling point. This water contains silica and iron, and the whole mound is found to consist of deposits formed from the Spring during countless ages. (Land Office Report, 1870, p. 131.) There are many other Springs in Montana, but they have not been made of service in the cure of disease, although the day cannot be far distant when they will become useful and popular places of resort.

We have no knowledge of any medical institutions or societies in this Territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF NEBRASKA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NEBRASKA.

THE Territory of Nebraska was formed May 30th, 1854. It then included portions of territory now in Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, and Colorado, and all the present State of Nebraska. This region was originally a portion of the Province of Louisiana (see Arkansas). The State was admitted with its present area of 75,995 square miles, February 9th, 1867. In 1870, the population was 122,993, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 247. Phthisis is the cause of nine per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The surface of this State consists mostly of prairies gently undulating or broken into low hills, and gradually rising from the Missouri River, westward to the mountains. The eastern may be said to be the agricultural, and the western the grazing section. Nebraska is to a great extent treeless, timber being found principally along the streams. The Missouri River bounds the State upon the east, and the Niobrara, the Platte, and the Republican Fork of the Kansas River flow through the State from west to east. Coal, iron, alum, sandstone, and gypsum are found. In Lancaster county are the great salt basins, occupying an area several miles in extent, and furnishing immense quantities of valuable salt of great purity. There are no Medical Schools in Nebraska.

The Good Samaritan Hospital, under the auspices of the Episcopal Church, is located at the corner of 23d and Webster streets, has a full corps of attending physicians, and is in a prosperous condition.

The Americun Surgical Institute is located at 162 Harney street, Omaha.

The Sulphur Springs at Omaha contain sulphur, iron, and soda.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF NEVADA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NEVADA.

This State occupies a portion of the territory ceded to the United States by the treaty with Mexico in 1848 (see California). The Territory of Nevada was formed March 2d, 1861, from the western part of Utah. It was admitted as a State, October 31st, 1864. In 1866, another portion of Utah, and a portion of Arizona was added to the State, thus giving it an area of 104,125 square miles. The population, in 1870, was 42,491, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 110. "A peculiar feature of the State is the remarkable uniformity with which mountain and valley succeed each other in nearly parallel lines almost throughout its whole extent, the mountains being rocky and but sparsely covered with herbage or timber, and the valleys generally dry, sandy plains, interspersed with salt and alkali flats, also intersected with beautiful broad shallow streams, bordering on which are wide belts of alluvial formation, covered by luxuriant herbage varied with flourishing timber, the soil possessing elements of the greatest fertility." (Land Office Report, 1869, p. 178.) The great Colorado river separates this State from Arizona on the extreme southeast; but the rivers of Nevada are small and shallow, many of them having the peculiarity of disappearing from the surface of the earth, being dispersed over the sub-soil of broad fertile meadows, beyond which they again unite in channels above the ground. The largest streams are the Humboldt and Virgin rivers, and the principal lakes are Tahoe, Pyramid and Walker. The mineral wealth is enormous, the silver mined in a single year being worth from twenty to thirty millions of dollars. Besides the innumerable veins of silver and copper which occur in almost every part of the State, there are extensive deposits of salt, soda, sulphur, and borax. Pure carbonate of sodium is found in Churchill county, and is quarried in huge blocks and transported to San Francisco. Iron, coal, cinnabar, zinc, tin, lead, antimony, nickel, cobalt, and many other valuable minerals are found.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF NEVADA.

"The Springs of Nevada—thermal, mineral, and otherwise—are numerous and of great size, some of them, from their large volume, high temperature, and the composition of their waters, being considered great geological curiosities. They occur at all elevations and under nearly every peculiarity of condition—deep and shallow; cold, hot, and tepid; some in a state of ebullition, and some quiescent; some impregnated with various mineral solutions, others perfectly pure; some isolated, others in groups; some cool and calm, others sending off clouds of steam, with a gurgling and hissing noise. These Springs vary in diameter from one to thirty feet, and in depth from two feet to one hundred."

"Steamboat Springs, in Washoe county, have thus far been of more frequent resort by the white people than any of the others, more on account of their greater accessibility than their superior sanitary properties, which are supposed to be not equal to those of many others not so well known. A chemical analysis of these Springs shows them to contain principally the chlorides of sodium and magnesium, with soda in different forms, lime, silica, and organic matter." (Land Office Report, 1869, pp. 179 and 180.)

The Hot Springs of Pyramid Lake.—These Springs are near the margin of the lake, and are of various sizes, the largest being several feet in circumference. The temperature of the different Springs varies, the highest being 208° Fahr.

The Puebla Hot Spring, in Humboldt county, has been described by Dr. Blake in the "Proceedings of the California Academy of Sciences." To this account we must refer the reader.

Volcano Springs, in Lander county.—Col. Evans has given a very interesting account of these Springs in the "Overland Monthly" for Feb., 1869.

There are many other Springs in the State; among them are the Salt, Sulphur, Soda, Turnley's, and Indian Springs.

We do not know of any Medical Institutions in this State.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

New Hampshire was the name given to the territory granted by the Plymouth Company to Captain John Mason and others in 1639, in honor of the patentee, who was Governor of Portsmouth, in Hampshire, England. They planted settlements at Portsmouth and Dover, but they established no wise government, and in a few years the colony placed itself under the government of Massachusetts, and sent representatives to the General Court. In 1680, New Hampshire was made a Royal Province. In after years, when Massachusetts was under royal rule, the two provinces were occasionally united under one Governor. They finally separated in 1741, and were under Royal Governors until the Revolutionary War. New Hampshire was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the Constitution June 21, 1788. This State covers an area of 9280 square miles. The population in 1870 was 318,300, and the number of physicians and surgeons 565. Twenty-five per cent. of the annual number of deaths are caused by phthisis.

The surface of New Hampshire is very irregular; toward the coast it is quite low, but becomes more elevated as we proceed inland, mountains appearing, and in the central portion of the State, the White Mountains towering aloft in all their rugged beauty. Though not to be compared to some of the great ranges in the far West, these peaks possess a grandeur and rise to a height only equalled on this side of the continent by the mountains of western North Carolina. Mount Washington, the highest of these mountains, reaches an altitude of 6234 feet. The general slope of the surface being from north to south determines the course of the rivers in the same direction. The Connecticut river separates this State from Vermont, and the Piscataque and Salmon rivers in part from the State of Maine. The Androscoggin and the Merrimac rivers rise in this State and flow through the adjoining States of Maine and Massachusetts. The rivers are not suitable for navigation, but are of great service as mill power. There are many beautiful lakes throughout the State. Lake Winnipiseogee, twenty-three miles in length by from two to ten in breadth, and having over 360 islands sprinkled over its bosom, is not only the largest, but also the most beautiful of these bodies of water. New Hampshire has a sea-coast line of eighteen miles, and possesses, at Portsmouth, one of the finest harbors on the Atlantic coast. This State is rich in mineral wealth. Iron exists in nearly every county. Copper and zinc are mined in many places. Gold, silver, lead and other metals are found. Immense quantities of valuable granite and marble abound in the most convenient localities. Timber of the best quality is abundant.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Birch-Dale Springs are in the vicinity of the city of Concord, the capital of the State. The water of these Springs has been analyzed by Dr. C. D. Jackson, and found to contain salts of calcium, sodium, iron and phosphates. There are ample hotel accommodations.

Abenaquis Springs are situated at Walpole in Cheshire county, twelve miles from Bellow's Falls, Vermont. Visitors must take a private conveyance from the latter place. The water has not been analyzed, but it is said to possess tonic properties.

Amherst Springs.—These Springs are at the town of the same name in Hillsboro' county. We have no analysis of the waters.

Bradford Springs are near the town of Bradford, in Merrimac county. Guests will find ample hotel accommodations at the Springs. The water has not been analyzed.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Medical Department of Dartmouth College, otherwise known as the New Hampshire Medical Institute, was organized at Hanover in 1797. Instruction is given by ten professors, one assistant professor and a demonstrator of anatomy. "The annual course of medical lectures begins on the first Thursday in August and continues fourteen weeks. During the first half of this term lectures are delivered on the following branches:

Chemistry, Surgery, Gynæcology, and Obstetrics, and during the last half on Anatomy, Physiology, Theory and Practice, Materia Medica, and Medical Jurisprudence." This institution possesses a fine museum and a large laboratory. A surgical dispensary service is held at the college. The expenses are: matriculation, $5 (paid annually); course ticket, $77; graduation, $25. Students who have attended two courses at any other regular college are charged $25 for the course ticket. Several prizes are offered by the faculty. "That part of the year not occupied by the lecture term is divided into two recitation terms of fourteen weeks each, of which the first begins December 2d and the second March 17th. Students are classified according to their attainments, and have daily recitations during these terms in the studies pursued. During the winter and early spring special attention is given to anatomy and to work in the chemical laboratory. Students are also admitted to the public courses of lectures in the Academical Department of Dartmouth College. The fee for this course is $40."

The New Hampshire State Asylum for the Insane is situated near the city of Concord, in the midst of attractive grounds, and is a large and flourishing institution. It was opened in 1842, is built of brick, and is in every way fitted for the purpose for which it was intended. This asylum is capable of accommodating between two and three hundred patients.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Physicians are exempt from jury service.—Gen. Stats. (1867), p. 394, sec. 2.

Physicians are not liable to the penalties imposed on persons for selling poisons, etc., without making a record of the sale in their book, when the poisons, etc., are contained in prescriptions for patients.—Ibid., p. 512, sec. 8.

Physicians who attend the birth or death of any one shall make a record of the same, and shall annually, before the 15th day of April, deliver a copy of the record for the year ending the last day of March next preceding, to the selectmen of the town where the birth or death occurred. For this service the physician is entitled to twenty-five cents. The record of birth must contain: date and place of birth, full Christian and surname, color and sex of child, whether child was living or still-born, full Christian and surnames, color, occupation, residence and birth-place of parents. The death record must contain: date of death, full Christian and surname, sex, color, condition (married or single), age, occupation, place of birth and death of deceased, full Christian and surnames and birth-places of parents, disease or cause of death.—Ibid., p. 332, sec. 1, etc.

Every person who shall wilfully administer to a woman pregnant with quick child, with intent to destroy such child, any drug, medicine or substance, or use any instrument—unless, by reason of malformation, or difficult or protracted labor, such treatment shall be, or shall be advised by two physicians to be, necessary to preserve the woman's life—shall be punished by fine not exceeding $1000, and imprisonment from one to ten years.

Every person who shall administer to any pregnant woman any drug, medicine or substance, or use any instrument with intent to procure miscarriage, shall be imprisoned not more than one year, or fined not exceeding $1000, or both.

Any person who causes the death of the woman in the prosecution of either of the above crimes, shall be deemed guilty of murder in the second degree.—Ibid., p. 529, sec. 11, etc.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NEW JERSEY.

The country south of the Hudson was visited by the Dutch in 1623, and formed a portion of their province of New Netherlands. In 1664, this region fell into the hands of the English, and received the name of New Jersey, in honor of Sir George Carteret, who had been Governor of the island of Jersey, in the English Channel, and who jointly with Lord Berkeley purchased this province from the Duke of York. In 1674, Lord Berkeley sold his share of the province, West New Jersey, to the Quakers, a large number of whom emigrated from England the next year. East New Jersey was also purchased by the Quakers, in 1682. In 1702, the Quaker proprietors gave up their rights, and Queen Anne sent over a royal Governor. From this time until the Revolutionary War there is little of interest in the history of New Jersey, but during the struggle for Independence many important battles were fought upon her soil. New Jersey was one of the "Original Thirteen States," and ratified the Constitution Dec. 18th, 1787. The population, in 1870, according to the census of that year, was 906,096, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 1208. Twenty per cent. of the annual number of deaths are due to phthisis. New Jersey covers an area of 8320 square miles.

"In the southern and central portions of this State the country is flat and sandy; in the north are some ranges of picturesque hills, interspersed with charming lakes and ponds. Some of the Alleghany ridges traverse New Jersey, forming the spurs known as Schooley's Mountain, Trowbridge, the Rambo and Second Mountains."

New Jersey is surrounded upon three sides by water, having the Atlantic Ocean, New York bay, and the Hudson river upon the east, and Delaware bay and river upon the south and west. The coast is low and sandy, with but few inlets of sufficient size to admit of the entrance of small vessels, and no efficient harbors. The Delaware river, bounding this State upon the west, is a grand stream, admitting of the largest sea going vessels as far as Camden, while smaller craft ascend as far as Trenton. The rivers of this State are better adapted for economical purposes than for navigation, the largest admitting of the use of small craft for from fifteen to twenty miles from the sea. The principal streams are the Hackensack, the Passaic, and the Raritan rivers. These streams are in the more elevated portion of the State, and are of service as mill power. The Falls of the Passaic afford sufficient power to move the machinery of many vast factories, the "race" taken from the river above the falls being as large as a small canal. The southern portion of the State is covered to a great extent by vast pine forests, and possesses no large streams. Iron, copper, and zinc are found in large quantities. Manganese is found in several localities. Fine building stone is abundant.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF NEW JERSEY.

Schooley's Mountain Spring is in Morris county, two and a half miles from Hacketts-town, on the Morris & Essex Railroad. This is a very popular place of resort, both on account of the virtues of the water and the great beauty of the surrounding country. The water has not been analyzed, but has a strong chalybeate taste, and contains carbonic acid gas. The temperature of the Spring is 50° Fahr. It is found near the summit of the mountain, and the water is conveyed to a convenient place in pipes. This mountain contains iron ore, which is worked in several places. The constant flow of this Spring is about one gallon every two minutes. There are several hotels convenient to the Spring.

"Mineral Spring."—This Spring is two miles distant from Long Branch, and is much resorted to by visitors to that attractive sea-side resort. The water is said to contain carbonate of iron.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The New Jersey State Lunatic Asylum was founded at Trenton, in 1848. It is a very handsome and well arranged edifice, consisting of a centre building four stories high, containing the officers' apartments, etc., and very extensive wings three stories high, with every arrangement possible for the accommodation of patients. The plan of this building is so arranged that an addition to the present structure can be made at any time at a comparatively small cost, adding much to the beauty of the building, and giving accommodations for 360 additional inmates. The number of patients in this Asylum on the 31st of October, 1872, was 700, and the number received during the next year was 131, making the whole number under treatment during the year 831. Of these, 45 recovered, 71 improved, 43 died, and 19 were discharged, unimproved, leaving 653 patients in the Asylum on the 31st day of October, 1873. This is a greater number than the Asylum was originally intended to accommodate; therefore it is the intention of the State Government to erect an Asylum near Morristown. The greater number of patients are supported by the State, but private patients are also admitted. The Asylum at Morris Plains will be opened May 1st.

The Newark German Hospital.—This Hospital was opened for the reception of patients during the month of January, 1871. It is very pleasantly situated on high ground, and has a capacity of sixty beds. The number of patients received prior to July 1st, 1873, was over six hundred.

St. Michael's Hospital, at Newark.—In 1865, a small house, having a capacity of ten beds, was fitted up for needy patients. In 1867, this charity was extended, a larger house being taken, and in 1870 it assumed the name and proportions of the present St. Michael's. This Hospital has accommodations for 130 patients, and is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. General hospital clinics, and eye and ear clinics are held daily. During the year 1873, 880 patients were admitted, 866 attended the eye and ear clinic, and 253 the general hospital clinic. The total number of persons receiving the benefit of this institution was 2108.

We are indebted to Drs. Elliott and Woodhull, of the Medical Staff, for the above information.

The Hospital of St. Barnabas, at Newark, has a capacity of 34 beds. During the year ending June 11th, 1873, 194 patients received its benefits, of whom 128 recovered, 14 improved, and 18 died. This Hospital partakes somewhat of the nature of a home, persons of all ages, sex, and condition being admitted and taken care of. There is also a Lying-in and Out-door Department attached to this institution. This Hospital is under the care of the Episcopal denomination, and several beds are endowed by various churches in the diocese; several also by the Newark city government.

Dr. Dougherty, of the Surgical Staff, has kindly furnished the above information.

St. Joseph's Hospital, at Paterson, was opened for the reception of patients in 1868, and enlarged in 1872. During the year ending September 1st, 1873, 380 patients were treated in this institution. Of this number, 220 were cured, 58 were relieved, and 35 died. The poor are admitted without charge; for males, who are able to pay, the charge is $6, and for females, $5 per week. In addition to the general wards, there are a few private rooms. The Hospital is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. A Dispensary Department is open twice a week for the treatment of diseases of the eye and ear, and once a week for diseases of the skin and special diseases of women.

The Hudson County Hospital, at Hudson City, was formally opened June 2d, 1870. The Hospital is built of stone, is four stories high, and is beautifully situated in the midst of large grounds. It has beds for thirty-six patients, and is capable of admitting more. Patients with incurable diseases are charged $15 per week; cases of mania-a-potu, $25, in advance; patients who are inhabitants of Hudson county are charged $7 per week; others, $8 to $10.

We have no information in regard to St. Mary's Hospital, at Hoboken, or the Charity Hospital, at Jersey City.

The Newark City Dispensary is open daily from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M., except Sundays and holidays. The hour from 11 to 12 is set apart for vaccination; the following hour for male, and the remainder of the time for female patients. The city is divided into eight districts, and the poor in each are attended free of charge by the physicians connected with the Dispensary.

J. A. Nichols, M. D., the Health Physician of Newark, has kindly furnished the above information.

Memorial Hospital and Dispensary at Orange, was open July 1st 1873. The Hospital has a capacity for twenty beds. Over three thousand patients have been treated at the Dispensary since it was open in 1873. It is open daily from 12 M. to 1 P. M., except Sundays and holidays. The hospital and dispensary is under the care and patronage of the ladies of Orange.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF NEW MEXICO.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NEW MEXICO.

The greater part of the region of country now known as New Mexico was formerly part of the Republic of Mexico, and was ceded by that power in 1848. The Territorial Government was formed December 13th, 1850. It then included the present Territory and Arizona north of the Gila River, the southern portion of Nevada, and a small part of Colorado. In 1854, the territory south of the Gila River, acquired from Mexico by the Gadsden purchase, was added to it, giving it an area of 261,342 square miles. This enormous extent of surface has been reduced by the formation of the contiguous States and Territories, leaving the present Territory an area of 121,201 square miles. According to the Census of 1870, the population in that year was 91,874, and the number of physicians and surgeons was 27. Phthisis is the cause of three per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

"The general face of the country is constituted of high, level plateaus, traversed by ranges of mountains, from which occasional isolated peaks rise to a great height, and intersected by rapid streams of water flowing through beautiful fertile valleys, and channeling in the rock precipitous cañons. The general course of the mountains, valleys and streams is from north to south, with a tendency to a deflection from northeast to southeast." Ranges of the Rocky Mountains, occasionally lost in table-lands and rising again further on as short sierras or isolated peaks, traverse the country in a northerly and southerly direction. Some of these peaks, in the northern portion of the Territory, rise to the height of 10,000 to 12,000 feet, and have their tops covered with eternal snows. The Rio Grande del Norte, rising in Colorado, and flowing through this Territory from north to south, and the Pecos, a branch of the Rio Grande, are the principal streams. The Canadian River in the northeast drains this portion of the Territory, and carries its waters to the Arkansas and thence to the Mississippi. And by the branches of the great Colorado the western part is drained into the Gulf of California. In the mountainous regions of the north the winters are long and severe, but there are no sudden changes of temperature. The general ranges of the thermometer throughout the year is from 10° to 75° above zero, Fahrenheit. The sky is usually clear and the atmosphere remarkably dry, the whole Territory being considered one of the healthiest localities in the Union.

Pulmonary complaints are almost unknown. The small percentage of deaths from phthisis has been mentioned above. The valleys are very fertile, and the table-lands, when irrigated, are exceedingly productive. Forests of pine, cedar, spruce, and other valuable trees cover the mountains, while a variety of deciduous trees fringe the margins of the streams. "Veins of the precious metals and rich deposits of copper, iron, and coal, are found in many parts of the Territory, and new discoveries are constantly being made." The yield of precious metals is great, and is increasing every year.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF NEW MEXICO.

"Hot Springs and Mineral Springs are found in almost every section of the country: at Las Vegas, near Taos, Ojo Caliente, Jemez, near Forts McRae and Selden, near Mimbres River, and at many other points."

The Hot Spring near the Mimbres, seventeen miles from Fort Bayard, is of high temperature. The water of this Spring is highly charged with lime, has some iron and salt, though neither abundant enough to render the water, when cold, unpalatable. The lime which the water has held in solution, by an excess of carbonic acid and by the heat, has been precipitated around the Spring in such quantity as to form a mound twenty-five feet higher than the surrounding plain. In "Walton's Mineral Springs of the United States," p. 309, and "Pacific Railroad Reports," vol. vii., p. 156, this Spring is called Agua Caliente. "The curative qualities of many of these springs have long been known, and they will not fail to become places of general resort for invalids when a railroad shall afford convenient facilities for reaching them."

We have no knowledge of any Medical Institutions in this Territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NEW YORK.

In 1609, Henry Hudson, an English navigator, was sent out by a company of Dutch merchants to seek a northwest passage to India. Sailing along the eastern coast of North America, with this object in view, he passed into what is now known as New York Bay. He explored the river which now bears his name, as far as to where Albany now stands. In October of the same year he returned to Europe and reported that he had discovered the "most beautiful" country in the world. The first settlement was in 1614, and in 1624 the Dutch purchased from the Indians, for twenty-four dollars, the "Island of Manhattan." Here they built a few cottages and gave their small town the name of "New Amsterdam." They called the country, which they claimed by right of discovery, New Netherland. Many small colonies were planted along the banks of the Hudson, but they were troubled by their English neighbors on the east and the colonies of Swedes on the Delaware river, and more than all by the Indians around them. It was not until the appointment of Governor Stuyvesant, in 1650, that the colonies prospered. In 1664, the English sent out a fleet and took possession of the Dutch colonies. They had been claimed by the English, and had been given by Charles II. to his brother the Duke of York; so, upon the capture of New Amsterdam, the town and the province received the name of New York in honor of the duke. After nine years it was again taken possession of by the Dutch, called "New Orange," and held by them fifteen months, when it was again taken by the English and held by them until the time of the Revolution. The colonies suffered much from the French and Indian wars; midnight massacres, treachery, and all the wiles of Indian warfare, aided by the knowledge and villainy of the French leaders. In 1763, the Treaty of Paris brought safety and peace to the colonists. The history of New York, after the French war, is only the history of a struggle between the royal governors and the people. Things were in this state when, in 1765, Parliament passed the Stamp Act. During the whole of the Revolutionary struggle New York took a prominent part. Many important battles were fought on her soil, and the patriotism and valor of her people did much towards the attainment of American liberty. New York, as one of the original thirteen States, ratified the Constitution July 26, 1788; it then included Vermont (see Vermont). The present State covers an area of 47,000 square miles. According to the census of 1870, the population in that year was 4,382,759, and the number of physicians and surgeons 6810. Phthisis is the cause of twenty per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The surface of this State presents every variety of character—lofty mountains, fertile valleys, elevated table land, beautiful lakes, navigable streams, and roaring waterfalls. In the northeastern portion of the State is the "Adirondack region," where is to be found some of the wildest and most romantic scenery in the eastern part of this country. "The Adirondacks (named after the Indian nation who once inhabited these fastnesses) lie chiefly in the county of Essex. Mount Marcy, or Tahawas, 'the cloud splitter,' is 5467 feet high. Mount McIntyre, Dial Mountain, and others, rise to an elevation almost as great." There are many other mountains in New York, the highest being the Catskills in Greene county. The Hudson is the great stream of the State; flowing from the Adirondacks to the ocean in majestic grandeur; it is too well known to need description here. The Mohawk flows into the Hudson from the west, after running a course of about 135 miles. The Oswego, which flows into Lake Ontario, is the outlet for a long series of lakes and rivers. The Delaware and Susquehanna both rise in this State. Two of the great lakes—Ontario and Erie—bound New York on the west and north. Their connecting stream, the Niagara river, and the great river St. Lawrence, their outlet to the ocean, also form a portion of the boundary of this State. The beautiful lakes of the centre of the State are of great service for navigation, and their borders are much frequented by tourists and pleasure seekers. The same may be said of Lakes Champlain and George, in the northeast, whose clear placid waters and mountain shores are resorted to by thousands of delighted visitors every year. Chatauqua Lake, though only nine miles from Lake Erie, empties itself, by means of the Alleghany, the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers, into the Gulf of Mexico. Thus we see that a portion of the State is drained into the Gulf of St. Lawrence in the north, a portion into the Atlantic through the Hudson, Delaware and Susquehanna rivers, and the southwestern portion into the Gulf of Mexico. The falls of Niagara, the Genesee, Portage, Trenton and many others afford vast motive power and attract many visitors to admire their beauties. This State possesses in New York Bay one of the finest harbors in the world. "Long Island, a part of the State of New York, is 115 miles in length, and at some points twenty miles in breadth." This gives the State a coast line of several hundred miles. Iron, lead and plumbago are found in abundance. Zinc, copper, barium and strontium ores, alum and magnesia abound. Immense quantities of salt are obtained in Onondaga county from numerous "salt springs." Fine timber and building stone is abundant in all parts of the State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF NEW YORK.

(SALINE WATERS.)

Saratoga Springs are upon the Rensselaer & Saratoga Railroad, thirty-seven miles north of Albany. These Springs are the most noted mineral waters in the United States, and are visited annually by thousands of persons. There are many Springs here possessing in general the same qualities, but differing according to the number and amount of their mineral constituents. We have several separate tables of analysis, but prefer the combined table given in "Walton's Mineral Springs of the United States," both on account of its brevity and accuracy.

For analysis of these Springs see page 471.

Congress Spring.—"This Spring was discovered in 1792, though it was long before known to and esteemed by the Indians." For the last forty years the water of this Spring has been bottled, and it is supposed that more water is sent abroad than is taken at the Spring. The water of Columbian Spring is considered to be quite a good tonic, the iron which it contains making it of service in anæmic cases.

High Rock Spring.—The carbonic acid gas escaping from the surface of this Spring has caused the magnesia, lime, iron, etc., which it made soluble, to be deposited, thus raising the Spring three feet above the general surface. The mound or rock so made is twenty-four feet in circumference.

The Empire Spring (as may be seen in the table of analysis) contains a large proportion of iodine. This renders it of service in scrofulous affections.

Hathorn Spring has been quite popular of late years.

Putnam Spring is considered to be a very rich chalybeate water.

The water of Union Spring is said to contain 392 grains of solid matter in a gallon.

The other Springs are Pavilion, Star, Washington, Hamilton, Saratoga Seltzer, Saratoga A. Spring, Excelsior Rock Spring, United States, Eureka, Crystal, Indian Encampment, Ellis, White Sulphur, Lake Sulphur, and Geyser. Although these are all called Springs, "some of them are in reality made by boring," and may be said to be artesian wells. The waters of the Red, of the White Sulphur, and of the Pavilion, are used both internally and externally, but that of most of the Springs is only used for drinking purposes. The manner of using these waters differs but slightly; the general rule may be given that, for a cathartic effect several glasses must be taken as early as possible in the morning before breakfast, and as an alterative, a glass three or four times a day. Those waters containing iron must be used in smaller quantities than the simple saline waters. These waters are of great service in dyspepsia, and in liver affections. Those which are used externally are said to be of service in eczema and other diseases of the skin. Kidney affections, rheumatism, scrofula, neuralgia, and pulmonary diseases are benefited by drinking from these fountains of health. When we read that over 70,000 persons visit Saratoga every summer, we must not suppose that they are all seekers after health, by far the greater number are seekers after pleasure. "The Alpha and the Omega of the daily Saratoga programme is to drink and to dance—the one in the earliest possible morning, and the other at the latest conceivable night." Even though this be true, the fact is incontestable, that the waters have great curative power, and thousands are every year benefited by a sojourn here. The water of most of these Springs is bottled, and can be obtained in nearly all the cities of the Union.

Ballston Spa.—These Springs are seven miles from Saratoga, upon the railroad between that place and Albany. The virtues of these waters were known as long ago as 1769, and they were very popular before Saratoga became the fashionable resort. Their medicinal qualities are similar to those of Saratoga. There are several Springs and artesian wells. We give the analysis of Sans Souci Spring, as given in Moorman's "Mineral Springs of North America."

The Chalybeate Spring will be found under the head of Chalybeate Waters. These waters are used externally and internally, and their effect is said to be both alterative and cathartic. The flow of water is about 120 gallons per minute. There are several fine hotels here.

Massena Springs, in St. Lawrence county, can be reached by steamer on the St. Lawrence river to Dodge's Landing, three miles from the Springs. They may also be reached by the Ogdensburgh & Lake Champlain Railroad to Brasher Falls, thence by stage ten miles. The water is said to be of service in cutaneous disease, scrofula and urinary affections.

The water of Chappaqua Springs, near Sing Sing upon the Hudson, is known to contain sulphate of calcium and the chloride of calcium, iron and magnesium.

Saquoit Springs are nine, and Verona Spring, fourteen miles from Utica, in Oneida county. The former are said to contain chloride of sodium, chloride of magnesium, sulphate of calcium, and iron. They are so highly impregnated with carburetted hydrogen that it is collected and kept constantly burning. The latter—Verona—has been analyzed by Professor Noyes, and we give the constituents as determined by him.

Seneca or Deer Lick Springs are four miles from Buffalo, in Erie county. They are said to hold in solution the carbonates of calcium, sodium and magnesium, and the sulphate of calcium. These Springs are very rich in sulphuretted hydrogen.

There are many other Sulphur Springs in New York. The following may be mentioned: Manlius Spring in Onondaga county, Harrowgate Spring in Rensselaer county, Newburgh Spring in Orange county, Ameniaville Spring in Duchess county, the Sulphur Spring at Troy, and others in the counties of Broome, Gates, Mendon, Ogden, Niagara, Lewis and Clinton.

(CHALYBEATE WATERS.)

Oak Orchard Acid Springs are twelve miles northwest of Batavia, in Genesee county. There are nine Springs within the limits of a circle fifty rods in diameter. These Springs contain free sulphuric acid (dihydric sulphate), a substance which is rarely found in mineral springs.

We give the analysis of Spring No. 1, as made by Dr. Chilton, and that of the same Spring, as given by Professor Emmons. It will be seen that these two tables do not agree; this is probably due to the difference between a wet and a dry season.

These waters are tonic and astringent, and are of service in anæmia, debility, chronic diarrhœa and many other diseases. The water must be diluted and taken in small quantities. It is also used externally in the treatment of ulcers.

Lebanon or New Lebanon Springs, in Columbia county, have fine medicinal properties, and are much resorted to during the summer months. The route thither from Hudson is by the Hudson & Boston Railroad to Chatham, and there change cars ; or from New York city by the Harlem Railroad. The Spring is ten feet in diameter, with a flow of about five hundred gallons per minute and a temperature of 73° Fahr., being the only thermal spring in the State. We give the analysis as made by Professor H. Dussance.

This water is said to be of service in cutaneous diseases, rheumatism, nervous debility and liver affections. It is soft and pleasantly suited for bathing purposes, and is quite tasteless and inodorous. It is chiefly used externally. At the Shaker village, a short distance from Lebanon, there is a Spring which is said to be very rich in iron. There are abundant accommodations for guests.

Vallonia Springs, in Broome county. This is a very pleasant place of resort, but we are unable to give any analysis of its waters. Guests can be accommodated at the "Spring House."

The water of Reed's Mineral Spring, in Washington county, is said to be similar to that of Saratoga.

The Water of Halleck's Well, near Hampton in Oneida county, contains the chlorides of sodium, calcium, magnesium, and the sulphate of calcium, and is said to evolve carburetted hydrogen gas.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF NEW YORK.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York was chartered in 1807, and became the Medical Department of Columbia College in 1860. Instruction is given by nine professors, three adjunct professors, a demonstrator of anatomy, an assistant demonstrator, six lecturers, and nineteen clinical assistants.

The collegiate year embraces a summer session and a winter session. Attendance during the summer session is not required for graduation, but opportunities are afforded for the prosecution of special studies in this course. This session begins about the middle of March and continues three months. Two Didactic Lectures are delivered daily; clinics illustrating these lectures are also held daily, and clinical instruction is given in the hospitals. Obstetrical cases are furnished to students. The fees for this course are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $30, or, for each ticket, $5.

The regular winter session commences on the first of October, and continues until the following March. During this term instruction is given by five or six lectures each day, together with daily clinics. Several series of lectures on special subjects are also given during this session. Advanced students are supplied with obstetrical cases. Clinical teaching constitutes an important and prominent feature in the plan of instruction. Clinics are held in the College in the following order: Surgical, Monday and Wednesday; Medical, Thursday; Cutaneous Diseases, Monday; Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Tuesday; Diseases of Children, Wednesday; Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs, Thursday; Diseases of Women, Friday; Diseases of the Nervous System, Saturday.

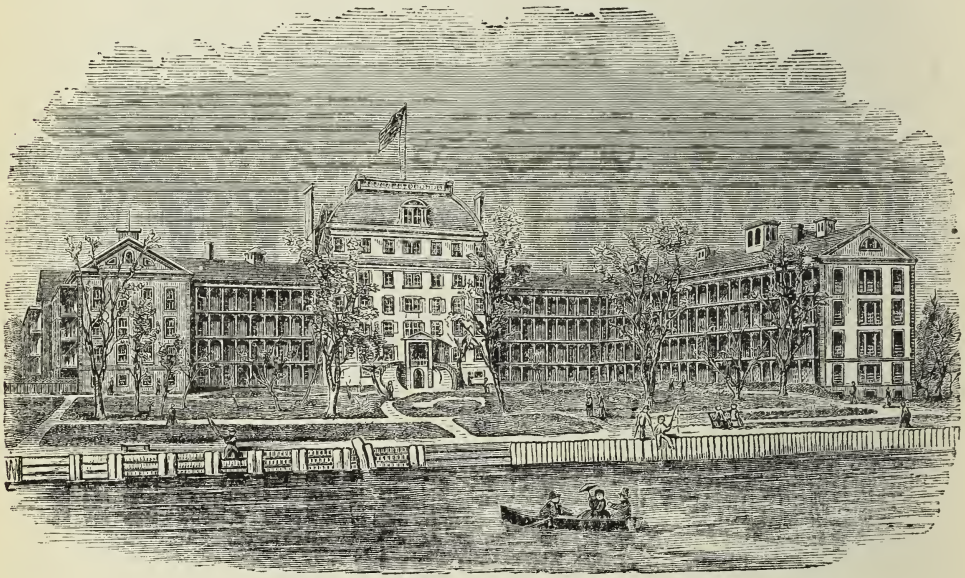
In addition to this large amount of clinical instruction, students are also expected to attend the Bellevue Hospital, Charity Hospital, Roosevelt Hospital, and the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital. The New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, the New York Ophthalmic and Aural Institute, and the many Dispensaries of the city, also furnish means of clinical observation. The fees for the regular winter session are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $140, or if taken separately, $20 each; anatomy, $10; graduation, $30. Students who have already attended two full courses of lectures in other regular schools, and recent graduates, are admitted on paying the matriculation fee and $70. Third-course students and theological students are admitted upon paying the matriculation fee only. In addition to the above, the following "Special Courses" are given: Analytical Chemistry, during the summer session at the college, fee $12; Physical Examination of the Eye, at the New York Ophthalmic and Aural Institute, 8 lessons, fee $12; Pathological Anatomy, during the winter session at the Bellevue Dead House, fee $10; Minor Surgery, 10 lessons, fee $10; Physical Diagnosis, at several hospitals and at the College, 12 lessons, fee $12; Otology, at the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, during both sessions, 12 lessons, $12. Laryngoscopy, 12 lessons, $12; Operative Surgery, during both sessions, 12 lessons, $18. The Faculty have introduced a system of Regular Examinations, by a competent corps of medical men, who will examine such as choose to avail themselves of these opportunities, in all branches taught during the winter and summer sessions. The fees for these examinations are: winter session, $10; summer session, $30; year, $60. The faculty and friends of the College offer a number of prizes. The College occupies a very large building, which is in every respect fitted for the purposes of such an institution.

The Medical Department of the University of the City of New York was organized in 1841. There are thirteen professors, three adjunct and two clinical professors, and one lecturer in the faculty. There are also five "tutors in medicine," and five clinical assistants. "The collegiate year is divided into two sessions—a regular winter session, and a spring and summer session;" attendance on the latter not being necessary for graduation. The spring course begins about the middle of March and ends the first of June. One didactic and two clinical lectures are delivered, and two recitations are held, daily. Students can pursue the study of Practical Anatomy at the college; Morbid Anatomy at the Dead Houses of Bellevue and Charity Hospitals; Ophthalmology at the Manhattan Eye and Ear Infirmary; Practical Chemistry, Surgery, Diagnosis and Dermatology, at the College. Second-course students are provided with cases of obstetrics. The spring course is free to students who have attended the winter session, others are charged $30 for the course and $5 for matriculation; "and, should they decide to become pupils of the University for the winter course ensuing, the $35 thus paid will be credited to them on taking out their tickets for that course." There is also a laboratory fee of $5, and a fee of $10 for the dissecting ticket, the latter and the matriculation ticket being valid for the winter term.

A preliminary term commences about the middle of September and continues until the opening of the regular session.

The regular winter session occupies four and one-half months, commencing on the first of October and continuing to the middle of the following February. Four or five didactic lectures and two clinical lectures are delivered each day. Clinical instruction is given at Bellevue Hospital, the Charity Hospital, and the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital. Students may visit the Fever and Small Pox Hospitals, the Hospital for Epileptics and Paralytics, the Nursery Hospital, the Insane Asylum, the Roosevelt Hospital, and many other similar institutions. The clinics held at the College are as follows: Medicine, Monday and Friday; Surgery, Thursday and Saturday; Cutaneous Diseases, Tuesday; Diseases of Women, Wednesday.

Students may pursue the study of Chemistry in the Laboratory "at a trifling expense." They may also attend cases of obstetrics. A number of prizes are offered by the faculty and others. The fees for the winter course are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $140; demonstrator's fee (including material), $10; graduation, $30. Students who have attended two full courses, one of them being in this College, are required to matriculate only, or if both courses were in some other accredited school, they receive a general ticket for $70, exclusive of matriculation. A limited number of beneficiaries are received, the charge for such being $13, and the matriculation fee. Several private courses are given by members of the faculty and others, for which the terms are moderate. The present large and commodious building of this college was first occupied in 1869. It is situated opposite the Bellevue Hospital, and very near several similar institutions.



BELLEVUE HOSPITAL MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Bellevue Hospital Medical College.—The Medical Board of Bellevue Hospital, seeing the vast amount of clinical material in that institution, opened an amphitheatre for clinical teaching in 1849. This was the commencement of the movement which resulted in the organization of the College in 1861. Instruction is given by seventeen professors and ten assistants. The collegiate year embraces a winter session and a summer session. The winter session consists of the regular term and a preliminary term. The latter begins about the middle of September and continues until the first of October, when the regular term commences, to end about the first of the following March. The recitations and clinics of the summer session begin about the middle of March and continue fifteen weeks. During this session instruction is given in special branches. Students are divided into two classes, junior and senior; the former are examined on anatomy, physiology, and chemistry; the latter on practice surgery, obstetrics, materia medica and therapeutics. The fees for the summer session are: matriculation $5 (the ticket valid for the following winter); recitations and lectures, $50; chemical laboratory (including material), $25; dissecting, $10 (the ticket valid for the following winter). Attendance on the summer session, or the preliminary term, is not necessary for graduation. During the preliminary term lectures are delivered, and clinics are held daily. No fee is charged. Instruction is given during the winter session by "clinical and didactic teaching." Four lectures are delivered, and "two or three hours are daily allotted to clinical instruction," clinics being held at Bellevue Hospital and the Charity Hospital. Students may visit the New York State Hospital for Diseases of the Nervous System, the New York Eye Infirmary, the Fever and Small Pox Hospital, the Insane Asylum, and many other similar institutions. Special courses of lectures are given upon Ophthalmology, Otology and Dermatology. There are also many private courses by the professors and others. Analytical chemistry may be studied in the College Laboratory; the fee, including chemicals, is $25. "For the benefit of those who desire a thorough drilling in the different departments during the progress of the course, the faculty have organized a recitation class, which will be continued throughout the regular session;" the fee is $35. The fees for the regular winter session are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $140; dissecting ticket, $10; graduation, $30. "Students who have attended two full courses of lectures in other accredited medical colleges receive all the tickets to the lectures of this College, exclusive of the matriculation and the dissecting tickets, for $70. Students having attended two full courses of lectures in this College, or, after attendance on one full course in this college, having previously attended one full course in some other accredited college, are required to matriculate only." A number of prizes are offered by the faculty and others. The building occupied by the College was erected by the "Bureau of Medical and Surgical Relief for Out-door Poor," upon the grounds of the Hospital. The lower floor is used as a Dispensary, and the upper part of the building is leased to the faculty for the use of the College.

Albany Medical College.—This school was incorporated in 1839, and became the Medical Department of Union University in 1873. There are eighteen professors, a demonstrator of anatomy, and an assistant professor in the faculty. Instruction is given by didactic lectures, clinical lectures, recitations, practical work in the laboratory and dissecting room, and by the examinations and diagnosis by students of cases assigned them, and by reports and criticisms of the same by the class and by the professors. The regular term begins on the first Tuesday in September, and continues twenty weeks. Five or more lectures are given daily, medical and ophthalmic clinics are held each Wednesday, and a general surgical clinic each Saturday. The Albany Hospital, the Eye and Ear Infirmary, and the Dispensary are in close proximity to the College, and are made available for clinical purposes, three or more clinics being held weekly. The College occupies a fine, large, brick edifice, having well-appointed lecture rooms, chemical laboratory and dissecting rooms, and possesses a well-filled museum and library. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $100; demonstrator's ticket, $5; laboratory ticket, $10; graduation, $25. A perpetual ticket to the lectures is given for $150. Students who have attended two full courses of lectures at other medical institutions will be required to pay $25 and the matriculation fee; or if the courses have been at this college, the matriculation fee only. A spring term begins on the first Tuesday of March, and continues eight weeks. Lectures are delivered, clinics are held, and laboratory and dissecting-room studies can be pursued. Holders of perpetual tickets are not charged for this course; others pay a fee of $5.

The Long Island College Hospital, at Brooklyn, was organized in 1860, and "was the first to inaugurate, in this country, the union of a hospital and a medical school, for the purpose of securing more thorough demonstrative teaching." The reading term commences the first of October, and continues until the last week of the following February. The faculty for this term consists of one professor, seven lecturers, a demonstrator and four assistants. The teaching during this term is thoroughly demonstrative, the lectures being supplemented by questions, recitations and explanations. The class is divided into sections, each section accompanying the clinical teacher in his daily rounds of hospital service. Daily examinations are held upon the preceding lectures. Several special courses are given. The lecture rooms being within the Hospital buildings, students can pass directly from the class rooms to the wards. The fees for this term are: matriculation (good for the year), $5; dissecting ticket for a year, $10; recitations and clinics, $30; or for a single ticket, $10. The regular term commences early in March, and ends the last week of June. The faculty of this term consists of eight professors, an adjunct professor, a demonstrator of anatomy, and three lecturers. Instruction is given by lectures and by daily clinics. "Resources for clinical instruction are afforded by the College Hospital, the Dispensary for Out-door Patients, St. Peter's Hospital, the Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital, and various other charities in the city of Brooklyn." Cases of obstetrics are given to advanced students, and abundant opportunities for the pursuit of special branches of study are afforded. The fees for the regular term are: matriculation, $5; lectures and clinics, $100; demonstrator's ticket, $5; graduation, $25; or, for a single ticket, $17. A deduction is made for students who have attended two full courses in this or any other school.

The Medical Department of the University of Buffalo was organized in 1846. Instruction is given by seven professors, one lecturer, and a demonstrator of anatomy. A preliminary term occupies the month of October. The regular term begins the first Wednesday in November, and continues sixteen weeks. The lectures are made as practical as possible, and clinical instruction is given at the "Buffalo Hospital of Sisters of Charity," and the Buffalo General Hospital. The College building is a commodious stone structure, constructed with express reference to medicinal instruction; containing museum, chemical apparatus, etc. The fees are: matriculation (annually), $5; lecture tickets, $75; demonstrator's fee, $5; graduation, $25. A perpetual lecture ticket is given for $125. The fee for students who have attended two courses elsewhere is $35. Third-course students in this school are charged the matriculation fee only.

The Medical Department of Syracuse University, otherwise known as the College of Physicians and Surgeons, was organized in 1872. There are fourteen professors, and a demonstrator of anatomy, in the faculty. The regular course of study in this institution covers a period of three years. The collegiate year begins on the first Thursday in October, and ends on the last Wednesday in June. The first term is devoted mainly to lectures, with practical exercises, and is designated as the Lecture Term. The second term has recitations as the principal feature, and is called the Recitation Term. Students following the regular three years course, take up their studies in the following order: First year, Anatomy, Physiology, and General Chemistry. Second year, Medical Chemistry, Materia Medica, Pathological Anatomy, Didactic and Clinical Medicine, and Surgery. Third year, Medical Jurisprudence, Therapeutics, Obstetrics, with lectures on all the branches of the entire course. "Examinations of those pursuing this course will be held at the beginning, middle, and end of each year. The examinations at the beginning of the year are for students desirous of entering advanced classes. Students who take the regular course of this college will be divided into three classes, according to their time of study and proficiency." At the end of the first year, examinations are held on Anatomy, Physiology, and Chemistry. At the end of the second year, on Medical Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Pathological Anatomy. At the end of the third year, Therapeutics, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Clinical Medicine, Surgery and Clinical Surgery, and Medical Jurisprudence. "Students who have pursued their studies elsewhere, may become candidates for a degree, without joining the regular classes, completing their studies in such order as may be deemed best, and passing the examinations at the end of each course." Clinical instruction is given at St. Joseph's Hospital. Students may pursue the study of Chemistry under the supervision of the professor in the laboratory. Cases of obstetrics are given to advanced students. Women are admitted to this College on the same terms as men. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture term, $75; recitation term, $40; the year $100; graduation, $20.

The Woman's Medical College of the New York Infirmary was organized in 1868. The winter session opens the first Monday in October, and continues twenty-four weeks. The summer session begins early in April and is continued through the first week of June.

There are nine professors, two lecturers, a demonstrator of anatomy, and five clinical assistants in the faculty. The fees are; matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $115, graduation, $30.

The New York Free Medical College for Women was organized in 1871. Instruction is given by fourteen professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. Advanced students are given cases of obstetrics. Clinical instruction is given at the College Dispensary, and the following hospitals are open to students: Bellevue Hospital, Blackwell's Island Hospitals, Nursery Hospital, New York Eye Infirmary, Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled, Demilt Dispensary. The only fees are: matriculation, $5; graduation, $15.

The New York Homœopathic Medical College was organized in 1859. There are fifteen professors, four lecturers, and a demonstrator of anatomy in the faculty. The College is in the same building with the Ophthalmic Hospital. A course of three years' attendance on lectures with special studies each year, is recommended to students. Instruction is given by lectures, examinations, and clinics. The regular session begins on the second Tuesday of October and ends the last of February. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets for one course, $100, or three years, $160; anatomy, $10; graduation, $30.

The New York Medical College and Hospital for Women, a Homœopathic Institution, was organized in 1863. Instruction is given by eleven professors, two lecturers, and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular session commences the middle of October and continues twenty-two weeks, and is followed by a "supplementary" course of six weeks' duration. The course of study is designed to occupy three years, with separate studies for each year. Clinical instruction is given in the College Hospital, the Ophthalmic Hospital, and the New York Hospital Dispensary. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $70; demonstrator's fee, $5; graduation, $10. For the three years' course, $150.

The Eclectic Medical College of the City of New York was chartered in 1865. There are nine professors. The regular session is of eighteen weeks' duration. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $100, graduation, $30.

The New York Ophthalmic School and Hospital.—This is a free Homœopathic Institution, in which lectures are delivered twice a week, upon Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The New York Hospital is at present suspended. It was chartered by George III., in 1771. Land has been purchased, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, for a hospital.

Bellevue Hospital (Department of Public Charities and Correction). This Hospital was first opened in 1826; since that date it has been much enlarged, and is now capable of accommodating twelve hundred patients. The main building extends north and south about two hundred feet, the north wing being about three hundred and fifty, and the south wing about one hundred and twenty-five feet in length. The buildings are four stories, with a veranda from each floor for the use of the patients. The older portion of the building is not very well ventilated, but the whole building is well heated by steam. The south wing of the building is occupied by the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, Histological and Pathological Laboratory, Museum, Morgue, Autopsy Room, and Out-door Dispensary. An ambulance corps has been attached to this Hospital for several years, and in answer to a call by telegraph, an ambulance in charge of a surgeon is dispatched, ready furnished with stretcher, blankets, and such medical supplies as may be immediately necessary.

Poor patients are not charged, and the maximum charge for such as are able to pay, is $3.50 per week. Five or six hundred births take place in the lying-in wards annually. In 1872, 7397 patients were treated in the Hospital. The Reception Hospitals are "outposts of Bellevue Hospital." There are two of these hospitals in different parts of the city. "All accidents and cases of emergency occurring in the first six wards of the city, are taken to the Park Hospital, which is provided with thirty-five beds."

In 1872, 69 cases of sunstroke, 1988 surgical, 499 medical, 21 obstetrical cases were treated at the Park Hospital. "At the Ninety-ninth street Hospital patients are received from the twelfth and twenty-second wards;" 2936 dispensary and 372 hospital cases were treated here in 1872. "As the patients improve they are removed by ambulance to Bellevue Hospital."

The Charity Hospital (Department of Public Charities and Correction), is on Blackwell's Island in the East River. This Hospital is capable of accommodating 1000 patients. There are two pay wards, the patients in which are charged $12 per month. The Hospital is built of stone, is about one hundred yards long, and is five stories high with mansard roof. During the year 1872, 8463 patients received the benefits of this institution.

The Small-pox Hospital is upon the same Island, and under the same control as the last mentioned institution. "It consists of a two-story stone building, corresponding in appearance to Charity Hospital, and four pavilions, capable of accommodating in all about 500 patients." About one-third of the patients pay from $5 to $10 per week; 2655 patients were treated in this Hospital in 1872.

The Fever Hospital, the Hospital for Incurables, and the Hospital for Epileptics and Paralytics, and the Workhouse Hospital, are all upon Blackwell's Island, and are connected with the Department of Public Charities and Correction.

The Fever Hospital "consists of two pavilions each one hundred feet in length, one of which is assigned to either sex;" 2655 patients were treated in this Hospital during the year 1872.

The Hospital for Incurables consists of two pavilions one hundred feet long and twenty-five feet wide; 168 patients received the benefits of this Institution during the year 1872.

The Hospital for Epileptics and Paralytics also "consists of two pavilions, each one story high, thirty-six feet wide, and one hundred and sixty feet long;" 266 unfortunates were treated here in 1872.

The Workhouse Hospital consists of two wards for the treatment of cases of delirium tremens. About 500 patients are treated annually.

New York City Lunatic Asyum (Department of Public Charities and Correction), Blackwell's Island, was opened June 10th, 1839. The number of patients treated during 1873 was 62 males and 1450 females.

The Hospitals on Randall's Island and Hart's Island in the East River, all belong to the Department of Public Charities and Correction.

Infants Hospital, Randall's Island. This Institution is intended for orphans and infants abandoned by their parents. Infants are also taken to board at $3 per week. Infants are placed with families in the neighboring country, and are visited by the physician once a week, or more frequently if they are sick. "There were cared for during 1872, 1091 infants, 218 of whom died, and 670 were discharged and adopted."

The Nursery Hospital, Randall's Island, consists of two three-story buildings with verandas, the girls and small children in one building, the boys in the other. It contains twenty-four wards, and 268 beds. Over 700 children were treated during the year 1872.

The Idiot and Epileptic Asylum, Randall's Island, is intended for idiotic and epileptic children; 199 of these unfortunates received the benefits of this Asylum in 1872.

The Convalescent Hospital, Hart's Island, was opened in August, 1872, and the number of patients treated during the remainder of that year was 442.

The New York State Emigrant Hospital, Ward's Island, was founded in 1847. The State owns 120 acres of land on this Island, upon which it has about thirty buildings. The largest of which is known as the "Verplanck State Emigrant Hospital," and "consists of a corridor 450 feet long and two stories high, and has five wings 130 feet long, and 25 feet wide, each two stories high, except the middle wing which is three stories." "Immediately west of this building are five pavilions detached, 25 by 125 feet, also two and three stories in height. At the north side of the island are four fever pavilions of one floor each. There are also three buildings for destitute males and females, accommodating about 500 of each sex. These buildings are well filled during the winter. A new Insane Asylum has recently been erected at the south side of the island, comprising six one-floor pavilions and physician's residence." "Emigrants who have resided in the country less than five years, are entitled to its privileges. The expenses of maintaining this and the other institutions on the island, are entirely met by the per capita emigrant tax of $1.50 paid by the consignees of ships. Accommodating capacity, 1000 beds." During the year 1872, 8676 patients were treated here.

St. Luke's Hospital, New York City, was opened May, 1858. The general plan of the building is that of a parallelogram, with a wing at each end, and central administrative portion. It is 280 feet in length, built of brick, and three floors in height. Each of the six main wards is 110 feet long by 26 wide, and 14 high, and contains from twenty to twenty-five beds. "Although under the special patronage of the Protestant Episcopal Church, no distinction is made in the admission of patients." "This institution is intended for the treatment of acute diseases and injuries only, chronic and incurable diseases not being received or retained, unless under peculiar circumstances." The building is supplied with the most approved contrivances for warming and ventilating all the various apartments. There are 59 "charity-beds," but persons who are able to pay are charged at the rate of $7 per week for adults, and $4 for children. During the year 1872, 1069 patients were treated in this Hospital.

St. Vincent's Hospital, New York City, is under the direction of the Sisters of Charity, and was incorporated in 1849. There are 150 beds in this Hospital. Poor patients are received without charge; those who are able to pay are charged, males, $6, females, $5 per week. The buildings being old, and not well adapted for a hospital, land has been purchased for the purpose of erecting a new building. One thousand and twenty-eight patients were treated here in 1872.

St. Francis' Hospital, New York City, was opened in 1864, and is under the care of the "Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis." This is a charitable institution, and contains 250 beds. The building is large, and is fitted with every convenience and comfort possible. Nine hundred and twenty-eight patients were treated during the year 1872.

The German Hospital, New York City, was opened in 1869. In addition to the wards, there are six private rooms. There are 84 beds, 21 of them being free. The charge for pay patients is $7 per week.

Mt. Sinai Hospital was opened in 1855, and was then known as the "Jews' Hospital in the City of New York." The new building was opened in 1872, and is a very large edifice in the Elizabethan style of architecture, and consists of a centre building, four stories high, and wings, three stories high. All the modern improvements have been introduced. Between six and seven hundred patients of all creeds are admitted annually.

The Roosevelt Hospital, New York City.—The funds for the erection and endowment of this Hospital were bequeathed for the purpose by the late James H. Roosevelt, Esq. The plan of the Hospital comprises four pavilions, three of which are completed, furnishing accommodations for 180 patients.

The Presbyterian Hospital, New York City, consists of three pavilions and a large administration building, united by corridors, and forming a square, in the centre of which is the building containing the laundry, boiler rooms, etc. This Hospital is not completely finished, and at present accommodates about one hundred patients. Patients in the public wards are charged $7 per week; board in private rooms ranges from $35 to $50 per week. This Hospital is furnished with every modern convenience, and its system of ventilation is said to be perfect.

The New York State Woman's Hospital, New York City, was opened in 1867, has a capacity of 65 beds, and was "established for the treatment of diseases peculiar to women." Patients having private rooms are charged from $10 to $15, and those in the general wards from $6 to $8 per week. There are two free wards. During the year 1872, 250 patients were treated in the Hospital, and 924 in the out-door department.

The Hospital of the New York Society for the Relief of the Ruptured and Crippled, is free to the poor of New York City and vicinity, and to all crippled soldiers. Those who are able to pay are charged a moderate sum. There are 200 beds in this Hospital, and many out-door patients are treated.

The Nursery and Child's Hospital, New York City, has, for its objects, "The maintenance and care of children of wet-nurses; the daily charge of infants whose parents are away from home; the care of lying-in women and their infants, and the care of destitute and abandoned children." The charges are: for infants, $10 per month; children who can walk, $7 per month; sick children, $9 per month. Women who come here to be confined pay $15 per week. More than 200 children are born here annually, and the number in the institution during the year 1872 was 694. The "Country Branch" of this Hospital is on Staten Island, and accommodates 40 mothers and infants. The lying-in cottage contains 16 beds.

The Asylum for Lying-in Women, New York City.—This institution is nearly half a century old. Its principal object is to furnish comfortable accommodations and skilful attendance to exemplary women during confinement. Seventy-five children were born in the Asylum last year.

St. Mary's Free Hospital, New York City, is under the charge of the Sisters of St. Mary, P. E. This Hospital contains 30 beds, and is intended for children between two and fourteen years of age.

The New York State Hospital for Diseases of the Nervous System, was opened in New York City, in 1870. The object of this institution is to furnish gratuitous relief to such indigent persons who suffer from nervous disease. Twenty-five pay patients can be accommodated. No insane person is admitted.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, is under the care of the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis of Assisium. Persons of all creeds and color are admitted. The charge is $6 per week.

The Mt. Morris Hospital Association propose to establish a Hospital in Harlem for the benefit of the sick poor of that place.

The United States Naval Hospital, Brooklyn, is a large white sandstone edifice, surrounded by thirty-five acres of ground. The building is very well arranged, and is capable of accommodating about 250 patients.

Brooklyn City Hospital was opened for patients in 1852. It has a capacity of 350 beds, and contains a large pathological museum and a lecture room. Twenty dollars per week is charged for private rooms, and from $5 to $10 per week in the wards. Cases of mania-a-potu are charged $25. More than 700 patients are treated here annually.

The Kings County Hospital, Flatbush, N. Y., is under the control of the Commissioners of Charities. It is a large building, well heated and ventilated, and contains 400 beds. Between three and four thousand patients are treated here every year.

Kings County Lunatic Asylum, Flatbush, N. Y.—Present Asylum was opened in 1855; enlarged, 1861; again enlarged in 1869. The Asylum is under the control of the Commissioners of Charities. It has accommodations for 800 patients. About fifteen per cent. of the cost of supporting the institution is defrayed by pay patients. A certificate from the County Clerk, certifying that a warrant for the arrest and confinement of the lunatic therein named, signed by two justices of the peace, and filed in his office, is prerequisite to admission; said certificate also requires to be endorsed by one of the Commissioners of Charities. The price of board is $5 per week. Present number of inmates, 850.

Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, Superintendent and Physician, has kindly furnished us with the above information.

St. Peter's Hospital, Brooklyn, is under the care of the Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis, and is a free institution. The building is 255 feet long, 30 feet deep, and is capable of accommodating 125 patients. Over 1000 persons are treated here every year.

The Brooklyn Eye and Ear Hospital was opened in 1868. About 2000 patients are treated in the Hospital and Dispensary annually.

St. Mary's Hospital for Women, Brooklyn, is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. There are a number of private rooms for pay patients, but the wards are free. During the year 1872, 2623 patients were treated here.

A new Hospital is soon to be erected in Brooklyn, to be called the Brooklyn East District Hospital.

The S. R. Smith Infirmary, Edgewater, Staten Island, contains twelve beds, and is intended for the sick poor of the island.

St. John's Riverside Hospital, Yonkers.—The number of patients treated in this institution from its opening, in 1870, to January 1st, 1873, was 173. In June of 1873, a Dispensary was attached to the Hospital.

Sanford Hall, Flushing, Queens County, is a private asylum for insane and nervous persons. Thirty patients can be accommodated here. The charge is from $30 to $45 per week.

St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn, is under the care of a corps of Protestant Sisters, and is capable of accommodating about 45 patients.

Bloomingdale Asylum for the Insane, New York City.—This institution was erected by "the Society of the New York Hospital." It is very eligibly situated at about the centre of New York island, on very high land, and commands remarkably fine views. The main building was occupied in 1821, since which time others have been erected, forming a group of independent and moderate-sized structures, well adapted to their purposes, and for the classification of the inmates. There are accommodations for about 175 patients, with the necessary corps of officers and attendants. The charges for board and treatment vary according to the means and requirements of the patients, a considerable proportion of whom are maintained at rates much below the cost of support.

We are indebted to Dr. D. Tilden Brown, Superintendent, for the above information.

The State Lunatic Asylum, Utica, was opened in 1843. The building is a very fine structure, forming a hollow square, the front of which is 550 feet long. The official portion of the edifice is five stories high, and is surmounted by a dome, and the wings containing the wards are four stories high. The Asylum is furnished with all the modern conveniences, and is a first-class institution in every respect. The number of patients treated in this Asylum, from its opening to December 1st, 1872, was 10,621; of this number, 4035 recovered. During the year ending November 30th, 1872, 502 men and 462 women were treated, of whom 142 recovered, 73 were improved, 14 were found not to be insane, and 62 died. The building was opened in 1869, and is capable of accommodating about 700 patients.

The Buffalo State Asylum for the Insane.—The corner stone of this institution was laid in September, 1872. "The plans provide for a central administrative building, with wards for patients extending on either side, and for other necessary buildings, as kitchen, bakery, laundry, engine-house, etc., etc."

Brigham Hall, Canandaigua, is a private retreat for the insane. It is capable of accommodating 75 patients. From $8 to $15 is charged per week for board. The lowest charge for private patients is $16 per week. Organized 1859.

The Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane, Poughkeepsie, was opened October 20th, 1871. "The plan of the Hospital represents a central structure with two wings, which fall back to the front line. Each wing has two transverse portions running from west to east, and three which are parallel with the centre, and run from north to south. The centre building extends 500 feet from the rear line, and the extreme ends of the wings are 1400 feet apart." The building is on a farm of 200 acres.

The Willard Asylum for the Insane, Ovid, Seneca County, is a State institution for the care of the insane poor. Opened October 13th, 1869. Patients received from the county almshouses, and State lunatic asylum, not recovered, are sent to this asylum. Present number of patients, 950, capacity, 1200.

St. Peter's Hospital, Albany, is in charge of the Sisters of Mercy, and was opened in 1869. A Dispensary and a special department for the treatment of diseases of the Eye and Ear are connected with the Hospital. There are a number of free beds, but those who are able to pay are charged $6 per week, or more, if in private rooms.

Albany City Hospital.—This institution was incorporated in 1850, and on November 1st, 1851, was opened for the reception of patients, $50,000 having been contributed for that purpose. A large addition was made to the building in the year 1873, doubling its capacity for patients, and 150 can now be accommodated. All the modern improvements have been introduced, and the building rendered as perfect as possible. The nurses have been regularly trained and are fully competent. In addition to nine wards there are twenty-six private rooms. In connection with the Hospital there are two Dispensaries, one for general diseases, and one for diseases of the Eye and Ear, where the poor who apply are treated gratuitously.

The Troy Hospital (St. Mary's Hospital) is in charge of the Sisters of Charity, and is capable of accommodating 200 patients. A Dispensary is connected with this Hospital.

The Marshal Infirmary, Troy, consists of several departments. A General Hospital, erected in 1853, accommodates 80 patients; an Asylum for the Insane, erected in 1859, accommodates 125 persons; a Lying-in Department, a Department for Contagious Disease, and an Out-door Department. "The institution is capable of accommodating 250 patients, and is supplied with modern conveniences for their safety, comfort, and amusement." Poor patients are received without charge, but pay-patients are charged according to the accommodation and attendance required, the minimum price at present being $5 per week for the medical and surgical wards and the insane department, and $10 for the inebriate and venereal wards.

St. Joseph's Hospital, Syracuse, has been mentioned in connection with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of that City. It accommodates 72 patients, and is free to all who are not able to pay.

St. Elizabeth Hospital and Home, Utica, is under the care of the Sisters of St. Francis. The present building accommodates 30 patients, but a new Hospital is soon to be erected with "six pavilions, each one hundred and ten feet long, arranged like the rays of a star." When furnished, it will have a capacity of about 150 beds. A Dispensary is connected with this Hospital.

The Rochester City Hospital was opened in 1864. The building is a very fine one, well adapted for hospital purposes, and accommodates 200 patients.

St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, was opened in 1857, and is an imposing edifice of cut stone, with accommodations for 1000 patients.

Monroe County Insane Asylum, Rochester, has accommodation for 175 patients, and is a fine structure, well fitted with every comfort and convenience.

The Buffalo Hospital of the Sisters of Charity was organized in 1848. The Hospital is a brick structure, three stories high, 200 feet long, 40 feet wide, and having lateral wings. There are nine large wards and several rooms for private patients.

The Buffalo General Hospital was organized in 1855. But one wing of the proposed building has been erected. It contains four wards and several private rooms for pay-patients, and is capable of accommodating 125 patients.

The St. Mary's Lying-in Hospital, Buffalo, was opened in 1854. It is under the care of the Sisters of Charity, and occupies a portion of the building of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum. The very poor are not charged, but a small sum is charged for those who are able to pay.

We have no information in regard to the following institutions at Buffalo: The City Dispensary, the Homœopathic Free Dispensary, the St. Francis Hospital, or the Providence Lunatic Asylum.

A Hospital was organized at Cohoes in 1872, but we are unable to obtain any details in regard to it.

St. Barnabas Hospital, Poughkeepsie, was opened in June, 1871. There are ten beds in this Hospital. The poor are received gratuitously, and the highest charge is $6 per week.

A Home for Incurables, West Farms, was opened June 11th, 1866, and accommodates about forty-five patients.

The House of Rest for Consumptives, Tremont, Westchester county, was opened November 28th, 1869, under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church. "The whole number admitted from the opening of the House to January 1st, 1874, is 153." All the beds are free. "Plans have been prepared for an addition to the House, doubling its present number of beds; it will be completed during the summer of 1874."

Thanksgiving Hospital, Cooperstown, was incorporated in 1868. The building is capable of accommodating sixteen patients.

The following Dispensaries are in New York:

New York Dispensary, founded in 1791. Nearly 40,000 patients are treated annually.

Northern Dispensary, founded in 1827, and now treating about 18,000 patients annually.

The Eastern Dispensary, was organized in 1834. The annual number of patients is about 26,000.

About 25,000 patients are treated each year at the Demilt Dispensary, and 12,000 at the Northwestern Dispensary. The German Dispensary also treats about 12,000 annually.

The Northeastern Dispensary treats about 16,000 each year, the Bureau of Medical and Surgical Relief, about 20,000; the Harlem Dispensary, 4000.

The following Dispensaries treat several thousand annually.

The Manhattan, the Yorkville, the Central, the Dispensary for Diseases of the Skin, the Dispensary and Infirmary of the Church of the Holy Trinity, the Union Dispensary, the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, the New York Ophthalmic and Aural Institute, the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, the New York Ear Dispensary, the New York Infirmary for Women and Children, the Western Dispensary for Women and Children, the New York Free Dispensary for Sick Children, the New York Orthopœdic Dispensary, the New York Tumor Dispensary, the Dispensary of the Church of the Holy Communion, the Brick Church Chapel Dispensary, the German-American Dispensary of the City of New York, the West-Side German Dispensary, and the King's Bridge Dispensary.

The New York Diet Kitchen, is designed to furnish nourishing food to the patients of the different Dispensaries.

The following Dispensaries are in Brooklyn:

Brooklyn Central Dispensary, the Brooklyn City Dispensary and Eye and Ear Infirmary, the Dispensary of the Church Charity Foundation, the South Brooklyn Dispensary, the Brooklyn Orthopœdic Infirmary, and the Williamsburgh Dispensary.

The following institutions are known to us by name only: The Hospital of the Medical College and Hospital for Women, the Eclectic Therapeutic Institution at Attica, the Asylum for Insane Convicts at Auburn, and the following Hospitals and Dispensaries in Brooklyn: Eastern District Hospital and Dispensary, the Eclectic Dispensary, the Gates Avenue Homœopathic Dispensary, the Homœopathic Dispensary, Atlantic Avenue, the Homœopathic Hospital, the Homœopathic Lying-in Asylum, the Lying-in-Asylum, the Roman Catholic Charitable Hospital, the St. Mary's Female Hospital, the St. Peter's Hospital, the Bethesda House for Consumptives.

We are indebted to the Medical Register of New York, by Dr. Alfred Purdy, for information in regard to several Medical Institutions.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

THE medical societies in the State of New York were formed under the provisions of the Act of April 10th, 1813, which declared, that "It may be lawful for the physicians and surgeons now authorized by law to practise in the counties of this State, where medical societies do not now exist, to meet on the first Tuesday of July, 1813, at the place where the last term of the Court of Common Pleas previous to said date was held in the respective counties. And the physicians and surgeons so convened in any number not less than five, shall choose a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, who shall hold office for one year, or until others are chosen, and organize a medical society for the county in which they reside, and the society so organized shall be a body politic and corporate in the law." —Edmonds Stat. at Large, 1863, vol. 3, p. 710, sec. 1 ; (Act, April 10, 1813).

The "Medical Society of the State of New York" is a body politic and corporate. Each county medical society is entitled to send to the State society as many members as there are members of assembly from said county.—Ibid., sec. 2, and also p. 717 ; (Act, June 4, 1845).

All societies may determine their time and place of meeting, and may alter by a two-thirds vote, notice having been given at a previous regular meeting, the time of the anniversary meeting. And it is the duty of the secretary of each county society to deposit in the office of the clerk of each county respectively, and of the secretary of the State society to deposit it in the office of the secretary of State, a copy of the proceedings of the first meeting of the societies respectively. The members of the State are divided into four classes, corresponding to the four great districts into which the State is divided, one class to go out of office each year. These vacancies shall be filled by the county societies.— Ibid., p. 711, sec. 4, and p. 716 ; (Act, April 23, 1823).

These societies are authorized to examine all students who may present themselves, and give diplomas under the hand of their president and seal of the society, and this diploma is sufficient authority to entitle the recipient to practise physic or surgery or both, in any part of this State.—Ibid., p. 712, sec. 9.

Any student, who has been injured by the decision of a county society, may appeal to the State society, and receive a diploma from it, if he pass his examination.—Ibid., p. 712, sec. 10.

A county society can select annually from three to five censors, and the State society from six to twelve, to examine students and report the result to the society.—Ibid., p. 713, sec. 11, and p. 718 ; (Act, April 20, 1818, sec. 3).

A county society is authorized to hold real and personal estate to the value of $1000, and the State society to the value of $5000.—Ibid., p. 713, sec. 13.

Any society may tax each member $3 per annum, and collect $1 per annum from each physician and surgeon who resides in the county where it is established, to form a fund for the purchase of medical books, etc.—Ibid., p. 714, sec. 17, and p. 716 ; (Act, April 13, 1819).

For a diploma from a county society, $5 must be paid, and from the State society $10.— Ibid., p. 714, sec. 18.

The State society may elect annually such number of permanent members, but not more than two annually, from each senatorial district, as the By-laws of the society may determine.—Ibid., p. 716 ; (Act, February 6, 1845).

If there is not a sufficient number of physicians and surgeons in any county to form a society, they may unite with those of an adjoining county.

Homœopathic physicians are authorized to meet and organize homœopathic medical societies according to the provisions of the Act which regulates the formation of other societies, and these societies, when formed, are entitled to the same privileges and rights as other societies. —Ibid., p. 718 ; (Act, April 13, 1857).

The president of any county medical society is empowered to notify in writing every physician or surgeon within the county, who is not a member of the society, to apply for and receive, within sixty days after personal service of the notice, a certificate of membership in the society. And any physician who neglects to do so within the specified time, forfeits his licence, and subjects himself to all the penalties imposed upon unlicensed physicians, until upon special application he is admitted to the society.—Ibid., p. 398 (title 7), secs. 1, 2.

If specific charges of gross ignorance or professional misconduct, or of immoral conduct or habits, are brought against any member of a county society and preferred to the society, a special meeting shall be called to consider them. Ten days' notice of this meeting must be given in a newspaper published in the county. If two-thirds of the members of the society are of opinion that the charges are well founded, the president shall deliver a certified copy of the charges and the vote of the society to the district attorney of the county, who shall notify the accused that he is suspended from the practice of medicine and surgery until the determination of the charges, and also give him fourteen days' notice of the time and place where the judges of the Common Pleas will hear and determine his case. If a majority of the judges are satisfied of the truth of the charges, they shall make an order, valid in law, expelling the member from the society and declaring him incapable forever of practising medicine or surgery within this State ; or, expelling him from practice for a limited time. If the charges are not established, the accused shall be restored to his place as a physician.— Ibid., p. 399, secs. 3-7.

Any county medical society can establish all rules and regulations, subject to the sanction or the State society, for the government of its members.

Any number of citizens, inhabitants of this State, not less than ten, who desire to found a college of medicine or surgery within this State, may make, sign and acknowledge before some one authorized to take acknowledgements of deeds a certificate in writing, which must set forth the corporate name of the proposed institution, the names of its proposed first trustees, the plan on which and the funds with which it is to be endowed, the name of the town or city where it is to be located, and file this certificate with the Secretary of State, and a duplicate with the presiding officer of the regents of the University of New York.

If the regents are satisfied that $50,000 has been subscribed in good faith for the endowment by responsible persons, and two-thirds of this amount has been actually paid in or secured, they shall grant a charter for five years, with the condition that if the whole $50,000 shall be paid in in that time, the charter may become perpetual. The college so incorporated may hold real and personal estate to the amount of $200,000; but the fund arising from that source can be applied to the purposes of the college only. The college is subject to the provisions of the Revised Statutes, which regulate the practice of physic and surgery, so far as they are applicable, and also to the visitation of the regents of the University, and is required to make an annual report under oath of the condition of the college.

The trustees are authorized to make by-laws for the government and regulation of the college and the appointment of professors and teachers. They also have the power to confer the degree of doctor of medicine upon the recommendation of the professors and three curators of the medical profession, appointed by the trustees. The trustees shall not confer a diploma upon any one who is not of good moral character, twenty-one years of age, and has not received a good English education, and pursued the study of medicine at least three years after the age of sixteen, and received instruction from a physician or surgeon duly qualified to practise, and has not attended two courses of medical lectures in some incorporated medical college.

The trustees may admit indigent students, not more than ten in number at a time.—Ibid., vol. 3, p. 429, secs. 6–11; (Act, April 12, 1853).

By Acts of May 26, 1836, and May 25, 1841, The Geneva Medical College is invested with the right, among others, of sending delegates to the State medical society.—Ibid., vol. 3, pp. 382, 384.

By Act of February 11, 1837, The Medical Faculty of the University of New York City is established.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 382.

By Act of February 16, 1839, The Albany Medical College is incorporated.—Ibid., vol. 3, p. 383.

All of these colleges have the right to send delegates to the State medical society.

No student shall be admitted to an examination by any medical society until he has completed the full term of four years' study with a physician or surgeon duly authorized by law to practise. From this term one year can be deducted in either of the following cases, viz.: When any student, after the age of sixteen, has pursued the usual studies in any college in this State; or, when he has, after the same age, attended a complete course of all the lectures delivered in any regularly incorporated medical college in this State.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 400, secs. 8, 9.

The term of study begins from the date of filing the student's certificate by his preceptor, with the president of the county medical society to which his preceptor belongs. And if the term of study is to be less than four years, the president of the said society, upon proper proof being presented to him, shall make an order allowing the deduction.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 400, secs. 10, 11.

The Regents of the University shall not grant a diploma conferring the degree of doctor of medicine upon any one who has not, for at least three years after the age of sixteen, pursued the study of medical science with some physician or surgeon duly authorized to practise, and also attended two complete courses of all the lectures delivered in an incorporated medical college, the last of which courses must be attended by the student in the college by which he is recommended for his degree.

The Regents of the University in the State of New York are authorized to appoint one or more boards of examiners in medicine, which shall consist of not less than seven regularly licensed physicians and surgeons in this State.

The boards shall examine all candidates referred to them by the chancellor of the University, in anatomy, physiology, materia medica, pathology, histology, clinical medicine, chemistry, surgery, midwifery and therapeutics, according to each system of practice represented by the several medical societies in the State, and shall report in writing all the questions and answers of the examination, together with the separate written opinion of each examiner of the merits of each candidate. The report, with the opinions and the order of the chancellor addressed to the board, and the action of the regents on the same, shall form part of the public records of the University.

All persons who are over twenty-one years of age and of good moral character, and can produce to the chancellor satisfactory proof that they have competent knowledge of all the branches of learning taught in the common schools of this State, and of the Latin language, and have diligently studied medicine for not less than three years, under the direction of one physician or more duly qualified and licensed to practise, can apply to the chancellor for an examination by a board of examiners, and receive from him, upon payment of $25 to the treasurer of the University, an order for such examination.

The Regents of the University shall grant to any candidate, who has been recommended by five members of a board of examiners, a diploma conferring the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the University of New York, and this diploma is a license to practise medicine and surgery. Ten dollars must be paid for this diploma.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 400, sec. 12, and Laws of 1872, p. 1793, sec. 1–6; (Act, May 16, 1872.)

No student who has attended two or more courses of medical lectures can be admitted to an examination by any county medical society, except of the county where he has pursued his studies for four months immediately preceding his attendance upon the last course of lectures, or by the censors of the State society. And a student who has been rejected by any county society cannot apply to another, but must appeal to the State society. No one who has been rejected by the State medical society can apply for examination to a county society.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 400, secs. 513, 514, 515.

No person is allowed to practise medicine or surgery unless he has received a license or diploma from an incorporated medical society, or the degree of Doctor of Medicine from the Regents of the University; or has been duly authorized to practise medicine, etc., by the laws of some other State, and has a diploma from an incorporated medical college or medical society in such State.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 401, sec. 16.

No person who comes from another country shall practise medicine or surgery in this State until he has been examined by the censors of the State medical society. And no person who comes from another State shall practise in this State until he has filed a copy of his diploma in the office of the clerk of the county where he resides, and exhibited to the medical society of the county satisfactory testimonials of his qualifications, or has been examined and approved by the censors of the said society.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 401, sec. 17.

No diploma granted by any authority outside of this State to any person who has pursued his studies in any medical school within this State, which is not duly incorporated and organized under the medical laws, confers on such person a right to practise medicine or surgery within this State. And the degree of Doctor of Medicine conferred by any college, except the Medical Faculty of the University of New York, the Geneva Medical College, and the Albany Medical College, is not a license to practice medicine or surgery. No college is permitted to institute a medical faculty to teach the science of medicine in any other place than where the said college is located by its charter.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 401, secs. 18, 21; and vol. 3, p. 381 (ch. 45, sec. 1), p. 382 (Act, Feb. 11, 1837), and p. 383 (Act, Feb. 16, 1839).

Every person licensed to practise physic or surgery must deposit a copy of his license with the clerk of the county where he resides, and until he does so, he is liable to all the penalties imposed upon unlicensed physicians.—Ibid., vol. 1, p. 401, sec. 19.

Every physician, who, while intoxicated, prescribes any poison, drug or medicine by which the death of an other is produced, even without design on the part of the physician to cause death, is guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and is punished by imprisonment for a term of from two to four years.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 682, sec. 17.

Any physician who endangers the life of another, by prescribing any poison, drug or medicine, is guilty of a misdemeanor.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 716, sec. 22.

Any person who shall administer to, or prescribe for, any woman with child, or advise or procure her to take, any medicine, drug or substance, or shall use any instrument or means, with intent to procure thereby the miscarriage of such woman—unless this treatment is necessary to preserve the woman's life—shall be guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, in case the death of the woman or child is produced by any of these means.

Whoever shall unlawfully supply or procure any medicine, drug, substance or thing, knowing that the same is to be unlawfully used to procure the miscarriage of any woman, whether she is pregnant or not, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by fine or imprisonment, or by both.—Ibid., vol. 7, p. 464; (Act, May 6, 1869, secs. 1, 2).

No person shall be liable to any criminal prosecution or indictment, for practising medicine or surgery without a license, except in cases of mal-practice, or for gross ignorance or immoral conduct in such practice. Any unlicensed physician is as much liable for damages in cases of mal-practice as if he were licensed. And every unlicensed physician, who has been convicted of gross ignorance, mal-practice, or immoral conduct in his profession, is guilty of a misdemeanor.—Ibid., vol. 3, p. 385; (Act, May 6, 1864, secs. 3, 4).

No person shall be confined as an insane patient by the order or approval of any justice or overseer of the poor, without the evidence of a respectable physician as to his insanity.—Ibid., vol. 4, p. 23.

Professors and teachers in medical schools are authorized, in cities of more than 30,000 inhabitants, to receive the remains of deceased persons for medical study, provided the remains have not been interred or desired for interment by the friends of the deceased. But the remains of a traveller, or of any one detained for debt, or as a witness or on suspicion of crime, or of any person who expressed a desire to be buried after death, shall not be given up. It is the duty of said teachers to use the remains for medical study only and in this State and to bury them after they have answered their purpose. Any one who receives or delivers any remains contrary to these provisions is guilty of a misdemeanor.—Ibid., vol. 3, p. 717; (Act, April 1, 1854).

No physician or surgeon duly authorized to practise, is allowed to disclose any information he has acquired in attending his patient professionally and necessary to enable him to prescribe in the case.—Ibid., vol. 2, p. 422, sec. 73.

It is the duty of every physician practising in New York City, to report to the Mayor, Board of Health or Commissioners of Health, all patients laboring under yellow, bilious, malignant or other pestilential or infectious disease, between May 31 and Nov. 1, in every year, within twenty-four hours after they have ascertained or suspected the nature of the disease; and also to report, when required, the death of any patient, who may have died from fever. This report (of death) must be made within forty-eight hours after the death. —Ibid., vol. 1, p. 388; (c. 14, secs. 1, 2).

The Court of Oyer and Terminer has power to determine by a medical commission the question of the insanity of any person who has been indicted for an offence, the punishment of which is death. The Governor has the same power in case of a person under sentence of death.—Laws of 1871, p. 1446; (Act, April 21, 1871, secs. 1, 2).

No person is allowed by law to prepare any medical prescription, unless he has served an apprenticeship for two years and is a graduate of a college of medicine or pharmacy; and it is unlawful to employ any one to compound prescriptions who is not so qualified.—Edmonds' Stat. at Large, vol. 7, p. 454.

By the Act of April 7, 1868, there are established in the State of New York a State dental society and district dental societies; one for each of the dental districts into which the State is divided. These societies are corporations.

An incorporated dental college is authorized to send delegates to the State dental society.

Each district society is required to appoint annually three or five censors to examine all applicants for examination in its district, and report their opinion to the president of the society, who shall thereupon issue certificates of qualification, countersigned by the secretary and under the seal of the society, to all who have been favorably reported by the censors.

The State society is required to appoint a board of eight censors, one from each dental district. It is the duty of this board to meet once a year, and examine impartially all who are entitled to an examination, and report their opinion to the president of the society, who shall issue thereupon a diploma, countersigned by the secretary and under the seal of the society, conferring the degree of "Master of Dental Surgery" upon each candidate who is entitled to it in the opinion of the board. This degree cannot be conferred by any other society or college.

Any one who knowingly and falsely pretends to have a license, diploma, or degree from any society organized under this Act, or pretends, with intent to deceive, to be a graduate of any incorporated dental college, is guilty of a misdemeanor.—Ibid., vol. 7, p. 300, etc. (Act, April 7, 1868, secs. 1-14.)

SUPPLEMENT TO MEDICAL REGISTER.

College of Pharmacy of the City of New York, chartered in 1831. Has a faculty of six professors, which give regular lectures seven months in a year, three days in a week.

Metropolitan Throat Hospital, 17 Stuyvesant street. Incorporated January 3d, 1874. For treatment of throat and nose; can accommodate twelve patients; treated last year, four hundred and thirty-seven cases. Open daily, from 1.30 to 4 P. M.

Reception Hospital, opened 1876, No. 1 Central street, City Hall Park. For accommodation of all accidents and emergencies occurring in first six wards. Ambulances in constant readiness. Number of beds, thirty-five.

Reception Hospital No. 2, corner of Ninety-ninth street and Boulevard. Patients received from Twelfth to Twenty-second wards. Number of beds, twenty.

Quarantine Hospitals consist of West Bank Hospital, an artificial island of two and a-half acres, built on a shoal in the lower bay. Another island, called Hoffman Island Hospital, about one mile from the latter, is not yet completed, and will be similar. The Hospital ship Illinois, anchored out in the bay, and a boarding station hospital at Clifton. The Small Pox Hospital on Blackwell's Island, and the Fever Hospital on Ward's Island, are used by the Quarantine. The West Bank Hospital is used for patients sick with quarantine diseases. The Hoffman Island Hospital is intended for temporary detention, and the ship Illinois is used as a boarding station.

United States Marine Hospital, Brooklyn, was established in 1798; has furnished relief, and cared for, during the past year, 14,364 seamen.

State Board of Charities, at Albany, New York, organized in 1867, with a board of commissioners, whose duty it is to visit and inspect all State and public charities, and inquire into their management and usefulness.

New York Dispensary for Diseases of the Skin, 203 E. Twenty-seventh street. Incorporated 1869. Open daily, at 1.30 P. M.

New York Dispensary for Nervous Diseases, 155 E. Twenty-sixth street.

Bethesda Home for Consumptives, 1551 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn. Opened in 1872. Treats and cares for all sick and suffering destitute who are consumptive.

New York Infant Asylum, 24 Clinton place. Chartered, 1865, to care for foundlings, and give protection and a home to needy and homeless mothers.

A Training School for Nurses, attached to Bellevue Hospital. Has been in successful operation, and is educating a large number of ladies, both practically and theoretically. The course extends over two years.

American College of Dentistry, corner of Twenty-third street and Second avenue. Opened 1868. Both clinical and didactic lectures are given daily, by a corps of nine regular professors, and eight consulting and assistant lecturers.

American Veterinary College, 147 W. Fifty-fourth street. Incorporated 1875. Intended to give a thorough theoretical and practical education on all the department veterinary surgery. A large hospital for animals is established in connection with the college. Lectures by seven professors are given for four and a-half months during the year.

The Inebriate's Home for Kings County, Fort Hamilton, New York. Incorporated 1866. Patients of the better class, especially females, are taken—special accommodations provided for them. Can accommodate one hundred and fifty patients; treated two hundred and seventeen persons last year. Price of board from six to twenty-five dollars per week, in advance.

New York State Asylum for Idiots, Syracuse, New York, established July, 1851. This institution is both medical and educational. Children between the ages of seven and sixteen received. Clothing supplied from the county or friends. Number of pupils, two hundred. Taken first one month on probation.

New York State Inebriate Asylum, Binghamton, New York. Built in 1858. Capacity, one hundred and fifty; average, one hundred. Males only received. Both private and public patients admitted. Dr. Dodge, superintendent. Board from seven dollars and upwards.

Dental Infirmary, corner Twenty-third and Second avenue. During the winter, clinics are held here by dental lecturers, on operative and mechanical dentistry, and on oral surgery every week in the year. Six thousand five hundred and ten patients treated during the year.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

THE history of the Carolinas is so inseparably united that we cannot well give that of North Carolina without giving that of South Carolina also. In 1562, a colony of Huguenots from France landed on a small island upon the coast of the present State of South Carolina. "Raising a monument engraved with the lilies of France, they took possession of the country and named it Carolina in honor of Charles or Carolus IX., King of France." In a very short time this colony gave up in despair, and in attempting to return to their native country were captured by an English vessel. Between the years 1584 and 1590, Sir Walter Raleigh sent out four expeditions to colonize the country, but all these attempts failed.

In 1663 King Charles II. granted Carolina to Lords Clarendon, Albemarle and others, to own and govern for themselves. Prior to this time, however, emigrants from Virginia, New England and the Barbadoes Islands had settled on Albemarle Sound and Cape Fear river, and had become the first real settlers of this region. In 1670, a colony, sent out by the noblemen who owned Carolina, landed on the banks of the Ashley river. They soon removed to a point of land between the Ashley and Cooper rivers, and "among ancient groves that swept down to the river's bank, and were covered with the yellow jasmine," founded the city of Charleston. From this time many colonists from England, Scotland, Ireland and France sought a refuge and a home in this pleasant country. In 1702, Carolina was involved in a war with her Spanish neighbors in Florida, and in 1712, with the Tuscarora and Yamassee Indians. She defended her territory from the first, and drove the two latter from the country. In 1719, South Carolina was purchased by the king and a royal governor appointed, but North Carolina remained in the hands of the proprietaries until 1729, when it also became a royal province. Carolina suffered much from the Cherokee Indian War during the years 1759–61, and from that time until the Revolutionary War she was engaged in defending her colonial privileges against the encroachments of royal governors. Many important battles of the Revolution were fought within these States. The citizens of Mecklenburg county declared the State of North Carolina independent on the 21st of May, 1775, and signed a declaration to that effect, and by this act North Carolina was one of the foremost colonies in bringing about the Revolutionary War. North Carolina, being one of the original thirteen States, ratified the Constitution November 21st, 1789. The area of the State is 50,704 square miles, and the population, according to the census of 1870, 1,071,363. The number of physicians and surgeons, as given by the same census, is 1143. Phthisis is the cause of eight per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The surface of the State for about eighty miles from the coast is low and marshy; but the farther we advance into the country the more elevated the surface becomes, forming a plateau in the central portion of the State. This plateau is from 1000 to 2000 feet above the sea. The western portion of the State is traversed by the Blue Ridge Mountains. Some of these peaks attain the greatest altitude east of the Rocky Mountains. Clingman's Peak is 6941 feet high, Mitchell's Peak 6732, Roan Mountain 6270, and several others are very nearly as high. Between the mountains are many fertile valleys. The rivers of this State are broad but not deep, and are not navigable for large vessels. The principal river entirely within the State is the Cape Fear, but the Chowan, the Roanoke, the Tar, the Neuse and the Yadkin are large streams. The waters of the French Broad, the Little Tennessee, and other rivers arising in the western part of the State, find their way at last through the Mississippi river to the Gulf of Mexico. There are many extensive swamps near the coast, the chief of which is Dismal Swamp, covering over 100,000 acres and lying partly in this State and partly in Virginia. This swamp has been traversed by a canal. Many of the swamps have been drained, and when reclaimed form excellent rice and cotton lands. The coast is beset with islands, many of them long and narrow, enclosing bodies of shallow water called sounds. The principal of these sounds are Pamlico, Albemarle and Currituck. Beaufort, the most eligible harbor, is entered by an inlet twenty feet deep.

Iron ore, copper, plumbago, coal, slate and fine building stone are abundant. Gold is found and has been extensively mined. Nearly the whole of the eastern section of the State is covered with pine forests, which "furnish not only lumber for exportation, but also most of the resinous matter used in the United States."

MINERAL SPRINGS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The White Sulphur Springs are situated in Catawba county, on the Western Railroad of North Carolina. In addition to the sulphur waters, there is also an excellent Chalybeate Spring here. There are abundant hotel accommodations for guests.

The Shocco Springs are nine miles by stage from Warrington, in Warren county. This is said to be a mild saline-sulphur water, and is aperient and diuretic. There are accommodations at the Springs for about four hundred guests.

Warren White Sulphur Springs are ten miles by stage from Ridgeway, in Warren county. The water has not been analyzed, but is of service in hepatic derangements and dyspepsia. A strong Chalybeate Spring is also found here. There are accommodations for several hundred persons.

Buncombe Hot Springs are upon the banks of the French Broad river. According to Professor Smith the water contains the chlorides and the sulphates of calcium and magnesium. If taken internally the water acts as a purgative, but soon loses its effect in this direction. The water is chiefly used for bathing purposes.

Kitterell's Springs are in Granville county, on the railroad between Raleigh and Weldon. Iron, lime, alum, soda, magnesia and potassa have been found in the water of these Springs. Scrofulous affections are said to be benefited by the free use of these waters.

The Healing Spring, in Davidson county, the Sulphur Spring, in Buncombe county, and several others that might be used for medicinal purposes, are found in this State.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons of Wilmington was organized July 1st, 1871. Instruction is given by eight professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular course of lectures commences on the first Monday in November and continues until the middle of the following March. Clinical instruction is given at the Wilmington Dispensary, the County Almshouse, the City and the Marine Hospitals. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $120 (single tickets, $20 each); demonstrator's ticket, $10; graduation, $30. The summer session opens the first Monday in May and ends the middle of October. The fee for this course is $50, one-half of which will be credited to students who attend the next winter course. "A limited number of beneficiary students will be received. Preference given to sons of physicians and clergymen and to wounded and disabled soldiers. In addition, one will be admitted from each senatorial district of the State. Beneficiaries will be required to pay the fee for matriculation, dissection and graduation."

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Insane Asylum of North Carolina.—This institution was first inaugurated under the auspices of Miss D. L. Dix. She visited the State in 1848, and urged upon the General Assembly, then in session, ACTION. They made an appropriation of $100,000, and appointed a commission. A site of 125 acres—an elevated position within one mile of Raleigh—was purchased and work commenced. Appropriations were made from time to time as the work progressed, amounting in all to $250,000. Patients were first received February 22d, 1856. The building is of granite foundation and of brick superstructure. It consists of a centre building 80 by 120 feet, four stories high, with an observatory 90 feet in height from the ground; and two wings, north and south, each 323 feet long, three stories high and 40 feet in width. Entire length of building 726 feet. The wings are divided each into six wards, two on each floor, with rooms ten by ten feet, on each side of a corridor ten feet wide. There are in each ward twenty rooms for patients and attendants. The institution accommodates 220 patients. The building is warmed by hot air forced up flues in the wall, with register openings into the corridors upon every floor, and ventilated in the same way by a fan pumped by steam. During the year ending October 31st, 1873, thirty-three males and seventeen females were received, and twenty-eight males and thirteen females were discharged, leaving 124 males and 118 females in the asylum November 1st, 1873. We are indebted to the Superintendent, Eugene Grisson, M. D., for information in regard to this asylum.

We have no information in regard to the Wilmington City Hospital or the Marine Hospital at the same place.

The United States Marine Hospital at Wilmington was sold by the Government in 1870. The faculty of the Wilmington College of Physicians and Surgeons are taking steps to erect a Charity Hospital.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF OHIO.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF OHIO.

THE name of this State is said to be derived from the Indian word meaning "beautiful," previously applied to the river which traverses a great part of its southern border. For the history of Ohio before it became a State—June 30th, 1802—we refer the reader to that of Indiana (page 182). The State covers an area of 39,964 square miles. The population in 1870, according to the census of that year, was 2,665,260. The number of physicians and surgeons, as given by the same authority, is 4638. Phthisis is the cause of sixteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. "The surface nowhere presents any considerable elevation above the general level, but the State is a lofty table land, which in the centre is about 1000, and on the northern and southern border from 600 to 800 feet above the sea. A slightly elevated ridge of highlands divides the waters flowing into Lake Erie from those flowing south into the Ohio; from this there is rather a rapid descent to the level of the lake, and the courses of the rivers on the Erie slope are considerably broken by falls. The general slope towards the Ohio on the south is interrupted by a subordinate ridge which crosses the State in about the latitude of Zanesville and Columbus, between which and the river the surface is very diversified with hill and valley." The southern being the greater slope of the water-shed, the principal rivers are found to flow in a southerly direction and to empty into the Ohio river. Thus the water of the greater part of the State finds its way through the Ohio and Mississippi rivers into the Gulf of Mexico, while that of the northern slope reaches the North Atlantic by the great lakes and the St. Lawrence river. The Ohio river bounds the State upon the south for a distance of 420 miles. The Muskingum river is about 200 miles in length. The Hockhocking, the Scioto and the Miami are also fine streams. The Maumee is the principal stream flowing into Lake Erie. This State has no lakes within its borders, but Lake Erie gives it a coast line of nearly 200 miles. Ohio is well supplied with the most useful minerals. The coal area covers 12,000 square miles of the eastern and southeastern portion of the State. Several hundred thousand tons of iron are produced annually. Large quantities of salt are also manufactured every year from the water of numerous springs and wells. Valuable lumber and building stone is abundant. The soil is very fertile and is well cultivated.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF OHIO.

Adams County Springs.—These Springs are nineteen miles north, by stage, from Rome, on the Ohio river. The water is said to contain fifteen grains of solid matter to the pint. The mineral constituents are: chloride of calcium, carbonate of calcium, chloride of magnesium, chloride of sodium, sulphate of calcium and oxide of iron. The temperature is 56° Fahr. Dyspepsia, rheumatism and cutaneous diseases are benefited by the use of these waters.

White Sulphur Springs are in Delaware county. "A few years ago this was a fashionable resort, but the positive value of the water was not sufficient to maintain its temporary popularity. The property was sold to the State, and is now the seat of an industrial reform school for girls."

Yellow Springs are at a station of the same name, on the Little Miami Railroad seventy-four miles from Cincinnati. The amount of iron in this water gives it tonic properties; it is also diuretic and sometimes laxative. There are abundant hotel accommodations.

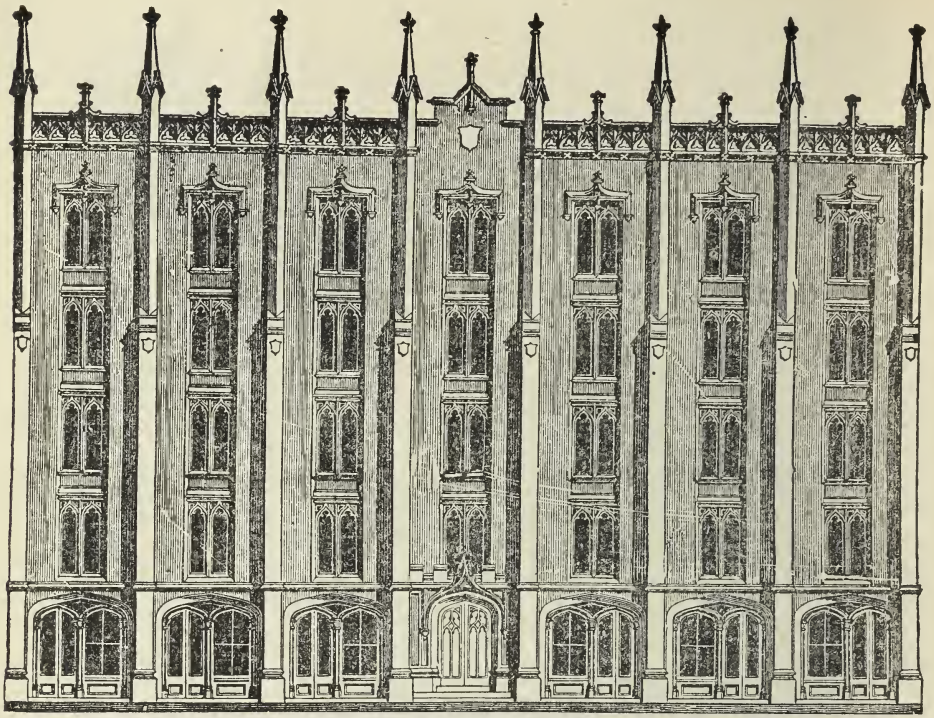
MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF OHIO.

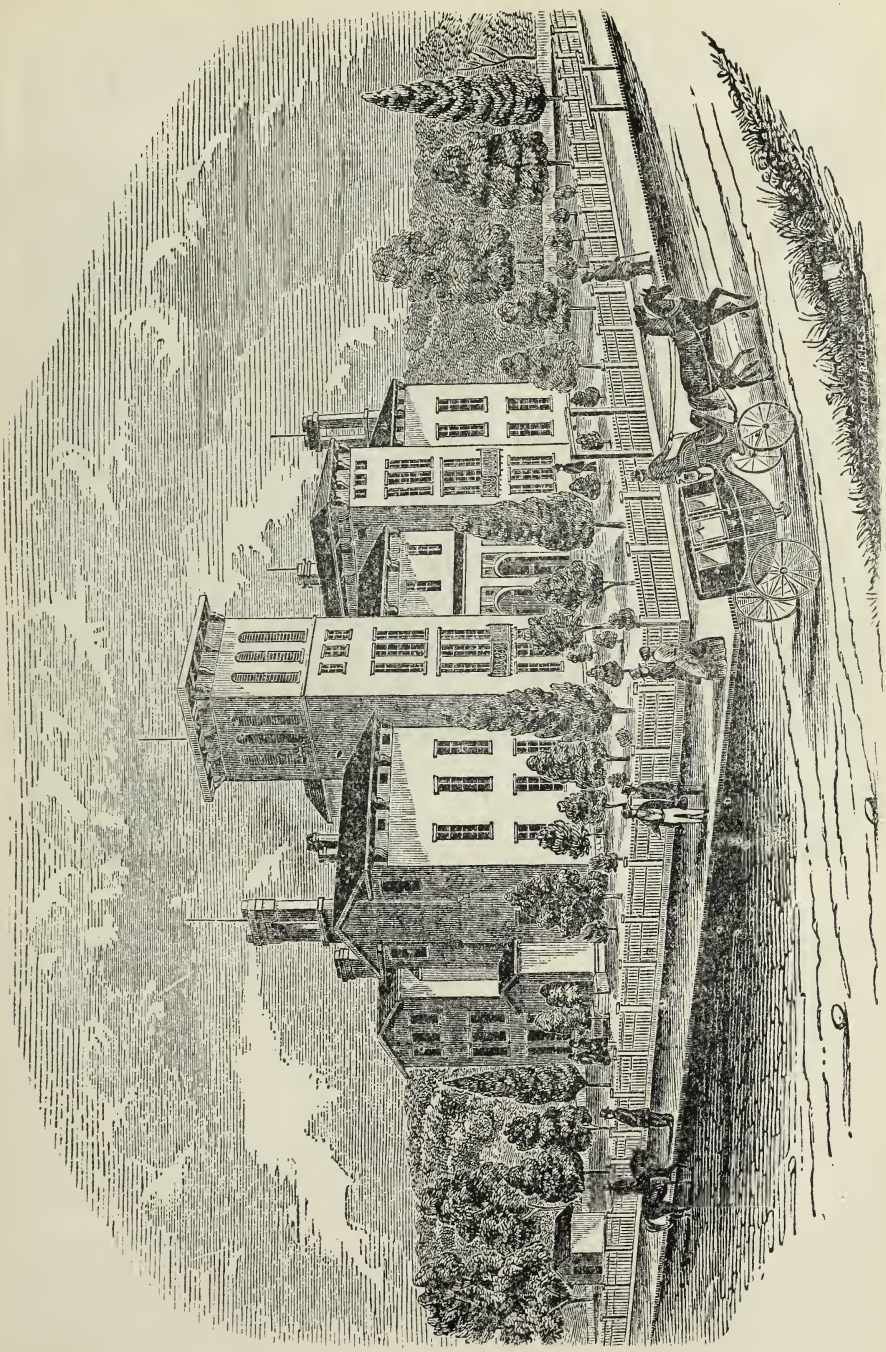


MEDICAL COLLEGE OF OHIO.

The Medical College of Ohio, at Cincinnati, was organized in 1819. Instruction is given by ten professors, an assistant professor, a demonstrator of anatomy, and a demonstrator of chemistry. The duration of the regular session extends from October 1st to the last week of the following February. The preliminary term begins the first week in September and continues until the commencement of the regular session. The operative spring course is open from the middle of March to the middle of May. The faculty recommend a three years' course, with the pursuit of special studies each year. During the preliminary term three clinical lectures are delivered at the College Dispensary and at the Good Samaritan Hospital every day. During the regular session lectures are delivered and clinics are held at the above-named institutions. Students may also visit the Cincinnati Hospital. Students have ample opportunity for study at the bedside, and great care is taken to make them familiar with all forms of disease. Chemistry is taught by practical work in the laboratory under the supervision of the demonstrator. At the examination for graduation the questions and answers are in writing. The presentation of a thesis is left optional with the student. The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $40; dissecting ticket, $5; practical chemistry, $5; hospital tickets, each, $5; graduation, $25. The spring course is made as practical as possible, and such studies are pursued as cannot be taken up during the winter session. Students matriculating for the ensuing regular session are entitled to the spring course free; otherwise the fee for the entire course is $10. The number of students for the session 1873–74 was 252; graduates, 86.

The Starling Medical College, at Columbus, was organized in 1847. The faculty consists of ten professors, two assistants, and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular session begins about the middle of October, and continues until the first of the following March. The course of instruction consists of lectures suitably illustrated, and clinical teaching in the hospital of the College, which contains 160 beds and connects with the lecture rooms, at the hospital of the Ohio Penitentiary, and at the City and County Infirmary. There are no professors' fees at this college, but, for liquidation of current expenses, the trustees charge a matriculation fee (annually) of $20; and the faculty an examination fee of $30. No charge is made for hospital or other clinics. The fee of the demonstrator of anatomy is $5. Clergymen and theological students are admitted to the lectures without fee. The presentation of a thesis is optional with the candidate for graduation. The college building is large and well fitted for a medical school, and contains a fine museum and chemical laboratory.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons is situated on the corner of Goodale and High streets, Columbus, Ohio.



COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

Candidates for graduation must be of a good moral character and at least twenty-one years of age. They must have attended two full courses of lectures in some regular and organized Medical School, one of which shall be in this College, and must exhibit their tickets, or other sufficient evidence thereto, to the Dean of the Faculty. They must have studied medicine for not less than three years, and have attended at least one course of Practical Anatomy in the dissecting room. The aggregate fees for lectures and instruction for regular term are $130; matriculation ticket, $5.00; graduation fee, $40.00; dissecting fee, $10.00.

CINCINNATI COLLEGE OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

The Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery was organized in 1840. Instruction is given by eight professors, two lecturers, and a demonstrator of anatomy. The preliminary course begins September 15th, and continues until the 1st of October, when the winter term commences, to continue five months. The spring course occupies the months of March, April, May and June. Both the winter and spring courses are followed by the usual examinations and conferring of degrees. During the preliminary course, instruction will be given in special departments in medicine, which cannot be treated of in the regular course. This term is free to all. During the winter term, lectures are delivered and clinical instruction is given at the College Dispensary, and students are expected to attend the clinics at the Cincinnati Hospital. Advanced students are given obstetric and other patients to attend at their own homes. This College has lately moved into a new building possessing every convenience for medical instruction. The fees for each course are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $25; demonstrator's fee, $5; hospital ticket, $5; graduation, $25.

The Cleveland Medical College, otherwise known as the Medical Department of the Western Reserve College, was organized in 1843. Instruction is given by nine professors, two lecturers, a demonstrator of surgery and a demonstrator of anatomy. The annual session begins on the first Wednesday in October, and continues twenty weeks. Lectures are delivered and clinical instruction given at the College, and at the Cleveland Eye, Ear, and Throat Institute. Students can pursue the study of chemistry in the laboratory under the immediate direction of the Professor of Chemistry. This school possesses a large library and a fine museum. The fees for the annual session are: matriculation, $5; demonstrator's ticket, $5; lecture tickets, $40; graduation fee, $30. The summer session commences on the second Monday in April of each year, and consists mainly of recitations. For this course $25 will be charged, which will be credited on the winter's fees.

The Miami Medical College, of Cincinnati, was organized in 1852. There are eleven professors and a demonstrator of anatomy in the faculty. During the preliminary course, which occupies the month of September, daily clinical instruction is given and didactic lectures are delivered. There are no fees for this course. The regular term commences on the first Wednesday in October, and continues twenty weeks; clinics are held at the College, and the Cincinnati Hospital is opened to students. Great care is taken to make the course of instruction as practical as possible. This school possesses a fine museum. The faculty recommend a three years' course of study, with the pursuit of special branches each year. The presentation of a thesis is optional. A spring course, regarded as supplementary to the winter course, commences about the middle of March, and continues three months. During this course, instruction is given by demonstrations and lectures in anatomy and obstetrics, and surgical operations on the cadaver, together with recitations, familiar lectures, etc., on important special and practical topics. This term is free, and attendance is optional. The fees are: matriculation (annually), $5; professors' tickets, $40; demonstrator's ticket, $5; hospital ticket, $5; graduation, $25. Third course students free. To those who have attended two full courses elsewhere, $20. Graduates of other schools pay $20, and matriculation, $5.

The Homœopathic Hospital College, at Cleveland.—This institution has a faculty of eleven professors, three lecturers, and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular session commences the last Wednesday in September, and ends about the middle of February. Clinical instruction is given at the hospital connected with the college. Women are admitted to all the lectures, and a new degree, that of "Dr. of Obstetricy and Gynæcology (O. G. D.)," has been created for them. Several prizes are offered to students. The fees are: matriculation, hospital, and anatomy, $5 each; lecture tickets, $60; graduation, $30.

The Medical Department of the University of Wooster, at Cleveland, was organized in 1870. There are sixteen professors in the faculty. The session occupies the usual five winter months. We have no information in regard to the plan of instruction. Eighty dollars covers all expenses for one course of lectures at this school.

The Eclectic Medical Institute, at Cincinnati.—The session of this institution commences early in October, and continues sixteen weeks. The fees are: lectures, etc., $70; graduation, $25.

The Pulte Medical College (Homœopathic), at Cincinnati.—The session commences the last of September, and continues twenty weeks. The fees are: one term, $75; graduation, $30.

The course of lectures at the Physio-Medical Institute, at Cincinnati, commences early in October, and continues eighteen weeks. The fees are: matriculation (annually), $5; professors' tickets, $75; graduation, $25.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Cincinnati Hospital occupies a square of ground 448 feet long and 340 feet wide. The structure consists of eight distinct buildings connected by corridors, forming a hollow square. The central portion and main entrance is termed the Administrative Department, and contains offices, dispensary, superintendent's and officers' apartments, kitchen, and dining-rooms. On the upper floor is the amphitheatre with seats for the accommodation of 600 students. There are six pavilions, three stories in height. Each pavilion contains three wards, one on each floor, of which those in the central pavilions contain 36 beds each, and the rest 24 each, allowing 1800 cubic feet of space in the wards to each bed. The central pavilions contain also six private rooms each for the use of pay-patients. At one end of the wards are situated the nurses' rooms, diet-kitchens, dining-rooms for convalescents, closets for bedding and clothing, dumb-waiters and elevators for patients. At the other end are located the bath-rooms, water-closets and reading-rooms. The central building, opposite the Administrative Department, is the Domestic Department, and contains the main kitchen and dining-room, etc. The establishment is heated throughout by steam and is well ventilated. The walls of the entire building are composed of brick with freestone finishing around the angles, etc. The upper stories are finished with Mansard roof of slate of variegated colors. The administrative department is surmounted by a dome and spire that reaches 110 feet from the pavement, and each of the outer ends of the pavilions is surmounted by turrets that serve as ornaments as well as promoters of ventilation. Nearly three thousand patients are treated here annually, and between one and two hundred children are born. The medical staff of this hospital is composed of men who are "in no way connected with any of the medical colleges." Clinics are held each day for eight months of the year. During the fall and winter two clinical lectures are delivered daily, and during the spring one every day. $5 is charged for the Hospital ticket.

The Roh's Hill Hospital, a branch of the Cincinnati Hospital, is for the treatment of infectious diseases, and accommodates 300 patients annually.

The Good Samaritan Hospital at Cincinnati is a large three-story structure, having a capacity of 225 beds. The staff is composed of members of the faculty of the Ohio Medical College. There has been added a large amphitheatre and operating room.

Dispensary of the Medical College of Ohio.—Over four thousand patients are treated at this dispensary every year.

Longview Insane Asylum, at Mill Creek, near Cincinnati, was opened in 1853 for the insane of Hamilton county. The Asylum building is a very fine, large one, well fitted with every convenience, and is situated in the midst of beautiful grounds. Although this institution is intended for the insane poor of the county, a number of pay-patients are received every year. The number of patients treated during the year ending November 1st, 1873, was 262 males, and 391 females. Of this number 29 males and 49 females recovered, 23 males and 8 females were discharged improved, and 24 males and 25 females died. 2989 patients have received the benefits of this institution since its opening in 1853, 1469 of whom recovered. A few of these patients are supported by the State.

The Central Lunatic Asylum, at Columbus, is a State institution. This Asylum was opened in 1838, and is capable of accommodating between three and four hundred patients.

The Northern Lunatic Asylum, at Newburgh, a State institution, was opened in 1855, and was much injured by fire in September, 1872. About thirty patients can be accommodated.

The Southern Lunatic Asylum, at Dayton. This institution was opened by the State in 1855. During the year ending November 15, 1873, 875 patients were treated here. Of this number 157 recovered, 24 improved, and 67 died. Since the opening, September 1, 1855, 3118 patients have received the benefits of this asylum, 1558 of whom were restored to reason and usefulness.

The Cincinnati Sanitarium for Mental and Nervous Diseases.—This is a private asylum, very pleasantly situated and well arranged.

The Cleveland Eye, Ear, and Throat Institute was opened in December 1872, for the gratuitous treatment of indigent patients.

The United States Marine Hospital, at Cleveland, was first occupied in 1852. This Hospital cost the Government $119,291. We have no details in regard to it.

St. Mary's Hospital is located on the corner of Betts and Linn streets, and is under the charge of the Sisters of Charity.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF OHIO.

Any person within this State, who has attended two full courses of instruction, and graduated from some school of medicine, either of the United States or a foreign country, or who can produce a certificate of qualification from some State or County Medical Society, and is of good moral character, is authorized to practise medicine, and charge and receive compensation for his services. And any one who has been in continuous practice for ten years, is considered to have complied with these conditions; or, if he has been in continuous practice for five years, he has two years in which to comply with these conditions. Any one who lives in, or comes into this State, and practises medicine in any of its departments, or performs any surgical operation upon any person in this State, in violation of the foregoing requirements, shall be punished, for the first offence, by fine of from $50 to $100; and for the second, in addition to the fine, by imprisonment in the jail of the county where the offence was committed, for thirty days, and he shall receive no compensation for his services. Dentists are exempt from these requirements.—Swan & Sayler's Rev. Stat., p. 523, sec. 122.

Any physician, or other person, who shall wilfully administer to any pregnant woman any medicine, drug, substance, or thing, or shall use any instrument or means whatever, with intent to procure the miscarriage of the woman,—unless this treatment is, or is advised by two physicians to be, necessary to preserve the woman's life,—shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or fine of not more than $500, or by both.—Swan & Critchfield's Rev. Stat., p. 440, sec. 1.

Any physician, or other person, who shall administer, or advise to be administered, to any woman with a vitalized embryo or fœtus, at any stage of utero-gestation, any medicine, drug, or substance, or shall use, or advised to be used, any instrument or means whatever, with intent to destroy such vitalized embryo or fœtus,—unless such treatment is, or is advised by two physicians to be, necessary to preserve the mother's life—shall be punished, in case of the death of the vitalized embryo or fœtus, or of the woman, in consequence thereof, by imprisonment for a term of from one to seven years.—Swan & Sayler's, Rev. Stat., p. 272, sec. 2.

Any physician, or other person, who shall prescribe, while intoxicated, any poison, drug, or medicine, to another person, which shall endanger such person's life, is liable to a fine of not more than $100.—Ibid., p. 440, sec. 3.

Any physician, or other person, who prescribes any drug or medicine to another person, and does not, if inquired of, make known the nature and composition of the medicine, but avows it to be a secret medicine or composition, and by this treatment endangers the life of his patient, is liable to a fine of not more than $100.—Ibid., p. 440, sec. 4.

The Court of Common Pleas has power to direct what fees shall be paid to a physician who makes a post-mortem examination, at the instance of the Coroner or other officer.—Ibid., p. 734, sec. 1.

Physicians are required to keep a record of all births, at which they have assisted professionally, stating the time of the birth, sex, and color of the child, and the names and residence of the parents. And also a record of the name, age, and residence of each deceased person attended by them at the time of the death. They must report all births and deaths to the Probate Court of the county every three months, and are liable to a fine of $10 for each neglect of this duty.—Ohio Laws, vol. 68, p. 49.

Any physician or surgeon who knowingly gives a false certificate of disability to any person in the militia service of this State, is liable to a fine of not exceeding $10 for each offence.—Swan & Sayler's Rev. Stat., p. 451, sec. 8.

It is not lawful for any person to practise dentistry, for compensation, in this State, unless he has received a diploma from the faculty of a Dental College, duly incorporated under the laws of this State, or any other State or foreign country, or has received a certificate of qualification from the State Dental Society, or any local society auxiliary thereto. But any dentist who has been in continuous practice for five years, shall be considered to have complied with these requisitions. Any person who shall practise dentistry without complying with these regulations, shall be liable to a fine of from $50 to $100; but physicians and surgeons are not hereby prohibited from extracting teeth.—Ohio Laws, vol. 70, p. 58, sec. 1, and Swan & Sayler's Rev. Stat. p. 524, sec. 2.

All apothecaries, druggists, or other persons, who sell or give away, except upon the prescription of a physician, any article or articles of medicine belonging to the class known as "poisons," are required, 1st, to register in a book, kept for that purpose, the name, age, sex, and color of the person who obtains the article; 2d, the quantity sold; 3d, the purpose for which it is required; 4th, the day and date of the sale; 5th, the name and place of abode of the person for whom it is intended; 6th, to carefully mark the word "poison" on the wrapper of each package; 7th, to neither sell or give away poisons to minors of either sex.—Swan & Critchfield's Rev. Stat., p. 454, sec. 2.

No apothecary, druggist, or other person is permitted to sell or give away less than one pound of arsenic, without first mixing either soot or indigo, in the proportion of one ounce of soot, or half an ounce of indigo to the pound of arsenic; and for any neglect of this duty, the druggist or other person is liable to a fine of from $20 to $200.—Ibid., sec. 3.

The following provisions regulate the practice of pharmacy in Cincinnati:

The Court of Common Pleas is authorized to appoint three persons from the competent pharmacists doing business in the city, as a Board of Examiners.

The Board shall keep a book of registration containing the name and place of business of every person qualified under this act to conduct the retail drug or apothecary business.

The Board shall examine every person so conducting the retail drug business, or compounding medicines, and a majority of the Board being satisfied of his competency and qualification, shall furnish a certificate to such person to conduct such business. But persons who hold a diploma of an incorporated College of Pharmacy, which requires a regular and previous term of service in the drug and apothecary business in addition to the instruction received in the College, are not required to undergo an examination before the Board.

No person shall be allowed to compound or dispense the prescriptions of physicians, unless he has been apprenticed at least two years in a store where physicians' prescriptions are compounded and dispensed, and has attended one full course of lectures in chemistry, materia medica, and pharmacy. Any person who violates the requirements with reference to registration, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 each week during the time such violation continues. Any pharmacist, who employs an incompetent assistant, or one who has not complied with the provisions of this act, shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding $100 in each and every case where damage or injury has resulted to any person by reason of such incompetency.—Ohio Laws, vol. 70, pp. 287, 288.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF OREGON.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF OREGON.

THE etymology of the name Oregon has not been satisfactorily explained. Some consider it to be derived from the Spanish "oregano," wild marjoram, which grows abundantly on the Pacific coast. It was first mentioned by Jonathan Carver, in the relation of his trading expedition to the head waters of the Mississippi, between June, 1766, and October, 1768. He speaks in several places of the "Oregon or the river of the West which flows into the Pacific Ocean." This region was originally a portion of the province of Louisiana (see Arkansas, page 31). The Territorial government was formed August 14th, 1848. The Territory included Washington, Idaho, and portions of Montana and Wyoming. The State was admitted into the Union, with its present limits, February 14th, 1859. The State has an area of 95,274 square miles, equal to the aggregate area of Arkansas, Mississippi, and Alabama. Oregon is divided by the Cascade Mountains into two distinct sections, so far as relates to climate and agricultural capacities. These mountains traverse the State from its northern to its southern boundary, running nearly parallel with the coast, at a distance therefrom of about 110 miles. The western section embraces about 31,000 square miles, was the portion of the State first settled, and still contains the great preponderance of population and wealth. The Coast Range of Mountains divides this section into many valleys, which are not surpassed for fertility by any other portion of the world. The Columbia river, which bounds this State in part upon the north, is one of the largest and most important rivers on the continent, and passes through the wildest and grandest scenery perhaps in the world. The principal streams in the western section are the Willamette river, flowing north and emptying into the Columbia, and the Umpqua and Rogue rivers, which empty into the Pacific Ocean. The climate of this section is remarkably mild, and, although in about the same latitude as Maine, the winter temperature corresponds with that of Savannah, Georgia. Mammoth forests of evergreens cover the mountain sides, the fir trees often attaining 300 feet, with trunks fifteen feet in diameter. Some of the peaks in the Cascade Range rise to a great height; Mount Hood is 14,000 feet high; Mount Jefferson and several others 11,000 feet. The eastern section has a much drier climate than the western, and is more subject to extremes of heat and cold. This section is crossed from north to south by the Blue Mountains, has several lakes in its southern part, and is watered by the Columbia, Lewis Fork, the Falls, the Malheur and the Owyhee rivers. This is the grazing section. The mineral wealth of Oregon is great. The gold produced annually is worth about $2,000,000. Iron is found in immense quantities; copper, coal, and other minerals abound. According to the census of 1870, this State possessed a population of 90,923, among whom there were 206 physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of twelve per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF OREGON.

Withoit's Soda Springs.—The Springs are in Clackamas county, thirty miles northeast of Salem. We give the analysis as made by J. H. Veach, M. D.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	10.946	Sulphate of Sodium	0.425
Carbonate of Magnesium	10.665	Sulphate of Magnesium	0.810
Protocarbonate of Iron	0.750	Iodine	trace.
Carbonate of Calcium	4.028
Chloride of Sodium	25.125	Total	52.749

GAS.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	42

Professor H. Carpenter, M. D., in the "Oregon Medical and Surgical Reporter," says: "The water is strongly impregnated with carbonic acid gas, constantly escaping from the surface, and giving a sparkling effervescence to the liquid. Very pleasant to the taste, it exhilarates fully as much as wine, on the first day, and on the second operates as a laxative and diuretic." Guests can be accommodated at the hotel by the same name as the Springs.

The Lower Soda Spring is in Linn county, about thirty miles southeast of Salem. The water is saturated with carbonic acid gas, and holds the carbonates of iron and sodium in solution. Guests can be accommodated at Finlay's Hotel.

Des Chutes Hot Springs are in Wasco county. These Springs were described by Dr. Newberry in the sixth volume of the "Government Pacific Railroad Report," and they have been analyzed by L. M. Dornbach and Professor E. N. Horsford.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (143° and 145° Fahr.):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	4.312	Sulphate of Calcium	0.228
Chloride of Potassium	0.250	Silicate of Sodium	1.025
Chloride of Sodium	2.552	Iron	trace.
Chloride of Magnesium	0.152
Sulphate of Sodium	1.183	Total	9.702

GAS.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	2.82

Malheur River Hot Springs.—These Springs are in Baker county, upon the banks of the Malheur river. The temperature is 193° Fahr. There are no hotel accommodations.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF OREGON.

The Medical Department of Willamette University was organized in 1866. Instruction is given by nine professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular session begins early in November and continues four months. Six lectures are delivered daily, and clinics are held twice a week. A preliminary course commences the first of September and continues until the opening of the regular session. One lecture is delivered and a recitation is held every day. No charge is made to matriculants. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $110; demonstrator's fee, $10; graduation, $30.

There is a Hospital for the Insane at Portland, but we have no information in regard to it or any other Hospital within this State.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF OREGON.

Any person who administers to a pregnant woman any medicine, drug, or substance, or uses any instrument or means with intent to destroy her child, unless this treatment is necessary to preserve the woman's life, is, in case of the death of the child or mother, guilty of manslaughter.—Gen. Laws (1864), p. 528, sec. 509.

If any physician, while intoxicated, and without design to produce death, administers any poison, drug, or medicine, or does any act by which the death of another is produced, he is guilty of manslaughter—Ibid., p. 510.

Whenever a convict in the State prison is, in the opinion of the physician of the prison, insane, such physician shall make oath of this fact before a judge of the county where the prison is located, and thereupon the judge shall summon one competent physician or more, who shall decide the question of the convict's insanity; and the convict, if found insane, may be removed to a place provided for the insane.—Ibid., p. 753, sec. 8.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

THE name Pennsylvania, meaning "Penn's Woods," was given to this State in honor of William Penn, the founder of the colony. Admiral Penn, the father of William, left his son a claim upon the English Government for £16,000. William Penn, shortly before his father's death, joined the religious sect of Quakers or Friends, and, wishing to free them from persecution, he, in 1681, petitioned King Charles II. to pay the £16,000, not in money, but by granting him a tract of land on the western bank of the Delaware river, where he might plant a colony. This petition was granted, and in the following May he sent out a few persons to take possession. In November, 1682, Penn himself sailed up the Delaware river, bringing with him 2000 settlers. Soon after this, Penn visited the spot where Philadelphia now stands, and made his famous treaty with the Indians. The Swedes had held a few settlements on the banks of the Delaware for forty years previous to this, and the territory was claimed by the Duke of York, but Penn purchased their rights and held peaceful possession of the country (see page 85). Shortly after this, the colony was subjected for two years to royal governors, but with this exception the government was left entirely with the people. The settlers suffered much from the Indians during the "Old French War," and during the struggle for Independence this State was often the theatre of hostilities. Early in 1774, it was proposed that a General Congress, composed of delegates from all the thirteen colonies, should meet, to take into consideration the state of the country. This Congress met in Philadelphia, on the 5th of September, 1774. They drew up a "Declaration of Rights," an agreement to abstain from all commercial intercourse with England, and a petition to the king. Then, having determined to call another Congress in May of the following year, they broke up on the 26th of October. Before the second American Congress could assemble, the war of Independence had commenced. The Declaration of Independence passed the Continental Congress July 4th, 1776, Congress being assembled in the old State House at Philadelphia, in the room still known as Independence Hall, and held sacred by every American. Being one of the "Original Thirteen States," Pennsylvania ratified the Constitution December 12th, 1787. The area of this State is 46,000 square miles, and the population in 1870, according to the census of that year, was 3,521,951, and the number of physicians and surgeons, 4843. Phthisis is the cause of sixteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. Pennsylvania is the only State, except Virginia, which stretches quite across the great Appalachian system of mountains, and is thus naturally divided into three strongly marked regions, the eastern or Atlantic slope, the central mountainous region, and the western or Ohio and Erie table-land. The general trend of the mountain ranges is from northeast to southwest. The principal of these ranges are the Allegheny Mountains, the Blue Mountains, Chestnut Ridge, Laurel Ridge, and Tuscarora Mountain. These mountains seldom attain a greater height than 2000 feet. This State has no lakes within its borders, but Lake Erie forms a part of its northwestern boundary. "The Susquehanna, the largest river of Pennsylvania, and one of the most beautiful in America, crosses the entire breadth of the State, flowing 400 miles in many a winding bout, through mountain gorges, rocky cliffs, and broad, cultivated meadows. The Delaware flows 300 miles, from its sources in the Catskill Mountains, to the Delaware Bay, forming the boundary between Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and afterward between New Jersey and Delaware. The Lehigh is a rapid and most picturesque stream. Its course is from the mountain coal districts through the famous passage of the Lehigh Water-Gap, below Mauch Chunk to the Delaware at Easton. The Allegheny and the Monongahela rivers—one 300, and the other 200 miles in length—unite at Pittsburgh and form the Ohio. These rivers, with the Schuylkill, the Lackawaxen, and many smaller streams, make this a well watered State. The mineral wealth of this State is very great. The coal lands cover about one-third of the State, the eastern being the anthracite and the western the bituminous region. Iron abounds in almost every county. In the western part of the State immense quantities of petroleum are obtained from natural springs and numerous wells sunk for that purpose. Zinc, copper, and lead are found. Limestone, granite, marble, and serpentine are abundant. Salt springs are found in several counties, and large quantities of that valuable substance made every year.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Bedford Springs.—These Springs are two miles from the town of Bedford, on the Broad Top & Huntingdon Railroad. Being situated in the high mountainous district of Bedford county, they have a delightful summer climate, and are surrounded by the most beautiful scenery. Dr. Church made an analysis of the water of the principal Spring, which is known as "Anderson's Spring," in 1825. We give the mineral constituents as determined by him, but we think that a new analysis should be made.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of iron	0.625	Sulphate of Calcium	1.875
Carbonate of Calcium	1.000	Loss	0.375
Chloride of Sodium	1.250
Chloride of Calcium	0.375	Total	15.500
Sulphate of Magnesium	10.000

GAS.	CUB IN.
Carbonic Acid	9.25

This is a purgative-chalybeate water, having, also, a marked effect upon the kidneys. Cases of anæmia, engorgement of the liver, and dyspepsia are benefited by drinking of these waters. "About 200 yards distant from the main Spring is a Sulphur Spring, which evolves considerable sulphuretted hydrogen." The other Springs here are the Limestone, the Chalybeate, and Fletcher's. Dr. Church states that the water of the Chalybeate Spring contains carbonate of iron, chloride of sodium, magnesia, carbonic acid gas, and sulphuretted hydrogen. Fletcher's or the Upper Spring, is said by the same authority to contain nearly the same mineral constituents as the Anderson Spring. There are abundant hotel, bathing, and other accommodations.

Gettysburgh Spring is located one mile west of Gettysburgh, in Adams county. This Spring has attracted much attention within the last few years, and a very large Hotel has been erected. Prof. F. A. Genth, of the University of Pennsylvania, gives the following analysis:

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.027	Phosphate of Calcium	0.001
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.041	Fluoride of Calcium	0.001
Carbonate of Iron	0.003	Borate of Magnesium	0.004
Carbonate of Manganese	0.001	Silicic Acid	0.254
Carbonate of Lime	0.627	Organic Matter, with trace of Nitric Acid, etc	0.088
Chloride of Sodium	0.082	Impurities suspended in water, like clay, etc	0.138
Chloride of Lithium	trace
Sulphate of Potassium	0.026	Total	2.552
Sulphate of Sodium	0.308
Sulphate of Magnesium	0.847
Sulphate of Calcium	0.104

In addition, minute quantities of copper, sulphate of strontium, alumina, and traces of carbonate of nickel, carbonate of cobalt, and sulphate of barium (1873).

This water is inodorous, tasteless, and perfectly clear. "The water has proved beneficial in gravel, calculus, catarrh of the bladder, catarrh of the stomach, and dyspepsia. It is said to be efficient in gout and rheumatism, and that chalk-stone concretions of the joints have been removed by its use. The dose of water in the majority of cases is a gill, three times a day, though in some instances it is recommended to commence with a very much larger quantity, and gradually diminish the dose." The water is called by the Gettysburgh Spring Company, "Katalysine Water," and is bottled and sold throughout the country.

Minnequa Springs are upon the Northern Central Railroad, in Bradford county. The water of these Springs is a chalybeate-sulphur, and the flow is about six gallons per minute. According to the analysis by Dr. Gregg, of Elmira, published in the Philadelphia "Medical and Surgical Reporter," in 1872, the water contains the following mineral constituents:

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.136	Oxide of Iron and Alumina	0.462
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.159	Sulphur	0.167
Carbonate of Calcium	0.091	Organic Matter	0.093
Chloride of Potassium	trace
Chloride of Sodium	0.129	Total	1.299
Sulphate of Calcium	0.062

GAS.	CUB. IN.	GAS.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	0.50	Sulphuretted hydrogen	undetermined.

This water is considered to be of service in rheumatism, asthma, scrofula, dropsy, dyspepsia, and many other diseases. The situation is delightful, and lovers of sport will find an abundance of game in the neighborhood. The Minæqua House furnishes abundant accommodations for guests.

Cresson Springs.—These Springs are in Cambria county, on the summit of the Alleghenies. Cresson is a beautiful little village, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, 253 miles west of Philadelphia, and being situated at an elevation of 3000 feet above the sea, the air is pure and bracing; the thermometer seldom rises to 75° Fahr. in the hottest days of summer. We have no analysis of the water of these Springs. The principal Spring is said to be a chalybeate. There are seven Springs here. The hotels and cottages have accommodations for upwards of 2000 persons.

Black Barren Spring.—This Spring is in Lancaster county, one mile northeast of the Susquehanna River, where it crosses the Maryland line, and the Philadelphia & Baltimore Central Railroad makes it easy of access. This water has attracted much attention for several years past, and has been proven to be of great service in diseases of the kidneys and liver, and dyspepsia, dropsy, etc., arising therefrom. (See "MEDICAL AND SURGICAL REPORTER," August 20th, 1871.) The water is bottled and sold throughout the country. It has not, as yet, been analyzed.

Blossburgh Springs are at the town of the same name, in Tioga county. "These Springs belong to the class known as acid waters in New York, and as alum Springs in Virginia. In taste they very much resemble the Rockbridge Alum Water. They contain a large amount of free sulphuric acid, and less alumina than the Virginia waters. Unlike Rockbridge water, they readily deposit, when removed from the Spring, a large portion of the iron they hold in solution. The Blossburgh waters are adapted to the same general class of diseases for which the Virginia and New York acid waters are beneficially prescribed."

York Sulphur Springs.—These Springs are in Adams county, and may be reached by Railroad from Philadelphia or Baltimore. There is no accurate analysis of these waters. One of the two Springs is chalybeate, and the other is saline. The Chalybeate Spring is tonic, and the Saline diuretic.

Carlisle Springs are four miles north of the town of Carlisle, in Cumberland county. This water is a mild sulphur water, but it has not been analyzed. There are abundant hotel accommodations.

Frankfort Mineral Springs are in Beaver county, twenty-six miles southwest of Pittsburgh. There are two Springs near the town of Frankfort. One within a large and romantic cave, is known as "Cave Spring," and the other is known as "Leiper's Spring." The water of these Springs contains the carbonates of iron and magnesium, chloride of sodium, sulphuretted hydrogen and carbonic acid gas. The effect of the water is to increase the action of the bowels and kidneys.

Chalybeate Spring, near Pittsburgh.—This Spring is four miles from the city, and is said, by Dr. Meade, to contain the following constituents:

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Chloride of Sodium	1.00	Sulphate of Calcium	0.25
Chloride of Magnesium	0.25
Oxide of Iron	.50	Total	2.00

Carbonic Acid	9

Perry County Springs are eleven miles from Carlisle. These are warm Springs, having a temperature of 72°. If taken internally, the waters have an aperient and diuretic effect; but they are chiefly used for bathing purposes, and are beneficial in diseases of the skin.

Doubling Gap Sulphur and Chalybeate Springs are in Cumberland county, eight miles by stage from Newville, on the Cumberland Valley Railroad. The Sulphur Spring is said by Prof. Booth to contain the carbonates and sulphates of sodium and magnesium, chloride of sodium, sulphuretted hydrogen, and carbonic acid gas. The chalybeate water contains the carbonates of iron and magnesium, the sulphate of magnesium, and the chloride of sodium.

Bath Chalybeate Spring, near Bristol, on the Delaware.—This Spring was much visited many years ago, and an account of it was published by Dr. Benjamin Rush, in 1773.

Caledonia Springs are fifteen miles from Chambersburgh, in Franklin county. This is a most beautiful spot, with invigorating mountain air. The water is used as a bath, and is of service in rheumatism and several other diseases.

Fayette Springs.—These Springs are in Fayette county, twelve miles by stage from Uniontown. "The water is chalybeate, very cold, and abundant in quantity." This is a beautiful spot in the Laurel Mountains, and the air is very cool and invigorating. Guests can be accommodated at the "Fayette Springs House."

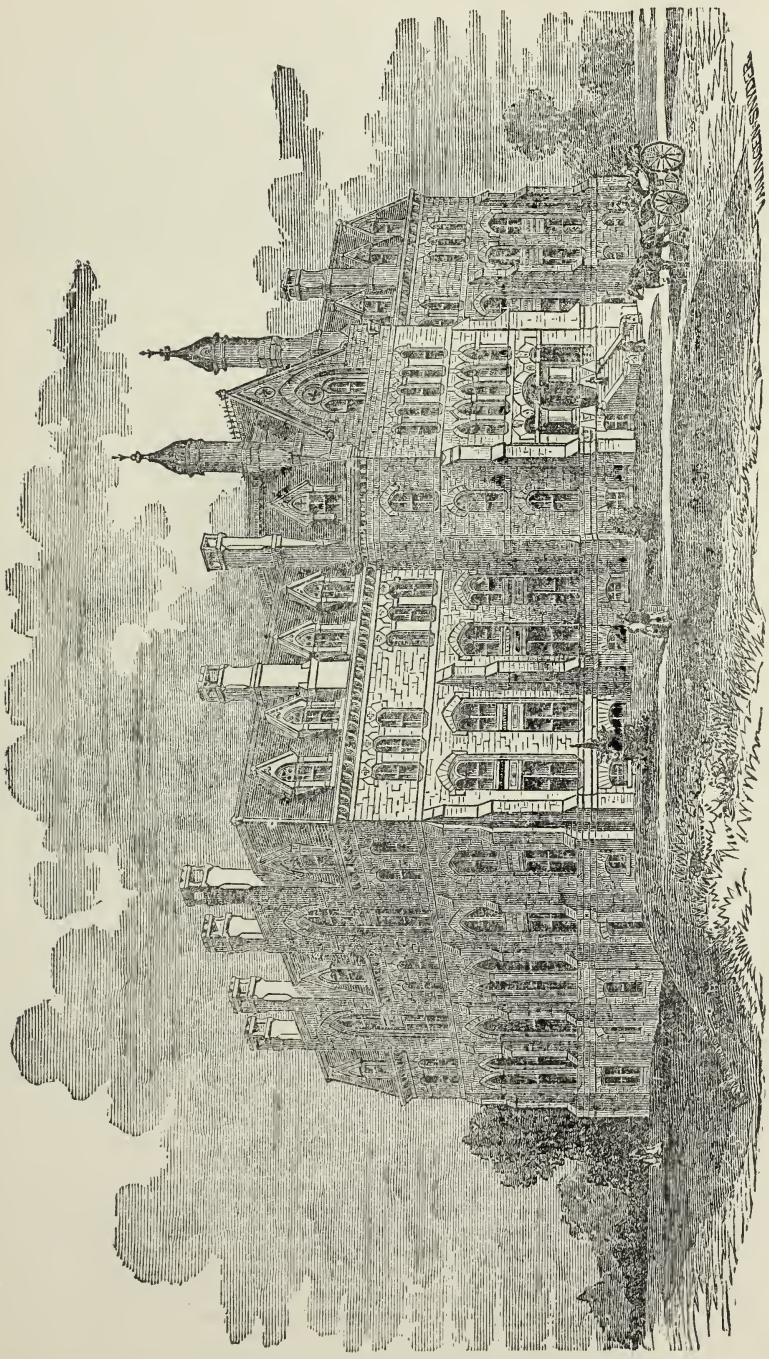
There is a chalybeate Spring at Maplewood, in Delaware county, a short distance east of Corcordville; a mineral Spring one mile and a half east of Reading; several near Allentown, one at Litiz and Ephrata, and one in Fairmount Park, at Philadelphia. We have no doubt that the water of these and other Springs in different parts of the State would be found to be of service in the cure of disease.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

University of Pennsylvania.—The Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania was organized at Philadelphia in 1749, and received its present charter in 1766. The trustees have erected a hall of very large dimensions, which is arranged for the convenient accommodation and instruction of students, in accordance with plans based upon long experience, and which is supplied with all the approved means of research and investigation. Adjoining this building, a large hospital has been erected, and is in charge of the Medical Faculty. This hospital is an invaluable means of clinical instruction. Instruction is given by seven professors, a demonstrator of anatomy, a demonstrator of surgery, the staff of the University Hospital, the Auxiliary Faculty, and the Summer Medical Association of the University. The regular session commences on the first Monday of October, and continues until the first of the following March. During this session lectures are given by the professors, and clinics are held in the University Hospital. Students may attend the Philadelphia Hospital, which is contiguous to the grounds of the University, and contains 900 beds, the Pennsylvania Hospital, the Presbyterian, the Episcopal, Wills' (Eye Hospital), Children's, Lying-in, St. Joseph's, St. Francis, German, and Jewish Hospitals, the Philadelphia, the Southern, the Northern, and the Moyamensing Dispensaries. The University Hospital forms an integral portion of the Medical Department. Attendance on the Clinical Lectures, delivered in its amphitheatre and its wards, forms a part of the daily privileges of the students, and ample opportunities will be afforded to the more advanced among them, to gain a personal and practical acquaintance with clinical medicine, surgery, obstretrics, and specialties. These subjects are taught by the several clinical professors in the university, and by the professors and lecturers at the hospital. The hospital staff by whom instruction is given, consists of six clinical professors and three clinical lecturers. In addition to the instructors forming the hospital staff, there are four "Chiefs of the Dispensary service," and seven assistants; eleven assistant demonstrators of anatomy, four assistant demonstrators of surgery, and two assistants to the professor of obstetrics. The study of chemistry may be pursued in the laboratory under the direct supervision of the professor of chemistry and his assistant.

This course is arranged under three heads, according to the preparation of the pupil and his own especial wants and choice, viz: Manipulation, Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis, and the examination of normal and abnormal products of the human body. While pursuing this course, each student will be systematically examined upon the subject of his study. The Physiological Laboratory is open to such as wish to study physiology by experiment and personal observation. This laboratory is under the charge of the professor of physiology, aided by three assistants. The dissecting rooms of the University are open throughout the year (except July and August), under the superintendence of the professor of anatomy, and the demonstrator. These rooms are unusually large and high. Their ventilation is of the most perfect kind. The light is strong and equally diffused over the whole space. Every table has a stone top, which cannot absorb the discharges, and can be kept perfectly clean. The special object of the Anatomical Laboratory is to afford a limited number of students the opportunity of studying practical comparative anatomy in its relations with human anatomy and physiology. This Laboratory is under the supervision of the professor of anatomy and one assistant. The surgical operating room is open during the session, under the supervision of the professor of surgery and his assistants. Every student is here thoroughly instructed and practically trained in the application of bandages and surgical apparatus, and in the performance of operations upon the cadaver. Instruments, splints, and bandages are supplied free of cost. The University possesses the largest and best museum of any medical school in the country. A number of prizes are offered to students. The usual rules are in force in relation to the degree of Doctor of Medicine, and the following additional rule has been lately added: "Students who have attended two full courses of lectures on anatomy, chemistry, materia medica, and the institutes of medicine, may be examined upon these subjects at the end of their second course. During their third course, such students may devote themselves exclusively to the lectures upon the theory and practice of medicine, and clinical medicine, surgery, and obstetrics, and diseases of women and children. In their final examination for the degree of M. D., they will be examined upon the last named subjects only; but their standing will be determined by the combined results of both examinations." The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $140; graduation, $30. "No scholarships are sold by the University of Pennsylvania."

The Auxiliary Faculty consists of five professors, who teach the following branches, viz:

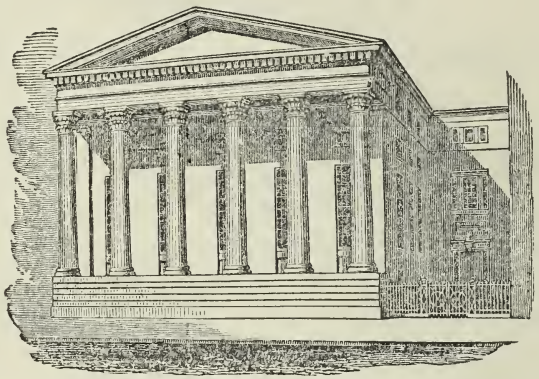


UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Medical Department.

T. W. RICHARDS, ARCHT.

Zoology and comparative anatomy, botany, hygiene, medical jurisprudence (including toxicology), and mineralogy and geology. The lectures of this faculty commence about the middle of March and continue three months. The different branches are taught mainly in reference to their medical relations. All students who have matriculated in the medical department, and have taken the tickets of two of the medical faculty, have the right of admission to the lectures. Attendance upon these lectures is not compulsory upon the students in the medical department. The degree of Doctor of Philosophy will be conferred upon those medical graduates who shall have attended two courses of lectures, and have passed a satisfactory examination thereon by the faculty. To such, a diploma will be granted by the University. Lectures are delivered by the "Summer Medical Association of the University," during the months of April, May, June, and September. The subjects of these lectures are clinical surgery, regional anatomy, clinical medicine, and physical diagnosis, microscopy, diseases of women and children, diseases of the eye and ear, diseases of the skin, and morbid anatomy. All of these lectures are free to matriculants of the University, upon registering their names with the secretary of the association. A number of private courses on special subjects are given, both during the regular session and also during the spring and fall.



JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA.

The Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia.—This Medical School was organized in 1826. Instruction is given by seven professors, a demonstrator of anatomy, two demonstrators of surgery and twelve lecturers. The regular session commences the first Monday in October and continues until the following March. During this session instruction is given by didactic lectures and by clinics. Over 3000 patients are treated at the college clinics annually. Besides the college clinic, there are in the city nineteen hospitals, nine dispensaries, and thirty-eight other charitable institutions, affording every facility for the practical study of disease and injury. The opportunities offered to the student, indeed, are only limited by the time at his disposal. There is no charge for hospital instruction. The course of supplementary lectures extends through the months of April, May, June and September, without additional charge, except the registration fee of $5. During this course instruction is given in such special subjects as cannot be taken up in the winter session. Great care is taken to make this course as practical as possible. Clinical instruction is given by the professor and lectures at several of the hospitals. Advanced students are supplied with cases of obstetrics. Surgery may be studied in the operating room. A number of private courses on special subjects are given. The new Hospital of the Jefferson Medical College, adjoining the college, is now completed and in operation. It contains 100 beds, and has a large amphitheatre, capable of accommodating more than 600 students. The faculty recommend a three years' course. In order to make the course of study progressive, students may attend only the lectures on anatomy, physiology, chemistry and materia medica during the first course. Students may be examined after the second course on any three of the above-named branches. Should this examination prove satisfactory, the candidate for the degree will be required to undergo examination at the next succeeding March in the remaining four branches only. This gives the student the opportunity of devoting his last (third) course to the didactic lectures in the remaining branches, and to clinical study in the hospitals and dispensaries. The college possesses a fine museum. A number of prizes are offered to students. The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $20 each, in all, $140; graduation, $30. Non-matriculants who attend the spring course are charged $30.

The Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania was organized in 1850. The faculty of this school consists of eight professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular session commences on the first Thursday of October and continues twenty-two weeks. Didactic lectures are delivered and clinical instruction is given at the Woman's Hospital. Students may visit the wards of the Pennsylvania, Will's, and the Orthopœdic Hospitals. The study of chemistry may be pursued in the laboratory under the supervision of the professor of that branch. A course of lectures on medical jurisprudence is given during this session. The faculty recommend a three years' course of study, with the pursuit of special branches each year. Those who pursue this course are examined on chemistry, anatomy, physiology and hygiene at the end of the second course of lectures. The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $105 (single ticket, $15); anatomy, $10; graduation, $30. Six students are received upon the payment of the matriculation, the demonstrator's fee, and $20 for the course of lectures, and, when graduating, the usual fee. Students who purpose to go as medical missionaries are admitted at half the usual fees. The spring course begins on the third Monday in March and continues ten weeks. During this course instruction is given on practice chemistry, ophthalmology, microscopy, dental physiology, anatomy, electro-therapeutics, bandaging, diagnosis and pharmacy. Clinics are held at the Woman's Hospital. Lectures on nursing are delivered and daily examinations are held. The fees for this course are: practical chemistry, $10; anatomy, $10; general tickets for the other branches, $25.

Medical Department of Lincoln University.—Lincoln University was established to supply the felt want of an institution for the highest education of men of color. The University is situated in Chester county, but the facilities for pursuing the study of medicine being so much greater in Philadelphia, it is the intention of the trustees to remove the medical department to that city. The medical department is not yet in full operation, but it is expected that a proper building will be secured before the opening of the regular session. The regular session commences on the third Thursday of September and ends on the third Wednesday of the following June. The course of instruction occupies three years, and has been so arranged as to carry the student progressively and systematically from one subject to another in a just and natural order. Students are examined upon the branches they pursue at the end of each year. Every candidate for a degree must be a graduate of the department of arts, or pass a satisfactory examination before the faculties of arts and medicine. The fees are: matriculation, $5; tuition fee, $140; graduation, $25.

The Hahnemann Medical College (Homœopathic) of Philadelphia was organized in 1848. Instruction is given by ten professors, a demonstrator and a lecturer. The regular session commences on the first Monday in October and continues five months. Lectures are delivered and clinical instruction is given in the Homœopathic Hospital. The fees are: matriculation, $5; demonstrator's ticket, $10; lectures, $100; graduation, $30. A three years' course, with special studies and examinations each year, is recommended. Students pursuing this course are charged $50 for the first session, $75 for the second, and $85 for the third, or, if paid in advance, $160.

The following medical institutions are intended to assist the student in the pursuit of his studies while attending the medical colleges:

The Philadelphia School of Anatomy has been in operation for many years, and affords ample opportunities for the pursuit of the study of anatomy and surgery, etc. A fee of $10 is charged for the ticket to either of the following branches: anatomy, operative surgery, bandaging, etc., and auscultation, percussion, etc.

The West Philadelphia Medical Institute.—During the winter examinations are held on the lectures delivered at the University. The summer course of instruction is chiefly by means of text-books. Fee for either course, $30. Office students (one year), $100; practical chemistry, $15; candidates prepared for the army and navy (six months), $100.

Ninth Street Medical Association.—Examinations are held throughout the winter on the lectures delivered at the University. During the summer text-books are used and several courses of lectures are delivered. Winter or summer course, $30; office students, $100; course of regional surgery, $10; venereal diseases, $10.

Jayne Street Medical Institute.—This institution also examines students upon the lectures delivered at the University. Fees: winter or summer course, $30; office students, $100.

"Dunglison Quiz."—This association examines on the lectures delivered at the Jefferson Medical College. Medical examinations, on lectures delivered at the Jefferson College, are held by an association of physicians, and the "Quiz" is known by their individual names. We believe the fees in both of these organizations is the same as that mentioned above.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The Pennsylvania Hospital, at Philadelphia, was founded in 1750, and is the oldest establishment of its kind in this country. The Hospital derives its support from voluntary contributions; some of the patients pay board, but the amount so received is trifling compared with the expenditures. The number of patients receiving the benefits of this institution during the year ending April 28, 1874, was 2324, and since the establishment of the Hospital in 1752, there have been admitted 92,931 patients, of whom about 60,000 have been poor persons supported at the expense of the institution. The Hospital building is well fitted with every convenience, and additional arrangements to secure the comfort of patients are constantly being made. The medical staff of this Hospital is composed of men whose names are familiar to the medical profession throughout the country, and by whom clinics are held every Wednesday and Saturday from 10 A. M. to 12 M. The clinical teaching of the Hospital, avoiding all mixed instruction, is free to all students of incorporated institutions, recommended by the lecturers. The staff of the Hospital published, some years ago, two very handsome volumes, giving reports of cases treated and observations made in the Institution. The Hospital possesses a large library and a pathological museum. Persons accidentally wounded or otherwise injured, are received at all hours, provided always that the accident or injury happen in Pennsylvania, and the patient is brought to the Hospital within twenty-four hours after its occurence. No patient suffering from an infectious or contagious disease is admitted. All cases of mania-à-potu are charged $14 per week. The lowest rate of board for pay patients is $7 per week. Sailors who have paid their wages taxed for the Hospital fund, are admitted as to marine hospitals, upon an order from the collector of the port (see U. S. Marine Hospital, p. 328). The Insane Department of this Hospital is known as the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane.

The Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane, at Philadelphia.—The Pennsylvania Hospital from the first had two departments, its objects being declared to be "the relief of the sick poor and the reception and cure of the insane;" this being the first regular hospital provision for the insane in America. The insane occupied a portion of the original Pennsylvania Hospital building until 1841, when they were transferred to the new building—now the "Department for Females,"—on the west side of the River Schuylkill, and which, under the title of "The Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane," was opened on the first day of 1841. The Department for Males was opened in 1859. Both of these buildings are situated in a tract of 113 acres of land, laid out in the most beautiful manner and kept in perfect order. The buildings are each capable of accommodating 250 patients, and are very elegant structures, having every modern convenience. They are about one-third of a mile apart, have 91 acres devoted to gardens and pleasure grounds, and each hospital is distinct in all its arrangements, except that both have the same board of managers, and a physician-in-chief and superintendent. This Hospital possesses a library, a museum, a room for entertainments, one for gymnastic exercise, pleasure railroads, and other contrivances to interest and amuse the patients. During the 90 years that the insane were treated in the old hospital building, 4366 patients were received, 1493 were cured, 913 improved, and 610 died. Since the removal in 1841 to January 1, 1874, 6651 patients have been received, 1434 of whom were charity patients. 3105 have been restored to reason and usefulness, 1548 have been improved, and 805 died. The number of patients received during the year 1873 was 261. During the same period 111 were cured, 54 were improved, and 40 died. All classes of insane persons are admitted into this institution. Idiots, however, are not received.

Cases of mania-à-potu are not received into this hospital, but into that of the city "exclusively."

The Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania is situated in West Philadelphia, on a plot of ground six acres in area. The Hospital was erected at a cost of $200,000, and comprises a central or administrative building and a pavilion. It is contemplated in the plans for the building to erect five more of these pavilions, each of which will cost $100,000. The administrative building is 88 feet 6 inches wide, with a depth of 130 feet 6 inches. The pavilion on the south side of the corridor contains two wards of 32 beds each on the first and second stories, and one ward of 24 beds in the third story. On the northern side of the corridor there are three smaller wards of 10 beds each, giving for each pavilion a total accommodation of 118 beds. The ventilation of the wards has received careful attention, and has been effected by means of open fireplaces and opposite windows, and by the introduction of Barker's patent ventilating and heat register, so arranged that heat and ventilation at the head of each patient's bed is secured. There are, conveniently located for each of the wards, nurses' and linen rooms, baths and water closets, dining-rooms and special diet-kitchens. The pavilion contains on the basement floor the dispensary, waiting and private rooms. The dispensary contains a laboratory, washing-room and apothecary's room. The front of the basement of the pavilion is designed for a most complete arrangement of baths, which comprises continual, electric, Russian, Turkish, needle, vapor, pine, mineral, douche, shower, mercurial, etc. There is also connected with this department a chamber for the disinfection of clothing. The central building has on the basement floor a lecture room, which will accommodate 200 students; splint-rooms, apothecary's room, and other rooms. The first story has, in the front part, a manager's room, stewards' and clerk's office, apothecary's room, and, in the rear, stewards' and matron's chambers, with baths, etc. The amphitheatre or main lecture room, which has its base in the second story, is circular in form, 60 feet in diameter, and is 45 feet high to the sky-light in the centre of the ceiling, which is finished with a dome. It will seat 500 persons, and the seats are so arranged that the students can see and hear from any part of the room. The material of the basement of the centre building is Leiperville graystone, with a capping of Hummelstown brownstone. The front of the building and the sides, as far as the corridor above the basement, are faced with serpentine stone, with Amherst and Massillon, Ohio, stone dressings. The remainder of the building on the sides and rear, on account of economy and greater dryness, is built of brick with hollow walls. The dressings are of Ohio stone. The interior of the building is handsomely finished, is fire-proof, and contains every convenience in the shape of gas, water, bath-rooms, diet-ranges, separate rooms for patients, etc. The building was inaugurated June 4, 1874. This Hospital is under the control of the faculty of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Hospital of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in Philadelphia, was founded in 1851. No persons suffering from contagious or infectious disease are admitted. Recent accidents are admitted at once, if brought to the hospital within twenty-four hours after the receipt of injury. Sailors are admitted on the account of the Collector of the Port and in Marine Hospitals (see U. S. Marine Hospital, p. 328). Several thousand out-patients are prescribed for at the dispensary every year. More than one thousand patients receive the benefits of this Hospital annually. The Hospital is a very elegant sandstone gothic structure, having every arrangement possible to secure the comfort of the patients.

St. Joseph's Hospital, Philadelphia, was established in 1849, is supported by voluntary contributions, and is under the charge of the Sisters of Charity. The building has a capacity of 150 beds, and when completed, will have accommodation for 100 more patients. The Hospital is divided into surgical, medical and obstetrical wards; and in addition to the public wards, there are a number of handsomely-furnished private rooms. The patients in private rooms have the privilege of selecting their own medical attendant. No person suffering from contagious disease is admitted. The Hospital is open to persons of all creeds and conditions of life. The poor are not charged; males who are able to pay are charged $5 per week, and females $4 per week. A dispensary service is held daily. Nearly fifteen hundred patients are treated here every year.

The Philadelphia Hospital is supported by the city, and is under the charge of the "Board of Guardians for the Relief and Employment of the Poor of the City of Philadelphia." It embraces medical, surgical, and obstetrical wards, together with a Children's Asylum and an Insane Hospital. The total number of wards in the Hospital are forty-six; average number of patients, 776; in the children's asylum, four wards, average number of patients, 101. About 6000 patients are treated here annually, and the Hospital also furnishes out-door relief to many thousand sick poor. In the Insane Hospital there were, on January 1st, 1873, 895 patients; on the 1st of January, 1874, 1023, an increase of 128.

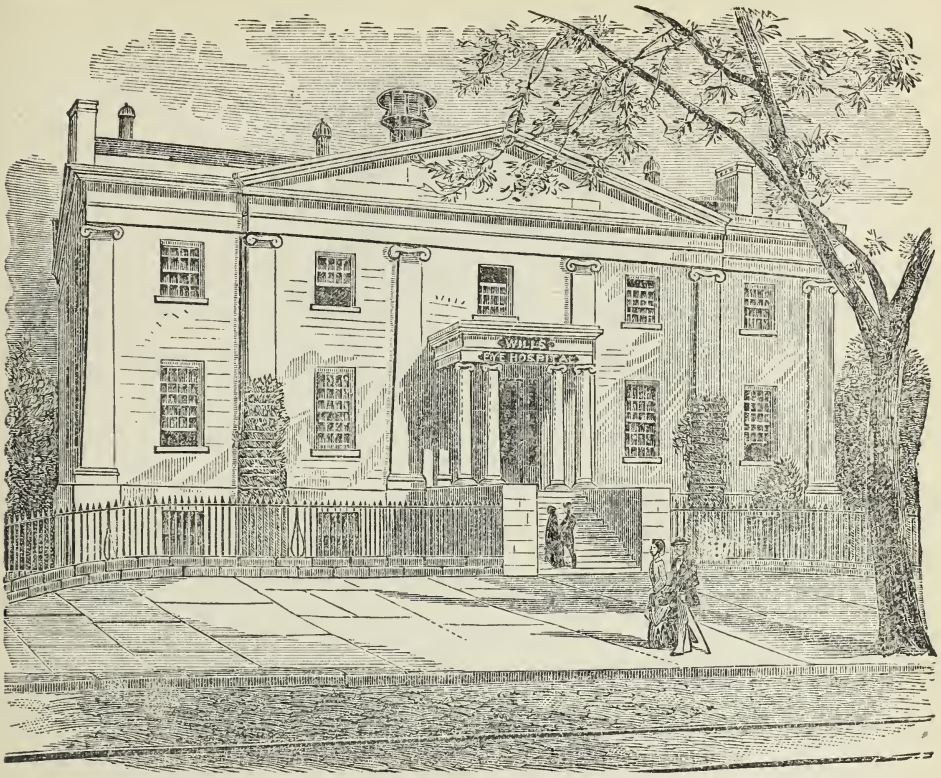
The Philadelphia Municipal Hospital was opened in 1855. This Hospital is intended for poor patients suffering from small-pox, varioloid, yellow fever, ship fever, typhus fever, scarlet fever, and cholera. Patients who are able to pay are charged $7 per week. The Hospital has a capacity of 190 beds. The number of patients treated here during the year 1872, was 1496.

St. Mary's Hospital, Philadelphia, was founded in 1866. This Hospital is dependent for its support upon voluntary contributions, and is under the charge of the Sisters of St. Francis. During the year 1872, 747 patients were admitted, of whom 386 were cured, and 164 improved. During the same year, 13,270 patients were treated in the dispensary of this Hospital.

The Presbyterian Hospital, in West Philadelphia.—This Hospital was opened in 1872, and is open to the poor of all creeds, free; but those who are able to pay are charged a moderate sum. No person having a contagious disease is admitted. All cases of accident are received if brought to the Hospital within twenty-four hours. The last report shows that during the year, 371 patients were admitted, of whom 182 were cured, 121 improved, and 31 died. Several hundred patients are treated at the Hospital dispensary annually.

The German Hospital, of Philadelphia, was opened in November 1866. The buildings occupied by the Hospital being found inadequate to the wants of the institution, it has been decided to enlarge them by the erection of additional buildings. One-tenth of the beds in the Hospital are reserved for the poor; those who are able to pay are charged from $4 to $6 per week. Persons of all nationalities, creeds, and color are admitted. During the year ending December 31st, 1873, 321 persons were treated in the wards of the Hospital, 117 in the surgical, and 204 in the medical department; 202 cured, 46 much improved, and 36 died.

The Philadelphia Orthopœdic Hospital and Infirmary for Diseases of the Nervous System, was incorporated in 1867. This institution is supported by private contributions. The classes of cases which it is contemplated to treat include club-foot, hip and spinal diseases, and bodily deformities in general, and all nervous maladies. This Hospital furnishes medicines and mechanical apparatus to the poor, and is admirably provided with electrical and galvanic batteries, and douche and shower baths. The Hospital has thirty free beds, and three rooms for private patients. During the year 1872, there were 286 new cases of deformities, and 280 cases of nervous diseases admitted, total, 566; 122 surgical operations were performed, mostly for the division of tendons; 237 mechanical appliances were furnished and adjusted to patients requiring artificial support and mechanical treatment; 163 of the more serious cases were admitted into the wards of the Hospital, for operation, mechanical and electrical treatment; 566 new cases, and 1301 old have applied for relief at the daily out-door clinics, making a total of 1867, not including an almost equal number treated by the application of electricity or galvanism.



WILLS' OPHTHALMIC HOSPITAL, PHILADELPHIA.

Wills' Ophthalmic Hospital, Philadelphia, was founded April 2d, 1832. The Hospital building, architecturally, might be called pseudo-Grecian; it is 80 feet long, and 50 deep, and will accommodate forty patients. This institution is supported by a fund bequeathed by the late James Wills, and by occasional appropriations from the State. Lectures and practical instruction in ophthalmic surgery are given by the surgeons in charge. A daily clinic for out-patients is held, and is largely attended. During the year 1873, 3504 patients were treated here. More than 50,000 persons have received the benefits of this institution.

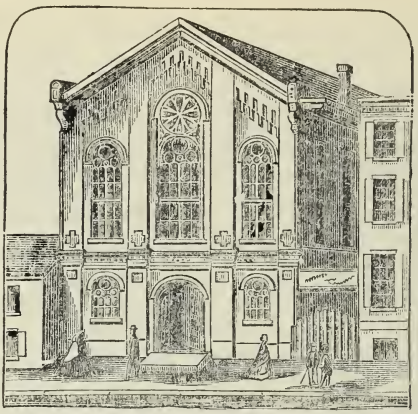
The Charity Hospital, of Philadelphia, was organized in 1858, and is supported by private subscriptions. The building at present occupied is small, but it is expected that better accommodation will soon be obtained. About 8000 patients are treated and supplied with medicine every year. Respectable married women are received into the Hospital for confinement.

Christ Church Hospital, West Philadelphia, was founded in 1772. The building is a fine stone structure, having accommodation for about 100 inmates—"poor or distressed women of the communion of the Episcopal Church."

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia was founded in 1855, and is supported by subscription, donations, and the board of patients. No contagious disease is admitted. This Hospital is for the treatment of children under twelve years of age The Hospital has a capacity of 53 beds. During the hot summer months, many of the patients are removed to the sea-side at Atlantic City, New Jersey. A Dispensary attached to this Hospital furnishes gratuitous treatment to a large number of sick children annually.

The Jewish Hospital, West Philadelphia.—The Jewish Hospital Association was organized on the 19th of February, 1865, and the Hospital opened for patients, August 6th, 1866. The Hospital is free to all applicants, without reference to religious belief. Patients who are able to pay, are charged $5 per week. The object of the Hospital is to secure to people of the Jewish faith, certain regulations in reference to diet and observance of the Sabbath which they cannot obtain in other institutions.

The Germantown Dispensary and Hospital, was organized for the purpose of furnishing medical aid and medicines to the poor of Germantown. We have no details in regard to this institution.



HOWARD HOSPITAL AND INFIRMARY FOR INCURABLES, PHILADELPHIA.

The Howard Hospital and Infirmary for Incurables, Philadelphia, has been in active operation for about twenty years, during which time many thousand sick poor have been treated. The building not being of sufficient size to meet the growing demands, it is expected that a large structure will soon be commenced. The working of this institution will be best seen by an extract from the report for the year ending March 1st, 1874. During the year, there have been received and registered at the dispensary of the Hospital, 6199 new patients. Of these, 6107 were whites, and 92 were colored; 2263 were males, and 3936 females; 3748 were adults, and 2451 minors. The Hospital is divided into nine departments, each of which has a separate physician, except that of surgery, which is in charge of two surgeons. The number of visits made to the dispensary during the year was 17,252. The cases treated are divided in classes as follows:

	Since the foundation, May 1st, 1853.	During the year, ending March 1st, 1874.
Diseases of the Digestive Organs	24,672	3,748
Diseases of the Chest and Throat	23,106	1,571
Diseases of the Nervous System	4,650	255
Diseases of the Eye and Ear	7,496	310
Diseases of Females, and Obstetrics	5,582	431
Diseases of the Skin	4,418	232
Vesico-Renal Affections	1,695	30
Fevers	11.756	769
Surgery	12,713	730
Teeth Extracted	6,589	451
Vaccination	2,395

The Women's Hospital of Philadelphia was mentioned in connection with the Woman's Medical College. A limited number of patients is received gratuitously, others are admitted on the payment of from one to five dollars per week. Invalids may also be accommodated with private rooms, and provided with attendance and nursing, at prices varying from six to twelve dollars per week. During the year 1873, 207 patients were received into the Hospital; 602 attended at their homes, 2044 treated in the dispensary. Of the in-door patients, 97 were cured, 87 improved, and 9 died. 41 children were born in the house, and 36 in the out-clinics.

Gynæcological Hospital and Infirmary for Diseases of Children, Philadelphia.—This institution has recently been established for the medical and surgical treatment of diseases peculiar to women, and also incident to childhood. This Hospital is supported entirely by voluntary contributions.

The State Lying-in Hospital and Infirmary for Diseases of Women, Philadelphia.—This Hospital was established in 1872, to provide a lying-in hospital, which shall be open for the reception and care of ANY woman who shall apply for admission, seeking a refuge during the perils of child-birth, and to relieve women suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex.

The Philadelphia Lying-in and Nurse Charity, was founded in 1828. "This institution is supported wholly by private subscriptions. Its objects are the training of nurses, and the assistance of poor and deserving women in child-bed. Medical aid is also afforded to women suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex." Clinics are held twice a week, and two courses of lectures on obstetrics and nursing are delivered to students annually. Several hundred obstetrical patients are treated in their own homes by the physicians of the institution every year. Trained nurses may be procured here to attend cases of confinement in private families.

The Preston Retreat, Philadelphia, was founded in 1836, and is supported by an income from estates left by the late Doctor Jonas Preston. This is a lying-in charity for married women of good character, but in indigent circumstances, who are near the time of their confinement, where they may be received and be provided with proper obstetric aid for their delivery, and with suitable attendance and comforts during the period of their convalescence. It has accommodations for about forty patients.

The Asylum for the Relief of Persons deprived of the Use of their Reason, Philadelphia, was founded in 1814, and "is an unincorporated institution, supported by members of the Society of Friends." Patients of all religious denominations are admitted to participation in its benefits. The building occupied by this Asylum is a very large and beautiful structure, fitted with all the modern improvements and situated in the midst of elegant grounds. Everything possible is done to interest and amuse the patients, and to provide healthful exercise for them. Since the opening to March 1st, 1874, 1776 patients received the benefits of this Asylum, 783 of whom recovered. During the year ending March 1st, 1874, 39 patients were received, making with those in the Asylum at the beginning of the year, 117. During the year 17 were cured and 11 improved.

Maison de Sante, Philadelphia, this is a private hospital for the treatment of spinal and nervous affections and deformities. We have no details in regard to this institution.

"Burn-Brae."—This is a private hospital for mental disorders, situated about six miles from Philadelphia, in Delaware county. "Burn-Brae" accommodates twenty patients of each sex. Though possessing all the safeguards and appliances of a public hospital, the arrangements are domestic and familiar, making this a home for its patients. This hospital is under the excellent care of R. A. Given, M. D.

The State Hospital for the Insane of the Northern District of Pennsylvania, at Danville.—The Hospital was opened for patients, November 6th, 1872, and from that date to September 30th, 1873, 210 patients were admitted, 138 males, 70 females. The number discharged during the same period was 31 males, 13 females, of whom 15 were restored, 8 improved, 9 stationary, 12 died. Leaving in the hospital on September 30th, 1873, 166 patients, 107 males, 59 females. The building when completed, will be 1143 feet long, and will consist of a centre structure, with a wing on each side three stories high, with transverse sections at the ends four stories in height. The exterior walls of the building are of stone rough-cast. The part completed and now in use is 477½ feet long in a straight line, and consists of the centre building and one longitudinal with a part of one transverse section of each wing. The centre building is 201 feet 10 inches deep by 60 feet wide, and four stories in height, except in front of the wing connections, where for 33½ feet it is five stories in height and 80 feet wide. In this building are seventy rooms used as offices and apartments for the superintendent, assistant medical officers, and for other purposes. "At one end of the chapel which is also designed for a lecture and concert room, is a small gallery to accommodate the dissolving apparatus to which the gases required for illumination are brought by iron pipe from a place convenient for their manufacture in the cellar.

"The wings are connected by porches enclosed with glass doors with each side of the centre building, one longitudinal section of three stories, 158 feet 9 inches by 38 feet 4 inches, and a transverse four story part 50 feet by 62 feet, are completed on each side, and occupied one by male and the other by female patients. The one hundred rooms of which each wing consists are mostly arranged on 12-foot wide corridors into wards, in such a manner that the patients in each have access to their sleeping, dining, sitting, clothing, washing and bath rooms, and water-closets, without leaving the corridors which form the means of communication between them. Seventy-five per cent. of the accommodation is in single rooms of 1000 cubic feet of air space each, and supplied with a warm and foul air flue. The ceilings are all 12 feet in the clear." The boiler and engine-house, situated 150 feet to the rear of the main building, cover 12,186 square feet. The ventilating, heating and lighting apparatus of this Hospital cannot be excelled.

The United States Naval Asylum, at Philadelphia, was founded in 1835, and is constructed of white marble, with a front of 380 feet. A few years ago a large brick hospital building was erected about 150 feet west of the Asylum. These buildings are in the midst of extensive grounds tastefully laid out, and kept in the best order.

The Pennsylvania State Lunatic Hospital, at Harrisburgh, was opened for the reception of patients in 1851. During the year ending September 30th, 1873, 87 males, and 71 females were admitted. The number discharged during the same period was 217; males 119, females 98, of whom 40 were restored, 31 improved, 112 stationary, and 34 died. The number in the hospital on September 30th, 1873, was 408; males, 216, females, 192. The whole number under treatment during the year was 625.

The Western Pennsylvania Hospital, at Dixmont, near Pittsburgh, was opened in 1856. This is a general hospital, having also a department for the insane. The building of the latter department is 345 feet long, and consists of a main centre building of 62 feet front by 131 feet deep, with a wing 142 feet long by 38 feet deep on each side; the central building is four stories high, arranged for the accommodation of the superintendent and his assistants, and containing the chapel, etc. The wings are three stories high, and are arranged entirely for the use of the patients, with separate dormitories, and parlors, and dining-rooms. This building was completed in 1860, and is capable of accommodating 280 patients.

We have no information in regard to the following institutions at Pittsburgh, viz: the Mercy Hospital, the German Catholic Hospital (St. Franciscus Hospital?), or the Pittsburgh Infirmary.

The Philadelphia Dispensary was founded in 1786, and is supported by private contributions and by income from investments. This Dispensary was established to afford medical, surgical and obstetrical aid to the deserving poor in the old city proper. During the year ending December 1st, 1873, 13,956 patients were treated, distributed as follows: house and district cases, 12,290; obstetrical, 333; eye, 913; ear, 420.

The Northern Dispensary of Philadelphia, for the Medical Relief of the Poor.—This institution was chartered in 1817, and is supported in the same manner as the Philadelphia Dispensary. During the year ending December 1st, 1872, 10,420 patients were treated, of whom 10,274 were cured and 60 died; 34 confinement cases were attended.

The Southern Dispensary for the Medical Relief of the Poor was founded March 24th, 1817, and is supported by donations, private subscriptions, and a fund. We have no information in regard to the number of patients treated by this Dispensary.

The Dispensary for Skin Diseases was incorporated in 1871, and has for its object the relief of the poor afflicted with skin affections. During the year 1873, 441 patients were treated, of whom 121 were cured, 194 relieved, 82 failed to report the result, and 44 were still under treatment June 1st, 1874.

The Philadelphia Infirmary for Diseases of the Ear was incorporated September 23d, 1873, and opened for service March 30th, 1874. This infirmary is devoted exclusively to diseases of the ear, and is supported by voluntary contributions. During the months of April and May, 1874, 100 poor patients were treated here.

The Philadelphia Eye and Ear Infirmary was incorporated in 1869, and is open for gratuitous treatment of the poor affected with diseases of the eye and ear. During the year 1872, 45 patients were admitted and 762 out patients treated.

The Philadelphia Throat and Ear Clinic.—This is an unincorporated institution, supported by private contributions.

We have no information in regard to the Protestant Episcopal Mission Medical Dispensary of Philadelphia, the new Hospital for the Insane in process of erection at Warren, or the proposed Miner's Hospital in Schuylkill county.

The Homœopathic Hospital.—The report of this Hospital from January 1st, 1873, to January 1st, 1874, shows that the whole number of patients received was 186. Accident cases, 103; surgical cases, not including accidents, 41; cured, 133; improved, 30; died, 6.

The Homœopathic Hospital and Dispensary of Pittsburgh.—In addition to the public wards there are several private rooms, the patients in which "may, at their option, employ a physician of either school or practice." During the year ending March 31st, 1873, 282 patients were admitted; 69.84 per cent. were cured. Many of these patients were charity cases.

We are indebted to the "Philadelphia Medical Register and Directory," by Dr. John H. Packard, for information in regard to several medical institutions of that city.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

No person is allowed to commence or continue the practice of medicine or surgery in the counties of Indiana, Perry, Juniata, Bucks, Northampton, Lehigh, Elk—except Ridgway and Ridgway township—Cumberland, Cameron, Clearfield, Montour, and Fulton, who has not graduated with the degree of doctor of medicine, and received a diploma from a chartered medical college or other institution authorized to grant diplomas. But these provisions do not apply to persons who have been in continuous practice for eight years, nor to persons who have read medicine under the instruction of a physician or surgeon qualified to practise under this act, when such persons have the assent of their preceptor to practise.

Any person who shall practise or attempt to practise medicine or surgery, or shall prescribe for any sick person, or perform any surgical operation for fee or reward, in violation of the preceding section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined from one to five hundred dollars.—Brightly's Purdon's Dig. (1873), p. 1150; Act April 15, 1869, secs. 1, 2.

The same provisions and qualifications as are contained in sec. 1 of Act of April 15, 1869 (supra), apply to the counties of Dauphin, Chester, Carbon, Luzerne, Mercer, Erie, Blair, Bradford, Sullivan, Crawford, Beaver, Monroe, Washington, Venango, Lycoming, Huntington, Schuylkill, Lawrence, Somerset, Philadelphia, York, Union, and Adams. But persons who have been in continuous practice for ten years, and medical students whose preceptors are qualified under this Act to practise, provided such students do not locate offices or places of business outside the office of their preceptors respectively, are not prohibited by these provisions from practising.—Ibid., p. 1151, sec. 5; Act March 31, 1870, sec. 1.

Any person who shall attempt to practise medicine or surgery by opening a transient office in any of the aforesaid counties, or who shall by handbill or other form of written or printed advertisement assign any place to meet persons seeking medical or surgical advice or prescription, shall, before being allowed to practise, appear before the clerk of the courts of the county, and furnish satisfactory evidence to him that the provisions of the foregoing acts have been complied with, and shall also take out a license for one year by payment of a license fee of $200.

These provisions do not apply to druggists nor dentists, nor to physicians or surgeons who commence practice in any of the aforesaid counties with the intention of remaining permanently.

Any one who shall violate any of these provisions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by fine of from $200 to $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the court.—Ibid., p. 1151; Act April 15, 1869, secs. 3, 4; and Act March 31, 1870, secs. 2, 3.

Any public officer in the city of Philadelphia and county of Allegheny who has charge of or control over the bodies of deceased persons who require to be buried at the public expense, may deliver such remains to physicians and surgeons in the aforesaid places, to be used by them, within this State, for the advancement of medical science, but preference shall be given to medical schools, public and private. But the remains of any person who requested, during his last sickness, to be buried, or whose kindred requested the body for burial, or who was a stranger or traveller, shall be buried and not handed over. Any physician or surgeon who receives a body must give to the authorities, who surrender the same to him, a sufficient bond that the remains shall be used for the promotion of medical science and in this State only; and whoever uses a body for any other purpose, or removes it outside the State, or in any way buys, sells, or traffics in such bodies, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, at hard labor, in the county jail.—Ibid., p. 1151, sec. 8; Act March 18, 1867, secs. 1, 2.

Any person who produces the death of any woman or infant, in procuring the miscarriage of the woman in any way, is guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, and imprisonment, at separate and solitary confinement at labor, not exceeding seven years.

Any person who attempts to procure, in any way, the abortion of any woman, is guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by fine not exceeding $500, and imprisonment, by separate and solitary confinement at hard labor, not exceeding three years.—Ibid., p. 341, secs. 134, 135.

Any person who shall print or publish, or cause to be printed or published, in any newspaper in this State, any advertisement of any secret drug or nostrum purporting to be for the use of females; or any druggist or other person who shall sell, keep for sale, or give away any such drug or nostrum; or any person who shall, by printing or writing, or in any other way, publish an account or description of any drug, medicine, instrument or apparatus for the purpose of preventing conception, or procuring abortion; or shall, by writing or printing, or by circular, newspaper, pamphlet or book, or in any way, publish or circulate any obscene notice; or shall, within this State, keep for sale or distribution any secret drug, nostrum, or medicine, for the purpose of preventing conception or procuring abortion or miscarriage; such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by fine not exceeding $1000, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both, at the discretion of the court. These provisions do not affect teaching in regularly chartered medical colleges, or the publication of standard medical works.—Ibid., p. 330, sec. 76; Act March 16, 1870.

No apothecary, druggist, or other person, is allowed to sell or dispose of, at retail, any morphia, strychnia, arsenic, prussic acid, or corrosive sublimate, except upon the prescription of a physician, or the personal application of some respectable inhabitant of full age, of the town or place in which such sale may be made; and in all cases, the word "poison" must be legibly marked on the label, package, or vessel in which the poison is contained. In case of a sale not on a physician's prescription, the vender must note in a register the name and residence of the buyer, the quantity sold, and the date of the sale. Any one who violates this act is liable to a fine of not more than $50.—Ibid., p. 335, sec. 100; Act March 31, 1860.

REGULATIONS FOR THE LICENSING OF APOTHECARIES IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA.

The Pharmaceutical Examining Board in the City of Philadelphia consists of five skilful and competent pharmacists, who are appointed by the Mayor for the term of three years, and who are required to take an oath before the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions for Philadelphia county, that they will faithfully discharge their duties.

This Board is required to keep a book of registration, which shall contain the name and address of every person who is qualified under this act to conduct the retail apothecary business. And all retail apothecaries who were conducting business at the time of the passage of this act, or who may hereafter conduct business, are required to appear before the Board and be registered.

It is the duty of the Board to examine all persons who desire to conduct the retail apothecary, or drug business, and if satisfied of their qualifications, to grant a certificate, upon payment of $5, which shall entitle the holder to carry on such business. Any one who conducts the retail drug or apothecary business without a certificate, is liable to a penalty of $100 for each and every week during the period he shall so conduct his business.

The provisions of this act, except so far as they relate to registration, do not apply to or affect any person who has received a diploma or certificate from any incorporated college or school of pharmacy, whose diploma is based upon a regular term of service in the drug or apothecary business, or who has been engaged in such business prior to the passage of this act.

No person, not a graduate in pharmacy, is allowed to compound or dispense the prescriptions of physicians (except under the immediate supervision of the proprietor of the store, or his qualified assistant), unless he has been at least two years in a store where medicines are compounded, and has attended one full course of lectures on chemistry, materia medica, and pharmacy; and no proprietor shall leave his store in charge of any but a qualified assistant,—that is, one who is a graduate in pharmacy, whose diploma is based upon a regular term of service in the drug or apothecary business, and has been obtained from an incorporated college or school of pharmacy; or one who holds a certificate from the Pharmaceutical Examining Board. Any one who violates the provisions of this section is liable to a penalty of $100.

Any person who shall, in any way, adulterate any drug or preparation used for medicinal purposes, is liable to a penalty of $500.

Nothing in this act prevents practitioners of medicine, who do not keep open shop for retailing drugs, etc., from administering or supplying to their patients such articles as they may deem proper, nor affects the owners of, or dealers in, patent medicines.—Ibid., p. 70, sec. 1–11; Act April 4, 1872.

Vendors of patent medicines must be licensed.—Ibid., p. 1129; Act April 10, 1849.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF RHODE ISLAND.

Roger Williams, expelled from Massachusetts for maintaining opinions for which the minds of men were not yet prepared, settled at the mouth of the Pawtucket River, in 1636. Feeling that he had been mercifully led by a higher power, he, in grateful acknowledgment, called the place Providence. In 1638, a number of settlers from Massachusetts purchased Aquidneck, the "Isle of Peace," from the Indians, and called it Rhode Island, because of the fancied resemblance to the Isle of Rhodes, in the Mediterranean Sea. The "United Government of Providence, Newport, and Portsmouth," was established in 1647, under a patent from England. This patent continued in force until 1663, when a charter was granted by Charles II., incorporating the colony of "Rhode Island and Providence Plantations." "The people of Rhode Island were early and active participants in the War of the Revolution, and many spots within her borders tell thrilling tales of the stirring incidents of those memorable days."

Being one of the original thirteen States, Rhode Island ratified the Constitution May 29th, 1790. The country is pleasantly varied with hill and dale, has numerous small lakes and streams, and many small islands in Narragansett Bay. This Bay occupies a great portion of the area of the State, and is considered to be one of the most beautiful bodies of water in America. The Pawtucket is the principal stream. Iron is found in several places, coal is mined on Rhode Island; limestone, marble, and serpentine abound. Salt is manufactured on the seacoast. This State has an area of 1306 square miles, and in 1870 contained 217,353 inhabitants. The number of physicians and surgeons, as given by the census of 1870, is 260. One quarter of the annual number of deaths is caused by phthisis. There are no mineral springs, used for medicinal purposes, in the State.

HOSPITALS.

The Rhode Island Hospital, at Providence, was opened October 1st, 1868. The Hospital is beautifully located in the midst of elegant grounds, and "the building displays great architectural beauty; it is of the Lombardo-Italian Gothic style, and in the hands of the architect, all that exquisite grace and beauty of which this style, from its inherent quality, is susceptible, have been combined with the most thorough and perfect details of a Hospital. The ventilation approaches nearer perfection, perhaps, than in any building of the kind yet constructed, and the arrangements for the comfort and hygienic wants of the patients, as well as for the convenient, quiet, and efficient administration of the hospital, have never been surpassed. The hospital building is 410 feet long, and consists of pavilion buildings, three stories high, extending from the opposite sides of a central building, and connected with it by corridors of corresponding height." Each pavilion contains two public wards and six private rooms. A number of beds are free. The plan of the building is so arranged that two pavilions similar to those already erected may be added at any time, thereby doubling the capacity of the Hospital at a comparative small cost. During the year ending September 30th, 1872, 453 patients received the benefits of this institution. Of this number 230 were cured, 85 relieved, and 27 died. 2163 out patients received treatment during the same year. An illustrated account of this Hospital will be found in the "New York Medical Journal," November, 1868.

The Butler Hospital for the Insane, at Providence, was opened for the reception of patients December 1st, 1847. The building is a very elegant structure, situated in the midst of 140 acres of ground. The Hospital possesses a large library, and many other means to afford patients an opportunity for the healthful exercise of mind and body. During the year 1872, 237 patients were under treatment, 37 of whom recovered, 35 were improved, and 16 died. Since the opening of the Hospital, 1756 patients have been treated within its walls. Of this number 601 recovered, 448 were discharged improved, and 343 died.

MEDICAL LAWS OF RHODE ISLAND.

Upon the death of any person in the State of Rhode Island, it shall be the duty of the physician who attended during the last sickness, to leave, within forty-eight hours after the death, with the family of the deceased, or with the person who had charge of the deceased, or with the undertaker or person who conducts the funeral, a certificate, stating the name of the deceased, the date of his death, and the disease or cause of death.—Gen. Laws, 1872, p. 181, ch. 77, sec. 6.

All physicians must make annual returns before the first Monday in March, stating the number of births and deaths that have occurred in their practice. The certificate of birth must contain the date, place, and time of birth, the name and sex of the child, whether living or still-born; the names, surnames, color, occupation, residence, and birth-place of the parents, and the time of the recording.

The certificate of death, the date of the death, the name and surname, sex, color, condition (whether married or single), age, occupation, and place of death of deceased; also, the names and places of birth of the parents of the deceased; the disease, or cause of death, and the time of the recording.

Every physician or surgeon who shall refuse or neglect to do any act lawfully required by any town council to prevent the spread of the small-pox, when the performance of the duty or act is in his power, shall be guilty of an offence, and liable to a fine of $40.—Ibid., p. 175, sec. 22.

A physician who does not keep an open shop for the retailing, dispensing, or compounding of medicines or poisons, is not prevented from administering to, or supplying his patients, such articles as he may deem fit and proper, by anything contained in the Act which regulates the selling of medicines and poisons.—Ibid., p. 255.

Physicians are exempt from jury and military service.—Ibid., p. 430.

Any physician, surgeon, or assistant surgeon, who shall take any gratuity whatever from any person, for a certificate of inability to perform military duty on account of bodily infirmities, or shall grant any such certificate except after a critical examination, and unless such infirmity or inability shall, beyond a doubt, render the applicant unable to perform military duty, shall be fined $50.—Ibid., p. 623.

Every person who, with intent to procure the miscarriage of any pregnant woman, or woman supposed by such person to be pregnant, shall administer to, or cause to be taken by her, any poison or other noxious thing, or shall use any instrument whatever, or shall aid, assist, or counsel any person who intends to procure miscarriage, shall be imprisoned from five to twenty years if the woman die in consequence of such treatment; and from one to seven years if she does not die. If, however, the treatment to procure miscarriage is necessary to preserve life, no person who procures, or aids in procuring the miscarriage, is liable to the penalties of this Act. Nor is the woman, whose miscarriage has been caused, or attempted, to be visited with these penalties.—Ibid., p. 541.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

For the history of this region prior to the Revolutionary War we refer the reader to page 568. During the Revolution this State was often the scene of warfare, terminated by the victory of Eutaw Springs, in 1781. South Carolina, as one of the original thirteen States, ratified the Constitution May 23d, 1788. The area of the State is 34,000 square miles, and according to the census of 1870 the population is 705,606. The number of physicians and surgeons, as given by the same authority, is 789. Phthisis is the cause of five per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The coast for one hundred miles from the ocean is covered with forests of pitch pine, with swampy tracts here and there. Beyond this is a parallel belt of territory, called the middle country, consisting of low sand hills, occasionally presenting an oasis of verdure. "The middle country is bounded by another belt of land called the ridge, where the country rises by a steep and sudden elevation, and afterwards continues to gradually ascend. Beyond, the surface exhibits a beautiful alternation of hill and dale, interspersed with extensive forests and watered by pleasant streams. There are a few lofty mountains in the western part belonging to the Blue Ridge. Table Mountain, in this chain, rises to the height of 4000 feet above the level of the sea." The rivers of this State have a general direction from northwest to southeast, and empty into the Atlantic Ocean. The Great Pedee river is navigable by steamboat 120 miles. The Santee, the largest river in the State, is formed by the union of the Wateree and the Congaree. The Savannah river separates this State from Georgia. There are a number of islands on the coast, and several harbors, that of Port Royal being "sufficient to receive a navy." The mineral resources of South Carolina are inconsiderable. Gold is found in the western part of the State, and iron ore is wrought in the same section. Granite and porcelain clay are abundant. The principal vegetable productions are cotton and rice.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

Charleston Artesian Well.—The Well is 1250 feet deep, and the flow is estimated to be twenty gallons per minute. It is an alkaline-saline water, and is principally used internally.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (87° Fahr., Professor C. U. Shephard, Jr.):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	7.353	Silica	0.002
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.001	Organic Matter	0.003
Carbonate of Calcium	0.140
Chloride of Sodium	9.459	Total	16.959
Phosphates of Calcium, Iron, Aluminum.	0.001

Carbonic Acid Gas	0.28

Glenn Springs are in Spartanburg district. Professor C. U. Shephard of Charleston has found that the water contains the sulphates of magnesium and calcium, carbonate of calcium and sulphuretted hydrogen. Their situation is pleasant, salubrious and healthful. The water is particularly beneficial in dyspepsia. A few miles from this place there is a chalybeate spring which has acquired some local reputation.

Chick's Springs, in Greenville District.—The water of one of these Springs is sulphurous, and is used for diseases of the liver and skin. The other Spring is chalybeate.

The Springs at Williamstown, on the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, are supposed to have a tonic and alterative effect.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Medical College of South Carolina, at Charleston, received its charter in 1832. The college building is spacious and well adapted for a class of between two and three hundred. There is a good museum of anatomy and pathology, collection of wax models, etc. The chemical laboratory is admirably well provided with apparatus. The dissecting room is capacious and well arranged, detached from the main building. The course of instruction is chiefly didactic, and covers a period of five months, beginning the middle of October of each year. There are ten professors in the faculty; $30 covers all the expenses for one course of lectures, and this amount is only charged to pay the current expenses of the College.

The School of Medicine of the University of South Carolina, at Columbia, was organized in 1866. Instruction is given by four professors. The scholastic year is of forty weeks' duration. The fees are: matriculation, $5; professors' tickets, $50; graduation, $15. We have no further information in regard to this school.

HOSPITALS.

The State Asylum for the Insane, at Columbia, was opened for the reception of patients in 1828. The Hospital accommodates about one hundred patients.

Charleston City Hospital is a flourishing institution, capable of accommodating 300 patients.

MEDICAL LAWS OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

It is unlawful for any person, who has not attended a full course of instruction and graduated from some school of medicine, situated either in the United States or some foreign country, or who cannot produce a certificate of qualification from some State medical society, or who is not a person of good moral character, to practise or prescribe medicine for reward or compensation for any sick person in this State. But any one who has been engaged in the practice of medicine for ten or more years continuously, and can produce a certificate to that effect, signed either by some physician of good standing or by three citizens, one of whom is authorized to administer an oath according to law, shall be considered to have complied with the requirements of this law.—Rev. Stat. 1873, p. 227, ch. 32, sec. 1.

No person who has violated any of the provisions of the preceding section shall be allowed to recover any compensation for the medical or surgical services he has rendered. But practitioners of dentistry and female practitioners of midwifery are not prohibited from recovering compensation for their services.—Ibid., sec. 2.

All persons now practising, or who may hereafter practise, medicine or surgery as hereinbefore provided, shall be entitled to charge and collect compensation for their services in the same manner as graduates of the Medical College of South Carolina.—Ibid., sec. 3.

No apothecary within this State is permitted to vend or expose to sale any drugs or medicines, unless he has previously obtained a license from the trustees and faculty of the Medical College of South Carolina.—Ibid., sec. 4.

The following compensation shall be allowed to physicians who make a post-mortem examination or testify as experts: where the death is the result of violence, $10; when a chemical analysis is required, $50.—Ibid., sec. 6.

The county commissioners are authorized to appoint physicians to visit the indigent sick. Half price only shall be charged for such services.—Ibid., p. 155.

Any person, except practitioners of dentistry or female practitioners of midwifery, living in or coming into this State, who shall practise medicine in any of its departments, or perform or attempt to perform any surgical operation upon any person within this State in violation of the provisions of sec. 1, ch. 32, as above, shall be fined for the first offence from $50 to $100, and for the second offence, in addition to the above fine, shall be imprisoned ninety days in the jail of the county where the offence was committed.—Ibid., p. 737.

The graduates of the school of medicine in the University of South Carolina, upon whom the trustees have conferred the degree of M. D., are authorized to practise medicine.—Ibid., p. 259.

Regularly licensed physicians and surgeons in practice, are exempt from jury service.—Ibid., p. 520.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF TENNESSEE.

THIS region was ceded to the general government by the State of North Carolina, February 25th, 1790, and, with Kentucky and a portion of Alabama and Mississippi, formed the territory south of the river Ohio. The State of Tennessee was admitted into the Union June 1st, 1796. Tennessee covers an area of 45,600 square miles, and presents much diversity of surface. Several ridges of the Appalachian chain traverse the eastern section; "the central portion of the State is less bold in outline, and the surface imperceptibly declines by gradations from a region overspread with hills and swells of ever-changing and varying elevation and character, to a rolling country of excellent fertility, and watered by innumerable streams, affluents of its great rivers, the Cumberland and Tennessee. Between the Tennessee and the Mississippi, in the west, the surface is nearly level, the general evenness being interrupted only by the courses of the low watersheds dividing the tributaries of the two rivers, or by alternations of woodland and prairie." Several noble rivers and a great number of smaller streams furnish ample water-ways, mill power, and means of irrigation. The principal river is the Tennessee, which is formed by the union of the Clinch and Holston rivers, and, after flowing through the eastern section, enters the State of Alabama again to flow through Tennessee, then passing through Kentucky and emptying into the Mississippi river. The Mississippi washes the western border for 160 miles. The Cumberland, although it has both its source and mouth in Kentucky, flows through Tennessee for about 250 miles. The Hatchie, the Duck, the Elk, and the Hiawassee are considerable streams. Iron, gold, lead, copper, coal, and salt are the most valuable mineral productions. Iron occurs in all the State east of the Tennessee river. Coal is found in the Cumberland Mountains. Marble, nitrous earth, and other useful minerals are found. By the census of 1870, the State was found to contain 1,258,520 inhabitants, 2220 of whom were physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of 5½ per cent. of the annual number of deaths.*

MINERAL SPRINGS OF TENNESSEE.

Beersheba Springs are in Grundy county, twelve miles by stage from McMinnville. This is said to be a fine chalybeate water. These Springs are beautifully situated "near the summit of a spur of one of the Cumberland Mountains." The thermometer seldom indicates a temperature of 80° in the hottest summer months. The Beersheba Springs Hotel is open for the reception of guests.

Montvale Springs. These Springs are in Blount county, nine miles by stage, from Maryville.

The water is said to be of service "in many of the dyspeptic depravities, and generally in the chronic disorders of the abdominal and pelvic viscera, they are used with great success." These springs are beautifully situated among the mountains, and possess many attractions for visitors. There are abundant hotel accommodations.

A Sulphur Spring is found about three miles from Montvale.

White's Creek Springs, are twelve miles from Nashville. The water contains sulphur, iron and magnesia, and is said to be of service in cutaneous and calculous affections.

Robertson's Spring, twenty miles from Nashville, is a saline water.

Winchester Springs.—These springs are four miles from the town of Winchester, in Franklin county. There are four springs at this place, viz: Red and White Sulphur, Chalybeate and Freestone.

Allisona Springs are four miles from, and "resemble the Winchester Springs in quality, and promise to be of equal medicinal value."

Tate's Springs in Granger county, are saline-chalybeate waters.

Lee's Springs, twenty miles east of Knoxville. The water of two of these Springs is sulphurous, and that of another is chalybeate.

The other mineral springs in the State are: the Alum Springs near Rogersville, in Hawkins county; the numerous Sulphur Springs near Bean's station, and in other portions of Granger county; and the Warm Springs on French Broad River, near the North Carolina line, Red Sulphur in Macon county, Hurricane near Tullahoma, etc.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS.

The Medical Department of the University of Nashville was organized in 1850. The regular session commences on the last Monday in September, and continues five months. There are nine professors and a demonstrator of anatomy in the faculty. Lectures are delivered, and clinics are held daily. The student is examined every day upon the lectures of the previous day. This school possesses a fine museum. In addition to the clinics at the College, clinical instruction is given at St. Vincent's Hospital, the Nashville Infirmary, and the State Prison Hospital. Several prizes are offered to students. The fees are: matriculation and general ticket, $55; dissecting ticket, $10; graduation, $30.

The Memphis Medical College, otherwise known as the Medical Department of Cumberland University, was organized in 1872. There are ten Professors in the Faculty. The regular session commences about the middle of October, and continues thirty weeks. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $60; graduation, $30.

We have no information in regard to the Medical Department of East Tennessee University at Knoxville.

HOSPITAL AND INFIRMARY.

The Tennessee State Hospital for the Insane, near Nashville, was opened for the reception of patients March 1st, 1852. To the philanthropist, Miss D. L. Dix, belongs the honor of having taken the first steps to secure the erection of this Hospital. The Hospital is situated upon a beautiful farm, containing 255 acres, six miles from Nashville. The building, as originally erected, was 320 feet long, and consisted of a centre structure 98 feet deep, and four stories high, with wings, the bodies of which were three, and the extremities four stories high. The building is embellished with octagonal towers, which are placed on the corners of the centre building and wings, rising eight feet above the battlements, which range from tower to tower around the whole building. From the centre building rises an octagonal tower, fifteen feet in diameter, which ascends twenty-five feet above the roof, terminating in battlements, and giving an elevation to the building of seventy feet. In 1854, and again in 1870, wings were added to the building, giving it a present capacity of nearly 400 beds. The Hospital is well ventilated, heated, and supplied with spring water.

During the fifteen months ending January 1st, 1873, 503 patients were treated in this Hospital, of this number 68 recovered, 23 improved, and 32 died. Since the opening of the Hospital to the same date, 1858 patients received its benefits. The greater number of patients are supported by the State, but pay patients are also received. We are indebted to Dr. J. H. Callender, the Superintendent, for our information in regard to this Hospital.

The State Legislature has passed an act for the erection of an Insane Hospital in East Tennessee, and appropriated $75,000 for that purpose.

The citizens of Knoxville propose soon to erect a Hospital in that city.

The Nashville Infirmary and St. Vincent's Hospital, at Nashville, are known to us by name only.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF TEXAS.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF TEXAS.

THE name of this State is said to be derived from an Indian word meaning beautiful. Texas was a portion of the Mexican Republic until 1836, when it declared itself independent. In 1844, the Republic of Texas applied for admission as a State. By joint resolution of December 29th, 1845, Texas was admitted into the Union as a State. The State possesses an area of 274,356 square miles, and, according to the census of 1870, had in that year a population of 818,579. The number of physicians and surgeons, as given by the same authority, is 1906. Phthisis is the cause of five per cent. of the annual number of deaths. Texas may be divided into three physical districts or regions, each of which in many respects is entirely different from the others. These are the level, the undulating, and the hilly and mountain regions, or, the lower, middle, and upper districts. The level region occupies the entire coast, extending from thirty to sixty miles into the interior. The undulating succeeds this, and embraces the whole of the interior and north, and reaches westward to the mountain tract. The mountains and table lands are generally some 200 miles distant from the level regions, and cover the greater portion of northwestern Texas, on the confines of New Mexico. Numerous outliers of the Rocky Mountain chain are found in the western part of the State, but they do not attain any great elevation. Texas possesses a large extent of coast on the Gulf of Mexico, and has many fine harbors, that of Galveston being the best. The interior is well supplied with magnificent rivers and many small streams. The Red river bounds the State in part upon the north, and furnishes an outlet to the great Mississippi. The Sabine and the Neches, which flow into Sabine Lake, empty into the Gulf of Mexico by the Sabine Pass. The Colorado, the Brazos, the Trinity, the Rio Nueces, and the Rio Pecos are large navigable streams. The Rio Grande, which well deserves its name, separates this State from Mexico. Iron ore, lead, copper, alum, coal, salt, fine building stone, and excellent timber are abundantly found. Gold, silver, and precious stones are obtained in some parts of the State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF TEXAS.

Piedmont Springs are in Grimes county, six miles and a-half, by stage, from Millican. The water has not been analyzed. There are abundant hotel accommodations.

There are many other Mineral Springs in Texas, but we do not know of their having been used for medicinal purposes.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF TEXAS.

The Texas Medical College and Hospital was formerly known as the "Galveston Medical College and Hospital," and was organized in 1864, and reorganized in 1873. Instruction is given by seven professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The candidate for a professorship in this school must pass an examination before a Board of Examiners appointed by the trustees. The winter session commences on the third Monday in November, and continues four months. Clinical instruction is given at the City Hospital, and St. Mary's Infirmary. The fees are: matriculation, $5; lecture tickets, $140; demonstrator's ticket, $10; graduation, $30.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The State Hospital for the Insane, at Austin, was opened in 1860, and is capable of accommodating about seventy-five patients. We have no details in regard to this Hospital.

The Galveston City Hospital.—From May 1st, 1873, to March 1st, 1874, 1297 patients were treated in this Hospital. Of this number, 1194 were cured, and 86 died; 57 of these patients were natives of the State of Texas, 351 of the other States of the Union, and 889 from twenty-five foreign countries.

We are indebted to Charles Ganhal, M. D., the Physician in charge, for the above information.

MEDICAL SOCIETIES OF TEXAS.

See Supplement, page 780.

MEDICAL LAWS OF TEXAS.

Physicians and surgeons are exempt from jury service.—Paschal's Laws (1870), p. 673, art. 3975.

If any person, who is engaged in the practice of medicine, and claims to be a physician, shall, by the use of any noxious substance administered in a grossly ignorant manner, produce death or great bodily injury, he shall be punished as any one would be who administered such substance knowing it to be injurious, or intended to kill or injure.—Ibid., p. 447, art. 2201.

Any one who designedly produces abortion upon a pregnant woman, with her consent, is liable to imprisonment for a term of from two to five years, and if without her consent, his term of imprisonment shall be double. Any person who knowingly furnishes the means to produce an abortion, is guilty as an accomplice. Any person who occasions the death of the woman in producing an abortion, is guilty of murder. Any person who destroys the vitality of a child, which otherwise would have been born alive, shall be imprisoned for a period of not less than five years, or for life. Persons who produce abortion by medical advice, to save life, are not liable to these penalties.—Ibid., p. 447, art. 2192, etc.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE TERRITORY OF UTAH.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF UTAH TERRITORY.

This region was a portion of the Mexican cession of 1848. The Territory of Utah was formed by the Act of September 9, 1850, and included portions of country now in Colorado, Wyoming, and Nevada. The present area of the Territory is 84,476 square miles, and the population, as determined by the census of 1870, is 86,786. According to the same authority, there are 46 physicians in the Territory. Phthisis is the cause of six per cent. of the annual number of deaths.

The Wasatch Mountains intersect the Territory "from northeast to southwest, dividing it into two unequal parts; that west of the range being the smaller, and included within the 'Great Basin,' the eastern division forming part of the basin drained by the Colorado of the West. The general elevation of its lakes and valleys is from 4000 to 6000 feet above the level of the sea. The mountain ranges, traversing its surface, rise from 2000 to 7000 feet above the adjacent valleys, the highest peaks being covered with snow throughout the year." West of the mountains there are many saline and fresh-water lakes without any visible outlet. The largest of these is "Great Salt Lake," which is the purest natural brine on the surface of the Globe, and holds in solution twenty-five per cent. of common salt. No fish are found in this lake. Lake Utah is the next in size, and its pure fresh water abounds in speckled trout of large size. The principal rivers of this section are the Jordan, the Bear, the Sevier, and the Virgin. The eastern section "contains no lakes, its entire water system being composed of the Colorado of the West, and its tributaries, including Grand, Green, San Juan, and White Rivers. These rivers frequently intersect the mountain ridges of the country, running in cañons of immense depth, with nearly vertical sides; debouching from these cañons as the lower plains are reached, the streams become broad and shallow, running in beds but slightly depressed below the surface of the earth, and sometimes dividing their waters into numerous rivulets, which wind over the surface of broad fertile meadows, irrigating the soil and producing luxuriant vegetation. The celebrated 'Grand Cañon' of the Colorado commences in Utah, below the magnificent valley in which the Green and Grand rivers unite, to form the Colorado, and extends a distance of over 400 miles into Arizona and Nevada, with vertical walls rising from 500 to 1500 feet above the surface of the stream; the exterior banks of the cañon being from 2500 to 4000 feet above the bed of the river." (Land Office Report, 1869, page 169.) Although the surface is such as we have described, there are many valleys which can hardly be surpassed for beauty and fertility. The timber lands cover about 2,000,000 acres, and fine building stone is easily obtained.

Red hematite iron ore occurs in almost inexhaustible deposits, and of superior quality. Bituminous coal is found in several counties. Rock salt is abundant; gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, sulphur, potassic carbonate, alum, and borax are found.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF UTAH.

Salt Lake Hot Springs.—These Springs are situated about a mile from Salt Lake City, and the "waters are conveyed by pipes into bathing-houses within the city." This is a hot sulphur water, and is of service in cutaneous diseases and chronic rheumatism. We give the constituents as determined by Drs. Rogers and Jackson:

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Calcium	0.447	Sulphate of Sodium	0.692
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.447	Peroxide of Iron	0.021
Chloride of Sodium	2.443
Chloride of Magnesium	0.066	Total	4.235
Chloride of Calcium	0.566

Two miles north of these Springs there is a group of Springs, having a temperature of 128°.

There are many other Mineral Springs in this Territory; the following may be mentioned: Ten Springs at the mouth of Ogden Cañon, near Ogden City, having a temperature of 121°, and containing iron and carbonates; fourteen Springs ten miles from Ogden City, having a temperature of about 136°; and ten others at the same place, having the same temperature, containing chloride of sodium, iron, lime, the carbonates of magnesium, and evolving carbonic acid gas.

Twelve miles north of Brigham City there are nine Springs, eight of which contain chloride of sodium, carbonates, and carbonic acid gas. The other Spring contains the chloride of sodium, lime, carbonate of iron, and carbonic acid gas. The temperature of these Springs varies from 60° to 134° Fahr.

These Springs, and several others, are fully described in the Reports of the U. S. Geological Survey of the Territories, but as we are not aware of their having been used for medicinal purposes, we refer the reader to those interesting volumes.

We do not know of any Medical Institutions or Societies in the Territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF VERMONT.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF VERMONT.

This region was peopled from the neighboring States, Fort Dummer (Brattleboro'), on the Connecticut river, being the first white settlement. "Vermont received its name from the French verd mont (green mountain), indicative of the mountainous nature of the State." This name was first officially recognized January 16, 1777. The State was formed in 1790, from territory claimed by New York, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, with its present area of 10,212 square miles. According to the census of 1870, the State had a population of 330,551, among whom there were 569 physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of 25 per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The most striking feature of the State is the mountainous range known as the Green Mountains, which traverse the State from north to south. "In the centre of the State, this range is divided into two, of which the one called the Height of Land runs northeasterly to Canada, and the other, taking a northwesterly direction, sinks down in the northern part of the State. The former divides the streams of Lakes Champlain and Memphremagog, from the tributaries of the Connecticut; while the latter, though loftier, presents a more broken outline, and is cut through by several rivers. The part of the ridge which traverses the southern portion of the State is the dividing line between the waters that flow into the Hudson and those that empty themselves into the Connecticut. The Green Mountains are from ten to fifteen miles wide, much intersected with valleys, and they derive their name from their perpetual verdure, their sides being covered with small evergreen trees and shrubs, and their summits with green moss and winter grass. The highest summits are Mansfield Mountain, 4430 feet above the level of the sea, Camel's Hump, 4188 feet high, both in the northwestern ridge, and Killington Peak, 4221 feet. Ascutney, a single elevation near Windsor, is 3320 feet above tide-water." The Connecticut river and its branches drain the eastern portion of the State. The streams of the northern and northwestern portion flow into Lakes Memphremagog and Champlain, these lakes being connected, the former by the St. Francis', and the latter by the St. John's river, with the St. Lawrence. The streams of the southeastern part of the State empty into the Hudson river. None of these streams are of any great size or suitable for navigation, but they afford vast power for manufacturing purposes. The beauties of Lake Champlain, which separates this State from New York on the northwest, are too well known to need description here. Lake Memphremagog lies mostly in Canada, and is an exceedingly beautiful as well as a most important body of water. There are many small lakes throughout the State. The mineral productions of Vermont are iron, which is found in great abundance, copper, zinc, lead, manganese and porcelain earth. Small quantities of silver are found mixed with copper near Brandon. Granite, beautiful green and white marble, oil-stone and slate are abundant. The soil is generally rich, and the valleys exceedingly fertile. Hemlock, spruce and fir cover the mountain sides; oak, hickory, pine and cedar are found upon the lower lands.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF VERMONT.

Clarendon Springs are in Rutland county, four miles by stage from West Rutland, on the Rensselaer & Saratoga Railroad. The water of these Springs is of service in certain forms of urinary disease, dyspepsia and engorgement of the liver. "The Springs are delightfully situated amid the green hills of Vermont, at an elevation of eight hundred feet above the level of the sea," and there are abundant hotel accommodations.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (50° Fahr., A. A. Hayes, M. D.):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Calcium	0.38
Chloride of Calcium	0.34
Sulphate of Sodium
Sulphate of Magnesium
Total	0.72

GASES.	CUB. IN.
Carbonic Acid	5.77
Nitrogen	1.20

Missisquoi Springs are situated in the town of Sheldon, in Franklin county. "No reliable quantitative analysis of these waters has ever been published. However, the prominent constituents are the alkaline carbonates, and silicic acid combined with alkaline bases, forming silicates. There is also a small proportion of iron and some organic matter; also, traces of fluorides. The water of the Sheldon Springs is pleasant to the taste, with an almost imperceptible odor of sulphuretted hydrogen. The Missisquoi water is limpid, without odor, and to the sense of taste does not differ from ordinary water. The Vermont water has a very slight taste of iron." "The Springs are four in number—the Central, within the village; the Vermont, half a mile from the village; the Missisquoi, one and a half miles northward; and the Sheldon, two miles from the village—all on the banks of the Missisquoi river. Within sight are Mount Mansfield and others of the Green Mountains. A cool, bracing and pure air sweeps over the hills, and attractive excursions invite in every direction. The altitude is stated as two thousand feet above the sea." Several hotels furnish abundant accommodation for guests. This being an alkaline water is of service in urinary diseases of an acid character, in gout, and is said, on high authority, to be decidedly palliative in cases of cancer.

Newburry Springs are at the town of the same name, on the Connecticut & Passumpsic River Railroad, in Orange county. "Newburry is one of the most attractive towns in the Upper Connecticut Valley." We give the mineral constituents as determined by Professor Hall.

ANALYSIS.

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.50	Protoxide of Iron	trace.
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.30	Nitrate of Potassium	0.05
Carbonate of Calcium	2.20	Hydrosulphate of Sodium	0.04

Sulphate of Sodium	0.30	Organic Matter and Ammonia	0.03
Sulphate of Magnesium	0.05
Phosphate of Iron	0.05	Total	4.66

GAS.	CUB. IN.
Sulphuretted Hydrogen	undetermined.

Alburg Springs are in Grand Isle county, one mile from Alburg Station, on the Vermont Central Railroad. They are beautifully situated near the shores of Missisquoi Bay, "amid the beauties of lake and mountain scenery." C. D. Jackson, M. D., has made the following analysis:

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Chloride of Sodium	1.095	Sulphate of Sodium	0.887
Chloride of Magnesium	0.627	Insoluble Matters	0.100
Chloride of Calcium Carbonate of Calcium	0.601	Organic Acid of the Soil (Crenic), and loss	0.250
Sulphide of Potassium Sulphate of Potassium	1.237	Total	4.797

Dr. Jackson also found that the water was saturated with sulphuretted hydrogen and gave an alkaline reaction to test paper. Professor C. T. Chandler analyzed the water and found it to contain, in addition to the above, the bicarbonates of lithium and strontium.

Highgate Springs are three and a half miles from Swanton, in Franklin county. The scenery is exceedingly beautiful, and the Missisquoi river flows close by the Springs. There are abundant hotel accommodations. We give the mineral constituents as found in the "Geology of Vermont, 1867."

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (A. A. Hayes, M. D., Champlain Spring):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Potassium	0.459	Chloride of Sodium	0.021
Carbonate of Sodium	0.153	Protoxide of Iron	0.004
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.152	Crenic Acid	0.112
Carbonate of Calcium	0.127	Silicic Acid	0.102
Carbonate of Ammonium	trace
Chloride of Potassium	0.093	Total	1.223

Elgin Spring is in Addison county, three miles south of Vergennes. Dr. C. L. Allen ("Geology of Vermont") says that one pint of the water contains thirty grains of solid matter, sulphate of magnesium being the chief mineral ingredient. The sulphates of sodium and iron, the carbonates of calcium and sodium, and carbonic acid gas are also found in the water.

Welden Spring is at St. Albans, in Franklin county. Doctor A. A. Hayes of Boston analyzed the water in 1867, and found it to contain the following mineral constituents: crenate of iron, iodide of magnesium, the carbonates of sodium magnesium, and calcium, the chloride of sodium, the silicate of sodium, and the sulphates of potassium and calcium; in all a little over three grains to the pint.

Middletown Springs are at the town of the same name in Rutland county. We have no analysis of the water of these Springs, but they are said to be of service in "dyspepsia, constipation, catarrh, tumors, general debility, and all diseases of the kidneys, skin, and blood."

We have no information in regard to the "Medicinal Spring" at Arlington in Bennington county.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS OF VERMONT.

The Medical Department of the University of Vermont, was organized at Burlington in 1817. Instruction is given by nine professors and two assistants. The "annual course" of lectures commences on the third Thursday in March, and continues sixteen weeks. Clinical instruction is given at the College. Students must pass an examining board, appointed by the Vermont State Medical Society, and the usual faculty examination before they are allowed to graduate. The fees are: matriculation, $5; general ticket, $70; graduation, $25. In addition to the above, a private course on the principles and practice of medicine, surgery, anatomy, obstetrics, diseases of women, and physiology, is given during the winter by several of the professors. This course is divided into two terms, and the fee for each term is $10 to each professor.

HOSPITALS.

The Vermont Asylum for the Insane is located at Brattleboro'. It had its origin in a bequest of $10,000 from Mrs. Anna Marsh, of Hinsdale (N. H.), who died in 1834. The Asylum "subsequently received some aid from the State, but has never been strictly a State institution." It was opened December 12, 1836. The Asylum is capable of accommodating about five hundred patients. Since the opening of this institution to August 1, 1872, 4748 patients were received, of this number 267 recovered their reason. During the two years ending August 1872, 759 patients were treated, 99 of whom recovered, 48 were discharged improved, and 48 died. Doctor Joseph Draper, the Superintendent, has kindly furnished us with the above information.

We have no knowledge of any other hospital in this State.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF VERMONT.

Any physician or surgeon is allowed to have a human subject for dissection, for the purpose of instructing students, and for anatomical investigation, provided he has obtained the subject without violation of law.

Any regularly organized medical school, or any physician or surgeon in this State, is allowed to receive the remains of any person who has been executed for crime; unless the friends or relatives object to having the body delivered, within twenty-four hours after execution.

A medical school physician or surgeon is allowed to receive, for anatomical purposes, the body of any deceased physician or surgeon, which has been bequeathed to it or him, unless the relatives of the deceased, within twenty-four hours after his death, object to the bequest.—Act of Assembly, passed Dec. 5, 1853.

The "Homœopathic Medical Society" is incorporated by Act of Assembly, passed Nov. 13, 1858.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF VIRGINIA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF VIRGINIA.

VIRGINIA was so called in honor of Queen Elizabeth, the "virgin queen," in whose reign the first attempt was made at colonization. The first English settlement in America was made at Jamestown, on the James river, in April, 1607. One hundred and five colonists were sent out by the London Company. They left England in three small vessels, in the month of December, 1606. They brought with them no "charter of liberties," but were to be governed by the "Company" in England. Sailing up the James river, which they named in honor of their king, on the 23d of May, 1607, they commenced the settlement of Jamestown. Disease and savage neighbors reduced their numbers, but in 1609 provisions and fresh colonists from the mother country cheered the hearts of the first settlers. The colony had been kept from despondency by Captain John Smith, whose story is too well known to need repetition here. In 1610, the colonists were on the point of leaving their settlement, when fresh supplies arrived from England. From this time the colony was in a more prosperous condition, and in 1619 the people obtained a share in the government. From 1622 to 1646 a fearful Indian war sent death and destruction into their midst. The people were at different times under royal governors, from 1624 until the Revolutionary War. "On the approach of the American Revolution the eloquent statesmen of Virginia were among the first to oppose English oppression. In June, 1776, a State Government was established. Throughout the struggle for liberty Virginia bore a most prominent part, and within its limits took place the surrender of Cornwallis." Virginia, as one of the "original thirteen States," ratified the Constitution June 26th, 1783. The State originally covered an area of 61,348 square miles, but was reduced to 38,341 square miles by the formation of the State of West Virginia in 1863. According to the census of 1870, Virginia had in that year 1,225,163 inhabitants, among whom there were 2126 physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of twelve per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The eastern portion of the State is low and sandy, interspersed with pine barrens and marshy tracts Beyond this is that portion known as the "Piedmont Section," which is uneven and gradually becoming more elevated until the Blue Ridge Mountains are reached upon the west. "The Valley" is that portion between the Blue Ridge and the Allegheny Ridge, and embraces some of the most fertile land within the State. This valley section lies in part in the State of West Virginia. Between the Allegheny and the Cumberland Mountains, on the extreme southwest, there is a fine broad valley drained by branches of the Tennessee river. That portion of Virginia known as the eastern shore is separated from the rest of the State by Chesapeake Bay, and is low and sandy. Virginia is well supplied with noble rivers. The Potomac separates it from Maryland on the north, and though it has lost the attraction which first gave it its name—the word Potomac meaning "river of swans"—it is a magnificent stream, and is navigable for sea-going vessels for about one hundred miles from its mouth. The Great Falls of the Potomac are very beautiful and deserve to be better known. The Rappahannock, the James, the York and the New are large streams. The Dan and the Staunton unite to form the Roanoke, which flows into North Carolina. Virginia is an almost boundless field of mineral wealth, and among its principal products are gold, copper, lead, iron, coal, salt, and a variety of rocks suitable for building, and clays and earths useful in the arts. The first coal field is found extending from the Pamunky, by Richmond, to the Appomattox, a distance of thirty-five miles, with a breadth of one or two miles to eight. The coal is bituminous, in seams of enormous thickness, being thirty, forty, and even sixty feet thick, and of excellent quality. Coal has also been found on both sides of the Upper Appomattox. Anthracite is found in the Valley, from the Potomac to James river, south of which are bituminous deposits.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF VIRGINIA.

(THERMAL WATERS.)

The Hot Springs of Bath County.—These Springs are situated in the "Warm Springs Valley," twenty miles by stage from Millboro' and eighteen from Covington, on the Chesapeake & Ohio (late Virginia Central) railroad. These waters are used chiefly as baths and appear to be of great service in chronic rheumatism, gout, cutaneous diseases, congestion of the liver, neuralgia, diseases of the joints, and many other affections. We give the analysis and table of temperature, etc., as found in "Walton's Mineral Springs of the United States."

These Springs are most beautifully situated, and the hotel accommodations are excellent. There are several caves, cascades and other beauties of nature in the neighborhood.

The Warm Springs of Bath County are fifteen miles by stage from Millboro', and five miles northeast of the Hot Springs. The water of these Springs is used externally and is of service in rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, cutaneous affections, nephritic and calculous diseases, and congestive affections of the uterus. About six thousand gallons of water flow from these Springs every minute. Dr. Walton has determined the temperature of the different baths as follows: gentlemen's swimming bath, 98° Fahr.; gentlemen's spout, 96.4° Fahr.; temperature of the ladies' bath, about the same; drinking fountain, 96.8° Fahr.

The Healing Springs are in Bath county, sixteen miles by stage from Covington, three miles from the Hot and eight miles from the Warm Springs. There are two Springs at this place and the temperature "may be denominated TEPID." Professor Aikin, of the University of Maryland, gives the following table of analysis:

The water is used both internally and externally, and is of service in scrofula, skin diseases, ophthalmic affections, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia and other diseases. The climate of this section is most delightful, the thermometer seldom indicating a temperature of 80° in the hottest days of summer. The water is bottled and sold throughout the Union.

(ALKALINE WATERS.)

Rockbridge Baths are in Rockbridge county, nine miles by stage from Goshen, on the Orange, Alexandria & Manassas Railroad. The temperature of these baths is 74° Fahr., and the water contains magnesia, iron and iodine. "As a tonic bath these waters are of deserved merit." A Sulphur Spring is found two miles from the Baths. There are excellent hotel accommodations.

(SULPHUR WATERS.)

Jordan's White Sulphur Springs are in Frederick county, two miles from Stephenson's, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. These Springs are beautifully situated five miles from Winchester. Dr. Thomas Antisell analyzed the water of these Springs and found the following mineral constituents:

ANALYSIS.

A large amount of sulphuretted hydrogen is given off from the water.

Buffalo Springs, in Mecklenburg county, are fifteen miles by stage from Scottsburg, on the Richmond & Danville Railroad. The water of these Springs contains the sulphates of magnesium, sodium, iron and calcium, and gives off sulphuretted hydrogen gas. It has a tonic and alterative effect. The Buffalo Springs Hotel is open for guests.

Yellow Sulphur Springs.—These Springs are in Montgomery county, three miles and a half by stage from Christiansburg.

The other Springs at this place will be referred to again.

Coyner's Springs are in Botetourt county, and may be reached by the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. This is a very pleasant place, and there are abundant hotel accommodations. The water has not been analyzed.

Eggleston's Springs are in Giles county, forty-one miles by stage from Central, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. We have no analysis of these waters. The Springs are delightfully situated, and there are abundant hotel accommodations.

Botetourt Springs are in Roanoke county, nine miles from Salem. "There are two Springs, one Sulphur, one chalybeate." We do not think these Springs are open to the public at this present time.

The Cold White Sulphur Springs are in Rockbridge county, two miles by stage from Goshen. The water has not been analyzed, but has the properties of the sulphur waters in general.

Montgomery White Sulphur Springs are in Montgomery county, upon a branch of the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. The water has not been analyzed. The hotel accommodations are all that can be desired.

Fauquier White Sulphur Springs are in Fauquier county, a few miles from Warrentown. The water contains sulphate of magnesium, phosphate of sodium, and sulphuretted hydrogen, and is purgative and diuretic. The hotel was burned some years since and has not been re-erected.

Huguenot Springs.—These Springs are in Powhatan county, seventeen miles from Richmond. "It is near the centre of a tract of land granted by the British crown to a body of Protestant refugees driven from France by the repeal of the Edict of Nantes, in 1685. Hence its name. There are two springs here, one mildly sulphurous, the other chalybeate." The water is used both externally and internally.

Brunner's Springs are in Shenandoah county, eight miles by stage from Woodstock, on the Orange, Alexandria & Manassas Railroad. There are seven Springs here, and the place is sometimes called the "Seven Fountains." This is a very pleasant place, with a good hotel.

Roanoke Red Sulphur Springs are ten miles by stage from Salem, in Roanoke county. Guests can be accommodated at the Red Sulphur Hotel. The water has not been analyzed.

Daggar's Spring is in Botetourt county, twenty-eight miles from Buford's, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. This Spring is sometimes called Dibrell's Spring, from the proprietor of the hotel.

Grayson's Sulphur Springs are in Carrol county, twenty-three miles by stage from Wytheville, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. These Springs are most beautifully situated, and the hotel accommodations are excellent. The waters are of service in chronic diseases of the skin, dyspepsia and disease of the liver. Professor Rogers has found the following mineral constituents in the water of these Springs: soda, the carbonates, sulphates and chlorides of magnesium and calcium, sulphate of sodium, sulphuretted hydrogen, and carbonic acid gas.

New River White Sulphur Springs are in Giles county, and may be reached by stage from Christiansburg on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. The water has the usual properties of sulphur waters.

Kimberling Springs are in Bland county, twenty-six miles from Wytheville, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. Dr. Tuttle, of the University of Virginia, has found the following mineral constituents in the water of the Red Sulphur Springs:

And in addition, we have of free or uncombined sulphuric acid, 19.976 grains.

(CHALYBEATE WATERS.)

Rawley Spring.—This Spring is in Rockingham county, twelve miles from Harrisonburgh, on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. This is a fine chalybeate water, with alterative properties, and is of service in chlorosis and anæmic disorders in general. There are hotel accommodations for five hundred guests.

Sweet Chalybeate Springs, formerly Red Sweet Springs.—These Springs are in Alleghany county, nine miles by stage from Alleghany Station, on the Orange, Alexandria & Manassas Railroad. This water has a sweet ferruginous taste, and is of service in anæmic, chlorosis, and other diseases. About eight hundred gallons of water flow from the four Springs every minute. The water is used internally and as a bath. This is a very cool and pleasant place of resort, with abundant hotel accommodations.

The taste of these waters is styptic and astringent. They are of great service in every form of scrofula, in chronic diarrhœa, syphilitic eruptions, leucorrhœa and other affections. The water acts as a purgative when taken in too large a quantity, or when there is "great atomy of the digestive tract." The dose of the water is comparatively small. This is a very attractive place, and every possible arrangement is made for the comfort of guests. There are a great many small brick cottages where guests can be more private than at the hotel proper. This water is bottled and sold throughout the country.

The Jordan Rockbridge Alum Springs are but a few miles from the last-mentioned Springs and eight from Goshen. This place has lately been opened to the public, with every accommodation for a large number of guests. We give the analysis of one of these Springs, as made by Professor Aikin, of the University of Maryland, and of "Spring No. 1," as determined by Dr. J. W. Mallet, of the University of Virginia.

These waters are of service in all the diseases benefited by the Rockbridge Alum Water, and iodine in the water of one of the Springs gives it additional value.

Pulaski Alum Springs.—These Springs are in Pulaski county, twelve miles by stage from Dublin, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. The waters are similar in mineral constituents and in properties to those of the Rockbridge Alum Springs. The hotel has the name of the Springs.

Bath Alum Springs.—The Springs are in Bath county, ten miles from Millboro', on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. This water is similar in constituents and effect to that of the last-mentioned Spring.

The following analyses of two of the most valuable Springs have been recently made by Prof. Wm. H. Taylor, M. D., Virginia State Assayer and Chemist. They show the number of grains in one wine gallon of 231 cubic inches:

Bedford Alum Springs are in Bedford county, four miles from Forest Depot, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. This water is similar to that of the Rockbridge Alum Springs. They are of service in scrofula, diarrhœa, eczema, and anæmic diseases. Professor William Gilliam has found the following mineral constituents in the water of these Springs.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains:

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.

The four Springs here are the "Alum," "All-Healing," "Sulphur" and "Chalybeate."

Massanetta or Taylor's Springs are in Rockingham county, five miles from Harrisonburg. Professor Rogers found chlorine, iron, arsenic, potassium, sodium, lime, iodine and magnesia in the water of these Springs.

(CALCIC WATERS.)

Alleghany Springs.—These Springs are in Montgomery county, three miles and a half from Allegheny station, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. Dr. F. A. Genth, of the University of Pennsylvania, has made the following elaborate analysis of the water of these Springs:

The water is purgative and diuretic, and is of service in dyspepsia, constipation, engorgement of the liver and gall-stones. The water is for sale by druggists throughout the country. The mountain views, the cool temperature, and the pleasant hotel accommodations combine to make this a popular place of resort. Contiguous to the main hotel building there are over one hundred and fifty cottages arranged with an eye to the comfort of guests.

Holston Springs are in Scott county, forty miles by stage from Abingdon, on the Virginia & Tennessee Railroad. The water is diuretic and purgative.

The hotel has the name of the Springs.

(UNCLASSIFIED WATERS.)

Rock Enon or Capper's Springs are in Frederick county, seventeen miles from Winchester. This is a pleasant place of resort, with fine accommodations for guests.

Orkney Springs are in Shenandoah county, twelve miles west of Mount Jackson, on the Orange, Alexandria & Manassas Railroad. We are not acquainted with the properties of the waters of these Springs.

MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS.

The Medical Department of the University of Virginia was organized in 1819. It is situated one mile from the town of Charlottesville, in Albemarle county. Instruction is given by four professors and a demonstrator of anatomy. The regular session begins on the 1st of October, and continues until the Thursday preceding the 4th of July following. The arrangement of the lectures is such that the student acquires a competent knowledge of anatomy, human and comparative, physiology and chemistry, before he enters upon the study of the principles and practice of medicine and surgery, which can only be studied properly in the lights shed upon them by the former. The instructions in materia medica and pharmacy are also given in due relation to the progress of the student in chemistry. Each professor gives three regular lectures a week with occasional extra lectures, making the average weekly aggregate not over fourteen, or a little more than two a day. Daily examinations precede every lecture. "The collection of paintings for the illustration of the lectures on anatomy, physiology and surgery, several hundred in number, is unequalled by anything of the kind in the United States or perhaps abroad." The degree of Doctor of Medicine is conferred upon such students as prove their fitness for the same by rigid and searching examinations. In accordance with this policy, the degree of doctor of medicine may be conferred upon a first-course student if found worthy of it. "The majority of the students who attend medical lectures in this institution do not graduate here. They spend one session in reaping its well-known advantages, and subsequently resort to the city schools to secure their degrees and profits by the facilities afforded for clinical instruction." The study of chemistry may be pursued in the laboratory under the supervision of the professor of that branch. The estimated expenses of the medical student for the session of nine months may be stated as follows:

Matriculation and Library Fee	$ 25.00
Tuition Fees to Four Professors, $25 each	100.00
Fee of Demonstrator of Anatomy, including Dissecting-room Charges	10.00
Contingent Deposit	10.00
Infirmary Fee	7.50
Room Rent, if two occupy the same room, each	15.00
Fuel and Lights, if two occupy the same room, each about	25.00
Board, including diet, furniture of room, and attendance	180.00
Washing, $1.50 per month—per session, say	15.00
	$387.50

By forming messes the board may be reduced to $90, thus reducing the expenses to $297.50. A summer course is given by one of the professors, consisting of lectures upon anatomy, obstetrics and medical jurisprudence, with daily examinations, commencing July 10th and ending September 15th. Charges: for the course, $40; for any two subjects, $30; for one, $20.

Medical College of Virginia, at Richmond.—The regular winter session of this institution begins the first Monday of October and continues five months. The course of instruction is complete, both theoretical and practical, conducted by a faculty of eight professors, assisted by a corps of experienced teachers, who conduct a daily system of examinations on the lectures free of charge. The adjunct faculty, assisted by the professors, offer students attending the regular lectures a summer course of study, from March 15th to the 1st of July, without additional charge. Clinical instruction is given in the City Hospital, the College Hospital and the College Dispensary. The State Central Lunatic Asylum is open to students. The fees are: lecture tickets (including matriculation fee) $125; demonstrator's fee, $10; graduation, $30.

HOSPITALS AND INFIRMARIES.

The College Infirmary, at Richmond, was erected in 1861. All cases requiring medical or surgical aid are admitted, except those laboring under contagious disorders. Suitable accommodations and experienced nurses are provided for women during confinement.

The Eastern Lunatic Asylum, at Williamsburgh, is a State institution. To Virginia belongs the honor of having originated the first asylum exclusively for the insane that was established by public authority upon this continent. The first movement towards organizing this institution was an Act of the General Assembly of Virginia, passed in the year 1769, Virginia at that time being a colony of Great Britain. The dimensions of the building were 100 feet by about thirty-eight, and two stories high. The Asylum was opened for patients September 14, 1773. Additions have since been made, and the capacity increased to 300 patients. During the year ending October 1, 1873, 249 patients were treated in this asylum. Of this number 21 recovered, 4 improved, and 17 died. Although this is a State institution, private patients are received.

The Western Lunatic Asylum of Virginia, at Staunton, was opened for patients July 24, 1828. The Asylum buildings are large and elegant structures, situated in the midst of extensive and beautifully laid-out grounds. During the two years ending September 30, 1873, 449 patients were treated in the Asylum. Of this number 68 recovered, 4 improved, and 38 died. Since the opening of the Asylum, 2479 patients have received its benefits.

MEDICAL LAWS OF THE STATE OF VIRGINIA.

Every physician, surgeon and dentist must be licensed. A license authorizes the physician, etc., who receives it, to practise anywhere in this State. A physician, etc., who neglects to obtain a license is liable to a penalty of not less than $30, or more than $100, and cannot collect compensation for his services.—Code (1773), p. 339, sec. 62.

Physicians and surgeons are required to keep a record of the death of their patients who die in this State, and whom they have attended in their last sickness. This must contain the place and date of death, full name, age, sex, condition (married or single), color, occupation and place of birth of deceased, and disease or cause of death, the name of husband or wife (if deceased were married), and the names of deceased's parents. A copy of this record must be given annually, when called for, to the commissioner of the revenue. Any person who knowingly makes a false entry in any such record is liable to a fine of from $100 to $500. —Ibid., p. 848, sec. 31.

The coroner may summon one or more physicians to attend an inquest, and give information and render services incident to his profession and useful to the jury, and allow him or them a reasonable compensation.—Ibid., p. 1229, sec. 10.

The Court may appoint a physician to attend the prisoners in the jail, and allow him a reasonable compensation,—Ibid., p. 1254, sec. 3.

Any person who administers to, or causes to be taken by, a pregnant woman any drug or other thing, or uses any instrument, to produce abortion or miscarriage, or destroy her unborn child, and abortion or miscarriage is produced or child destroyed, shall be punished by imprisonment from one to five years, unless such abortion is produced in good faith and with desire to save the mother's or child's life.—Ibid., p. 1189, sec. 10.

Any person who adulterates any drug or medicine with a substance injurious to health, shall be imprisoned one year and fined not more than $500.—Ibid., p. 1211, sec. 2.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS region was originally a portion of the "Province of Louisiana" (see page 31), and was called "New Georgia" by Vancouver, in 1792 (U. S. Coast Pilot, Washington Territory, page 145). The country was explored "by order of the Government of the United States, in the years 1804. 1805, and 1806, by Captains Lewis and Clarke," and this exploration was one of the reasons put forward by the Government upon claiming this region when making the treaty with Great Britain, in 1846. Washington was included in Oregon Territory upon its formation, in 1848, and was given a separate territorial form of government March 2d, 1853. It then included the present Territory, Idaho, and a portion of Montana and Wyoming. By the formation of these Territories, it has been reduced to its present area of 69,994 square miles. The population, as determined by the census of 1870, was 23,955, among whom there were forty-three physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of sixteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. "The resources of this Territory are vast and varied, although, like the greater portion of the Pacific slope, but comparatively little developed. It has the finest harbor in the world, immense tracts of valuable but uncultivated land, rich in minerals, with extensive fisheries and vast lumbering interests. The continuous chain of mountains known as the Sierra Nevada, in California, takes the name of Cascade Range through Oregon, Washington Territory, and British Columbia. They traverse this Territory, varying but little from a north and south course, at an average distance from the coast of one hundred miles, deriving their name from the innumerable beautiful cascades which pour from their crevices at various heights. This range, as in Oregon, separates the Territory into two unequal divisions, the eastern and western, differing from each other in climate, soil, geological character, and natural productions. The loftiest peaks in this range are Rainier, St. Helen's, Baker, and Adams, each from nine to thirteen thousand feet in height. That portion of the Territory east of the Cascades is not very equally divided by the Columbia river, thus constituting three natural divisions: Western Washington, termed the Puget Sound country, Central Washington, or, Yakama Valley, and Eastern Washington, sometimes termed the upper country, and sometimes the Walla-Walla Valley and Spokane Plains."—(Land Office Report, 1869–70.) Mount Olympia, in the western section, attains the height of 8000 feet, and may be seen for many miles at sea. This section is drained directly into the Pacific Ocean, or into the great straits and sounds which intersect it. The Straits of San Juan de Fuca, on the north, is a magnificent entrance from the ocean. In its widest part it is from eighteen to twenty miles wide, and the depth of water throughout the strait is remarkably great, no bottom being found in its deepest parts with 150 fathoms of line. Its shores are bold, abrupt, and covered with a heavy growth of varied timber and dense underbrush. On the north the mountains rise rapidly from the water, and many attain an elevation of not less than 6000 or 7000 feet. These are covered with fir to their summits. On the south, for thirty miles from the entrance, the shore is bounded by hills of 2000 feet in height, backed by the jagged Olympus Range of 8200 feet. For the next fifty miles the shore is generally a steep cliff, from 50 to 200 feet high, with a flat country extending nearly to the foot-hills of Olympus, and stretching further south as we move eastward. Puget Sound extends 180 miles inland. These straits have a continuous line of sea coast 1600 miles, free from obstruction, with depth enough for the largest shipping, constituting one of the most remarkable series of straits, inlets, channels, bays, canals, and harbors to be found anywhere in the United States, or perhaps in the world. The central portion of this section is drained by the Chealis river, and the southern by the Columbia and its numerous branches. This is the most populous and the richest portion of the Territory. The climate of Washington Territory, west of Cascade Range, although lying north of Oregon, is similar to the climate of that State, and essentially different from that portion east of the Cascade Mountains. It is not unusual for the winter months to be mild, without snow or ice. Reliable information has been received, showing that during the past sixteen years but three winters have been known so severe as to render it necessary to house and feed the stock. The red and yellow pine trees grow to a height of 300 feet, and a diameter of 12 feet. Except in the immediate vicinity of the rivers, the surface of the central section is thin, stony, sterile and dry. The principal river of this section is the Yakama, a branch of the Columbia. The eastern section is generally fertile, and contains numerous thriving settlements. The great river of this part of the United States is the Columbia, which separates, in part, Washington from Oregon, traverses Washington, and its two great branches, Clarke's Fork and Lewis' Fork, flowing into Idaho and Montana. This river is 1200 miles long. Washington Territory contains almost the entire catalogue of minerals, and the more precious metals have been successfully mined in several localities for many years. Large amounts of gold are mined on the banks of the Umatilla and Columbia rivers. Silver and lead are found on the east slope of Mount Rainier. Vast deposits of iron and coal are found in the valley of Puget Sound. Marble of excellent quality and in unlimited quantity is found in the eastern portion of the Territory. Fine sandstone is abundant. We have no doubt that there are many Mineral Springs in this Territory, but we have been unable to obtain information in regard to them, or in regard to any Medical Institutions that may exist in the Territory.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF WEST VIRGINIA.

West Virginia was formed from the State of Virginia, and "by act of December 31st, 1862, was declared to be a State, to be admitted at a date sixty days after proclamation to be made by the President." Said proclamation was made April 30th, 1863, and the State admitted on the 9th of June of that year. The State has an area of 23,000 square miles, and in 1870 had a population of 442,014, among whom there were 612 physicians and surgeons. Phthisis is the cause of sixteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The greater part of the State is included in what was formerly known as the "Trans-Allegheny" section of Virginia, which extended from the Allegheny ridge to the Ohio river. The general slope of the country is westward, but it is traversed by several chains, the principal of which is Laurel Mountain. This is a fine country, adapted in soil and climate to the successful culture of grains, roots, tobacco, etc.; nor is it only a great agricultural region, but it is rich in minerals, and has forests covering a wide extent of country, indicating its value in an economic point of view. The extreme northeastern portion belongs to the "valley section," and is a rich and beautiful country. The Ohio river separates this State from the State of Ohio, and the Sandy, a branch of the Ohio, from the State of Tennessee. The Kanawha is the principal river of this State. The Cheat, the Monongahela and the Guyandotte are among the larger rivers, while the smaller streams are innumerable. The streams mentioned carry their waters into the Ohio, while the many branches of the Potomac drain the northeastern section into Chesapeake Bay. The south branch of the Potomac lies in the valley between the Allegheny and the Shenandoah Mountains, and is an important stream. West Virginia is rich in mineral wealth. The deposits of bituminous coal are very extensive; iron and salt are abundant; springs of petroleum occur on the Little Kanawha. Many other important minerals are found.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF WEST VIRGINIA.

White Sulphur Springs, of Greenbrier county.—These Springs are at a station of the same name on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, in the beautiful valley of Howard's Creek. "The situation of the Spring is elevated and beautifully picturesque, surrounded by mountains on every side. Kates Mountain is in full view, and about two miles to the south; to the west, and distant about one mile, are the Greenbrier Mountains, while the towering Allegheny, in its magnificent proportions, is found five miles to the north and east.

"The Spring is in the midst of the celebrated 'Spring Region,' having the Hot, Warm and Healing Springs from thirty to thirty-five miles to the north; the Sweet and the Sweet Chalybeate, sixteen miles to the east; the Salt and the Red Sulphur, the one twenty-four, the other forty-one miles to the south."

This place of resort is the Saratoga of Virginia. It is visited not only by the invalid, but also by the gay and fashionable, and is "a place where pleasure seeking reigns supreme." The hotel is perhaps the largest in the South, covering more than an acre of ground, and is finished in the most elegant manner. The company who own the Springs have laid out the large and beautiful grounds in the best style of modern landscape gardening, and have erected many pleasant cottages for the accommodation of such guests as desire greater privacy than can be obtained in the hotel proper. "It is an excellent aperient and alterative sulphur water, possessing certain action on the kidneys. The diseases to which it is applicable are: engorgements of the liver, dartrous skin diseases, chronic poisoning by metals, diseases of the bladder, as catarrh and gravel; and, as an adjuvant, in the treatment of secondary and tertiary syphilis. As a result of its action on the liver, it relieves dyspepsia and jaundice, due to congestion of this organ. In dyspepsias associated with obstinate constipation it also proves invaluable. In many of these diseases the warm or hot bath should be combined with the internal use of the water. For this purpose the proprietors have erected a number of well arranged baths, the water being heated in the tub by steam, a method much preferable to that of heating in tanks and thence drawing to the bath."—Mineral Springs of the United States, pages 227, 228.

The White Sulphur water is bottled and kept for sale by many of the druggists throughout the country. We refer any of our readers who would know more in regard to these Springs to the interesting and exhaustive account of them given by Dr. Moorman in the "Mineral Springs of North America."

About forty rods from the White Sulphur is a chalybeate Spring, in which the iron exists in the form of a carbonate of iron, the mildest, least offensive, and ordinarily the most valuable form in which ferruginous waters are found.

The Red Sulphur Springs are in Monroe county, ten miles from Talcott, on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. The water was analyzed by Professor A. A. Hayes, of Boston, in 1842.

In addition to the above mineral constituents, carbonic acid gas and sulphuretted hydrogen are abundant in the waters at the Springs. These waters are sedative and of special service in diseases of the thoracic cavity. They may be made to have a cathartic or a diuretic effect, as taken in a small or a large quantity. The water of the principal Spring is bottled and sold throughout the country.

The Salt Sulphur Springs are in Monroe county, fifteen miles by stage from Alderson's, on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. These Springs are situated in the beautiful valley of Indian Creek, and are surrounded by charming mountain scenery. The water is said to be of service in diseases of the liver and skin, and in chronic metallic poisoning. The iodine in one of the Springs causes the water to be of service in scrofula and syphilis.

We do not think that the Blue Sulphur Springs, in Greenbrier county, are open to the public at present.

Capon Springs.—These Springs are in Hampshire county, twenty-two miles by stage northwest of Winchester. "They are situated in a narrow vale not far distant from the Capon river, and surrounded by a rugged and romantic mountain scenery, perhaps unsurpassed in trossach wildness by any in Virginia." Dr. Charles Carter, of Philadelphia, found soda, magnesia, iodine, bromine and carbonic acid gas in the water of these Springs. Persons suffering from dyspepsia, uric-acid gravel, catarrh of the bladder, or intestinal worms, are benefited by drinking of these waters. The water is used both internally and in every form of bath. A fine chalybeate Spring is also found here. The hotel is first class in every respect, and accommodates a large number of guests.

The Sweet Springs are in Monroe county, ten miles by stage from Allegheny station, on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. This is a diuretic and diaphoretic water, having the following mineral constituents, as determined by Professor W. B. Rogers:

The flow is 1200 gallons per minute, and the taste of the water is sweet, as the name implies. The water is said to be of service in gravel and catarrh of the bladder, and in dyspepsia. The water is chiefly used as a bath, and elegant bathing houses have been erected. The situation of these Springs is extremely beautiful, and the accommodations both in the hotel and "villa-like brick cottages" are all that can be desired.

Berkley Springs are situated in the town of Bath, in Morgan county, and are two and a half miles from Sir John's Run, a station on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. "Although these waters possess considerable medical virtues when taken internally, they have been most celebrated as a bath; their pleasant thermal temperature—from 72° to 74° Fahr.—in connection with other properties, adapting them, as such, to a wide range of diseases." The waters, when taken internally, are of service in derangements of the stomach and in calculous diseases. When used as a bath they "are beneficial in the whole class of nervous disorders," in chronic affections of the mucous membrane, and in chronic rheumatism. Professor A. A. Hayes has found the following mineral constituents in these waters:

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (74° Fahr.):

There are four Springs, and the flow is about 1200 gallons per minute. Swimming, spout, warm, shower, and every other description of bath is provided in elegant bathing houses. There are abundant first-class hotel accommodations for guests.

Parkersburg Mineral Wells are six and a half miles by stage from Parkersburg, in Wood county. The water contains iron, the sulphates of sodium and magnesium, and carbonic acid gas. Parshall's hotel is open for the accommodation of guests.

Shannondale Springs are in Jefferson county, five miles and a half from Charlestown, on the Winchester & Strasburg Branch Railroad. The water of these Springs is said to resemble that of the Allegheny Springs.

HOSPITALS.

The West Virginia Hospital for the Insane, at Weston, was opened for the reception of patients October 22d, 1864. The building stands on the banks of the west fork of the Monongahela, and is surrounded by large and pleasant grounds. The building is not completed, but is capable at present of accommodating about two hundred and fifty patients. The completed structure will be very large, "being only a few feet short of a quarter of a mile in length." During the year ending September 30th, 1873, three hundred and nineteen patients were treated, of whom fourteen were cured, two improved, and sixteen died. Between five and six hundred patients have received the benefits of this Hospital. The building is supplied with every modern convenience, and every possible arrangement is made to amuse and interest the patients.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF THE STATE OF WISCONSIN.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF WISCONSIN.

The word Wisconsin is said to be an Indian term for a "wild-rushing channel." The Territory of Wisconsin was formed July 3d, 1836, from lands which at that date were included in the Territory of Michigan (see page 353). This Territory included the present State, Iowa, Minnesota, and that portion of Dakota east of the Missouri river. The State was admitted into the Union, with its present area of 53,924 square miles, May 29th, 1848. The population, as determined by the census of 1870, was in that year 1,054,670, and the number of physicians and surgeons 915. Phthisis is the cause of fourteen per cent. of the annual number of deaths. The surface is high and rolling; the whole State lies at an altitude of from 600 to 1500 feet above the level of the sea, and near the headwaters of Montreal river reaches an elevation of 1800 feet. There are no mountains within the State. The soil in the southeastern portion is rich, deep and productive, the central part is covered with "oak openings," and has a lawn-like surface, while in the northern portion of the State pine, hemlock and other coniferous trees are found in vast forests. This is truly a State of great rivers. The Mississippi flows along the western border for 400 miles. The St. Croix, 170 miles in length; the Chippewa, 220; the Black, 145; and the Wisconsin, 370 miles long, all empty into the Mississippi. The Wisconsin river drains 11,000 square miles of surface. Rock river flows 125 miles through this State, then passes through Illinois and flows into the Mississippi. The Fox, the Wolf, the Menomonee, the Montreal and several other large streams, with a great number of smaller ones, water the State. "The streams emptying into Lake Superior have the most rapid descent, the beds of those tributary to Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river having more gradual and uniform slopes. Rapids occur in most of the streams, affording immense supplies of water-power. The heads of different streams are often situated very near each other, those of the Fox and Wisconsin approaching so near that they have been joined by a short canal at Portage City, through which vessels may pass at high water, thus uniting the great lakes with the Mississippi." Lake Michigan gives Wisconsin 200 miles of coast line on the east, and Lake Superior 120 miles on the north. Lake Winnebago, southeast of Green Bay, covers an area of 212 square miles. The whole surface of the State is studded with beautiful small lakes, more particularly in the region of the St. Croix and Chippewa rivers. Lead is the most important mineral, being found in the southwestern portion of the State in the form of the sulphuret and carbonate. Iron exists in large quantities. Copper, zinc, plumbago, gypsum, kaolin, agates and cornelians are found. Fine limestone and handsome varieties of marble are abundant. Over sixty kinds of native trees have been found, and the timber is a great source of wealth to the State.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF WISCONSIN.

Bethesda Springs are in Waukesha county, twenty-one miles west of Milwaukee, on the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad. The water is of decided benefit in diabetes and chronic irritations of the kidneys and bladder. The Springs are situated at the pretty village of Waukesha, on the Little Fox river.

ANALYSIS.

One pint contains (60° Fahr., C. F. Chandler):

SOLIDS.	GRAINS.	SOLIDS.	GRAINS.
Carbonate of Sodium	0.109	Phosphate of Sodium	trace.
Carbonate of Magnesium	0.918	Alumina	0.015

MEDICAL LAWS OF WISCONSIN.

All the physicians and surgeons, in any county in the State of Wisconsin, who have received diplomas from incorporated medical colleges or societies in the United States or any foreign country, are authorized to meet and, by the election of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and three censors, who shall hold office for one year or until others are elected, to organize a county medical society, which, when so organized, shall be a body politic and corporate.

Any county medical society is allowed to make by-laws necessary for its government; to hold real and personal property, not exceeding $5000 in value, and to collect from each member $3 per annum, to be used for the purchase of a library, etc.

It is the duty of the censors of any medical society to examine all students who may present themselves, and who are twenty-one years of age, have received a good English education, and studied three years at least with a respectable practitioner of medicine, and can produce evidence of good moral character, and to grant diplomas under the hand of the president and seal of the society, which shall constitute the recipients members of the society. $10 must be paid for each diploma.

There is established a State medical society also, which is composed of delegates from the county societies, in the proportion of one delegate to every five members of the county society, and is empowered to entertain appeals from these societies.—Dig. (1858), p. 351, sec. 1–14.

Any one, although not a member of a society, is allowed to practise medicine or surgery. But no person, unless he holds a diploma of an incorporated medical college, or is a member of a medical society, has a right to collect by action at law compensation for medical services, or to testify as a physician.

Any physician or practitioner of medicine who writes, or causes to be written, a prescription or recipe in any other characters than those of the English or Latin language, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be fined from $5 to $25.—Stats. of 1871, p. 711.

Any public officer, who has charge of the remains of such deceased persons as require burial at the public expense, may deliver such remains to the members or agents of any medical society in this State on order signed by the president or secretary of such society, after he has been satisfied that the remains are to be used for anatomical study, and within this State only.—Ibid., p. 712.

SUPPLEMENT TO MEDICAL REGISTER.

THE climate of Wisconsin is uniform and free from sudden changes. With summers that are warm, and winters that are long and cold, this State is, nevertheless, for general health, a most desirable place of residence. "Its natural scenery is not excelled for beauty in North America, while on the other hand in many of its rivers, inland lakes, and mounds and dells, it presents features of marvellous beauty."

The antiquities of this State are a noticeable feature. In numerous places are there traces of ancient earthworks, and "it is curious to notice that these are chiefly found at points which have been selected as the most favorable sites for modern settlements, showing that the instincts of both civilized and uncivilized are alike attracted to those localities which combine at once the beautiful and the useful." From these earthworks and mounds have been disinterred many specimens of ancient pottery, pipes, etc. "It is worthy of mention that the animal-shaped mounds—supposed to be the most ancient variety—are chiefly confined to the territory embraced within this State."

The educational facilities of the State of Wisconsin are most creditable, embracing, besides an excellent common-school system, supported by an income derived from the sale of lands set aside for the purpose, four Normal schools, located at Oshkosh, Whitewater, Platteville, and River Falls.

It has also a State University, located at the capital, "which is one of the institutions that the State justly takes pride in." This institution is governed by a Board of Regents, ten in number, and has twenty-seven professors and instructors. It consists of (1) a College of Arts, including departments of agriculture, of mining and metallurgy, of military science, and of civil engineering; (2) the College of Letters, with a preparatory department; (3) Law College; (4) Female College; and (5) Post Graduate Course. All graduates of graded schools under certain restrictions are entitled to free tuition in any department of the University. The number of students in attendance is between 400 and 500. John Bascom, LL.D., is President.

Aside from the State institutions, there are a large number of endowed and other institutions of learning, many of which are of high order, and are in flourishing condition. Noticeable among these are Lawrence University, located at Appleton, which owns property amounting to nearly $200,000, and has a library of over 7000 volumes, sustained by a library fund of $10,000. The faculty consists of fourteen professors and instructors and the pupils number nearly 400.

Ripon College is an institution of learning of high order, which is growing in reputation and influence. It has a full faculty, and accommodations for 450 pupils in its three college buildings, which are of stone.

Beloit College was incorporated by the Territorial Legislature in 1846, and is the owner of property estimated at over $200,000. Since its organization it has given instruction to about 2000 young men, and the graduates of its full course number over 200, nearly one-half of whom have chosen the clerical profession.

HOSPITALS.

The State Hospital for the Insane, situated at Madison, was opened in 1860. During the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1875, there were in it under treatment 260 males and 247 females, a total of 507, of whom there were discharged, recovered, sixteen males and sixteen females; improved, twenty-seven males and twenty-six females; discharged not improved, sixteen males and twenty-six females. The number of deaths were eleven males and nine females; leaving in the hospital, September 30th, 1875, males 190, females 185; in all, 375.

The total number of admissions to this hospital since it was opened in July, 1860, has been 1128 males and 1040 females; a total of 2168.

The Northern Hospital for the Insane, situated at Oshkosh, was opened May 11th, 1873. During the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1875, there were in it under treatment 185 males and 166 females, a total of 351, of whom there were discharged, recovered, males thirteen, females eight; discharged, improved, fourteen males and twelve females; discharged, not improved, seven males and three females; died, nine males and nine females; leaving in the hospital, September 30th, 1875, males 142, females 134; in all, 276, which number, we learn from the report of the trustees, have been crowded into quarters originally intended for the accommodation of but 150 patients. The building has since been largely increased in size, by the addition of a new wing, and now contains a much larger number of patients.

The total number of admissions to this hospital, from May 11th, 1873, to September 30th, 1875, was 416.

This hospital has, from the first, been under the superintendence of Walter Kempster, M. D., who is now assisted by Doctors J. H. McBride and W. H. Haucker.

St. Mary's Hospital is an institution under the care of the Sisters of Charity. It was first opened in 1848; has now a building completed in 1858, at a cost of $27,000, occupying one of the most beautiful sites in the city of Milwaukee, which city donated to it five acres of ground.

The hospital will accommodate 300 patients. The United States Government have their sailors cared for in this institution.

The Milwaukee Hospital is a charitable institution, located in the city of Milwaukee; has a fine brick edifice, and several acres of choice land. We are not informed of the capacity of the Hospital, but a recent report gives the number of patients at 120.

The Milwaukee City Dispensary was opened in 1871, for the purpose of giving gratuitous medical advice and medicine to the poor who are not able to employ a physician but are able to apply personally.

The Cadle Home is a hospital located in the city of Green Bay, supported in part by charity, but of the history or capacity of which we have no information. It owns a small amount of real estate, and received during the year 1874 about sixty patients.

St. Luke's Hospital is located in the city of Racine, and "under the charge of intelligent and humane managers is doing a good work for the unfortunate persons who seek it for relief and aid." During the year 1875 it afforded care to about one hundred persons.

The St. Æmelian Asylum, located about three miles south of Milwaukee, has a mission "which is especially educational and reformatory, besides supplying the very necessaries of life to otherwise destitute and helpless little children." It is yearly saving hundreds of orphan children from hunger, want, and vice. During the year 1875 it supported ninety children.

The Milwaukee Orphan Association, having similar objects, maintains annually about one hundred children.

The St. Rose's and St. Joseph's Orphan Asylums, located in Milwaukee, are under one management, the former being for girls and the latter for boys. They unitedly support about two hundred orphans.

The Taylor Orphan Asylum is located near the city of Racine, and was opened for the reception of children in July, 1872. The entire expenses of this corporation up to June 2d, 1874, was about $108,000. It affords a home to between forty and fifty children.

The Home for the Friendless is located in Milwaukee, and has for its object "to furnish a temporary home for destitute women and children, where the forlorn, the homeless or the tempted, may find not only refuge, but Christian care and interest." During the year 1875, four hundred and eighty-five were here provided with temporary homes.

The Wisconsin Institution for the Education of the Blind is located at Janesville, and is under the superintendence of Mrs. Sarah F. C. Little. This institution was originated by the citizens of Janesville, as long ago as 1849, and was "the first of the benevolent institutions which now reflect so much credit upon the people of Wisconsin." The whole number of pupils in the institution during the year 1875 was eighty-two. The buildings of this institution were destroyed by fire in 1874, but are being rebuilt, the legislature having made an appropriation of $61,000 for the construction of one wing, with engine-house and heating apparatus.

The Wisconsin Institute for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb is located at Delavan, and contained an average number of 132 pupils for the year 1875, "who are being educated in the branches usually taught in the common schools, as well as in some industrial occupation."

An Industrial School for Boys is located at Waukesha, and contains three hundred and twenty boys, of ages from eight to sixteen years. This school is now in its sixteenth year, and about twelve hundred boys have received, or are now receiving, its benefits. This is one of the commendable reformatory institutions of Wisconsin, since "to prevent crime is easier than to cure the criminal."

A similar Industrial School is located in Milwaukee, but this latter school is not under the control or support of the State, and is open for girls as well as boys. The number supported in this institution in 1875 was about fifty.

Medical Societies of Wisconsin.—The Wisconsin State Medical Society meets annually in June, and comprises about two hundred members.

There are numerous county or other local societies, of which we have only an incomplete list, without officers, as follows:

Rock River Medical Society.
St. Croix Medical Society.
Brown County Medical Society.
Columbia County Medical Society.
Dane County Medical Society.
Fond du Lac County Medical Society.
Juneau County Medical Society.
Milwaukee County Medical Society.
Racine County Medical Society.
Sheboygan County Medical Society.
Waupaca County Medical Society.
Walworth County Medical Society.
Winnebago County Medical Society.

MEDICAL REGISTER OF WYOMING TERRITORY.

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY OF WYOMING TERRITORY.

THE Territory of Wyoming was formed by Act of July 25th, 1868, and "consists of two parcels from each of the original Territories of Nebraska, Utah, and Oregon; and while it has received no territory from Montana and Colorado, which adjoin it on the north and south, it nevertheless contains lands which have at different times been comprised in six other Territories, nearly one-half of the Territory having twice formed a part of Dakota."—(Census Report, 1870, vol. 2, page 580). The southwestern part of the Territory was originally a portion of Mexico cessions of 1848, and the northern and eastern portions of the Province of Louisiana. Wyoming covers an area of 97,883 square miles, or 133 square miles more than the combined area of Pennsylvania, New York, and Connecticut. The population, as determined by the census of 1870, was, in that year, 9118, among whom there were twenty-four physicians and surgeons. "Wyoming is strictly a mountain region, a great portion of which has not as yet been thoroughly explored; the general surface of the valleys being 3000 to 6000 feet above the level of the sea, while the mountain ranges rise to an altitude of from 3000 to 7000 feet higher." The Territory is traversed, in a general southeasterly and northwesterly course, by a main chain of the Rocky Mountains. The Wind River Range, in the northwestern part, is a portion of the Rocky Mountain system, and constitutes a part of the grand continental divide. The highest peak of the Wind River Range is Fremont's Peak, which attains an altitude of 13,570 feet above the level of the sea. This peak constitutes the initial point of the three grand watersheds of the Columbia, the Colorado of the West, and the Missouri. The Big Horn Mountains, the Black Hills, Granite Ridge, and other spurs of the main chain are found in the central and northeastern portion of the Territory. The Black Hills are from 2500 to 6700 feet high; the highest peaks, attaining an altitude of from 8000 to 12000 feet above the level of the sea, are clad with perpetual snow. Mount Hayden, the highest peak in the Territory, is 13,858 feet high. The Laramie Plains are an extensive high plateau, or table-land, in the southern part of the Territory, west of the Black Hills, extending westward to the Wasatch Mountains. These vast plains embrace an area of 30,000 square miles. The principal streams are the North Platte, the Powder, the Big Horn, and the Green. There are many other rivers of considerable size, and a large number of small streams. "Poison Spring River rises between the Rattlesnake Hills and Independence Rock, and unites with the North Platte at the foot of Red Butte, west of Fort Casper. The waters of this river contain an arsenious solution, said to be destructive to human life; hence the name Poison Spring River." The mountain sides are covered by immense forests and the valleys are very fertile. Wyoming is rich in minerals. Immense veins of coal are being worked in various parts of the Territory. Mountains of iron ore have been found, and many vast deposits are in close proximity to coal fields. Valuable mines of copper, lead, gypsum, plumbago, gold, and silver are worked. Many petroleum springs have been discovered, and great quantities of oil are obtained. We can simply refer to the Yellowstone Park, which occupies the northwestern portion of the Territory, and which has been set apart forever by the Government as a great National Park. Within the park area are to be found more wonders of nature than are gathered together in any equal space in the world. Volumes have been written upon it, and half its wonders remain untold. Geysers throwing boiling water 90 feet high, falls 100 feet broad and 397 feet high, "the most beautiful lake in the world, set like a gem among the mountains," and surrounded by hot springs, geysers, and other wonders, hemmed in by mountains from 10,000 to 12,000 feet high, with their summits covered with perpetual snows. "The geysers of Iceland, which have been objects of interest for the scientific men and travellers of the entire world, sink into insignificance in comparison with the hot springs of the Yellowstone and Fire-Hole Basins." The most complete and interesting description of this wonderful region which we have seen is that which has been published by the Government in the Reports of the Geological Surveys of the Territories, 1869–72.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF WYOMING TERRITORY.

"The Territory abounds in mineral springs, cold and thermal, among which are alkaline, sulphurous, saline, and chalybeate. Some of these springs have already reached considerable celebrity on account of the curative qualities of the water. Hot sulphur springs are the most numerous along the Yellowstone River and around Yellowstone Lake." In the Reports of the Geological Surveys of the Territories, for the year 1872, there are descriptions of 740 thermal springs found in the Territory. Most of these springs evolve sulphuretted hydrogen, and many contain sulphur, lime, magnesia, iron, and sulphuric acid. The temperature varies from 52° Fahr. to such a degree that food may be boiled in them. A person may stand on the hot spring mounds that extend into Yellowstone Lake, and catch trout weighing from one to two pounds, and then cook them in the boiling springs without removing the fish from the hook.—(Hayden's Survey, 1872, p. 52). A spring near Laramie, having a temperature of 74° Fahr., has attracted considerable attention. This is certainly the great mineral spring region of America, and needs only to be known to be appreciated. Should these springs be found to be of service in the cure of diseases, as we have no doubt they will, we will give a more detailed account of them in the future editions of this work.

THE COLLEGIATE YEAR is divided into two Sessions—a regular Winter Session, and a Spring Session. The latter is auxiliary to the former, and the design of the Faculty is to furnish instruction to medical students throughout the year. Attendance on the regular Winter Session is all that is demanded of the candidates for graduation.

THE SPRING SESSION is principally of a practical and clinical character, and affords particular facilities to students who have already taken one course in schools where such practical advantages exist to a less extent. The course consists also partly of lectures and examinations on the subjects necessary for graduating in medicine, conducted by the Professors of the regular Faculty and their assistants. These examinations will be addressed to both first and second course students.

For the purpose of making the visits to the wards of the hospitals as available as possible, the class is divided into sections. One division at a time is instructed in Practical Diagnosis, Prescription, and Treatment of Patients. The course begins early in March, and continues till the beginning of June, when the SUMMER COMMENCEMENT is held. During the Summer the College Clinics are kept open.

THE PRELIMINARY WINTER SESSION commences September 13th, and continues till the opening of the regular session. It is conducted on the same plan as the Regular Winter Session.

THE REGULAR WINTER SESSION occupies four and a half months—commencing on September 27th and continuing till the middle of February. The system of instruction embraces a thorough Didactic and Clinical Course, the lectures being illustrated by two clinics each day. One of these daily clinics will be held either in Bellevue or the Charity Hospital. The location of the College building affords the greatest facilities for Hospital Clinics. It is opposite the gate of Bellevue Hospital, on Twenty-sixth street, and in close proximity to the ferry to Charity Hospital on Blackwell's Island, while the Department of Out-Door Medical Charity, and the Hospital Post-mortem Rooms, are across the street. The students of the University Medical College will be furnished with admission tickets to these establishments free of charge. The Professors of the practical chairs are connected with one or both of these Hospitals.

Besides the Hospital clinics, there are eight clinics each week in the College building.

THE POST-GRADUATE COURSE is to consist of lectures delivered by the Professors of the several departments in the College building during the regular Winter Session, illustrated by Clinics held both in Hospital and at the College. After an attendance of one session on these lectures, any candidate, who is already a graduate of a recognized Medical College, can obtain a Diploma Certificate, countersigned by the Chancellor of the University and the Dean of the Faculty of the Medical Department, and by the four or more Professors of the Post-Graduate Course, to the effect that the candidate has passed an examination by them in their respective branches of special medical instruction. The fee for the diploma certificate is $30.

The Faculty desire to call attention particularly to the opportunities for dissection. Subjects are abundant and are furnished free of charge, and the Professor of Anatomy spends several hours each day in demonstration in the dissecting-room.

FEES FOR THE WINTER COURSE.

For course of Lectures	$140 00
Matriculation	5 00
Demonstrator's fee, including material for dissection	10 00
Graduation fee	30 00

FEES FOR THE SPRING COURSE.

Students who have attended the Winter Course will be admitted free of charge. Those who have not attended the Winter Course will be required to pay the Matriculation Fee and $30; and, should they decide to become pupils for the Winter, the $30 thus paid will be deducted from the price of the Winter tickets.

The Long Island College Hospital was the first, in this country, to unite a Hospital and a Medical School, for the purpose of securing more thorough demonstrative teaching. The Hospital is under the immediate control of the Regents and Council of the College, and therefore fully available for all purposes of practical instruction.

Over twelve thousand patients are treated annually in this institution—hence the clinical material is ample. Advanced students have free access to the Wards of the Hospital. The practical departments are therefore largely taught at the bedside. For circulars, address,

CITY OF NEW YORK.

SESSIONS OF 1876-77.

The Collegiate Year in this Institution embraces a preliminary Autumnal Term, the Regular Winter Session, and a Spring Session.

The Preliminary Autumnal Term for 1876-1877 will open on Wednesday, September 13, 1876, and continue until the opening of the Regular Session. During this term, instruction, consisting of didactic lectures on special subjects and daily clinical lectures, will be given, as heretofore, by the entire Faculty. Students expecting to attend the Regular Session are strongly recommended to attend the Preliminary Term, but attendance during the latter is not required. During the Preliminary Term, clinical and didactic lectures will be given in precisely the same number and order as in the Regular Session.

The Regular Session will commence on Wednesday, September 27, 1876, and end about the 1st of March, 1877.

A distinctive feature of the method of instruction in this College is the union of clinical and didactic teaching. All the lectures are given within the Hospital grounds. During the Regular Winter Session, in addition to four didactic lectures on every week-day except Saturday, two or three hours are daily allotted to clinical instruction.

The Spring Session consists chiefly of Recitations from Text-books. This term continues from the first of March to the first of June. During this Session, daily recitations in all the departments are held by a corps of examiners appointed by the regular Faculty. Regular clinics are also given in the Hospital and College building.

FEES FOR THE REGULAR SESSION.

Fees for Tickets to all the Lectures during the Preliminary and Regular Term, including Clinical Lectures	$140 00
Matriculation Fee	5 00
Demonstrator's Ticket (including material for dissection)	10 00

FEES FOR THE SPRING SESSION.

Matriculation (Ticket good for the following Winter)	$ 5 00
Recitations, Clinics, and Lectures	35 00
Dissection (Ticket good for the following Winter)	10 00

Students who have attended two full Winter courses of lectures may be examined at the end of their second course upon Materia Medica, Physiology, Anatomy, and Chemistry, and, if successful, they will be examined at the end of their third course upon Practice of Medicine, Surgery, and Obstetrics only.

For the Annual Circular and Catalogue, giving regulations for graduation and other information, address Prof. Austin Flint, Jr., Secretary, Bellevue Hospital Medical College.

SAVORY & MOORE'S
PANCREATIC EMULSION.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE,

IMPORTANT CAUTION.

IMITATIONS of these Preparations are calculated to mislead the Public and produce serious disappointment, being nauseous to the taste, rapidly turning rancid, and entirely destitute of the Pancreatic Principle.

Whereas the GENUINE EMULSION and PANCREATINE are rich in Pancreatic Juice, pleasant to the taste, and keep perfectly good.

The Celebrity of the Pancreatic Preparations, on both sides of the Atlantic, and the urgent nature of the Maladies in which they are employed, afford the strongest arguments in favor of the Genuine and against the use of the spurious compounds.

The FORMULA for preparing PANCREATIC EMULSION and PANCREATINE, which was perfected by Messrs. SAVORY & MOORE, is KNOWN ONLY TO THEM, and it has hitherto baffled all the attempts that have been made in England and America to make preparations possessing similar properties and characteristics.

The EXPERIENCE and OPINIONS of the following eminent medical men on the value of SAVORY & MOORE'S PANCREATIC EMULSION and PANCREATINE may be had (gratis) of all the principal chemists.

THE BEST FOOD FOR INFANTS.

"H. R. H. PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR THRIVES SO WELL UPON THE FOOD YOU HAVE PREPARED THAT IT MUST BE VERY GOOD."—T. M. KENDALL, Medical Attendant, Sandringham.

"IT RESEMBLES MOTHER'S MILK AS CLOSELY AS POSSIBLE," AND IS THE BEST KIND OF LIEBIG'S FOOD.—DR. BARKER, on Right Food for Infants.

"THE YOUNG PRINCE THRIVES SO WELL UPON IT THAT IT MUST BE VERY GOOD."—DR. RICHARDSON.

Abounding in FLESH-FORMING and BONE-FORMING substances, this FOOD perfectly fulfils its object, whereas other so-called Foods, being entirely devoid of nourishing properties, induce a rickety and idiotic condition. It is also carefully freed from the ground husks of the wheat, which cause irritation of the bowels, diarrhœa, etc. Prepared by SAVORY & MOORE, Chemists to the Queen, H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, etc., New Bond Street, London.
